It is well to be advised from the record of the past as to future action. Now let any one read that at New Orleans, La., Tuesday, (remember it is always Tuesday,) October 13th, 1885, the 182d Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery came off with this return to the investors: Ticket No. 15,321—sold in fifths at $1 each—drew the First Capital Prize of $75,000; one-fifth was held by A. Kville, No. 1 Valette St., Algiers, La.; one by J. D. Hill of Bay St. Louis, Miss.; another was collected for a San Francisco party by the Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Bank of San Francisco, Cal.; and the other names are withheld by request. No. 184, also sold in fifths at $1 each, drew the Second Prize of $25,000; one-fifth was held by Patrick Conner, No. 525 Golden Gate Ave.; one by Mrs. H. M. Kibbin, No. 125 Ellis St., both of San Francisco, Cal., remaining fifths were held elsewhere. No. 45,818 drew the Third Prize of $10,000; sold as a whole ticket to Senor H. von Gundell, Guaymas, Mexico, and collected through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express. Nos. 62,143 and 75,816 drew the two Fourth Prizes of $5,000. Also sold in fifths; one to R. Hammond, Lancaster, Ky.; one to A. T. Burr, Jr., Danville, Va.; one to J. H. Eyestine of St. Joseph, Mo., paid through Saxton Nat'l Bank there; one to E. T. Rounsavell, an employee of Adams Express at Columbus, O.; one to G. B. Haldeman of Kansas City, Mo.; other fractions to parties in Havana, Cuba, and elsewhere. The distribution has been made, and the money paid to the lucky ones. Now the next opportunity will be a scattering of $522,500 on Tuesday, Dec. 15th, the 187th Monthly and the Grand Semi-Annual Drawing. Tickets are $10, and tenths are $1. All information desired can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. And the certainty of the fact that any one buying a ticket stands a chance of getting $150,000, will cause a smile of hope to beam on many a face North, South, East or West. Try it on for Christmas spending money.

Why don't you try Carter's Little Liver Pills? They are a positive cure for sick headache, and all the ills produced by disordered Liver. Only one pill a dose.

Rev. Mr. Thurston of Goshen has received a call to the Congregational church in Croydon.

For burns, scalds, bruises and all pain and soreness of the flesh, the grand household remedy is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Be sure you get the genuine.

Mr. Francis Codman of Brookline, Mass., was thrown from his horse and crushed to death by the horse falling upon him, while riding a hurdle race in the Country club's races at Clyde park on the 11th inst.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are free from all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only; very small; very easy to take; no pain; no griping; no purging.

An international walking match at Manchester on the 11th inst. between Roby, Meagher and Pollock, was won by Roby, who made twenty-four miles in three hours, forty-one minutes and ten seconds; Meagher gave up at the end of twenty miles and four laps, and Pollock at twenty miles.

John Kinzie, No. 455 West 57th st., New York, suffered with inflammation of the ear, which was very much swollen and so painful that he did not sleep for three nights. Everything was done for him without avail. He took nine Brandreth Pills which acted powerfully, pains ceased and swelling greatly reduced—took six pills the two following nights and was well.

NEW ENGLAND'S SENTIMENTS.

A large part of the great influence which New England has wielded in the councils of the nation and through its progressive institutions has been because of the general unanimity of the six States on most important questions, enabling them to act as a unit. This is not now perhaps so true of political affairs as it once was, but in most matters there is a substantial agreement of opinion. Just at present this is shown in the universal commendation of Athlophoros, praises of which come from all quarters of every State. A few of them follow:

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the last three years," says E. Parkhurst, of Woonsocket, R. I., "having been unable to do any active labor during that time, and for a large portion of the time being confined to my bed. I had taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with no relief, until I was induced to try a bottle of Athlophoros. The first three doses resulted in my having the best night's sleep that I had enjoyed for three years, and by the time the first bottle was taken I realized that I was on the road to complete recovery. I have since taken six bottles and am now able to attend to my business and consider myself a well man."

Mrs. C. N. Paige, of Boltonville, Vt., says:

"I first saw Athlophoros advertised in a paper, and as it was only recommended for rheumatism and neuralgia I had great faith to believe it could do me some good. My husband, therefore, sent for a bottle. I had been a great sufferer from neuralgia for years, and had spells when no one who saw me thought I could live. Many times I have wished death would end my agony. The pain would commence in the pit of my stomach and go from there right through my heart. I had employed doctors who were thought very skillful, but I got no benefit from them. I had these spells every two or three weeks for over two years before taking Athlophoros. That was one year ago last April and I have had only two of them since, the last one during the winter. I took then part of another bottle and have had none since. Words can never express the relief I feel at being rid of such agony as I suffered when I had those spells."

Mrs. Harriet Streng, of Westville, Ct., tells this straight-forward story:

"I had the rheumatism, which settled in my knees and hips. The joints were so stiff and the pain so great that I could not walk, but was obliged to move around in a chair. Several doctors did all they could for me, but I was no better. While in this condition, sitting in my chair by the window reading a paper, I saw an advertisement of Athlophoros. I thought I would try it and sent for a bottle. When they brought it to me I told them I considered it a dollar thrown away, as I had not a particle of faith, but I commenced taking it and after the third dose I thought I felt a change for the better. I continued to use it as directed until I have taken four bottles. Strange as it may seem, I am perfectly cured and am about the house all day, doing all the housework, with not a bit of rheumatism about me. I can never return thanks enough to the parties that make Athlophoros for the benefit I have derived from its use. I recommend it to everybody."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Well Street, New York.

The Short-Hair Craze.

The craze among the ladies for wearing the hair short is becoming general and spreading all the country over. It has already become very popular, among other places in Rochester, N. Y., where the most stylish young ladies are parting with their raven and golden tresses. There was a time when it was considered somewhat "fast" for a lady to wear her hair short, but since Miss Cleveland, the President's sister, the present mistress of the White House, and, by common courtesy, the "first lady in the land," wears her locks short quite short and advocates the custom on the ground of comfort, convenience and health, it has become the style. Time was, too, when a short-haired lady was so rare that her appearance in public places attracted general attention. But that was a good while ago. The prominent hair-cutters are becoming quite proficient in cutting the hair of their rapidly increasing lady patrons. Some interesting and strange scenes are now seen in the hairdresser's establishments and barber shops.

"A handsome young lady just from boarding-school came into my shop Tuesday and said she wanted her hair cut just like Miss Cleveland's," said a prominent barber. "She had a picture of the President's sister for me to look at; and with the suggestion given by her companion, who had seen Miss Cleveland, and with the aid of the photograph, I cut and trimmed her hair to her complete satisfaction. O, I dont know who or what started the style. Perhaps Miss Cleveland had something to do with it, but I am inclined to believe that Miss Maud Granger, Miss Dora Wiley, and other actresses and singers who are great favorites with women, started the style here. Of course it helps our business; but, leaving all selfish reasons aside, is it not the most reasonable craze that has recently come into style? Why you have no idea what a constant trouble a heavy head of hair is to a woman. It has to be dressed two or three times a day, and this takes up a great deal of a woman's time. With long and heavy hair, it is difficult for a lady to keep her scalp clean and healthy.

"What do ladies do with their shorn tresses?"

"They take them away with them. Some of them bring old corset-boxes for this purpose, and when we box of this shape is handy I do up the hair in a paper."

"Do they sell it?"

"I don't know. I don't believe many of my customers have, for they invariably exhibited more of a fondness for the hair than for the money they would derive from the sale of it. No, I think they take it home and keep it. When it becomes stylish to wear the hair long again they will have switches made of it.

"Yes, we have some queer scenes in our shops now," continued the hair-cutter.

"A young lady who comes to have her locks cut off always brings a lady companion with her, and sometimes they bring two or three. Their conversation while I am at work would make you laugh. A girl was in here with her mother, the other day, and had her hair cut quite short. It was the first time the shears had ever touched the girl's hair, and she shook with fear when I began and she felt the cold steel on her neck. Two sisters where here one day last week, and when I cut the hair of one the tears ran down the cheeks of the other like raindrops. Queer creatures, these women, aren't they?"

"Is there any particular style in cutting ladies hair now?"

"Well, the most of those who have been here have had their hair cut very short on the back of the head—indeed, almost as close as young men wear their hair—and moderately good length on top. They want it long enough on top to frizz, or curl, or to wear in a bang."

The Egg-Season in the Frigid Zone.

Lieutenant Schwatka says in his articles on life in the frigid zone: "Early in July we commence to live on eider-ducks' eggs, the nest of which waterfowl could be found everywhere, and especially near the shores of the large lakes. They were a delightful change from the sand and reindeer meat on which we had been living, or, at least, an acceptable addition, for we had no trouble finding them everywhere in the greatest abundance shortly after the first one was discovered. The suddenness with which they became addled was almost startling. After having almost lived on them for a number of days, having three or four apiece at each meal, our cook one evening said that he had found nine or ten addled ones out of a dozen, and thereafter not a single good egg was ever found, although we kept on hopelessly testing them for three or four days after, until it was evident that we were only decreasing the ducks without deriving corresponding benefit. The way they were hatched out in the latter part of the month was equally surprising. It seemed as if a shower of young ducks had suddenly taken place, like the showers of frogs in superstitious times."

Shoe Blacking.

A brilliant paste blacking may, according to Dick, be prepared by mixing up two pounds ivory black, one pound molasses, one-fourth pound each of olive oil and sulphuric acid, and enough water to reduce the product to the proper consistency.

Herr Artus recommends the following formula as less destructive to leather than most blacking in use. Mix thoroughly three and a half pounds of vegetable black, one and one half pound of ivory black, five pounds each of molasses and glycerine; cut six ounces gutta percha into small pieces, melt, and, when fluid, add twenty ounces of olive oil, and afterwards two ounces of stearin; stir, while hot, the second mixture into the first, and then a further addition of ten ounces of gum senegal dissolved in three quarts of water is made. This may be kept as stock, and for use diluted with about three times its bulk of warm water.

For liquid blacking without sulphuric acid, mix one pound finely powdered ivory black, three-eighths pound of molasses, two ounces sweet oil, and one pint each of beer and vinegar. Mix the first three ingredients very thoroughly together before adding the last two.

A better liquid blacking may probably be made by the following formula: Mix one pound each of ivory black and molasses, and one-fourth pound of sweet oil, and gradually add one-fourth pound of sulphuric acid diluted with three times its weight of water; mix well, and set aside for three hours. Reduce to proper consistency with water.

Owing to the calcium phosphate present in the ivory black, the sulphuric acid is provided with a base to unite with, and does much less to injure the leather than is generally supposed. The addition of sulphuric acid greatly adds to the brilliancy of the blacking, but it should be used in no larger quantity than necessary for this purpose.

$500 Reward.

The former proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for years made a standing, public offer in all American newspapers of $500 reward for a case of catarrh that he could not cure. The present proprietors have renewed the offer. All the druggists sell this Remedy, together with the "Douche," and all other appliances advised to be used in connection with it. No catarrh patient is longer able to say "I cannot be cured." You get $500 in case of failure.

"WASH SILKS."

ART EMBROIDERERS

are cautioned against MISLEADING IMITATIONS of Brainerd & Armstrong's "Wash Silks," now in the market, of American manufacture, that WILL NOT WASH without loss of color and injury to the fabric upon which they may be worked.

The method of applying ASIATIC DYES necessary to produce fast color in silk fibre is a SECRET, PURCHASED, POSSESSED and USED in America exclusively by ourselves. Avoid worthless imitations by taking only skeins bearing our ticket—"Wash Silk."

"Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam, be it ever so humble," there's no specific for pain like Salvation Oil. Price 25 cents a bottle.

A despatch from Owen Sound, Ont., of the 11th inst., says there were over 120 persons on board the steamship Algoma when she was wrecked, and only fifteen are known to have escaped. The Canadian Pacific officials have a monopoly of news there, and refuse to give any information.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribable. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief which is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispels the causes of dyspepsia, and tones up the digestive organs. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Two negroes were arrested in Boston on the 11th inst. with several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds in their possession.

From Rev. E. S. Ufford, pastor Baptis church, East Auburn, Me.

"Adamson's Botanic Balsam is truly a specific. My lungs and throat were in an inflamed and almost congested condition from which I have been cured by the use of Adamson's Balsam." Price 10 cents, 35 cents and 75 cents.

Forty persons have been seriously, and some of them it is feared fatally, poisoned by water from a well at Chattanooga, Tenn. The well is near a cotton mill.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast," and thousands who suffer the pangs of rheumatism have had their hopes of a cure realized by the use of St. Jacobs Oil.

Some weeks since an Athens, Ga., merchant sold a young man from Elbert county a suit of wedding clothes. They were shipped "C. O. D." per express. Last week the package was returned, with a letter from the young man, saying that his girl had gone back on him, and as he would not need the wedding garments he returned them. The merchant let him off from the trade.

Be Careful!

No matter what disease you may have. Be sure that the medicine you take is reliable. Such a medicine you will always find Sulphur Bitters. They are not a cheap rum drink, but are made of the choicest roots and herbs to be found in in the vegetable kingdom. — Daily Argus.

The Valued Policy Law.

The New Hampshire club dined at the Quincy house, Boston, on the 12th inst., Hon. J. C. Moore of Manchester, president of the club, presiding. The "valued policy law" was the topic of discussion, Ex-Gov. Cheney, C. H. Amsden of Penacook, Frank W. Breed of Lynn, George B. Chandler of Manchester, John C. Paige of Boston, and others, opposing the law, and calling for its essential modification. Hon. O. C. Moore and one or two others supported the law. The discussion was not finished, and it was voted to continue it at the next dinner.

Yacht Racing Next Season.

An English gentleman and noted yachtsman, Mr. Chamberlayne, owner of the yacht Arrow, having issued a challenge to any American sloop yacht to cross the ocean and race with his boat in British waters for a cup, a New York despatch says:

There is little doubt that the challenge of Mr. Chamberlayne, the English owner of the yacht Arrow, will be accepted in this city. It is given out on pretty good authority that James Gordon Bennett will send the Priscilla to England next summer, and race her against the Arrow. The Puritan will be needed here to race against the Galatea. If Mr. Bennett does not challenge for the Queen's cup (not the America cup) within a month, three gentlemen of the New York yacht club have expressed their intention of doing so.

Mr. Burgess of Boston, the designer of the yacht Puritan, in speaking of the English yacht Arrow, said that the latter sailed against the America some years ago. She has recently been improved, and now resembles the Genesta. He could not say as to whether the Puritan would cross the water to sail for the cup recently offered. "Have we any other yacht that could compete successfully with the Arrow?" he was asked. "I think the Priscilla could do it, though she is probably the only one outside of the Puritan that would be large enough," was the reply.

The appointment of Mr. Saltonstall as collector of the port of Boston as far as the fitness of the appointee is concerned, is of course above criticism. But the democrats had made up a slate for Peter Butler to appoint, for every office in the custom house. The difficulty will be that Mr. Saltonstall will not be "run" by Mr. Collins and his crowd, with the ease with which Mr. Butler could be operated. In fact, Mr. Saltonstall is an old whig, of rather correct ideas of matters and things, and when the dimmocratic boys drop in to see him it is quite likely that they will throw down their cigars and take off their hats by the time the new collector has taken a good look at them. The Boston democrats acquiesce. Of course they do, but they would much prefer that Patrick Collins had been in the cabinet instead of Mr. Endicott, and a different state of affairs been possible at the foot of State street.

Secretary Whitney is shut up in his quarters and denied to all visitors, while he struggles with the salient points of his report in regard to the Roach question. In the meantime Commodore Harmony is running the navy department.

The man killed on the railroad at the Washington street crossing in Lynn, Mass., on the 11th inst., has been identified as Jacob Greenfield of New York. He was on his way to the depot to take a train for Boston and thence to New York, where he was going to make arrangements to go to China. He was identified by Dewitt C. Upton of Swampscott, with whom he had been stopping for a short time.

Capt. Charles W. Frisbee, of Kittery, late master of the schooner Adeliza, arrived home on the evening of the 9th inst. He saved only his clothing from the wreck, and has heard no tidings of the unknown schooner which ran down the Adeliza.

Smelts are now running up the river in considerable numbers, and are caught along the wharves. They are yet small.

The large store-house and wharf on Water street belonging to the heirs of the late John Dixon, previously reported as having been let to a Gloucester fishing firm, has not yet been occupied, and is still ready for the carrying on of the winter fishing business by responsible parties.

Mr. Daniel Mason is sawing hard pine lumber and dimension stock for the new windmill tower at the navy yard. The hard pine is procured from Boston, as since the decadence of shipbuilding here there has been but little of it imported, except for special uses.

Large quantities of fish-box shooks are being hauled to Commercial wharf for Daniel Clark. Preparations seem to be making for an extensive fish business here during the coming winter; there is a report that sixty fishermen will make this port their headquarters. Elvin Newton, during his recent trip to New York, made a considerable number of engagements in the fish line of business.

NOTICE.

Having taken the store lately occupied by my deceased brother, J. M. Carr, and having within the past fifteen days stocked up with first-class goods, I now offer to my brother's patrons and all others requiring reliable goods, as good a stock, for quality and style, as can be found in the city or in the state, and at the very lowest cash prices. All are invited to call and examine the goods whether they wish to purchase or not. J. C. CARR.

A NUISANCE.

There is a growing evil about our city which we believe should be stopped, as it easily can be. We refer to the nuisance created by the large number of curbstone cadets which nightly assemble on Congress street in front of the stores there situate, to stand for an hour at a time, hawking and spitting tobacco juice, swearing at everybody and about everything, and sticking their ugly mugs into the face of every lady who passes over the sidewalk. These bummers who stand on the street do not ever pay heed or respect to those who pass, and with their coarse guffaws and slanderous remarks, disgust and insult them. This sort of thing has become so habitual that many ladies go out of their way through side streets in order to reach their destination without going by these loafers.—Times.

Our neighbor uses strong language, but no stronger than the subject warrants. The sidewalk-loafer nuisance has grown to a magnitude greater than ever existed before in this city, and not only is Congress street avoided at night, as the Times relates, by many ladies who can manage to reach their destinations by going over longer routes through side streets, but we are assured that there are quiet and well disposed gentlemen who walk Congress street at night only from necessity, disliking the risk of being "crowned," or hit under the ear by an apple core, when edging through the crowds of bummers and hoodlums who block the walks without let or hindrance from the police. It is time the evil was stopped.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

THURSDAY, Nov. 12th.

Robert Foster was brought in, having been found drunk. He has been brought in for that offence a great many times, but as he represented to the court that he had been at work in Great Falls for several months, had more work there to do, and would go back there at once if let off, he was allowed to depart.

George Steele, sewer laborer, drunk, fine $3, costs $6.90; paid.

William Caverly, drunk, fine $3, costs $6.90; county farm in default of payment.

CONCERT.

On Thursday evening, 19th inst., our music loving citizens are to be regaled with a concert by an array of talent such as is rarely gathered in one company—Miss Fannie P. Hoyt of Newington, violinist; the Weber male quartette, of Boston; Miss Carrie E. Hale, of Boston, reader; Miss Edith Wendell, soprano; Mrs. George P. Philbrick and Miss Emily Hoyt, pianists. The programme is a choice one, and can be found in another column.

BURIED IN A WELL.

In South Berwick, Me., on the 11th, while workmen were engaged in digging a well on the W. H. Carroll place, the earth caved, burying Horace Bogart to his armpits. A ladder was put into the well immediately, and Fred Shorey went down to help Bogart out, when the earth caved again, burying Shorey up to his neck. Help was summoned, and after four hours of hard labor Shorey was rescued, Bogart of course being dead long ere that. Deceased leaves a wife and three children.

The body of Mr. Bogart was recovered on the 12th, work having progressed continuously from the time of the accident. Shorey, who was not expected to live when first rescued, was reported on the 12th to be recovering; he is twenty-six years old, and single; Bogart's age was forty-five.

UNDERSTOOD IT PERFECTLY.

The Dover Democrat relates that in a recent police-court case in that city one of the witnesses, a little girl of six years, was asked if she understood the nature of an oath. She replied "yes." She was asked to explain what it was, and replied that she would tell the judge in private, if he would not tell anybody. This was agreed on, and the little girl said: "If I don't tell the truth the policemen will take me away."

In the federal court at Indianapolis Ind., on the 10th inst., "judgment was given on a cross bill of the Portsmouth, N. H., savings bank to a suit of Charles Mayer and others of John C. S. Harrison's sureties against the Harrisons, the Encaustic Tile Works company and others, the property involved in the tile works including buildings, ground and machinery, the Parker block, the State farm and a block on West Washington street; and a decree of foreclosure and sale was entered by Judge Woods in the amount of $84,927."

Miss F. A. Mathes of this city was elected one of the counsellors of the New Hampshire Teachers' Association, at the late convention; E. J. Goodwin of Nashua, formerly of this city, was also elected. The president of the association for the ensuing year is W. A. Robinson of Franklin.

The U. S. S. Tennessee, flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, sailed from New York on the 11th inst. for Aspinwall. The Tennessee will stop for mails, etc., at Hampton Roads, where she will be joined by the Galena, which recently proceeded from this station.

The schooner Nellie W. Craig arrived from Georgetown, D. C., on the 12th inst., with 830 tons of coal to E. F. Sise & Co.

The steamer Pinafore, Capt. Oscar Laighton, came in from the Isles of Shoals on the 12th inst., bringing in from Smuttynose island as a passenger, Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell, on business. The sea was very smooth, and one flock of about fifty ducks was seen. The sea birds are flying very near the shore this fall, there being but few seen at the Shoals or outside of the islands.

The first two or three pages of the Critic of Nov. 14th are devoted to an account of the home-life of Mr. E. C. Stedman, whose "Poets of America" has just appeared, and whose "Library of American Literature" is rapidly nearing completion. The poet's own house in New York is particularly described, though just now he and his family are occupying that of Mrs. Bayard Taylor in another part of the city; and there is an interesting description of his summer home at Newcastle.

The schooner Lillie, Capt. Littlefield, was the first of the brick fleet to haul off. She has gone into winter quarters at Ogunquit, Wells, which is her hailing port. When she sailed from this port, the first of this week, for Cape Neddick, she was loaded with coal to fill orders from private individuals there to C. E. Walker & Co.

The schooner J. Chester Wood, of the brick fleet, which arrived from Boston on the 12th, has made her last trip for this season, having hauled up for the winter, which she will pass in a berth at Randall & Caswell's wharf.

Mr. J. C. Carr, having taken the store and business of his brother, the late Mr. J. M. Carr, by a card in another column of this paper invites the public to call. In passing the store yesterday the display and neat arrangement of goods in the window induced us to enter, and it seemed to us that no lady or gentleman need look further for anything desired in the boot and shoe line. Mr. Carr's motto seems to be, "the best goods at the lowest prices." We found in the store the long-time and reliable partner of Mr. Carr's late brother, Mr. Hartshorn, who seems to have recently undergone a rejuvenation, and is as polite and attentive as ever in showing the new goods.

Steam was raised in four of the Vandalia's eight boilers on Thursday, the 8th inst. The test was satisfactory as far as it went.

THE BEST OF THE AGRICULTURAL WEEKLIES.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is the LEADING JOURNAL of American Agriculture. In amount and practical value of Contents, in extent and ability of Correspondence, in quality of paper and style of publication, it occupies the FIRST RANK. It is believed to have no superior in either of the three chief divisions of

Farm Crops and Processes,

Horticulture and Fruit Growing,

Live-Stock and Dairying,

while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest, such as the Poultry Yard, Entomology, Bee-Keeping, Greenhouse and Grapery, Veterinary Replies, Farm Questions and Answers, Fireside Reading, Domestic Economy, and a summary of the News of the Week. Its MARKET REPORTS are unusually complete, and much attention is paid to the Topics of the Times, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is liberally illustrated, and has been supply, in a continually increasing degree, and in the best sense of the term, a

LIVE AGRICULTURAL NEWSPAPER.

Although the COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has been GREATLY ENLARGED by increasing its size from 16 to 20 pages weekly, the terms continue as heretofore, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2 50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters, that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once, and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it, Godspeed.

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No excesses of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean taste.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of this place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 100x300 ft $45 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $1.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

The Renewal of Vigor.

The most important step in the process is the restoration of the functions of digestion and assimilation to full and uninterrupted exercise, since it is upon their activity alone that the system can depend to replenish its dwindling store of energy. Among tonics which the voice of the people and high professional indorsement approve as reliable, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has long been recognized as the best. Its properties as a medical stimulant commend it to all persons suffering from the effects of fatigue, mental or bodily, as an immediate means of counteracting their effects; and in cases where loss of vigor is attributable to such weakening chronic causes as dyspepsia, affections of the kidneys and bladder, and the infirmities peculiar to age, it produces permanently beneficial results. Those twin obstacles to health and vigor, liver complaint and constipation, are also removed by it. It also prevents and cures malarial disease.

Two men were killed and three fatally injured by the fall of a staging on which they were at work in Montreal on the 11th inst.

Those unhappy persons who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve Pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic sufferers. Price 25 cents, all druggists.

My head and throat ached so severely that I was obliged to keep quiet. Ely's Cream Balm was suggested. Within an hour from the application I felt relieved, the pain began to subside. In a few days I was entirely cured.—W. A. Downs. Price 50 cts.

In Concord the losses by fire for almost two years past have aggregated less than $4000, while the amount paid for insurance during that time is estimated at from $100,000 to $150,000.

Octave Labou was struck by a train at Leominster, Mass., Nov. 11th, and killed.

There are two forms of chronic rheumatism: one in which the joints are swollen and red without fever, and the appetite and digestion good, in the other the joints are neither red nor swollen, but only stiff and painful. In either form Salvation Oil may be relied on to effect a cure. It kills pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Tired and Languid Women.

How many women there are of whom these words are true: "They feel languid and tired, hardly able to bear their weight on their feet, the bloom all gone from their cheeks, irritable and cross without meaning to be, nerves all upset, worried with the children, fretted over little things, a burden to themselves, and yet with no acute disease." What a pity it is. But a few bottles of Parker's Tonic will drive all this away, and relieve the troubles peculiar to their sex.

AN IMAGINARY HELL.

Mr. Frank Morley, of Waterbury, Ct., is the possessor of a breezy and picturesque style of writing, which shows that he has missed his avocation if he is not an ink-slinger on some Connecticut paper that dares to call a spade a spade. He has lately been the victim of neuralgia at his home, 89 Grand street, and describes the disease and his cure in this lively fashion:

"After suffering all the terrors of an imaginary orthodox hell for two weeks with inflammatory rheumatism and daily growing worse, I was induced to try Athlophoros. The effect was like magic. I was relieved immediately and would like to say to all who are suffering with the dread disease, 'Don't wait; try Athlophoros.'"

Those who have suffered from inflammatory rheumatism will appreciate the force of Mr. Morley's remarks, and will also agree with the estimate which Mr. George L. Pease, another citizen of Waterbury, puts upon the value of Athlophoros:

"I would have Athlophoros," he says, "if I had to pay ten dollars a dose for it. After fourteen years of intense suffering it has done for me what our best physicians could not do. During that time I took every known medicine for neuralgia of the stomach, but found no relief at all until I took Athlophoros. The effect was wonderful. All pain disappeared and my general health was so much improved as to cause general comment. I cannot speak too highly of the merits of Athlophoros, and cheerfully recommend it to all who may be troubled with rheumatism or neuralgia."

From Pigeon Cove, Mass., Susannah Brown sends these words of good cheer to those afflicted with neuralgia:

"I had been troubled with neuralgia in my head for four or five years, day and night. Seeing an advertisement of Athlophoros in a Gloucester paper, I thought I would try it and so I sent a year ago for some. I have taken eight bottles and since last March I have had no neuralgia at all. My head, I think, is entirely well. I consider Athlophoros a great remedy for neuralgia and shall recommend it to any one troubled with it."

Mrs. Sarah J. Cross, of Monroe, N.H., says of her experience:

"Athlophoros has done wonderful cures for myself and all those who have used any that I let them have. As for myself the rheumatism is a thing of the past to me, and I feel like a new person."

"When I first tried Athlophoros," says Mrs. Mary T. Hart, of Farmington, Ct., "I was so afflicted with rheumatism in my knees that they were badly swollen, and I suffered a great deal of pain. Three doses began to have an effect, and when I had used two bottles the pain left and the swelling and stiffness disappeared and have never returned. About a year later my shoulder troubled me. One bottle of Athlophoros cured that and I have not had rheumatism since. I recommended its use to one or two neighbors, who tried it and were relieved."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will sent it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York

Two Farmers.

Parties lately returned to Kansas City from Maine and the seacoast, who attended the Grand Army reunion, tell to folks there a good one of Maj. Wiseman, of Lawrence, whom every one in the state knows to be a good Kansas man. When his party was passing through Vermont on their way to Portland Maj. Wiseman was struck by the bare, meagre look of the farms, their smallness, and the outward appearance of poverty. He remarked many times upon the stunted appearance of everything, and regarded the little hillsides or valley homes as the abodes of hard living, for which pure air would hardly compensate. His comparisons were always with Kansas farms, Kansas views, and Kansas wealth. When the train slowed up at a little station for the engine to take water, Maj. Wiseman got up to stretch his cramped legs, and walking down the platform he met a "native," a man whose looks did not betoken starvation, but whose general appearance indicated close economy. Our Major interrogated him with unusually patronizing blandness:

"My friend, do you live here?"

"I do."

"Do you own a farm here?"

"Yes."

"Do you raise enough to eat?" persisted the Major.

"O yes, we manage to get enough."

"Don't some of your people starve?" said our Kansas friend; "I shouldn't think you raise enough to keep body and soul together. You should move to Kansas, where we raise eighty bushels of corn to the acre and sixty of wheat! That is the place to live!"

The "native" did not seem struck with wonder, but quietly remarked, "We manage to get along."

"Do you make anything?" then asked Kansas.

"Yes. I have made enough in twenty years to get mortgages on two large farms in Kansas," replied the Vermonter.

For a moment Maj. Wiseman was staggered, but standing by the Grasshopper State, he returned to the charge.

"Why, we waste more wheat and corn in Kansas than you can raise on your farms here. Our farmers throw away more than your entire crops amount to."

"I believe you do," said the Vermonter. "If you didn't waste so much, perhaps the interest on my mortgages would be paid more promptly."—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

A Touching Instance.

A touching instance of insect instinct has just been sent to us. The writer says: "I found a cockroach struggling in a bowl of water. I took half a peanut shell for a boat. I put him into it, gave him two wooden toothpicks for oars, and left him. The next morning I visited him, and he had put a piece of white cotton thread on one of the toothpicks, and set the toothpick on one end as a signal of distress. He had a hair on the other toothpick, and there that cockroach sat a-fishing. The cockroach, exhausted, had fallen asleep. The sight melted me to tears. I had never to chew leather to get a soul; I was born with one. I took that cockroach out, gave him a spoonful of gruel, and left. That animal never forgot my kindness, and now my house is chock-full of cockroaches."

How Plug Hats Are Made.

To make the silk stove-pipe hats, a large square of muslin is dipped into shellac, wrung out and then stretched over a wooden frame to dry. After drying it is cut up into sizes and shapes suitable for the various parts of the hat. Some pieces are cut on the bias for the crowns of hats, others are stiffened particularly for the brims, while the muslin for the central cylinders, which are the sides, is cut into oblong squares. The material for a dozen of these hats is then given to a workman, who draws the frame of the hat together around the block and fastens it by means of a hot iron. The shell of the hat, as it is called, is then varnished and dried, making it stiff, and then the silk plush is put on, a man ironing it to the shellac-covered shell and sponging it with every stroke of the iron. Girls sew in the crown and the brim after the sides of the shell have been fastened, and then the seams are gone over with a hot iron, which conceals all traces of them. The brim is then curled, as in the case of the felt article, and then the hat goes away to the luering machine, where polish brushes, revolving rapidly, give it a high polish. From the luering machine it goes to the hands of a girl, who trims it and puts in the lining.

Courtesy in Mexico.

One of the Mexican characters deserving of all praise is the national love for children. Mexico is the children's paradise. Children are loved and petted in public to an extent that makes an American, used to the stolid ways of his own country people, open his eyes in astonishment and pleasure. There is no affectation in the matter. A little child is the pet of the people. A baby is every one's admiration, and here you may see fathers out walking with their children for the pleasure of the children's company. In shops and all places where people meet children are petted, and a baby in a shop is seized and carried by an army of male admirers.

The courtesy of the young lads is another feature to be noted. A group of lads from 7 to 12 will meet, and each boy will decorously lift his hat and salutations of extreme courtesy will be exchanged, and then comes the boyish chatter, the fun and the laughter, the same as anywhere. Boys here treat their elders with respect. An old man or woman is not the butt of the youth of Mexico; rather for the old people is reserved the shadiest seat under the trees in the parks and the best seats in the family sala. A Mexican girl or boy on entering a room walks around among the company, shaking hands with all, and on leaving the room does the same. "Urbanity" is taught in the public schools as arithmetic is at home. There is no brusquirie in this population; no one is jostled on the street; the best seat in the horse-car is promptly given up to the ladies, who never fail gracefully to acknowledge the favor. I have never seen a Mexican gentleman fail to give his seat to a woman, whether she was richly or poorly dressed, and this is invariably done with courtesy.—Cor. Boston Herald.

There are in the United States over 45,000,000 head of swine, which are valued at more than $226,000,000.

Col. Du Chaille Long declares that when Gordon went to the Soudan in 1874 "he went there with the idea of making himself eventually the King—the Vali—of the Black Country. I assure you he suggested to me repeatedly that we should take and divide the provinces for ourselves, claiming that they ought not to belong to Egypt, nor to the Arabs, or the 'unspeakable Turk.' I believe such a solution of the Eastern question would have been welcome to the English Government."

Brown's Little Joke.

"Why, Brown, how short your coat is," said Jones one day to his friend Brown, who wittily replied: "Yes; but it will be long enough before I get another." Some men spend so much for medicines that neither heal or help them, that new clothes is with them like angels' visits—few and far between. Internal fevers, weakness of the lungs, shortness of breath and lingering coughs, soon yield to the magic influence of that royal remedy, Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery."

The death of Miss Roselthe B. Sanborn, an experienced and successful teacher at Loudon, was caused by her jumping from a window a distance of six feet, receiving injuries which she survived only a few days. She was thoughtlessly locked in a department by one of her pupils. Miss Sanborn was soon to have been married to a physician in Warwick, Mass.

SKIN TORTURES — AND — BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions, Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Sores, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from Infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, I concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement. MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.

BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE, EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured. HERMAN SLADE.

136 E. 4TH STREET, NEW YORK.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the CUTICURA SOAP. Have had an unusually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of Itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES proved satisfactory. WM. HARDIGG, Druggist.

UNIONTOWN, KY.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

Your CUTICURA REMEDIES outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers are all delighted with their effects, and in every instance, where other remedies have failed. H. W. BROCKWAY, M. D.

EASTERN RAILROAD COMPANY.

THE Voting Register of Certificate Holders is now making up at the Office of the Trustees, No. 10 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass. Holders of Certificates are requested to have their names placed on the Register, as without registration they cannot vote.

Any holder may register on presenting at said office to MR. JOSHUA CRANE a written statement of his name, address, and the denomination and number of each certificate held by him, or, if requested by the Trustees on producing the Certificates held by him or a written order from the last registered holder.

The Voting Register will close at the close of business on the Thirtieth Day of November, between which time and the Annual Meeting, on the Second Wednesday of December, no registration will be made. By Order of the Directors.

FRANCIS I. AMORY, Clerk.

I have received a good deal of benefit from your medicine, Athlophoros. It helped to drive the rheumatism out of my limbs to a great extent. I think it a good medicine and have recommended it to several persons. Wm. Nichols, Chester, Mass.

Samuel B. Strickland, a hotel-keeper of Bennington, confined in the county jail for selling liquor, has been pardoned by the governor and council on condition that he pay the cost of prosecution. Nichols Wright has been pardoned from the Rockingham county jail.

Captain Mitchell, of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May, entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains, but receiving no benefit, at his wife's request began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla He immediately began to improve; in two months his rheumatism was all gone, and he sailed in command of his vessel a well man. Hood's Sarsaparilla will help you. Sold by all druggists.

At the late meeting of the governor and council Thanksgiving day was set for Nov. 26th.

The mystery of last year's red sunsets has not yet been explained. It was, however, doubtless due to some unknown atmospheric influence. But there is no mystery about Red Star Cough Cure. It is a scientific combination of the best known curative agents in the vegetable kingdom, and its effects in the treatment of throat and lung diseases are simply marvelous.

Galveston Burned.

Fire swept through Galveston, Texas, on the 13th inst., going nearly across the island from the bay to the gulf, a distance at that point of a mile and a quarter. The burned district is about three blocks wide and sixteen blocks long, fifty-two blocks being destroyed; 700 residences were burned, with most of their contents, terrible suffering resulting. The loss on buildings is roughly estimated at $2,000,000, with $800,000 insurance.

MARITIME NOTES.

The barque Hope, Capt. Penhallow, leading lumber in Port Ludlow, Washington territory, for Honolulu, caught fire on Tuesday, 10th inst., and was scuttled and sunk. The vessel is completely under water; amount of damage not stated.

The brick schooner G. W. Raitt was on Friday reported on the ways at Kittery for slight repairs. The schooner D. K. Ham will make one more trip to Boston before hauling up for the winter.

The fishing schooner Rover's Bride, of this port, arrived at New Bedford, Mass., on the 11th inst., in distress.

The Granite State Insurance Company is now doing business. The company has secured the services of two experienced insurance men as clerks in the home office in this city. Mr. W. H. Smith of Boston as assistant secretary and bookkeeper, a gentleman who has had 15 years experience in the insurance business, and Mr. J. W. Emery of Lawrence as application clerk, who has had 6 years experience in a Boston office and a Lawrence agency. The company starts out with good business prospects ahead.

Mr. Joseph A. Lawrence, a pipe fitter in the employ of the Portsmouth Machine company, at work at the Rockingham, fell from a staging at the top of the elevator well, Thursday. Falling several feet he landed on another stage, and although badly shaken up, was uninjured. A piece of iron weighing 12 pounds fell to the bottom of the well, and several workmen at different points barely escaped being hit with it.

Cornelius J. O'Rielly, of Manchester, has been appointed a draughtsman at the navy yard.

The repairs on the Dover point bridge will be completed at the end of next week, when trains can resume running over it, and teams again be allowed to pass.

There is a fine bird's-eye view of the city of Minneapolis, Minn., where so many Portsmouth people are now and have been engaged, in the window of the 99-cent store on Market street, where it was framed. The engraving is of large size, and the property of Mr. Fred Brown.

Mrs. John J. Pickering has offered medals of the N. H. S. P. C. A., approved for the best essays on "Kindness to Animals" written by pupils of the high and grammar schools of Exeter. The medals will be awarded in December, at a public meeting held for the purpose.

Sea fowl have been flying in great numbers on Great bay for the past six weeks, and gunners have been in search of them with considerable success. Some of the most fortunate gunners have been the "Shute boys" (very appropriately named,) of Newmarket, who own and occupy an island in the bay, and one of whom owns a double-barrelled Remington shot gun of four calibre—the biggest breech-loading double-barrel in the state; the "Pickering boys," (Jim and Tom,) and Luther Coleman, of Newington, the latter of whom killed in one day twenty-seven birds. The sportsmen on the bay mostly belong in Newington, Dover point and Eliot. A person standing on the shore of the bay lately saw eight gunning-floats at one time.

A Market street storekeeper who had exhausted all known devices and lost his own patience in endeavoring to rid his store of rats, made up his mind the other night that he would change his tactics and try what kindness would do for the "dum" animals. His first experiment in this line was to offer for their inspection a bag of flour, (into which, some of his neighbors insinuate, was mixed a certain bread-raising preparation,) which was put in a conspicuous place where the varmints would be sure to find it, and wishing good luck to his plan he put out the lights and put out himself. The next morning on opening the store, there stood the bag with a large hole in it, and alongside was an immense wharf-rat in such a "catamose" state that he was unable to move. Mr. S— applied the heel of his boot and knocked out of the rat what little life there was left. We should think this kind of trapping would be expensive, but as probably there were other rats at the feast, that did not eat quite so much as this one and in consequence were able to get away, people are wondering what the result will be when they drink water.

Horace Bogart, whose body was recovered after having been buried in the well at South Berwick, was formerly a marine at the navy yard, coming here to serve out his enlistment after the war was over. He married a York woman, and since resided in that town or South Berwick. Three children are left with the widow to mourn his loss.

Middleboro, Mass., citizens are about to organize a "Society for the Detection of Horse Thieves."

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

RAYNHAM, MASS., Aug. 12, 1878.

C. I. Hood & Co.: Gentlemen— * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. To-day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.

I am gratefully yours,
EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we boast that it is in the house.

Yours truly,
HOMER B. NASH.

THE CURBSTONE BRIGADE.

Mr. Editor: I am glad to see by your paper of Friday morning that the Times condemns the condition of affairs suffered by our "unanimous" city government in the rightly-endorsed "nuisance" on Congress street. There is hope that the custom-house organ, which half apologised recently for the glass-breaking nuisance, (which your paper condemned) and contended that when the present efficient! city government said "don't" it had done its whole duty, will arouse its political friends, who hold every office under the city government, to some show of efficiency in their public *duty.

The democratic party named the police officers. Are the men better, or of less account, than their predecessors? Is the chief of police a more suitable man for his position than was the man who gave way to him? Are our citizens convinced that the city is better governed by a city government of one political party alone, who of course assume the responsibility of affairs and have no minority to keep the majority in line? The answer seems to be found in the assertion made by a prominent democrat who confessed recently that the party had got an elephant on their hands. This fact is realized by the leaders, who had perferred to divide the responsibility of the government, or at least have one ward represented by republican members in the city government.

But the nuisance complained of is something which every good citizen should aid in exterminating. The police should be sustained in all proper efforts at this reform. The trouble is the boys do not care for the police, because they have not shown the determination to enforce the ordinances. Let the street be properly patrolled, and if impeded, let arrests be made, and when it is learned that the authorities will not be trifled with, order will succed chaos in the matter complained of. There is a great chance for the city government to show if it is composed of any efficient material. M.

*The mayor has already given orders to the police to strictly enforce the law against obstructing sidewalks, as "M" may see in our advertising columns.—Editor.

A FINE STORE.

W. J. Sampson & Co. (Willard J. Sampson, Herman Manson and Joseph H. Gardiner, all practical painters and paper hangers,) will open their new store, Nos. 10 and 12 Daniel street, this (Saturday) forenoon at ten o'clock. This store in its street front (though the decorations are not yet completed) and its internal arrangements they claim to be the finest and most attractive in the state; and that their stock, for variety, completeness and judiciousness of selection, cannot be approached by any other this side of Boston. They certainly make a bewildering display of new and choice styles of wall papers, dados, friezes, borders, curtains, room mouldings, etc., and we should judge that they had in stock enough paints, oils, varnishes, ebony and other stains, bronzes, etc., to paint the town all the colors of the rainbow, and many more. They have a full line of artists' materials, and will keep colored glass of all kinds, for windows, and everything else that should reasonably be looked for in a first-class paint and room-paper store.

Call around to-day, and inspect the new store and stock.

THE "BOOM" IN EASTERN.

Eastern railroad stock sold in lots of from 100 to 450 shares, at the brokers' board in Boston on the 13th, the price being "boosted" from 59 up to 64, and then pushed back to 62 1-4, nearly 3000 shares changing hands up to noon.

The annual report of the consolidated Boston & Maine and Eastern railroads for the past fiscal year has been made to the railroad commissioners of Massachusetts. The amount left over for the Eastern sinking fund is $134,511.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

FRIDAY, Nov. 13th.

William Tighe, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90; paid.

MUSIC HALL.

The very successful engagement of the popular Ullie Akerstrom company closes to-day, with the performance of "The Pearl of Savoy," afternoon and evening. They have given much satisfaction here, and will be warmly greeted should they return.

A RAILROAD RUMOR.

A Massachusetts paper says a big railroad scheme is reported to be on foot—the union of the Boston & Maine with the Canadian Pacific, over the Portland & Ogdensburg, securing a transcontinental route between the sea-boards for the traffic of the Indias and the Northwest. Agents of the Barings are said to be buying bonds of the Portland & Ogdensburg road in large amounts. This road is the shortest route through the White mountains to Canada. It is now equipped with steel rails and iron bridges, but has long suffered for want of bigger company. Controlled by friends of the Boston & Maine and Canadian Pacific, an immense traffic is expected to pass over it, crossing the St. Lawrence over the projected bridge at Lachine, and passing through the mountains to Portland, Portsmouth and Boston.

Mr. David H. Montgomery of this city died on Friday in Boston, at Dr. Cullis' faith cure hospital.

Messrs. Ayers & Locke have opened a case of 219 lbs. fine homespun yarn, in assorted colors, which they are selling at four skeins for a quarter—former price twelve cents a skein. They also place on sale this morning a large invoice of men's scarlet all-wool shirts and drawers, all sizes, at fifty cents each. They claim that no such bargains in these goods were ever offered in this city.

Among the Raymond excursionists who left Boston on the 12th inst. for California were the Misses Foster, of Richards avenue, and Mrs. John J. Berry and Miss Annie D. Berry of Deer street.

Helen Potter, "the queen of the platform," and the most distinguished elocutionist and impersonator in America, is to appear in Franklin theatre on Monday evening, Nov. 23d. The subscription book is now open at H. B. Buzzell & Son's book-store, and those subscribing will have the first choice of seats at the opening sale of tickets, which will be only fifty cents each.

Mrs. Sarah F. Knight, wife of Rev. Zebulon Knight of North Berwick, died on the 9th inst., at the age of thirty-four years, leaving a family of nine children.

Rev. N. L. Colby of Manchester will preach in the Middle street Baptist church to-morrow.

Mr. Abercrombie, the English tenor who sang in the Unitarian church on two recent Sundays, to the marked acceptance of the congregation, will sing there again to-morrow.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the city, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by sanding and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the marshals or any constable or police officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars.

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly co-operate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

MARCELLUS ELDRIDGE, Mayor.

Read what the people say concerning the ability of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to cure asthma, catarrh, croup, colds, etc. Mrs. Dora Koch of Buffalo, says: "For croup it is decidedly efficacious." [Mrs. Jacob Mellner of Marion, Ohio, says the same thing.] S. S. Gravey, Akron, N. Y., writes: "Had asthma of the worst kind, took one dose of Thomas' Eclectric Oil and was relieved in a few minutes. Would walk five miles for this medicine and pay $5 a bottle for it." Druggist C. R. Hall, Graysville, Ill., says: "Cured a girl cursed throat for me in twenty-four hours." "Sat up in bed and coughed till the clothing was wet with perspiration. My wife insisted that I use Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The first teaspoonful RELIEVED me." E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, N. Y., Thomas' Eclectric Oil is also a Tip-Top external application for rheumatism, cuts, scalds, burns, bites, bruises, etc. When visiting the druggist, ask him what he knows of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; if he has been long in the drug trade, he sure he will speak highly of it.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of game! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 100:300 ft $45 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY A LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $2.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served." Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

What Will Surely Do It.
One's hair begins to fall out from many cases. The important question is: What is sure to make it grow in again? According to the testimony of thousands, Parker's Hair Balsam will do it. It quickly covers bald spots, restores the original color when the hair is gray or faded, eradicates dandruff and causes the scalp to feel cool and well. It is not a dye, not greasy, highly perfumed, safe. Never disappoints those who require a nice, reliable dressing.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

DR. James D. Bragg, a druggist and physician of the old school, residing at 271 East Main St., Bridgeport, Connecticut, is full of praise for Athlophoros. This is what he has to say:

"I have been a resident of this city for ten years and am conversant with the prevailing diseases in this section. None is so common as rheumatism and neuralgia. During the fall season I have a busy practice with neuralgia and rheumatic patients, and I prescribe Athlophoros with unparalelled success. It is a perfectly safe medicine, and so pure that a baby can take it."

One of the happiest men in Maine nowadays is William Sawyer, of West Hampden, Penobscot county. Mr. Sawyer is a butcher, long and favorably known in his county, and that he has abundant cause for his happiness will appear from the following statement.

"I was sick last fall with rheumatism," he says, "and a lady sent me word to try Athlophoros. I did so. When I got the medicine the minister was at my house. At four o'clock it took him and two others to get me up off the bed. I took the Athlophoros and in less than two hours one man got me off the bed and in ten hours I got off alone, and in eighteen hours my fever had all gone. I have recommended the medicine to three others that were not so badly off as I was and it worked like a charm. I tell the doctors that I will bet fifty dollars that I can cure any rheumatism fever, I don't care how bad, in twenty hours with one bottle of Athlophoros. I am a butcher going around all over the country and I have to tell this story sometimes ten times a day. I wouldn't be without Athlophoros, and carry it with me all the time."

"I wish to say a word in praise of Athlophoros," says E. J. Flood, of Oxford, Me. "I was taken with rheumatism last May and was treated by my family doctor for some time without relief. I then tried every other rheumatic cure I could hear of with the same result. Some five weeks ago I by chance learned of Athlophoros. I bought a bottle and began taking it and in less than twenty-four hours I could walk without a cane and suffered no pain. I have taken two bottles and to-day I am able to do a hard day's work. I consider it the greatest rheumatic remedy ever known. Since I have been cured I have had a number of people come to me to ask what I took to cure me. To-day I have had three ladies from a distance of six miles to hear about the great remedy. There are three persons in my village that are now using it with the happiest results."

Mrs. Charles H. Gifford, of Lincoln Centre, Me., says:

"I cannot express my thanks for the benefit I have received from the use of one bottle of Athlophoros. I inherited rheumatism from my mother, who suffered untold agony until her death. My father spent hundreds of dollars to get help for her and found none. I have tried many different remedies, but never got any relief to speak of from them, except from Athlophoros, which I can truly say has helped me. I wish to get a few more bottles, so that I can let some of my suffering friends have some."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Reform of Our Public Land Policy.

Notwithstanding this immense cession of lands the government still retains an acreage worth looking after.

One hundred and forty-nine Indian reservations, covering one hundred and forty-four million acres, will soon be restored to settlement by some fair and equitable means. Seventy-three million acres of timber area and one billion acres of unsurveyed lands make the question of sufficient magnitude to warrant the most careful study as to the methods best calculated to protect, preserve, and dispose of this vast interest to the greatest advantage.

As when an individual holds title to lands, he will name no price on any particular parcel until he is in some way made acquainted with its value, so should the government exercise like precaution and some judgment in the disposition of its lands. There is urgent need of a thorough overhauling and complete revision of the present system, and a change in measures and methods. Our present Secretary of Interior has already shown a determination to enter upon this great work, and his efforts in that direction should meet with proper encouragement from the people. The first thing, then, to do is to withdraw from market all offered lands. Next, we should repeal the pre-emption, timber-culture, desert-land, timber, and stone acts, and revise the homestead laws. Then we should cause to be made by practical and experienced woodsmen such careful examination and appraisal as an individual owner would do of all the surveyed lands. At a cost not to exceed five cents per acre, the Department of the Interior can be furnished with a complete record and description of each forty-acre lot in the whole seventy millions of timber area it now owns—such reports showing in detail the nature of the soil; variety, quality, and quantity of timber; whether watered by stream, lake, or springs; if pine timber, the facilities of bringing logs to market, either by stream or by rail—in short every item necessary to enable the Department to arrive at its actual value.

A scale of prices should then be placed on the timbered or mineral lands on the basis of their relative and ascertained value. No homestead entry should be permitted where the value of the land is in the timber standing thereon, only lands suitable for agriculture and pasturage being open to such entry; none of these lands to be sold for cash without actual occupancy, the object of the government with reference to these being not to realize their value in money, but to reserve them for cultivation and permanent homes for the people.

Such amendment to the homstead law should be made that at any time after a continuous residence of not less than two years the settler may receive patent for his location by paying therefor one dollar per acre, and that no matter how long he might continue to reside thereon, no patent should ever issue until such sum be payed.—Veeder B. Paine, in Harper's Magazine for October.

Bridal Omens.

The Romans were very superstitious about marrying in May and February. The 14th has always been considered in England peculiarly unlucky for brides. Why, tradition saith not. In the Orkney Isles the bride selects an evening for her wedding when there is a full moon and a flowing tide. In Scotland the last day of the year is considered lucky; the bride's prospects in life are supposed to be brilliant.

Sunday is a great favorite with brides in some parts of England and Ireland. The French demoiselle, however, thinks the first Friday in the month particularly fortunate for her nuptials.

In Sweden the bride on her way back from church has pieces of bread in her pockets. These she throws away on her road to her home to insure good luck. It is ill-fortune to the one who picks up these crumbs. If the bride loses her slipper on her way from church, she will lose all her troubles and the one who picks it up will gain riches.

In every country it is an unhappy omen for the wedding to be put off when once the day has been fixed, and in England it is believed great misfortune will ensue if a bridegroom stand, if only for a moment, at the junction of cross-roads on his wedding morn. In England, also, it is thought a sign of bad luck if the bride fails to shed tears on her wedding day, or if she turns back to take a last look at herself in her wedding toilet.

Among the English lasses it is bad luck for a bride to look back or go back when once she had started for the church, or to marry dressed in green, or to let the ceremony go on while there is an open grave in the churchyard. When the bridesmaids undress the bride they must be sure to throw away all the pins, to make sure of good luck to themselves as well as for her. If a single pin be left in the bride's raiment, woe unto her. And if a bridemaid should keep one of them she will not be married before Whitsuntide or the Easter following. Therefore, bridesmaids in England are not given to preserving the pins of the bridal costumes. If the bridal party venture off the land they must go up stream, and the bride, to make certain of good luck, must, on the happy day, wear "Something old and something new, something gold and something blue." If she sees a strange cat that day she will take it as an omen that she is to be very happy; and if on the morning of her wedding day she steps from her bed on something higher still, she will rise in the world from the time of her marriage. To make sure of this, the maiden has a chair and a table at her bedside, and steps from one to the other on rising from her slumbers on her wedding morn. On leaving her home, and on starting from the church to return, she is very careful to address her husband after they are wed without first calling him by his full name. The break of the wedding ring is a sign that wearer will soon be a widow.

A new notion among oculists is that men's eyes are more sensitive than those of women to the colors red, yellow and green.

There was a remarkable coincidence of events in the lives of Jefferson Davis and Abraham Lincoln until each approached the climacteric of his public career. They were both born in Kentucky, Davis in 1808 and Lincoln in 1809. They both were removed from their native State in childhood. Davis being carried to the southwest and Lincoln further to the northwest, then so-called. Both of them began their political careers at the same period, in 1844, Davis being then a Presidential Elector for Polk and Lincoln an Elector for Henry Clay. Both served in the Indian wars of the West, and both were elected to Congress about the same time, 1845 and 1846. And, lastly, in the parallel, in the same year, and almost the same day, they were called upon to preside over their respective Governments, Davis as President of the Confederate States and Lincoln of the United States.

A PROCLAMATION

With the advice and consent of the council, I hereby appoint Thursday, the 26th day of November instant, as a day of thanksgiving, recreation, and rejoicing. In this we are following in the footsteps of our fathers, who were accustomed to celebrate the ingathering of the annual harvest with festivities, amusements, and religious ceremonies.

I recommend to the people of this state to observe the day in such a manner as shall be for the best good of themselves and of the community in which they live; to rejoice in the peace, plenty, and happiness that everywhere surround them; to give thanks for all the gifts which they are daily receiving from the Giver of all good; and so to conform their lives and actions to the laws of their being, that they may receive the blessings that naturally follow in the footsteps of obedience.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this eleventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and tenth.
MOODY CURRIER.

By His Excellency the Governor, with advice of the Council.
A. B. THOMPSON, Secretary of State.

What Does It Mean?

The New York Herald of Saturday says: "The corvette Brooklyn, Captain E. O. Matthews commanding, was hurried off from the navy yard yesterday morning and sent down to the anchorage off Ellis island, where she takes in her supply of powder and shell and fixed ammunition for the machine guns and small arms. She is coaled and provisioned for a long absence, and when her magazines are filled she merely awaits the board of inspection ordered from Washington, which will perform its work on Monday next. She will, doubtless, join the flagship Tennessee somewhere on the south or Central American coast. The same spirit of hurry and push has been manifested in the fitting out of the Despatch. Yesterday morning steam was turned on and the engines thoroughly tried at the dock. It is understood that she will proceed south to join the flagship at the earliest possible moment. Orders are daily expected to complete the fitting out of the despatch boat Dolphin, so that she may join the North Atlantic squadron. She could be made ready for sea in a fortnight. Workmen are also preparing the Essex and Richmond for service. The Tallapoosa, of unfortunate fame, is looking quite ship-shape, and is rapidly assuming an air of a sea-going cruiser. Steam was up in the boilers Thursday, and her engines satisfactorily tested."

Ex-Senator William Sharon Dead.

William Sharon died in San Francisco on the 13th inst., at the age of sixty-four years. He was reported to be worth $15,000,000, and that was all he was worth. He made his fortune in the "bonanza" time of 1872, in four months, through his connection with the "banker" Ralston; succeeded, through his vast wealth, in getting himself elected to a seat in the United States senate, which he seldom occupied, and did not honor when he was in it; and was the defendant in the suit of the California adventuress, Sarah Althea Hill, against his money bags, she claiming to be his wife, which resulted in a decision by the judge, after the most grotesque trial on record, that the scheming Sarah was entitled to share Sharon's property. But for his luckily acquired wealth he would never have been heard of outside the town where he lived.

The Norway Plains savings bank at Rochester has petitioned the supreme court of Suffolk county, Mass., to expel Edward P. Brown from the bar because he collected a judgment for $19,326.06 in favor of the bank in 1883, and would not pay it over. Col. Brown in the meantime has skipped the commonwealth, and the N. P. S. B. will probably have the satisfaction of paying for advertising the notices of their petition and seeing a default on the part of the missing Brown, without increasing their receipts. The result will be that a sum equal to the last reported guaranty fund of the bank will have to be charged off by the bank.

The Servian army commenced a march on Sofia in three columns on the 14th inst.; one column is under the personal command of King Milan, who has formally declared war against Bulgaria.

A giant powder explosion set fire to the hoisting works and shaftcasing of the Bull Domingo silver mine at Silver Cliff, Col., Nov. 13th, killing the superintendent and imprisoning twelve men in the lower level.

Gen. Hazen thinks it would be well to secure a higher class of men in the signal service, and the country is willing to have the reform begin at the top.

Rev. A. T. Dunn, formerly of Dorchester, Mass., was installed pastor of the Free street Baptist church at Portland, Me., Nov. 13th.

The Dover Mutual Fire Insurance Co. was organized last Thursday with Col. Daniel Hall president, H. A. Redfield secretary, and Isaac T. Abbott treasurer.

The great gale of the 2d inst. unroofed a shed on the premises of Mrs. Johnson in Kittery, near the York line. In Eliot many trees, fences and small buildings felt the force of the gale. M. P. Tobey had quite a number of large fruit trees destroyed; they were twisted off, and many of them carried twenty-five or thirty feet from their stumps.

WHAT WILL convince you of the wonderful curative properties combined in HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, if the remarkable cures that have been effected by its use fail to impress upon your mind this repeatedly proven fact? Thousands are using it, and all declare that it is a medicine possessing all and even more than we claim for it. My friend, if you are sick or in that condition that you cannot call yourself either sick or well, go and get a bottle of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and realize yourself how this medicine hits the right spot, and puts all the machinery of your body into working order.

LOWELL, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my wants as your Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,
J. P. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a rousing appetite, and it did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested."

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.
n14d1w MARCELLUS ELDREDGE, Mayor.

THIS PAPER may be found on file at Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce St.), where advertisements may be made for it IN NEW YORK.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

SATURDAY, Nov. 14th.

Edward Carr and James Learned, for drunkenness, were each assessed $9.90, fine and costs, and ordered to the county farm at Brentwood for not paying.

Robert Foster was charged with drunkenness. He explained to the court that his Great Falls job had petered out, but he had another one in view in case the court would let him off just this once. The court thought he could get a job without being let off, and ordered him to the county farm for six months, and to pay $6.90 costs.

MUSIC HALL.

An unusually large matinee audience attended the performance of the "Pearl of Savoy" by the Ullie Akerstrom company Saturday afternoon, and in the evening the house was crowded, the same play being presented as the closing entertainment of the two weeks engagement of this really meritorious organization. Miss Akerstrom is a pleasing and conscientious actress, with decidedly more ability than many of the so-called stars, and the support is such that she does not have to carry the whole play herself. Should the company return their reception would be cordial.

The concert to be given in Music hall on Thursday evening, the 19th inst., will be a musical feast. The Weber quartette is one of the leading musical organizations of New England; and concerning Miss Carrie Ernestine Hale, who is to read on this occasion, the Boston Traveller says: "It is but justice to Miss Hale, to say that she possesses very extraordinary natural elocutionary powers, which have been highly cultivated. She is unquestionably destined to be a 'star' in the profession."

LAND SALE.

The Tucker farm, so called, on Rye road, nearly the whole of the land being in Rye though the buildings are within the limits of this city, was sold at auction on Saturday by C. Dwight Hanscom & Co. for $3800, the property being bidden off by Solomon Schurman for Mr. Nathaniel Wiggin. There is a large amount of heavy timber on the place.

Skating and dance party at the Casino this evening. See advertisement.

Over 3000 shares of Eastern railroad stock were sold at the brokers' board in Boston on Saturday, starting at 66, reaching 70, and then dropping back to 67 1-2, one sale of twenty-five shares being made at 68 1-2, after the last call at the board. Maine Central sold at 120, and Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway at 52 and 53.

We are informed that the statement published in the Times recently that the suit of Lang and others against Dennis J. Lynch had been decided in favor of Lynch by the United States circuit court is entirely erroneous, no such decision having been made.

It was expected there would be a big discharge of workmen from the navy yard on Saturday evening, the 14th, but the total number was only seven,—five calkers and two blacksmith's helpers, from the department of construction and repair. This leaves but two persons in the calker's gang,—the boss and one apprentice.

There were but few country teams in town on Saturday, compared with what is usual on that day; but on Friday there were hundreds of them, and also many loads of hay and a number of loads of wood.

Of seven couples married in this city between June 1st, 1840, and Jan. 1st, 1841, by Rev. Dr. Peabody, there survives now of each couple one person only, namely, one widower and six widows.

Preparations are being made for a masquerade ball at the Casino on Thursday evening, Dec. 17th.

Baltimore levies a tax of $25,000 on its telephones. Boston will follow suit. The propriety of collecting a tax from a monopoly that has such stiff prices will occur to every municipality.

Large numbers of chickens are now being brought from the neighboring towns into this city, where they find a ready market among our butchers, at prices satisfactory to the sellers.

Elvin Newton has made considerable repairs at Commercial wharf at his own expense, and is placing his counting room at the fine Hale & Rollins brick block on Water street in a pleasing condition with modern office furniture. The rooms have not been occupied until of late by any business man since the disruption of the above-named firm, who as the old people know, carried on a heavy business there. The signs of Samuel Hale and I. Rollins, firmly fixed over the door, still remain, and the letters are yet legible.

It was generally thought through the summer that the yield of apples in the neighboring towns would be very light, but on being gathered the crop has turned out to be more than double what was anticipated. The market for them has been so dull and the prices so low that many farmers are grinding their entire crop into cider.

Augustus K. Brown's teams were hauling fish in boxes for transportation by rail, Sunday afternoon.

The whale-boat fishermen have finished their operations for this year, and were stripping and hauling up their boats last week. They have generally done fairly well during the season just closed.

Schooners Quickstep, Martha Jane, Legal Tender and Northern Eagle arrived at Commercial wharf on Sunday with light fares, about 12,000 lbs. in all.

Capt. Frank P. Coleman, of the schooner Emily A. Staples, while his vessel was lying at anchor in the lower harbor a few days since on account of stress of weather took occasion to visit his family at his suburban residence in Newington. He has made one trip this season from Saco with bricks, to Boston and return, in three days, and another in three and a half days, making his passages so quickly that the natives were surprised. Capt. Coleman will lay up his vessel toward the end of this month, and stop at home during the winter.

The schooner Freddie Eaton, Aylward master, arrived on the 13th from Port Johnson, N. J., with 178 tons coal to E. F. Sise & Co.

Joseph W. Sneller, fifty-five years old, married and having four grown-up children, attempted to cross the Eastern railroad track at West Lynn while the gates were closed on the 12th inst., and was instantly killed by a gravel train. He was a stationary engineer, and a Grand Army man.

James P. Hanley of Lawrence, Mass., was instantly killed while walking on the track of the Eastern railroad near Salem on the evening of the 12th, being struck by a passenger train. He was thirty-five years old, and was the third person killed on the Eastern division of the Boston & Maine road inside of thirty-six hours.

"Harper's Magazine" for December has been received at M. Goodrich's bookstore and Moses Bros.' periodical and news room, and is ready for delivery to subscribers or for sale by the single number. The issue for December is the beginning of Vol. 72, and is peculiarly appropriate to the Christmas season, having for a frontispiece the Madonna del Granduca, engraved by W. B. Closson from Raphael's painting; and the first paper, "The Nativity in Art," being illustrated with engravings from the masterpieces of eleven of the old masters.

"The Old Farmer's Almanac" for 1886, by Robert B. Thomas, being No. 94 of that popular and reliable publication, has been received and is on sale by Mercer Goodrich.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourists will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

Palma Sola possesses the largest store in Southern Florida, with sawmill, furniture factory, packing houses, warehouses, churches, school house, postoffice, stores, beautiful residences, and a large wharf at which ocean steamers arrive daily from Tampa.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present price. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 100x200 ft. $25 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $15.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

The Renewal of Vigor.

The most important step in this process is the restoration of the functions of digestion and assimilation to full and uninterrupted exercise. Once it is upon their activity alone that the system can depend to replenish its dwindling stores of energy. Among tonics which the voice of the people and high professional indorsement approve as reliable, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has long been recognized as the best. Its properties as a medical stimulant commend it to all persons suffering from the effects of fatigue, mental or bodily, as an immediate means of counteracting their effects; and in cases where loss of vigor is attributable to such weakening chronic causes as dyspepsia, affections of the kidneys and bladder, and the infirmities peculiar to age, it produces permanently beneficial results. Those twin obstacles to health and vigor, liver complaint and constipation, are also removed by it. It also prevents and cures malarial disease.

The body of the widow of Captain Jerome B. Eaton, sixty years of age, was found in the river at Calais, Me., Nov. 13th. She had shown symptoms of insanity the past few weeks.

John Wall of North Andover, Mass., was killed by a shifting engine at Lowell on the 13th inst.

Pretty Women.

Ladies who would retain freshness and vivacity. Don't fail to try "Well's Health Renewer."

The dead body of a woman seventy years old, named Rosanna Berg, has been found buried in the cellar of the house she occupied in York, Pa., last summer, having evidently been murdered. Chas. Trabert was arrested, but two other suspects escaped.

"Rough On Itch."

"Rouga on Itch" cures humors, eruptions, ringworm, tetter, salt rheum, frosted feet, chilblains.

John A. Sullivan and Jesse Lipsett, who were lost in the fog from the fishing schooner Lillian Baxter of Gloucester, Mass., on the Grand banks, Sept. 28th, arrived in Gloucester last week. They were picked up after four days and three nights exposure in a dory without food or drink, by the British barque John Duthie, from Jamaica, and landed at Liverpool, England, whence they were sent home by the United States consul.

Take Warning,

And don't let the germs of that vile disease, Catarrh, take root and flourish in your system. Sulphur Bitters will prevent this and will make you strong and healthy.—Editor Weekly Press.

Henry Epping was instantly killed, and several others severely injured, Nov. 13th, by the falling of the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Furnishing company's factory.

I was troubled with Chronic Catarrh and gathering in my head, was very deaf at times, had discharges from my ears, and was unable to breathe through my nose. Before the second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm was exhausted I was cured and to-day enjoy sound health.—C. J. Corbin, 923 Chestnut st., Field Manager, Philadelphia Pub. House, Pa. See adv't.

There is considerable betting among members of the New York Maritime Exchange as to whether the steamship Alaska or the Etruria will reach that port first. Both steamers sailed from Liverpool on the 7th inst.

Ministers, Lawyers, Teachers, and others whose occupation gives but little exercise, should use Carter's Little Liver Pills for torpid Liver and biliousness. One is a dose.

The Chinese at Lorenzo and Boulder Creek, Cal., were given twenty-four hours' notice to leave, and have gone.

Derangement of the liver, with constipation, injure the complexion, induce pimples, sallow skin, etc. Remove the cause by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose.

Mrs. Anthony Rochelle attempted suicide by jumping into Sprague's pond at Brockton, Mass., Nov. 13th, but was rescued.

We think we can cure a bad case of Backache quicker with one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters, than by any other application, and after the Backache is cured, you can still wear the plaster without discomfort for two or three weeks or longer. This combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna is a great hit, and it is hard to find any pain or ache that will not yield to it. Price 25 cents. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Charles Dodge of Boston was arraigned at Concord on the 13th inst., for obtaining goods under false pretences, and, pleading guilty, was committed in default of bail.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites,

What Will Surely Do It.

One's hair begins to fall out from many causes. The important question is: What is sure to make it grow in again? According to the testimony of thousands, Parker's Hair Balsam will do it. It quickly covers bald spots, restores the original color when the hair is gray or faded, eradicates dandruff and causes the scalp to feel cool and well. It is not a dye, not greasy, highly perfumed, safe. Never disappoints those who require a nice, reliable dressing.

Assistant Engineer W. B. Boggs is detached from the Tennessee and placed on waiting orders.

The Rev. Wm. Stout, Wiarton, Ont., states: "After being ineffectually treated by seventeen different doctors for scrofula and blood diseases, I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters." Write him for proof.

The orders of Commander J. J. Read to command the Quinnebaug have been revoked, and he has been ordered to remain in command of the Michigan.

The well known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Commander George W. Mayward has been ordered to command the Quinnebaug.

A MIXED-UP MATTER.

The supreme court of Massachusetts, sitting in Salem for a few days past, had among the novel law points submitted for solution by its judges a most interesting one presented in the Randlett-Rice appeal case from the probate court for Essex county, in which General Butler and Prentiss Webster appeared for Mrs. Randlett, and R. M. Morse, Jr., and Amos Noyes for Mr. Rice.

Rice is the administrator of the estate of Thomas L. Randlett, deceased, of Newburyport, who left an estate valued at $100,000, of which his widow seeks her share under the statutes. The objection raised to her prayer is that she had a lawful husband alive at the time she married Randlett, and therefore the marriage to Randlett was null and void. The facts are as follows:

In 1836 one Ira Alexander Haven married in the state of Vermont one Emeroy Horton, by whom he had two children, when in 1863 he took another woman to Canada, changed his name by dropping the Haven, and lived with this woman in Canada, where she bore him a child who bears his name. This woman died in Canada, whereupon he left the Dominion and came to Portsmouth, bringing his boy with him. He boarded with the parents of one Mary Jane Dennett, to whom he paid attentions until one day in 1864, when he stated to her parents that they were going to Great Falls to be married, and returned that same night, Alexander saying to the parents of Mary Jane: "She is now my wife. She is Mrs. Alexander." They began to live together as husband and wife, were treated as such in the community, attended church and went into society, and, in fact, were known in no other relation in the community. In the spring of 1866 Mrs. Haven, the Vermont wife, died. Alexander and Mary Jane still continued their relation of husband and wife. In the fall of 1866 Alexander went to Newburyport to work, returning to Portsmouth every Saturday night to spend Sunday with Mary Jane and his boy.

While working at Newburyport he formed the acquaintance of one Mrs. Ayres, to whom he paid attentions until the fall of 1867, when they were married at Lynn. A few months later, while Alexander and Mrs. Ayres were living as husband and wife and eating their dinner, Mary Jane went to the house and claimed Alexander as her husband, which claim he admitted to Mrs. Ayres was correct, whereupon Mrs. Ayres told him to leave her house and never let her see him again. He left and returned to Portsmouth, where he rejoined Mary Jane and his boy, and took them with him as wife and child to Maine, where they lived as such, and where, among other things, she released her dower in his property. Twelve years after Alexander left Newburyport, Mrs. Ayres was sought in marriage by Mr. Randlett, to whom she told the story of her life with Alexander, saying to him that when she sent Alexander off she consulted a lawyer on the question whether she ought to procure a divorce, to which the lawyer advised no; that Alexander was not her husband, as he had another wife alive, at the time he married her. Mr. Randlett looked into all these matters, was satisfied that Mrs. Ayres could marry, and married her. This was in 1880, and they lived as husband and wife until 1882, when he died, leaving the property in which she claims a widow's share.

Mrs. Randlett's counsel argued that she was an innocent party throughout, and that the laws of New Hampshire, which do not prohibit common law marriages, should govern the relation of Mary Jane and Alexander in this state, after the death of Mrs. Haven, and that a marriage of those parties should be decreed, which would thus render Alexander incapable of contracting a marriage at Lynn with Mrs. Ayres. Counsel argued also that though Alexander was unable to contract a marriage in 1864 at Great Falls, yet he became able so to do in 1866, when he was still living with Mary Jane and calling her his wife.

The counsel for the estate argued against the possibility of any presumptions in favor of an innocent party—either that Mrs. Haven was divorced from Alexander, or that Alexander was divorced from Mrs. Ayres, or that Alexander and Mary Jane could have married themselves according to the rules of the common law.

The case is one of great importance, involving as it does the status of an innocent woman, which status the supreme court of Massachusetts, it would seem, must decide according to the laws of another state, where the same question in the same form has never yet arisen.

THE MINER'S PROTEGE.

BY ULIE.*

"Wal, you see it's a queer story, Missy,
The little gal's none o' mu'n;
But you bet when the old man go under
She's the one who will handle our "tin."
My pard an' me's rough minin' fellers,
We've got nary children or wife;
But we love little yaller-haired Nellie,
An' we'll rear her up right,—bet yer life.

How old? Wal she's nigh eight I reckon,
Five years since we brought her out here;
An' she was the cunninest baby
We'd looked at for many a year.
We see 'twas the time the Apaches
Broke out. Blast the red imps o' sin!
The emigrant train crossed their trail, Miss,
An' the Injuns they scooped 'em all in.

Yes, thar lay men, children an' wimmen;
The red imps had raised all their ha'r;
We couldn't do nothin' to help 'em,
So my pard an me buried them thar.
Thar was one likely lookin' young cretur'
Lyin' out from the rest of the heap;
She was dead like the t'ovest—an' poor Nellie
Was close by her side fast asleep.

Wal, 'twas nigh ninety miles to the settlement;
Bill an' me turned the thing in our mind,
An' at last we concluded to keep her
An' bring her up lovin' an kind.
We buried her poor dad an' mummy,
Likewise all the unlucky mates,
An' we named her Nell, arter a sweetheart
My pard had once, back in the States.

But the trouble we had with that young un
Was somethin' quite funny to see;
Bill gave her up for a mystery,
Likewise she was too much for me.
Her durned duds, they wouldn't go on right,
An' we cussed every button an' string;
But arter a spell we did better,
When we once got the hang o' the thing.

An' she's growin' up pert-like an bloomin';
We take her to work every day,
An' while Bill an' me's busy minin'
She'll sit on the rock pile an' play.
An' she's made better men of us both, Miss,
We don't cuss now, nor go on no spree;
'Cause we're wonkin' and savin' for Nellie,
The pride of my old pard an' me.

LONGEVITY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Statistics show that New Hampshire is pre-eminently the home of the centenarian, monogenarian and octogenarian, of hale and hearty old men who began life with the republic. Indeed, so numerous are the veterans of the war of 1812 in some of the remote towns of the Granite State that a popular impression prevails there that "the last war," as it is still called by these warriors of bygone days, was fought entirely by New Hampshire regiments, and that from Lundy's Lane to the battle of New Orleans they carried the American banner to the front on every hard-contested field. Many theories have been spun as to why people should live to be older in New Hampshire than in Vermont or Maine. Of course, there must be some good reason for it. Perhaps it is because they take better care of their health and understand what is the right medicine for the right disease. Such at least would seem to be the inference from the following account by Charles M. Lampney, Esq., a well-known attorney and counselor, of Hampton, N. H., of how he was cured of rheumatism:

"I have had several attacks of rheumatism within the last thirty years," he says, "and have got rid of them the best I could with the help of good physicians. The last attack, which began in April, 1884, was the severest. I was daily under the care of the doctor, who gave me the best attention to relieve me of the severe pain and to relax the contracted muscles. I was taken in the back of the neck. In a few days the pain moved down into the limbs, and in the course of three weeks had run all through the joints from head to foot. At the commencement of the fourth week it had apparently settled down to stay all over me from the back of the head to the toes, and I was unable to move any part of the body except the right hand at the wrist joints. The day before, Deacon Hobbs, a neighbor, who had been suffering for several months with rheumatism, sent me word that he was taking Athlophoros and that it was doing him good. My father accordingly went to Boston for a bottle. It was brought into the house at 8 o'clock in the evening and found me lying in bed like a corpse.

"I was about to give up the ghost and of course was ready to take anything in hopes that it might do some good. A dose was administered and three hours later another. My hearing became obtuse and my head confused. I dropped into a sleep and slept all night. The next morning after waking I had no pain and could move any part of the body. In the course of three hours I sat up in bed without any assistance. I continued to take the medicine every three hours through the day and a part of the next day and then stopped.

"In a few days I had very severe rheumatic pains in the thumb, and when I went to bed one dose was administered. I slept all night and in the morning the pain was gone. A few days later it returned in the left hand very seriously. On retiring one dose was taken, followed by sleep and no pain in the morning. The whole amount of medicine taken was one and a half bottles, and I have had no occasion to use any since. I consider that the Athlophoros saved my life and I recommend it to all who have rheumatic troubles."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to take something else, but order at once from us, as directed.

THANKSGIVING.

By the President of the United States of America,

A PROCLAMATION.

The American people have always abundant cause to be thankful to Almighty God, whose watchful care and guiding hand have been manifested in every stage of their national life, guarding and protecting them in time of peril, and safely leading them in the hour of darkness and of danger. It is fitting and proper that a nation thus favored should on one day in every year, for that purpose especially appointed, publicly acknowledge the goodness of God, and return thanks to Him for all His gracious gifts.

Therefore I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 26th day of November, instant, as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, and do invoke the observance of the same by all the people of the land. On that day let all secular business be suspended and let the people assembled in their usual places of worship and with prayer and songs of praise devoutly testify their gratitude to the Giver of every good and perfect gift for all that He has done for us in the year that has passed; for our preservation as a united Nation and for our deliverance from the shock and danger of political convulsion; for the blessings of peace and for our safety and quiet while wars and rumors of wars have agitated and afflicted other nations of the earth; for our security against the scourge of pestilence, which in other lands has claimed its dead by thousands and filled the streets with mourners; for plenteous crops which reward the labor of the husbandman and increase our Nation's wealth, and for the contentment throughout our borders which follows in the train of prosperity and abundance. And let there also be on the day thus set apart a reunion of families, sanctified and chastened by tender memories and associations; and let the social intercourse of friends, with pleasant reminiscences, renew the ties of affection and strengthen the bonds of kindly feeling. And let us by no means forget while we give thanks and enjoy the comforts which have crowned our lives that truly grateful hearts are inclined to deeds of charity, and that a kind and thoughtful remembrance of the poor will double the pleasures of our condition and render our praise and thanksgiving more acceptable in the sight of the Lord.

[L. S.] Done at the city of Washington this second day of November, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and tenth.

GROVER CLEVELAND,

By the President, T. F. BAYARD, Secretary of State.

State of Maine.

By the Governor.—A Proclamation.

By the advice and consent of the Executive Council, I appoint Thursday, the 26th day of November, as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise.

It is eminently fitting that a fashion so rational, transmitted to us as it has been through successive generations as a New England custom, should ever be reverentially continued, for its proper observance is well calculated to foster in the hearts of the people a realizing sense of entire dependence upon God for all spiritual and temporal blessings.

This autumnal season finds us enjoying the fruits of the labors of the toiling husbandman in an abundant harvest. Our State has been prospered in all its material interests. Our educational and religious efforts during the year have been blessed by beneficent results. Temperance and other moral reforms are still advancing. "The pestilence, which walketh at noonday," has passed us by unharmed. For these and many other National and State blessings let each heart return a joyful thanksgiving, both in the Public Sanctuary, and around the family fireside, not forgetting to review its individual causes for gratitude; especially let our people rejoice for all those successful efforts which have been made in the past to strengthen the unity of the States and the integrity of the Republic. Let the poor and suffering be everywhere remembered, both by sympathy and bountiful material aid from the more favored; "Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Given at the Council Chamber at Augusta, this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and tenth.

FREDERICK ROBIE.

By the Governor,
ORAMANDEL SMITH, Secretary of State.

Louis Riel Executed for High Treason.

Louis David Riel was hung in the stockade of the mounted police barracks at Regina, Northwest territory, at 8:23 o'clock A. M., Nov. 16th, for high treason. The very best writers of magazine literature are represented in this book, and every article was especially prepared for the work. There are papers by Edward Everett Hale; Rose G. Kingsley, daughter of the late famous English author, Charles Kingsley; Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont; Dr. Felix S. Oswald, the distinguished naturalist; Sarah Orne Jewett; Prof. A. B. Palmer; Oscar Fay Adams; Yan Phou Lee, the Young Chinese scholar and lecturer; Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, Amanda B. Harris, and others of equal reputation. A peculiar feature of the book is that every article it contains has a specific purpose, and assists in educating the reader in some particular branch of the arts and sciences. It is just the book for a present to put into the hands of the children, a book that can not only be read with enjoyment, but studied with profit. It is handsomely illustrated, and tastefully bound.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co., of Boston, have just brought out a new edition of the Portrait Catalogue of their publications. It embraces a list of all the books they publish, under the names of the authors, arranged alphabetically. It contains new portraits of Charles Egbert Craddock (Miss Murfree,) and Richard Grant White, besides those included in previous editions, — Agassiz, Aldrich, Hans Christian Andersen, Bjornson, Browning, Bryant, John Burroughs, Alice and Phœbe Cary, Joseph Cook, Cooper, Emerson, Fields, John Fiske, Bret Harte, Hawthorne, Holmes, Howells, James, Miss Jewett, Lucy Larcom, Longfellow, Lowell, Parton, Miss Phelps, Scudder, Stedman, Mrs. Stowe, Taylor, Tennyson, Mrs. Thaxter, Thoreau, Chas. Dudley Warner, Whipple, Mrs. Whitney, and Whittier.

In addition to the works of the above-named authors, this catalogue comprises most or all of those of the following writers:

Bacon, the British Poets from Chaucer to Wordsworth, Dr. John Brown, Carlyle, James Freeman Clarke, F. Marion Crawford, Richard H. Dana, Jr., De Quincey, Dickens, Goethe, Homer, Hoppin, Hughes, Mrs. Jameson, Samuel Johnson, Starr King, George H. Lewes, Henry Cabot Lodge, Macaulay, Owen Meredith, Montigne, Mulford, Munger, Pascal, Pitt, Adelaide Procter, Abby Sage Richardson, Saxe, Scott, Seward, J. C. Shairp, Shakespeare, Dean Swift, Geo. Ticknor, Virgil, and hundreds of others.

This catalogue, which appears in an attractive new cover, will be sent free to any one requesting it.

Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after Monday, October 26th, 1885, the Toll Bridge on the line of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, between Dover Point and Newington, will be closed for repairs, and teams will not be allowed on it until further notice. By order of the October 22d, 1885. BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, Nov. 16th.

Barney McKone, a vagrant, was sent to the county farm for ninety days, and ordered to pay $9.21 costs. Barney no doubt kugs himself over the knowledge that he is to be comfortably housed and well fed during the winter.

Alonzo Levensadler and Frank Williamson were before the court, charged with the embezzlement of about $30 (fish money) from Gilbert M. Trussell of Newcastle. Williamson was discharged, but Levensaller was bound over in $200 for his appearance at a higher court, and in default of sureties was committed to jail.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The sloop Stephen Orr, Aderton master, arrived at the Portsmouth navy yard on Saturday from the Boston yard, with hard pine timber for the department of construction and repair.

Commodore Harmony, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, reports the decayed condition of buildings in the various navy yards by reason of meagre appropriations since the democrats obtained control of the house of representatives. This is as every one supposed. The meagreness of the appropriations was because the money was to be expended, however judiciously in its outlay, by a republican administration. Now the other side has taken possession, the much needed repairs can be made. Among these are the extensive repairs needed on the dry dock at this station. Well, well! it makes a difference with the reformers, who handles the money. When the republicans were in power it was wrong in the democratic view to keep a "boss" on the navy yard on full pay, with but one man under him, doing perhaps next to nothing; but now—well, "our folks" have got it, as the Water street democrat remarked recently.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The directors of the hospital very gratefully acknowledge the following donations: A step ladder, from a friend; two barrels of apples from Mr. Moses Farmer; and fifteen plates, five platters, three vegetable dishes, one soup tureen, one gravy tureen, three soup plates, four cups, six tumblers, castors, one table, five chairs and two chests, from Mrs. Frank J. Philbrick.

MARITIME NOTES.

The first load of stone for the sea wall of the artificial harbor at Cape Ann was deposited on Avery's rock by the sloop Screamer on Thursday, Nov. 12th. The wall is to be a mile and three-quarters long, 300 feet wide on the bottom and twenty-four feet on top, and will enclose 16,000 acres of water.

There were at least twenty boats engaged on Saturday in gathering coal off the beach at Odiorne's point, at and below high water mark, the gleaners getting from one barrel to four or five per man, these spoils being part of the cargo of the luckless schooner Express, recently wrecked on the point. The men from the Express were the third crew who have roused Mr. Charles A. Odiorne at night to render them aid, after being shipwrecked. The first was the crew of the fishing schooner Moonlight, of this port, Capt. Ralph Davidson, which went on the rocks at the same point as the Express, her crew of six men landing in their dories, and rousing Mr. Odiorne to give them shelter. The second was the crew (three men) of the schooner Gen. Taylor, commanded by Capt. Purlow of Newburyport; this vessel had been to the eastward with a cargo of apples, and was returning with a load of potatoes when she struck the rocks, backed off, and went down, her crew landing in their yawl.

Winthrop Hoyt has been appointed storekeeper at Ward's distillery, to commence Dec. 1st, relieving Joseph R. Curtis, removed. It is understood that Wm. R. Marvin will continue in the position of gauger at the distillery.

The apple crop of Newington has been about gathered, and required all the spare hands there for that purpose. In some spots it was quite abundant, but in other localities there was a deficiency, there being an average crop in the town as a whole, for an "off year."

The residence of the Misses Foster on Richards avenue will be occupied during their absence in California this winter, by Mrs. Kate E. Miller of Lincoln hill, and her sisters, Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Seavey.

The only silo in Eliot is owned by Mr. Eli Rowe, and is twelve feet square. Mr. Rowe informed our reporter that it holds sufficient ensilage to keep two cows through the winter.

The crop of walnuts in Eliot this year is very heavy. John Raitt, Esq., has harvested upwards of twenty-five bushels.

In some parts of York, this year, the lemon walnuts (butternuts) have been abundantly produced. The tree which bears this nut is a very handsome one, having a heavy foliage, and the wood is quite valuable.

Mr. Samuel Dixon of Eliot received on the 12th inst. a car-load of cattle, geese and turkeys from Canada.

The old "Tabernacle" at Kittery Foreside, before reported as having received a good shaking up from the big blow of the 2d inst., on examination was found to be so much damaged as to be unsafe, and the work of pulling it down was commenced on Friday morning. The old rattletrap had been an abomination in the eyes of the people for many years, and its demolition is a source of general satisfaction. It has been set on fire half a dozen times or so within a dozen years, but obstinately refused to burn up, and was only overcome at last by nature's forces, decay and a tornado.

Mr. Wesley Remick of Eliot has made the present season over three hundred barrels of cider. He is working his gang until ten o'clock at night, making three cheeses daily, and expects to make all of five hundred barrels before the season closes.

Capt. Melvin Dixon of Eliot, who was long in the employ of Mr. Ira C. Seymour of this city, has opened a blacksmith shop in Eliot. He will also make a business of breeding Angora cats, for which he finds a ready and remunerative market in New York. He has at the present time ten fine ones.

Poems of Thomas Bailey Aldrich: "Household Edition," revised, re-arranged, and containing pieces not hitherto included. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston; 12mo, with portrait of the author, and illustrations; for sale by M. Goodrich; price—in boards, $2; full gilt, $2.50; half calf, $4; morocco, or tree calf, $5.

Though Mr. Aldrich's fame rests largely on his short stories and sketches, in which a natural and most entertaining humor bubbles up everywhere and sparkles all through, and though a keen sense of humor and love of fun appear in many of his poetical effusions, yet the reader will find rich imagination and deep sympathy in this book of poems, as he is constantly finding richly poetic passages in the author's prose writings. Had he produced nothing else, the ballad of Baby Bell would have sufficed to stamp him a true poet. No centre table is complete, at least in this city, without a copy of Aldrich's Poems thereon.

"Maruja," a new story of California life, by Bret Harte, proves that he did not exhaust his charm as a story-teller in producing "The Luck of Roaring Camp," "Tales of the Argonauts," and the many other works with which he has delighted the reading public since he first appeared like a comet in the galaxy of authors. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston; for sale by M. Goodrich; price $1.00.

—A man named Cannon, employed in a Pittsburg foundry, went off the other day, got loaded to the muzzle, and on his return was promptly discharged.

Now for a Good Thanksgiving

TURKEY.

I have 1000 Turkeys, being stall fed for the last four weeks in Vermont, and have given orders to have none sliled for Thanksgiving that will not weigh 8 lbs. and upwards.

NO. 68 STATE STREET,

WM. CONN.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 10th, 1885.

Leland Stanford, the hundred millionaire of California, has a bit of sound common sense. He gives three ranches, comprising 85,000 acres, which together represent a value of five millions, to found a great university at Palo Alta, thirty miles from San Francisco, and will add money donations to make it twenty millions. Rightly managed this will excel anything of the kind on the face of the globe. Senator Stanford wisely proposes to spend his own money, rather than hoard it for spendthrift heirs to quarrel over.

Lizzie Caswell, who was reported to have eloped from Newport, R. I., with a Boston drummer, has been found in Boston, and taken to Fall River by her father. Her lover is Oscar Ball, a well known musician of Boston, who is married and has two children. Mrs. Ball has filed a libel for divorce, which Ball says he will not defend.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean taste.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch," fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Land will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

Tired and Languid Women.
How many women there are of whom these words are true: "They feel languid and tired, hardly able to bear their weight on their feet, the bloom all gone from their cheeks, irritable and cross without meaning to be, nerves all upset, worried with the children, fretted over little things, a burden to themselves, and yet with no acute disease." What a pity it is. But a few bottles of Parker's Tonic will drive all this away, and relieve the troubles peculiar to their sex.

A Disgusting Habit.

The mountain ranges of east Tennessee are dotted with camps, the homes of summer visitors. A correspondent of the Utica Observer called recently at a cottage situated at one of these resorts, and from her description of what occurred during her visit an idea may be obtained of the prevalence of snuff-dipping among southern women, and of the way in which it is done. A number of them arrived at the cottage while the correspondent was there, and "I must observe," she writes, "that I have seen prettier women, old and young, here than elsewhere." After introductions and commonplace chit-chat, the men of the family withdrew to lounge in the shade of the trees, and a change took place among the women directly after their departure.

"Air they gone far good?" asked an elderly maiden along in the twenties, running her hand into her pocket among the flutings and puffings of her dress-skirt.

"Yes; I see them settling themselves on the benches with their knives and pipes," replies this sister Anne, a tidy, childish miss of 15, slyly peeping out at the objects of her remarks.

The aged hostess said to the first speaker, "Hain't you got a toothbresh?" A negative shake of the head was given, and she addressed the youngest:

"Run out, Graingie, honey, an' git granny a toothbresh; I drapped mine in the fire this mornin'."

During her absence the relative merits of several kinds of wood were discussed as best for the desired implement, but all agreed that althea couldn't be beat. The reader may imagine me with my full quota of Eve's inheritance awakened, but, womanlike, covered by an impenetrable assumption of indifference to those mysterious proceedings.

Miss Graingie returned, and, quietly seating herself near me, diligently chewed a bit of twig while talking about last season at the springs.

Five chairs were presently drawn close together about a hearth, a little flat pasteboard box was handed to the hostess, who now had in her hand the twig aforesaid. I failed to perceive the slight-of-hand performance that resulted in the twig protruding from the aged lips. The box passed into the hands of the lady out of her teens, who politely reached it over to me.

I took it, and a quick glance showed the words "Scotch snuff" on the label.

"She don't dip," laughed the young girl. "I asked her husband, but he says she hasn't prejudices about anybody doing anything they please that's nice."

"Oh, don't they dip snuff where you come from?" cried a dainty girl of sweet 16, scooping a little stickful of the brown powder, and with a practical motion of the fingers transferring it to the right side of the cheek and deftly moving it to and fro along the teeth or gums, the short end of the twig showing between the cherry-ripe lips.

When all were served a lazy, droning conversation followed, interrupted by the size of ejected fluid on the live coals, and I was informed that almost every lady in the state enjoys her snuff privately; none but very coarse persons expose themselves by dipping in public, or before men; the new-comers made fun at first, but soon took to the habit, etc.

After several months' residence here I am led to believe the assertion incorrect, and the habit is not nearly so prevalent among the better class as it is represented.

When the dip was used up the brush ends of the sticks were surreptitiously dried and put in pockets, corners of mouths, rubbed with handkerchiefs, and a walk under the trees followed. The old dame, like most old women snuff-dippers, retained her toothbrush between the middle of her lips, and, through long years of practice, it in no way incommoded her tongue's manipulation of words."

Hop Culture in America.

Poetry and song and the pages of romance have united to make classic the vine-clad hills of the Rhine and of Italy, and next to the ruined castles which crown their commanding heights the traveler looks for the clustering fruit which has given its name to all this region. But he looks in vain if he expects to see anything which adds picturesqueness or beauty to the landscape. A vineyard is not in itself "a thing of beauty." On the other hand the golden wreaths of hops, as they hang ripening in the August sunshine, depending in graceful clusters from the tall poles, or swinging in the breeze in umbrella-like canopies, gives to the hills and valleys of Central New York, or the slopes of distant California and Washington, or the meadows of sunny English Kent, far more of beauty than the boasted vineyards of France or of Italy ever dreamed of.

It is seldom that we find a crop or product which seems to have but one specific use in the world; but aside from the very limited amount required to leaven the baker's loaf, and the comparative small quantity used in druggists' preparations, there appears to be no other possible demand for the 200,000,000 pounds of the world's crop of hops than the making of beer. For some reason not fully explained by the difference of soil and climate, but a very limited portion of the United States seems suited to their successful cultivation. A radius of forty miles, of which Cooperstown, New York, is the centre, incloses more than half of the hop-producing region of the Union. The three northern countries bordering on Lake Champlain and Canada, with a small portion of Vermont and Michigan, add about one-sixth to this, and, with parts of Wisconsin, comprise pretty much all the land east of the Rocky Mountains devoted to their cultivation. The Pacific coast is becoming an important factor in production, having risen from 15,000 bales in 1880 to 70,000 in 1884, equal to 12,500,000 pounds. In England the production of hops is peculiarly with the county of Kent, which has about 40,000 acres in hops, out of 65,000 in the kingdom.—G. Pomeroy Keese, in Harper's Magazine for October.

Any one who has ever visited Kingston, Canada, will recall the round towers which form a part of its extensive fortifications. These, it is supposed, were copied from the similar structures on the coast of Ireland, which are about to be demolished. The Irish towers were built at the time when Lord Cornwallis was Viceroy of Ireland, at the suggestion of the Duke of Richmond, who had heard that the town of Martello, in Corsica, had by resisted the attack of a fleet. This Duke of Richmond afterward became Governor General of Canada, and it was during his career that these Martello towers were built for Kingston, then the capital of the united provinces of Upper and Lower Canada. His death occurred in 1819 from hydrophobia, produced by the bite of a fox.

"Love Sees No Faults."

It has been said; but, when a woman is dragged down, emaciated, wan, and a shadow of her former self, with never a cheerful word, she can be no longer beautiful or lovable. Nature may have been generous in her gifts, and endowed her with all the charms of her sex, but disease has crept in unawares and stolen the roses from her cheeks, the lustre from her eye, and the sunshine from her heart. But to be well again lies in your own power. Take Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," it will cure you; thousands have been cured by it. Nothing equals it for all the painful maladies and weaknesses peculiar to women. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

Bartholomew Sullivan was killed while trying to board a train at Fall River, Mass., Nov. 16th.

TWO RIVAL CITIES.

In the long and at times bitter rivalry between Connecticut's two biggest cities—Hartford and New Haven—honors now seem to be pretty equally divided. Hartford has secured the State Capital, one of the most beautiful in the country, situated in a lovely park, but New Haven has gone ahead in population. In the political rivalry between the two, also New Haven, by her Democratic majority, has succeeded in putting the trim little State on the list of those that voted for President Cleveland. Hartford, however, is just now proud of having had her many charms set forth at length, with plenty of illustrations, in the pages of Harpers' Magazine, and so the struggle goes on. Brains will succeed in putting one or the other city ahead, and just here it may be said that New Haven has an exceptionally brainy bar. But, then, Hartford has more literary people—Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. Among the able lawyers of New Haven is Edward A. Anketell, the assistant clerk of the Superior Court, whose office is No. 10 in the Court House. Mr. Anketell is well known to the legal profession throughout Connecticut and has also the reputation of being a favored writer for the press. As such this little story, coming from him under date of September 24, 1885, possesses no slight interest:

"Day before yesterday, and for a day or two prior thereto, I suffered great pain in my right arm, which I felt sure was rheumatic. Being determined to do something to relieve the pain if possible I sent out and got a bottle of Athlophoros, and took three doses during the day. Yesterday morning the pain was nearly gone and one more dose completed the cure, so that today my arm is as well as ever."

Mr. Anketell was wise in taking such prompt measures to check the pain. Doubtless if Mr. Morris Hobbs, of Hampton, N. H., had known of the existence of Athlophoros he would have been from which he suffered would have been cured with equal speed long ago. Mr. Hobbs thus tells the story of his cure:

"I had the rheumatism nine months before I heard of your Athlophoros. I was prostrate all that time and could do nothing. I tried several doctors, but they did no good. I tried all the medicine I could hear of with no better results. At last I saw Athlophoros advertised and sent for some. On the day it arrived I took three doses in the afternoon before I went to bed, and that night I slept as well as I did when a boy. It seemed to kill the pain at once, and I never have been troubled since. My joints were badly swollen at the time, but as soon as the pain stopped the swelling began to go down very gradually. I am satisfied that if I had taken Athlophoros when I was first troubled with the disease it would have saved me $500 in expenses, time and pain.

"I have recommended it to several others in this place with equally good results. One case was that of a boy 15 years old, who was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that his father had to carry him up stairs to bed for two weeks. His mother came to me to inquire about Athlophoros. I advised her to get it at once by all means and she did. In two days after taking the medicine the boy was out at play with other boys, being entirely cured and has been well ever since.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed.

"When will the average citizen stop spending half of his hard earnings on cigars and tobacco? Give it up? Well, when he finds out he can do without tobacco and cigars, but can't keep up without the infallible remedy, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup." One bottle twenty-five cents.

The Servians captured the Dragoman pass on the 15th inst., routing the Bulgarians. Four battalions of Bulgarians, and a number of guns, have been captured by the Servians.

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

Ex-Chief Justice Vincent, of New Mexico, who was removed from office for appointing Ex-Senator Dorsey a jury commissioner, has written a letter to President Cleveland, in which he explains his action and asks that he be allowed a hearing.

That That Is, Is.

The old hermit of Prague, that never saw pen and ink, very wittingly said to a niece of King Gorboduc, "That that is, is." Very rarely has more sense been expressed by merely repeating two words. It was equivalent to saying: "The King can do no wrong," or whatever is popular is right, and that being so prima facie evidence is in favor of the G. O. Taylor whiskeys, bottled by C. H. Graves & Sons, but that popularity is well deserved, and does not depend upon this first impression, which is, as usual, right, for repeated tests have proved the G. O. Taylor whiskeys of wonderful purity. They are sold by druggists and grocers generally.

The State Board of Health.

The fourth annual report of the State Board of Health, for the fiscal year ending April 30th, 1885, makes a volume of 317 pages, containing in addition to the reports, statements of physicians as to sanitary matters in nearly every town. The important question of water pollution is brought to notice, and seems to have received especial attention. Indeed the book abounds in much that is of vital consequence to every inhabitant of the state.

The secretary of the board, Dr. Irving A. Watson, is enthusiastic in his devotion to his duties. He visits places when disease becomes manifested from causes unknown to the inhabitants, and clearly points out the source of trouble. A valuable paper upon "drainage for health," by Prof. Kedzie of Michigan, is a feature of the contents of this book especially interesting, as is also a paper on "Nostrums" by Prof. Chittenden of Wiscosin. The medical reports upon typhoid from Portsmouth are from Doctors Folsom and Parsons, but no fatal cases are shown and no local causes discovered.

The board is doing a great work, and its labors will be appreciated when understood; and our law-makers will be wise if they liberally provide the means for the good work of the board to be successfully performed.

Commodore Wilson's Recommendations.

Commodore T. D. Wilson, chief constructor of the navy, in his annual report to the secretary of the navy submits estimates for completing the four double-turretted monitors, amounting to $2,923,656, of which $955,342 is for the Puritan, $627,288 for the Terror, $639,584 for the Amphitrite, and $701,442 for the Monadnock. He also asks for $5,000,000 for building the hulls of new steel vessels, and $150,000 for extra tools required in navy yards for building iron and steel vessels. He submits his views with regard to the dimensions and character of the new vessels, which he recommends shall consist of one of 2000 tons, one of 2400, one of 3600, one of 5000, one of 7500 tons, and two of 800 tons displacement. The following are the dimension and a few of the chief characteristics which Constructor Wilson mentions in his reports as required by these new vessels:

The 7500 ton ship should be a seagoing armored vessel 320 feet long by sixty-four feet in breadth, and with a mean draught of twenty-four feet. It should have a covered gun deck, a main battery equal to four 10-inch and six 6-inch breech-loading rifles, a secondary battery of fourteen Hotchkiss cannon and the necessary number of boat guns, and a full complement of torpedoes to discharge both above and below the water line. The bow should be of a modified ram shape and possess sufficient strength, that the vessel might be used as a ram. At the water line there should be a belt of armor not less than ten inches in thickness and eight feet in depth. The ship should have twin screws, with the latest and most improved types of engines and boilers capable of developing 8500 horse-power, and with that power a speed of 16 1-2 knots. The 5000-ton ship (for a belted cruiser) should be 305 feet in length between perpendiculars, with an extreme breadth of fifty-seven feet and a mean draught of 21.4 feet. It should have a covered gun deck and a main battery equal to two 10-inch and eight 6-inch breech-loading rifled guns.

It is a remarkable fact that at the commencement of each of the cabinet officers' reports to Congress in December will be found a plea of not guilty, and the reports will contain each a personal defence of the writer. But this is a reform administration.

A temporary injunction has issued on the petition of the New England Life Ins. Co. as a bond holder against the proposed distribution of stock by the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railroad. The ground is that the Insurance Co. holds the five per cent bonds of the railway, convertible into stock, which could not be obtained if the distribution of shares was made as now proposed. A hearing is to be had upon the question shortly.

Bird-ways; by Olive Thorn Miller. Boston: Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; price $1.25; sold by M. Goodrich.

Very many ladies delight in observing the ways and manners of different species of the bird creation, but few can combine with this enjoyment, the rare gift of portraying the many traits of different birds as has Mrs. Miller in her recently published book. It has fourteen chapters, in which are delineated, not only with most interesting accuracy but in a decidedly instructive manner, the ways, of the robin, thrush, cat-bird, Baltimore oriole, and sparrows of different kinds. The book is full of the most attractive descriptions and graphically narrated incidents of bird-life, written in the most pleasing manner, and capable of being thoroughly appreciated by readers of all ages. It is indeed wonderful how much the author, who is an enthusiastic lover of birds, has been able to glean in these studies of bird-life. The book contains true statements of many incidents, nearly all of which came under the observation of the author, and however she may have in some instances imagined the motives of the little feathered songsters, the facts as to their actions have been truly rendered. The book has a freshness in style which in the coming winter months will carry us back to the enjoyable seasons of nature during which the birds contribute so much to our happiness. A well arranged index is an excellent feature of this book.

PROBABLY NEVER

In the history of proprietary medicines has any article met success at home equal to that which has been poured upon HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. Why, such has been the success of this article, that nearly every family in whole neighborhoods have been taking it at the same time. Every week brings new evidence of the wonderful curative properties of this medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Combines the BEST Remedies of the vegetable kingdom, and in such proportion as to derive their greatest medicinal effects with the least disturbance to the whole system. In fact this preparation is so well balanced in its action upon the alimentary canal, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach, the bowels and the circulation of the blood, that it brings about a healthy action of the entire human organism, that can hardly be credited by those who have not seen the remarkable results that have followed its use. If the Sarsaparilla does not prove sufficiently laxative, take a few doses of HOOD'S VEGETABLE PILLS. It is well in all cases of biliousness to take these pills in connection with the Sarsaparilla for the first ten days. That dull, sleepy, sick feeling can be wholly overcome by the use of these remedies. Will you give them a trial and be yourself again?

An ex-alderman of this city says of Hood's Sarsaparilla, "It is the strongest Sarsaparilla I ever saw."

Each dollar bottle contains one hundred (average) doses. Sold by all druggists.

Price one dollar, or six for five dollars. Hood's Sarsaparilla, prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral services of the late Howard N. Dunyon were held at 12.30 to-day, at the residence of Mr. A. H. Hill. It was largely attended by relatives and friends, and by delegations of St. Andrews lodge of Masons, and New Hampshire lodge of Odd Fellows, of which organizations the deceased was a member. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. Dr. Alden and at the grave in the South Cemetery a short service by the Odd Fellows.

The funeral of the late David H. Montgomery took place at 2 p. m. this afternoon, at the Middle street Baptist church, on which occasion that church edifice was entirely filled with citizens, who had come to sympathize with the mourners, and to pay a last sad tribute to the memory of one for whom the community mourns, as a good citizen, churchman and kind husband, a loving father and a dutiful and affectionate son and relative. There were present as mourners many relatives and intimate friends of the deceased, both resident in this city and abroad—a considerable number of the latter from Rye. The Osgood lodge of Odd Fellows was present in a body. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Alden, who pronounced a most fitting and appropriate eulogy in memoriam of the departed, speaking particularly of his modest, unassuming character, his devotion to his religious belief, and his undying love for his family. His words were particularly affecting, so much so that many of those present were affected to tears. The Odd Fellows service which followed, was that solemn and impressive ceremony common with that body. Music was furnished by a quartette consisting of Messrs. Harlow and Newell, Miss Edith Wendell and Mrs. Bennett.—Times, 17th.

CONCERT.

In Music hall on Thursday evening, the 19th inst., there will be given what will undoubtedly be the concert of this season. The violin playing of Miss Fannie P. Hoyt, the singing of the Weber male quartette and Miss Wendell, the piano playing of Mrs. Philbrick and Miss Emily Hoyt, (the latter we believe on this occasion makes her first appearance as a concert performer,) and the readings of Miss Carrie E. Hale, who is very highly commended as an elocutionist by the press of other cities, will together furnish an entertainment such as is rarely afforded in this city. That the attendance will be very large is already shown by the much-marked condition of the plan of the house; but there are still some good seats left, though it is doubtful if there will be any by the time the doors of the hall are opened. The diagram can be found at Goodrich's bookstore to-day.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The directors of the hospital desire to express their appreciation of the favors shown them by the following named individuals and firms: — Isaiah Grover, Fletcher & Tanton, George B. French, Sheldon Bros., Mercer Goodrich, Charles W. Taylor, Ayers & Locke, Portsmouth Acqueduct Co., John P. Sweetser, J. Brooks & Co., J. H. Hutchinson, C. Dwight Hanscom & Co., and John T. French.

One of the most serviceable articles a lady can provide herself with, for walking or riding during during the blustering weather of autumn, is the "Common-Sense Jasket" manufactured in this city by R. H. Paine, and for sale by Ayers & Locke. It is a light, close-fitting garment, without sleeves, made of deodorized rubber lined with flannel, to be worn under the ordinary outside garment; it is lighter, better-fitting and very much cheaper than the chamois-leather jacket, and superior to it in retaining the warmth of the body and excluding the wind; the protection it affords the chest and back is perfect. The manufacturers are receiving orders for all they can make with their present facilities, and more.

The large number of persons who procured their Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys of Mr. Conn last year, will after reading his notice in another column give themselves no further thought as to where they shall get a first-class bird for the festival dinner next week.

While a safe weighing over four tons was being taken up the stairs in National block to the office of the Granite State Fire Insurance Company, on Tuesday afternoon, the gear gave way and the safe went to the bottom of the stairs in a hurry, breaking several of the stairs and doing other damage. Capt. Joseph C. Muchmore, the rigger, was sent for to put the safe in position. It was lucky it did not tumble on anybody when it fell.

A cat a year and a half old, belonging to Mason's mill, weighs 18 1-2 lbs., and a few days since caught there and killed a veteran wharf rat which measured twenty inches from the nose to the end of the tail.

Messrs. Albert Magee and Fred Brown left Portsmouth on Monday morning for the west, travelling together as far as Chicago, there to separate, the former proceeding to San Francisco, and the latter to Minneapolis. Their absence may be permanent, but will probably be only temporary.

On Monday morning there were a large number of teams in the city from York, loading with goods, among them being those of Hon. E. C. Moody, Landlord Donnell of the Donnell house, Andrew R. Webber, George W. Webber, and many other prominent citizens of the town. They reported the roads in good condition, but the cold wind blowing freshly from the northwest raised much dust and made travelling very disagreeable. Capt. Peter Young of York, one of the few surviving sea captains and veteran mates who used to sail out of Portsmouth, in the long-ago days when ships were not only built and owned here but took their crews from this region and returned here with cargoes from foreign lands, was in this city on Tuesday, accompanied by his son, and called to see the veteran Capt. Daniel Marcy. Captain Young is smart and active yet.

Frank Trafton and Al Winn, formerly of York, who have this year been carrying on at the thirds Mr. Wm. P. Israel's farm at Little Harbor, raised this season 5000 heads of cabbage, of the stonemason variety. Mr. John Shannon, of North street, raised some notable cabbages this year, one weighing twenty-eight pounds, and another thirty-six; also many clusters, one consisting of a central head weighing twelve or fourteen pounds, surrounded by twelve well defined and solid heads weighing two or three pounds each, all growing from one footstalk, and weighing about forty pounds in the aggregate.

Now for a Good Thanksgiving TURKEY.

I have 1000 Turkeys, being stall fed for the last four weeks in Vermont, and have given orders to have none killed for Thanksgiving that will not weigh 8 lbs. and upwards.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 16th, 1885.

NOTICE.

Having taken the store lately occupied by my deceased brother, J. M. Carr, and having within the past fifteen days stocked up with first-class goods, I now offer to my brother's patrons and all others requiring reliable goods, as good a stock, for quality and style, as can be found in the city or in the state, and at the very lowest cash prices. All are invited to call and examine the goods whether they wish to purchase or not. J. C. CARR.

The schooner Satellite, Aderton master, arrived at this navy yard from the Boston yard on Monday, with hard pine lumber to the department of construction and repair.

The navy yard ferry steamer Emerald will hereafter be run on standard time, taken from the office of the navigation department on the yard, the clock on the office-building not being considered reliable.

There has been of late quite an advance in the market price of stocks. Sixty stocks which sold in the New York market at $46.08 a year ago, sold last week for $62.68, an advance of 36.1 per cent. This is of course in excess of the rate of the increased receipts of the railways, and may be regarded as in some degree speculative. The New York banks now hold $14,000,000 less surplus than they held a year ago, though they have $3,000,000 more cash in reserve. Loans are larger by $49,000,000, and deposits by $55,000,000. Money is abundant, and if stocks do not rise too rapidly the advance may be further maintained.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean taste.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1: 0:300 ft $45 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $2.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

The Renewal of Vigor.

The most important step in this process is the restoration of the functions of digestion and assimilation to full and uninterrupted exercise, since it is upon their activity alone that the system can depend to replenish its dwindling store of energy. Among tonics which the voice of the people and high professional indorsement approve as reliable, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has long been recognized as the best. Its properties as a medical stimulant commend it to all persons suffering from the effects of fatigue, mental or bodily, as an immediate means of counteracting their effects; and in cases where loss of vigor is attributable to such weakening chronic causes as dyspepsia, affections of the kidneys and bladder, and the infirmities peculiar to age, it produces permanently beneficial results. Those twin obstacles to health and vigor, liver complaint and constipation, are also removed by it. It also prevents and cures malarial disease.

The state supreme court at Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 14th, affirmed the decision of the lower court in the frauds at Chicago. The sentence of the court was two years in the Joliet penitentiary, for Joseph Mackin.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with that terrible headache? Why have that dull, heavy feeling? Why groan with rheumatism? Why let that terrible nervous pain torture you? Your nerves are all right if your digestive organs are right. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap whiskey drink, but is a pure medicine, and used a great deal cheaper than any other bitters. It is composed of the choicest herbs, roots and barks, combined with the Extract of Sulphur in such proportions as to make it a MATCHLESS GREAT NERVINE.

The Dose is small—only a Teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it, and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist. DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 12th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally, on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly co-operate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

Tired and Languid Women.

How many women there are of whom these words are true: "They feel languid and tired, hardly able to bear their weight on their feet, the bloom all gone from their cheeks, irritable and cross without meaning to be, nerves all upset, worried with the children, fretted over little things, a burden to themselves, and yet with no acute disease." What a pity it is. But a few bottles of Parker's Tonic will drive all this away, and relieve the troubles peculiar to their sex.

THE DECAY OF THE HILL TOWNS.

Those who have traveled through the hill country of New England must often have been struck by the sight of a white church standing almost alone upon a summit of the great ridge. Once it was the meeting place of some flourishing village, but when the railroads came, making their way through the rough forbidding country by following the water courses closely the villagers descended into the valleys, built up towns along the great highways of travel and left the old church to mourn over its lost glories and to struggle along weakly until it too had to succumb to the new order of things. The clergy who built up these pillars of orthodoxy were strong and earnest men, and those who have succeeded them are not less so. Their lives are marked by self-sacrifice and severe work. Their labors are carried on under many difficulties and hardships, and it is not surprising that many suffer from rheumatism and neuralgia. That many of them have found a cure, however, for these diseases may be seen from these letters. Rev. A. S. Cooper, of Williston, Vt., says:

"Twelve hours' use of Athlophoros greatly removed the pain from my system and restored the muscles so supple that I could get up and down with ease, which I have not done for a long time. I called yesterday on a gentleman who got a bottle from me and who I expected would send for more through me, but I found he had got the start of me and ordered for himself, having been much benefited by it."

Henry L. Hall, editor of Willimantic (Ct.) Journal, who is well and favorably known for miles around, says:

"Three doses of Athlophoros relieved me from a very acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism in nine hours. I consider it an invaluable remedy in rheumatic affections, and esteem it a pleasure to recommend Athlophoros."

Mr. J. B. Webster, who is the carpenter for the Willimantic Linen Co., of Willimantic, Conn., and is well-known and much respected in that neighborhood, says: "For three months I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism, and failed to receive any relief from any of the numerous remedies for that complaint until I took Athlophoros, which entirely cured me."

Rev. S. Donaldson, of Lyndon, Vt., writes:

"The bottle of Athlophoros helped my wife greatly. She had up to the time of taking it been a great sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatic difficulties, making it almost impossible for her to walk with any ease. These difficulties have been about her more or less for fourteen years. Since taking the medicine she has been comparatively free from pain and is able to walk better than before for several years."

Rev. Charles E. Harris, formerly of New Haven, now of Brooklyn, says:

"Athlophoros acted like a charm, and I have been quite free from any attack of rheumatism from that time until the present. I can, therefore, with all sincerity testify to the valuable quality of Athlophoros as a rheumatic cure."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

Gems of Advice.

Hunger and conversation are the best dinner sauce.

Whoever makes the fewest persons uneasy is the best bred in the company.

Nothing should appear at a cold collation which requires carving or can not be easily helped.

The choice of a wife or husband is the most serious thing that a man or woman has to decide upon.

Do not starch your table napkins. A napkin that is not soft and pliable is manifestly unfit for the purpose.

At a picnic never use your best plate, glass or china; so shall you avoid much heart-burning and irritation of temper.

Absence makes the heart of host and guest grow fonder; they relish one another all the better for an interval of separation.

Speaking of dinners, it has been said that "the politician who keeps a good cook is a tower of strength to his party."

Marriage is the mother of the world. It preserves kingdoms and fills cities and churches, and heaven itself.—Jeremy Taylor.

When a woman is very pretty one never looks at her dress; and when the dress is very striking one forgets to look at the woman.

There can be no surer proof of low origin, or of an innate meanness of disposition, than to be always talking and thinking of being genteel.

The ball is the paradise of youth and love. When we have turned 40 we regard it as a weariness and a delusion, and denounce it, perhaps, as fit only for fools.

Conversation should be a series of pauses linked together by a few suitable words; many people, however, in their anxiety to bring out their words forget their pauses.

Let your talk be always adapted carefully to time and place. Don't prate about homeopathy to a doctor, or the blessings of celibacy to a young lady engaged to be married.

Plain English and pure, from the well undefiled of the best writers and speakers—let that be the vehicle in which your opinions are conveyed, and the plainer and purer the better.

Wear little jewelry. A man never looks to less advantage than when he enters into competition with a jeweler's show window. The love of charms, and trinkets and rings is a survival of barbarism.

Be generous, be a gentleman; that is, be equitable, refined, genial, just in the interpretation of motives, prompt to forbear and forgive, patient, humane, tender, courteous. If thou dost seek to realize the loftiest excellences of the Christian character and humbly strivest to imitate the Master's charity, patience, endurance and self-sacrifice, then shall it be said of thee, as Tennyson has said of his friend, Arthur Hallam:

He seemed the thing he was, and joined
Each office of the social hour
To noble manners, as the flower
And native growth of noble mind:
And thus he bore without abuse
The grand old name of gentleman!

About a Young Lady from St. Louis.

By all odds the best watering-place story comes from the Northwest, where a young lady from St. Louis, summering at Lake Minnetonka, created a sensation last week by disabling a young man from Minneapolis. The latter is in the spooning period, and seeks indiscriminate attachments. Among others he became enamored of Miss P——, who detests all boys under the age of 29 years. She allowed the attentions of this particular youth on the occasion of a ball last Friday evening, and he mistaking her kindness endeavored to kiss her in the dark hallway. The young lady, who obtained a gymnastic education at Mary Institute, so as even to have been able to hang by her teeth from a suspended bar, struck the impudent one squarely in the mouth. The latter unfortunately fell into an open cellarway, and, beside losing several teeth by the contact with the steps, was plunged into a fresh-water bath. A Summer hotel with a ball room built over a cellar filled with water must commend itself to the public. The author of the "House on the Marsh" should look into this.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

A Remarkable Journey.

Mr. Thomas Stevens, the representative of the magazine Outing, and who has already traveled more than a third of the distance around the globe on a bicycle, is thus regarded by a German newspaper published at Essek:

Mr. Thomas Stevens is a sturdy man of 30 years, who shows the possession of intelligence, and a quick, correct understanding of things about him. He sees much, and his numerous notes prove that in by far the most cases he has rightly seen and judged. The most notable thing about him, however, is the expression of fearless decision, which is to be seen unmistakably not only in the features of his face, but in his whole bearing. One cannot help crediting the man with the ability to face the hardships and dangers which his unprecedented and venturous undertaking involves, and which he already has undergone in his journey from San Francisco straight across America, and through England, France, Germany, and Austria, to this point. One may therefore feel confident that this man has the steadfast will to carry out his colossal programme to the last milestone. Whether he will really carry it out—that is another question, in which the main factor is the little-to-be-expected security of person in those parts of the world which he has yet to traverse. Mr. Stevens, who undertakes his journey under the auspices of the periodical represented by him, but, as he avers, solely out of his inclination for adventure, is fully aware of the aforementioned dangerous side of his undertaking. He tells us himself that only last year an English traveler on the way through China was waylaid and killed; but, he says, that, if this contingency were excluded, then there would be many who would like to give themselves the fun of a bicycle journey around the world. Mr. Stevens left San Francisco on May 2 of last year and the distance which he has made, up to this place, may be estimated at about 9,000 kilometers. For the completion of his journey he allows a period of about eighteen months, including longer stays in some of the larger cities.—Outing for September.

At Phyong Yang, in Corea, the hats worn by the poor women are baskets three and a half feet long, two and a half wide, and two and a half deep. The men wear a similar basket, but smaller. It requires both hands to keep it in place. Women of the better class wear a white cloak over their heads.

"Doctor," said a despairing patient to his physician, "I am in a dreadful condition! I can neither lay nor sit. What shall I do?" "I think you had better roost," was the reply. Now, if we consider that this poor fellow was all contorted with rheumatism, the doctor would have done much better by prescribing a bottle of Salvation Oil, which would have relieved his patient at once. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

Edward Quevet, a young Frenchman, was shot at twice and dangerously wounded in the National hotel at Chicago on the 17th inst., by Adeline Duval, his former mistress.

After Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrated. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

The case of W. H. Raymond of Somerville, Mass., against Mrs. Dodge, widow of the late general manager of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, for slander, was called in the supreme court at Plymouth on the 16th inst. Ad damnum is placed at $5000. Mrs. Dodge accused Raymond of forging a check for $2500, also a note for $5000, the check being paid by the Pemigewasset national bank without question. Raymond has also brought suit to recover on the note.

I was troubled with Chronic Catarrh and gathering in my head, was very deaf at times, had discharges from my ears, and was unable to breathe through my nose. Before the second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm was exhausted I was cured and to-day enjoy sound health.—C. J. Corbin, 923 Chestnut st., Field Manager, Philadelphia Pub. House, Pa. See adv't.

The War in Burmah.

The British forces on the 17th captured the forts around Minhla, and took the city, after three hours' fighting; they had four men killed and twenty-seven wounded. This opens the way to Mandelay, the captured position being the strongest on the river.

The War in Europe.

A despatch of the 18th from Belgrade says the Servians have cleared the Bulgarians from the road to Sofia, capturing Bresnik, with eight guns. Also claiming the defeat of Prince Alexander's forces at Slivnitza, with heavy loss. A London despatch of the same date says the Bulgarians carried every one of the Servian positions which menaced Slivnitza. Prince Alexander has appealed to Turkey for aid, and written to the treaty powers that the war was caused by Servia.

The Early Jurisprudence of New Hampshire.

The address of John M. Shirley, Esq., delivered at the annual meeting of the Historical Society at Concord in June, 1885, upon the early jurisprudence of our state, has been printed, making a pamphlet of one hundred and three pages.

Mr. Shirley has ever been an enthusiastic student of state history. He brings to his historic resources, the aid of the well-trained law student and practitioner, who insists upon proof of facts, which once established, are maintained at all hazards. He is incisive, fearless and uncompromising as a writer, and brings to the front his facts regardless of whomsoever may be damaged by the production, while a gentle vein of sarcasm occasionally is seen in his pages.

Decisions which appear to be more or less ridiculous are cited and commented upon, the enactment of laws to meet certain cases or get around previous decisions is noted, indeed the pamphlet is replete with material of the greatest interest, not by any means to lawyers alone, but to every student of history, or native of this state.

Mr. Shirley's address has attracted no little attention from lawyers and judges in other commonwealths, and well it may have, as it is by far the most interesting paper of the kind which has been published in the state for many a day.

A Sailor's Letter.

U. S. S. LANCASTER,
Rio de Janeiro, Brazil,
Sept. 16th.

Mr. Editor: I have taken the liberty of sending you a few scraps of news from this abominable country (you can see that the admiral is not the only one who has a complaint.) The Brazilians recently gave an international boat-race, which we were invited to join. We accepted the invitation, and entered our barge. When our boys saw the barge they had to pull against their hearts dropped down into their boots, and there was cause for it, for the Brazilians had a beautiful barge, forty feet long and 9 1-2 feet beam, scarcely drawing four inches of water, and a crew picked from 1400 men. Nevertheless our boys said they would do their best to win. The race was three miles straight away. The Brazilians had fourteen men and an officer in their boat, and we had in our boat sixteen men and an officer. The start was made at 5:30 P. M., and from the start to the finish our boat walked away from the Brazilians in fine shape, beating them about a quarter of a mile, therefore winning the prize, which was a beautiful fruit-stand of silver, two feet high. The Nipsic entered for the cutter race, and beat all other cutters by three minutes. The gig of the British flagship Ruby won the gig race; and out of the international races the Brazilians won six. Find enclosed a poem which you are at liberty to print if you see fit,—by permission of the author. D. S.

UNNECESSARY INSTRUCTIONS FOR TARRING DOWN.

Air, "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star."

Sprinkle, sprinkle lots of tar,
When aloft at work you are,
Up above the deck so high,
Wingless angels near the sky.
When you're riding down a stay,
Rub it well into the lay,
Capsize your pot and view the spray,
Oh, I tell you it is gay.
Smother painstwork near and far,—
Sprinkle, sprinkle lots of tar.

Sprinkle, sprinkle lots of tar,
If you want the decks to mar,
Rub it well into the backstays,
Manage to get some on the jackstays,
Let it rip in all the boats,
Don't forget the officers' coats,
Smother yourself and every spar,—
Sprinkle, sprinkle lots of tar.

Sprinkle, sprinkle lots of tar,
You need not be particular,
Chew tobacco, squirt the juice,
Smother everything of use.
Yes; my U. S. Naval Tar,
Thousands of miles from fond mamma,
And the rod of stern papa,
You'll learn the wrinkle, in a twinkle,
How to sprinkle lots of tar.

A LECTURE.

A very considerable number of ladies and gentlemen by the kind invitation of Miss A. C. Morgan assembled at her school room at Miller avenue and Rockland street, on Tuesday evening, to listen to a very interesting and well prepared lecture, given by Miss Morgan upon Michael Angelo, his life and works.

The work of Michael Angelo most especially described was his renowned fresco in the Sistine Chapel, and the masterpiece, The Last Judgment, painted for the altar of this chapel at Rome. The lecture was illustrated with superb photographs of large size. Miss Morgan from her frequent visits to Rome and her especially high artistic taste was able in a most appreciative manner to treat her subject. The lecture was listened to with the closest attention. Frequent applause demonstrated the enjoyment of the audience, of the rare opportunity for an evening trip to Rome. The scenes of the eternal city were graphically reproduced to all former visitors from the familiarity which Miss Morgan possesses of Michael Angelo's fame in Rome, where his works have followed him, and her abundant appreciation of the varied excellences of this Italian artist, as seen and admired by her, during several annual visits to the scenes of his great triumph as an artist and architect. Miss Morgan was happily successful with the aid of her superb photographs in the delineation of the great paintings of her hero, as well as from her comprehensive knowledge of art in Rome, in rendering the evening most entertaining and enjoyable to all her guests.

CORPORATION ELECTION.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Brewing Co. was held at the company's office in this city on the 18th inst., and the following-named gentlemen chosen as the board of directors for the ensuing year.

Arthur Harris, of New York city; P. Harrington, of Manchester; George Scott, Mark A. Scott, George A. Mudge, George E. Hodgdon and Herman A. Tarlton, of this city. Subsequently Arthur Harris was elected president, George Scott vice president, Mark A. Scott treasurer, and Herman A. Tarlton clerk.

The annual reports for the preceding year were read, and the meeting then dissolved.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 17th.

A Chautauqua society has been organized in North Kittery, and meets Tuesday evenings. James W. Brooks is president, Emma H. Gerry vice president, and Nellie F. Todd secretary. Last week the society met at the house of its president; this week Tuesday, it met at Mr. Frank Haley's.

We are told that our butchers complain that since Dr. Miller's lectures at the Foreside they are unable to sell any fresh pork, the doctor maintaining that it was hurtful, but we opine that more are hurt for the want of it than through its use. Hurtful or no hurtful, we do not propose to "go back" on a nice pork steak or a roast spareribs.

Rev. E. E. Colburn, pastor of the Second Christian church, baptised three persons, and received four into full connection with the church, on Sunday last.

Whipple lodge of Good Templars will have an old fashioned supper on Thursday evening, the 19th inst., at their hall. The supper will be private to all except members of the lodge.

Dr. J. J. Miller delivered a temperance lecture at the 2nd Christian church on Sunday evening last.

G. Harrison Jenness, Esq., of Rye, is to give in this town his lectures "Life in Washington" and "The Ups and Downs in Washington," for the benefit of the churches at the village. The first lecture will be given in the Second Christian church on Monday evening, the 23d inst.; the second in the Second Methodist church, on a date to be announced.

MUSIC HALL.

The concert by the charming young lady violinist, Miss Fannie P. Hoyt, assisted by the Weber quartette, Miss Wendell and other talent, takes place in Music hall this evening. If you want a seat and have not yet secured it, you had best look after it at Goodrich's bookstore to-day.

Two sturgeons, brought up from the weirs on Wednesday of this week, attracted much attention as they swam around in the dock at Commercial wharf in the afternoon, "staked out," as the Texans would term it—made fast with lines in such a manner as to allow them to move freely within certain circumscribed limits. One of them was estimated to weigh some over two hundred pounds, and the other about one hundred. They took their captivity very quietly, eating freely of the offal there, and seeming quite contented except when some small boy would insist on trying to pull them out of water.

Mr. Lamprey's dancing school for young persons came to an end on Tuesday evening, the 17th inst., with a ball in Franklin hall, which was the most successful affair of the kind given here for years. The hall was filled with the pupils and their parents and friends; and as the young people in their ball dresses glided through the changes with the confidence and easy grace of skilled dancers, the brilliant scene was as pleasing to the spectators as to the immediate participants.

The fire alarm wires were on the 18th inst. run to the Portsmouth brewery, in readiness to connect with the automatic gear for sounding the steam gong, which will arrive next week.

Capt. R. F. Bradford went to New York on Tuesday of this week, and was on duty as a member of the board of inspection of the U. S. S. Brooklyn at the Brooklyn navy yard on Wednesday.

The schooner yacht Eliza, belonging to the Laighton Bros., of the Shoals, which sank at her moorings inside the Noble's island bridge some weeks ago, was raised on the 17th inst.

Mr. J. Foster Shores, of Boston, was in town on the 18th. The resident surviving members of the late J. F. Shores' family will pass the winter in New York city.

The transactions in Eastern railroad stock at the brokers' board in Boston on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week were lighter than for some days previous. In addition to the stock assessment scheme, a story was current on Tuesday about the possible issue of a new 3 1-2 per cent bond, the same to be based on the company's Maine Central stock and other treasury assets, and to be guaranteed by the Boston & Maine road. The purpose of the issue, like all the other projects talked about, is to bring about the reduction of the debt to $10,000,000, and the payment of dividends on the stock immediately after.

Notice is given that hereafter the vestibule of the post-office will be closed on Sundays, except from 11:30 A. M. to 1:30 P. M. There being no mail matter received or delivered on Sunday, two hours are deemed sufficient time to accommodate all who have lock boxes.

Cornelius Quinn and William Murphy left this city on Wednesday afternoon, the 18th inst., for Savannah, Ga., via steamer from Boston, and may proceed to Augusta from Savannah. Joseph Connor and Dennis Ledden also left the same day for Savannah.

There were moderate arrivals of fish here on the 17th, for which good prices were paid by the purchasers, which however did not prove remunerative to them. The continued mild weather, and the low prices of poultry in view of the holidays, have not been conducive to the interests of the fishermen.

Concerning Miss Hale, the young lady who is to read at Music hall this evening, the Cambridge Chronicle says:

Miss Carrie E. Hale of Boston recited "A Medley" with fine dramatic effect. To a well-deserved encore she gave the humorous selection "Buying a Cow." Later in the evening she favored with "Sister and I." Too much praise cannot be accorded Miss Hale, who has the happy faculty of entering at once into a full conception of her piece, whether humorous or pathetic. She is an artist of first-class ability, and always receives a hearty welcome when she appears in this city.

Annie Lyons, formerly cook for Mr. Charles W. Parker, of Macullar, Parker & Co., Boston, is under arrest on a charge of poisoning the whole family of ten persons, and a little beggar girl who was fed from the table, by putting arsenic in the flour barrel in revenge for being discharged.

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Its beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the cars will arrive at its fine ocean hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the interesting, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 50x100 ft $45 to $100 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $2.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

I am pretty well known in New York as the one-armed baggage master at the N. Y. Central Depot. Three months ago, in lifting a heavy trunk, I strained my side dreadfully. I immediately procured an Allcock's Porous Plaster. Every hour felt less pain. I wore the Plaster three days, then applied another, was well in a week and attending to my business.

What Will Surely Do It.

One's hair begins to fall out from many cases. The important question is: What is sure to make it grow in again? According to the testimony of thousands, Parker's Hair Balsam will do it. It quickly covers bald spots, restores the original color when the hair is gray or faded, eradicates dandruff and causes the scalp to feel cool and well. It is not a dye, not greasy, highly perfumed, safe. Never disappoints those who require a nice, reliable dressing.

A hotel clerk who ought to know says the latest wrinkle is for newly married couples to engage two single communicating rooms. "It's English, you know;" that's the reason it's popular.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 9 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting the same; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

At Johnstown, Pa., on the night of the 16th inst., while repairing one of the blast furnaces of the Cambria Iron company, J. B. Smith was overcome by gas and fell headlong into the furnace. Ropes were thrown to him, but he was unconscious and could not take advantage of that method of escape, and soon died. The gas arose from the furnace in such a volume that the work of rescuing the body was very dangerous, and in a few moments one of the rescuing party was overcome. He was dragged away and a fellow workman took his place, but he, too, was soon rendered unconscious. Matters continued thus until seventeen workmen were prostrated. Finally the remains of Smith were pulled up with hooks and ropes. They were burned and drawn into such a shape as to be scarcely recognizable as those of a human body.

NEW ENGLAND'S SENTIMENTS.

A large part of the great influence which New England has wielded in the councils of the nation and through its progressive institutions has been because of the general unanimity of the six States on most important questions, enabling them to act as a unit. This is not now perhaps so true of political affairs as it once was, but in most matters there is a substantial agreement of opinion. Just at present this is shown in the universal commendation of Athlophoros, praises of which come from all quarters of every State. A few of them follow:

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the last three years," says E. Parkhurst, of Woonsocket, R. I., "having been unable to do any active labor during that time, and for a large portion of the time being confined to my bed. I had taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with no relief, until I was induced to try a bottle of Athlophoros. The first three doses resulted in my having the best night's sleep that I had enjoyed for three years, and by the time the first bottle was taken I realized that I was on the road to complete recovery. I have since taken six bottles and am now able to attend to my business and consider myself a well man."

Mrs. C. N. Paige, of Boltonville, Vt., says:

"I first saw Athlophoros advertised in a paper, and as it was only recommended for rheumatism and neuralgia I had great faith to believe it could do me some good. My husband, therefore, sent for a bottle. I had been a great sufferer from neuralgia for years, and had spells when no one who saw me thought I could live. Many times I have wished death would end my agony. The pain would commence in the pit of my stomach and go from there right through my heart. I had employed doctors who were thought very skillful, but I got no benefit from them. I had these spells every two or three weeks for over two years before taking Athlophoros. That was one year ago last April and I have had only two of them since, the last one during the winter. I took then part of another bottle and have had none since. Words can never express the relief I feel at being rid of such agony as I suffered when I had those spells."

Mrs. Harriet Strong, of Westville, Ct., tells this straight-forward story:

"I had the rheumatism, which settled in my knees and hips. The joints were so stiff and the pain so great that I could not walk, but was obliged to move around in a chair. Several doctors did all they could for me, but I was no better. While in this condition, sitting in my chair by the window reading a paper, I saw an advertisement of Athlophoros. I thought I would try it and sent for a bottle. When they brought it to me I told them I considered it a dollar thrown away, as I had not a particle of faith, but I commenced taking it and after the third dose I thought I felt a change for the better. I continued to use it as directed until I have taken four bottles. Strange as it may seem, I am perfectly cured and am about the house all day, doing all the housework, with not a bit of rheumatism about me. I can never return thanks enough to the parties that make Athlophoros for the benefit I have derived from its use. I recommend it to everybody."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

THE "COWARD" IN BATTLE.

Here is a regiment with its right flank resting on the woods—its left in an open field near a group of haystacks. Three pieces of artillery in front have been playing into the pine thicket half a mile away for the last ten minutes, but without provoking any reply.

Watch this man—this Second Lieutenant of Company F. He is almost a giant in size. He has a fierce eye, a roaring voice, and men have said that he was as brave as a lion. When the regiment was swung into position and the battery opened he said to himself:

"How foolish in us to attack the enemy when he was seeking to retreat! This blunder will cost us many lives. Our fire will soon be returned, and it will be goodby to half our regiment. I shall be one of the first to fall. If I was one of the rear-rank privates, I'd give all the money I hope ever to have."

As three—five—ten minutes pass away and the fire is not returned, the coward begins to pluck up heart. He blusters at the men, tries to joke with the officers on his right, and says to himself:

"Egad! but this may turn out all right. We are in no danger thus far, and if the enemy retreats we shall share the credit. I must try and make everybody believe that I am disappointed because we have not been ordered to advance."

Boom—shiek—crash! Now the enemy open fire in reply. They have six guns to answer three. In two minutes they had the range, and a shell kills or wounds five or six men. The coward's cheeks grow pale again, and he whispers:

"Great heavens! but we shall all be slaughtered! Why doesn't the colonel order us to retire? Why are men kept here to be shot down in this way? What a fool I was not to go on the sick list last night? If it wasn't that so many are looking at me, I'd lie down to escape the fire!"

Another shell—a third—fourth—fifth, and thirty or forty men have been killed. Men won't stand that long. They must either retreat or advance.

"We shall advance," whispers the coward. "The order will come to dash forward and take those guns. Shot and shell and grape will leave none of us alive. What folly to advance! I hope I may be slightly wounded, so that I shall have an excuse for seeking cover in some of these ditches."

An aid rides up to the Colonel and gives an order. The Colonel rides to the head of his line and orders the lines dressed for an advance. The men dress under a hot fire, and the coward groans aloud.

"It is awful to die this way! How idiotic in me to accept a commission—to enter the service—to put myself in front of death! Oh, dear! If I could only get some excuse for lagging behind!"

The lines dash forward into the smoke—the enemy's fire grows more rapid—the dead and wounded strew the ground. Where and what of the coward? Three days later the colonel's report will read:

"I desire to make special mention of the case of Lieutenant——. As the regiment advanced the captain and first lieutenant of Company F were killed by the same shell, leaving the second lieutenant of Company F in command. He was equal to the emergency. Springing to the head of the company, he encouraged the men for a moment and then led them straight at the guns, two pieces of which were captured by the company."

A month later the coward was a captain.—Detroit Free Press.

A Volcano Curiously Formed.

A minature volcano has been added to the laboratory of the Keystone Normal school, where it will hereafter be used for purposes of instruction. It was formed spontaneously at the Macungie furnace, in Lehigh county, on the top of a car of melted iron cylinders. As the extreme crust of the slag cooled and consequently contracted interior gases, cramped for room, burst out at the surface in jets and spurts as in a natural volcanic eruption, and proportionately quite as high, gradually forming the frustrum of an irregular cone, with an opening in the center from bottom to top. Through this opening the melted matter was forced up from the mass below, running over at the top of the cone on all sides and dripping downward, cooled into beautiful stalactical forms. After the gases had become exhausted an opening was made near the base of the cone, giving another outlet to the matter left in the crater, which left the opening in the cone clear and comparatively smooth. The height of the cone is 20 inches, outside diameter at bottom 15 inches, and at top 5 inches. Its growth occupied half an hour. Its weight is 90 pounds. This is a good illustration of the manner in which volcanic peaks are supposed to be naturally formed, confirming the theory that, as the crust of the earth contracts by cooling, the interior gases and melted matter requiring more room, mountain ranges are raised, and, at the weaker points, openings are forced, from which the imprisoned matter escapes and volcanic peaks and craters are formed, just as in the specimen above described.—Lancaster (Pa.) Era.

The worthlessness of the murdered man was the only plea made by a Wyoming lawyer in defense of his client, who had deliberately shot a bar-room bully for merely annoying him. The Judge said that the argument was unsound in law, but the jury let it justify, in their minds, a verdict of acquittal.

Salvation Oil, the greatest pain cure on earth, is guaranteed to effect a cure where it is possible for the seat of the disease to be reached by a liniment. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

At Hudson, N. Y., Nov. 18th, Beckwith, charged with the murder of Vandercook, confessed the killing, but claimed it was done in self-defence. This was the case in which some hunters found portions of a man boiling in a pot, in a tent in the woods, and other portions salted down in a barrel, like pork.

I was troubled with Chronic Catarrh and gathering in my head, was very deaf at times, had discharges from my ears, and was unable to breathe through my nose. Before the second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm was exhausted I was cured and to-day enjoy sound health.—C. J. Corbin, 923 Chestnut st., Field Manager, Philadelphia Pub. House, Pa. See adv't.

What's in a Name?

Twelve years ago we began bottling the G. O. Taylor Bourbon Whiskey and giving it our full indorsement as a pure, reliable article. The name was then unknown. We did not indorse it "without recourse," for we took every precaution to procure the best kind of Kentucky Bourbon, and we had the fullest confidence in its being unsurpassed. The demand increased, and we have exercised constant vigilance to keep up the reputation of the goods. The name is now synoymous with pure whiskey, and physicians frequently prescribe it as G. O. T. The G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon or Pure Rye Whiskey is sold by Druggists or Grocers. C. H. Graves & Sons, 35 Hawkins st., Boston, Sole Proprietors.

Episcopal Statistics.

A summary of the parochial reports submitted at the Episcopal diocesan convention of New Hampshire, gives the following statistics for the past year: Number of baptisms, 264; confirmed, 209; communicants, 2233; marriages, 69; burials, 134; attended Sunday schools, 1450; total offerings, $47,707, as follows: Annual expenses, $21,837; special, $4328; communion alms, $1345; missions, $2755; orphans' home, $1147; Episcopal funds, $5411; aged and infirm clergy funds, $102; other objects, $10,782.

The War in Europe.

Further despatches make it evident that the Bulgarians had the best of the fighting at Slivnitza. A Bulgarian despatch from Sofia says: "Troops are arriving here from Roumelia. Twenty-five thousand Servians were engaged yesterday near Shivnitz, while there were only 15,000 Bulgarians in the engagement. There was desperate fighting at Slivnitza today. The Bulgarians forced the Servian right wing back at the point of the bayonet for several kilometres with great losses." A Servian account from Tsaribrod is as follows: "The Servians found the Bulgarians of unexpected strength at Slivnitza. The Servians, after continuous fighting for eighteen hours, are slowly pressing Prince Alexander toward Sofia, the Bulgarians disputing every inch."

A semi-official Russian journal at St. Petersburg advises Prince Alexander of Bulgaria to conform with the wish of the Sultan as expressed in the latter's reply to Prince Alexander's request for assistance, and renounce his scheme respecting Eastern Roumelia. "This," it says, "will deprive Servia of her pretext for aggression, and enable the Porte to assume a decided attitude toward Servia if she persists in her military aggression. Bulgaria has no right to prolong an operation ill begun and worse prepared, when Europe demands peace."

The Roumelian government is massing troops on the Berssarabian frontier in view of the possibility of Austria requiring assistance against Russia.

The Porte has sent to the powers a formal protest against the Servian invasion of Bulgaria. Turkey reserves the right to take military action in the matter.

The London Telegraph says: "It is almost certain that Greece will go to war. A captain of the Greek navy has started for London to purchase men-of-war.

New Hampshire Patents.

The following list of patents granted Nov. 17th to citizens of New Hampshire, is specially reported by Franklin H. Hough, solicitor of American and foreign patents, No. 925 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C.:

No. 330,394. H. H. Ham, Jr., Portsmouth, nut-lock.

No. 330,797. Geo. H. Mills, Concord, planer knife grinder.

The whole number of patents granted to citizens of the United States for the week ending Nov. 17th was 493.

John E. Wetherbee, a prominent and successful member of the Suffolk bar, poisoned himself in his office on School street, Boston, on the night of Nov. 17th. He was probably deranged from overwork. He was a Harvard graduate, and thirty years old.

Capt. William B. Roix, long master of the steamer Katahdin and later of the Penobscot, of the Boston & Bangor line, died in Boston on the 18th inst., at the age of sixty-six.

Queen Victoria disolved parliament on the 18th, and the writs for a new election have been posted.

The examination of the brain of John McCullough, the actor, resulted in comfirming the diagnosis made by Dr Engel after the actor's return from the Bloomindale asylum, and showed that there was a disease of the blood vessels of the brain due to blood poisoning.

Word has been received from Mt. Washington, Ky., of the robbing and burning of two dwellings, and the death of a boy in one of the fires.

The La Fere arsenal at Paris, France, containing a large quanity of stores and cavalry harness, has been partially destroyed by fire. The loss will reach 1,000,000 francs.

A number of laborers were "taken on" in the equipment department at the navy yard on the 18th inst., to transport back to Seavey's island, where they came from, the anchors and chains which were some weeks ago placed on the wharf near the sheers in readiness to be shipped to the Waskington navy yard, the order to ship them having been revoked.

One of the handsomest pairs of cattle in the city are owned by Mr. Bartholomew Flynn, farmer, near the Plains. They are pure white in color, and girth seven feet eight inches each.

The sloop Stephen Orr, Aderton master, having discharged a cargo of hard pine at the navy yard, was on the 19th lying at the draw of Portsmouth bridge, in readiness to proceed up river and load with bricks for Boston.

The Cocheco Manufacturing Co., at Dover pays a dividend of $15.00 per share Dec. 1st.

The Advertiser's Washington correspondent states that the New Hampshire delegation is expected soon at the capital to urge Mr. H. O. Kent for the naval office at Boston, and that a suggestion has been sent that the matter had better not be agitated while the president is so much engrossed with his message.

There was a case of breaking and entering at the yard of the Boston & Maine railroad in this city on the night of the 18th inst., in a freight car alongside the north millpond. The thieves must have been frightened, for there was a grand scattering of pocket knives, tobacco, etc., along the tracks and into the pond. Boys in boats were on Thursday engaged in fishing up jetsam all along there. The burglarized car was on a through freight train from Boston to some point in Maine.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

DEAFNESS Its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 186 East 25th st., New York City. 16eod

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Nov. 19th, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Present the full board, except Alderman Coffin.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Request of J. B. Locke and others for a light on Mount Vernon street, was referred to the committee on streets, with power. Also petition of C. H. Mendum and others, for two lights on Wibird street.

Petition of Justin V. Hanscom and others, for the widening and straightening of Sagamore road between South street and Jones avenue, was referred to the committee on laying out and widening streets.

Samuel Spinney's bill for extra services as health committee, $17, was passed to the amount of $12.

Voted that the $500 devised by the late Mrs. DeMerritt for the use of the high school, be invested in a note of the city, signed by the mayor and aldermen, bearing six per cent interest, the interest to be devoted annually to the purposes of the school.

A vacation of one week was granted the city clerk.

Resignation of Mercer Goodrich as a member of the board of instruction was accepted, to take effect on the election of his successor.

On motion of Ald. Cook, the matter of contracting for the lighting of the oil-burning street lights was referred to the mayor and the chairman of the committee on street lights, with power.

On motion of Ald. Magraw it was ordered that the crosswalk at the junction of Vaughan and Hanover streets be relaid.

The mayor reported the chimneys of the almshouse to be in bad condition, and recommended repairs; referred to the committee on city lands and buildings.

The mayor recommended that the street lights be lighted on dark nights, even though the moon should be up.

Adjourned to December 3d, at eight o'clock P. M.

FELLOWSHIP MEETING.

A fellowship meeting of the Congregational churches of the eastern part of Rockingham county was held on Wednesday, Nov. 18th, with the church at Rye, the visiting clergymen being Rev. T. V. Haines of North Hampton, Rev. W. A. McGinley of Portsmouth, Rev. Mr. Savory of Stratham and Rev. Wm. A. Rand of South Seabrook; members were present from the churches at North Hampton and Greenland, twenty-two from Portsmouth and twenty from Newcastle.

The exercises commenced at ten o'clock A. M., with a prayer meeting led by Deacon J. Perkins of North Hampton; theme, "Abiding in Christ." A sermon was then delivered by Rev. Mr. Haines; text Psalms 25:14. This was followed by discussion of the subject, "Secret of the Lord," by Rev. Messrs. Boynton of Rye and Rand of Seabrook.

At noon a basket collation was partaken of in the vestry, coffee and tea being furnished by the Rye church.

At 1:30 P. M. there was a praise meeting, led by Deacon J. Leavitt of North Hampton, and a prayer meeting led by Deacon French of North Hampton, followed by discussion of the question, "What can Christians do to Promote Revivals?" by Rev. Mr. Savory and Bros. Leavitt of North Hampton and Stone of Rye. At three o'clock, discussion of the subject "Witness for Christ," by Revs. Rand, McGinley, Savory and Haines.

In the evening there was a prayer meeting, led by Dr. E. B. Goodall of Portsmouth; followed by a sermon by Rev. Mr. McGinley, on John 25:5—Matthew 15:7, 18.

The next meeting will be held at Newcastle, Tuesday, Dec. 15th.

NOTES FROM THE ISLES OF SHOALS.

J. B. Downs and wife will spend this winter with their son, Capt. Levi Downs, in Portsmouth. This is the first winter they have ever voluntarily passed away from the islands, although they are nearly eighty years old. When the other land owners of Star island sold to Mr. Poor, Mr. Downs alone would not sell, and continued to reside on the island; but when the Oceanic was burned he lost his house, and had to temporarily live on the main land, but immediately built a new house, and has lived in it ever since. Mr. Downs' father and grand-father resided at the Shoals, and we find the name of Downs on the town records of Gosport as far back as 1732.

A good season's fishing is reported from Smuttynose. Mr. Brooks Brewster, who has lived there several years, will pass the winter in Portsmouth, to enable his children to attend school. Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell may possibly remain on the island all winter.

The light-house department will soon erect a new boathouse at the White island light-station; and there is some talk of putting a beacon or spindle on Anderson's rock, this fall or early next spring. This is greatly needed, as the fishermen often tell of narrow escapes from this outlying peril on dark nights or in stormy weather; and the total loss of the schooner Pilot about fourteen years ago, when bound from Boston to some eastern port with a general cargo, and the wreck of the fishing schooner Newsboy last spring, are well remembered.

At the Oceanic, on Star island, the management have put in two large open fire-places, one in the parlor and one in the office, adding very much to the attractiveness of these apartments; they have also made other improvements, preparatory to the booming season which is anticipated next summer. At the Appledore they have enlarged and improved the lawn tennis grounds, and are to enlarge and remodel the kitchen, and make other changes. ROCKWEED.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

THURSDAY, Nov. 19th; Bufford J.

Joseph Howard, drunk, fine $3, costs $6.90; county farm in default of payment.

Patrick Murray, charged with drunkenness, was allowed to go on probation.

The two sturgeons which were on Wednesday afternoon of this week moored to Commercial wharf and swimming about in the dock, on Thursday morning were boxed up by Elvin Newton, and forwarded by rail to his son, Elvin S. Newton, at Manchester.

The young man who arrived at the house of Mr. John W. Stott some weeks ago, and who will shortly proceed to boss that gentleman around, is called Harry Oakford, the latter appellation being the name of the assistant engineer of the U. S. S. Kansas during the war of the rebellion, and now a solicitor of patents in Philadelphia. The Oakfords were of an old Quaker family of Pennsylvania.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is made by one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 100x200 ft $45 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $1.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

—BOSTON JOURNAL.

ST. NICHOLAS.

An illustrated monthly periodical for boys and girls, appearing on the 25th of each month. Edited by Mary Mapes Dodge. Price, 25 cents a number, or $3 a year, in advance. Booksellers, news dealers, postmasters and the publishers take subscriptions, which should begin with the November number, the first of the volume.

ST. NICHOLAS aims both to satisfy and to develop the tastes of its constituency; and its record for the past twelve years, during which it has stood, as it stands to-day, at the head of periodicals for boys and girls, is a sufficient warrant for its excellence during the coming season. The editors announce the following as among the Preparing to Encounter Disease.

The prevalence of malarial disorders being dependent upon vitiated conditions of atmosphere and water in certain regions, of course, inevitable. The grand question, therefore, presents itself to every resident of a fever stricken locality is, "What means shall I adopt to escape the dreaded scourge?" For a third of a century Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been the embodied answer to this question. In thickly populated, and sparsely settled districts alike, in town and in country, it has afforded constant protection against malarial infection to those who have used it. It eradicates and prevents, with equal certainty, fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, and nullifies also the pernicious after effects of using persistently the hurtful alkaloid sulphate of quinine. It also remedies, with thoroughness, dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility and rheumatism.

Eight hundred French Canadians, 200 of them students, paraded the streets of Montreal on the night of the 18th inst., as a demonstration against the government for the "murder" of Louis Riel.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 18th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

THE Voting Register of Certificate Holders is now making up at the Office of the Trustees, No. 10 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass. Holders of Certificates are requested to have their names placed on the Register, as without registration they cannot vote.

Any holder may register on presenting at said office to MR. JOSHUA CRANE a written statement of his name, address, and the denomination and number of each certificate held by him, or, if required by the Trustees on producing the Certificates held by him or a written order from the last registered holder.

The Voting Register will close at the close of business on the Thirtieth Day of November, between which time and the Annual Meeting, on the Second Wednesday of December, no registration will be made. By Order of the Directors.

n8d3t FRANCIS I. AMORY, Clerk.

Mrs. Mary Kohn, aged twenty-one years, was killed, three men fatally injured, and three other men badly hurt, by the fall of the walls of the Empire mill in New York, Nov. 19th. The mill was burned two weeks ago.

"Hermann is up to an extraordinary number of tricks with his nimble hands; but he will never take in as much, or as many to the square inch, as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in its big raid on coughs or colds.

Gunner Thomas R. Wilson, ordered to the training-ship Jamestown, has had his orders revoked, and he is placed on waiting orders.

Send to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., for a book containing statements of many remarkable cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Gunner James Hayes is ordered to temporary duty at the New York navy yard.

Ministers, Lawyers, Teachers, and others whose occupation gives but little exercise, should use Carter's Little Liver Pills for torpid Liver and biliousness. One is a dose.

The Bowdoin square Baptist church of Boston on the 19th inst. voted Pastor Downs out of the pulpit and out of that church, and ordered the church closed for spiritual repairs. The church edifice was placed under guard of the police.

The effects after taking Adamson's Botanic Balsam are a soothing and controlling influence over any cough or cold, promoting rest, allaying the tickling sensation in the throat, and causing a healthy expectoration.

Eugene A. Sullivan and John A. Sullivan, father and son, proprietor, of a liquor saloon in Cambridge, Mass., have been convicted of manslaughter for killing John F. Driscoll, whom they assaulted for making a disturbance at their saloon.

The Rev. Wm. Stout, Wiarton, Ont., states: "After being ineffectually treated by seventeen different doctors for scrofula and blood diseases, I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters." Write him for proof.

Early in the morning on the 19th inst. the tug J. W. Whitney caught fire while going down New York bay, and was beached near the foot of Ninety-second street. The captain and crew barely escaped with their lives by jumping from the bow of the boat to the beach. The engineer was badly burned about the face and hands. The fire is supposed to have started in the engine room. The tug is a complete wreck.

Tired and Languid Women.

How many women there are of whom these words are true: "They feel languid and tired, hardly able to bear their weight on their feet, the bloom all gone from their cheeks, irritable and cross without meaning to be, nerves all upset, worried with the children, fretted over little things, a burden to themselves, and yet with no acute disease." What a pity it is. But a few bottles of Parker's Tonic will drive all this away, and relieve the troubles peculiar to their sex.

Hon. Edmund Wilson of Thomaston, Me., states that he still remains a candidate for collector of the district of Waldoboro, and that he has not withdrawn in favor of any one.

I was troubled with Chronic Catarrh and gathering in my head, was very deaf at times, had discharges from my ears, and was unable to breathe through my nose. Before the second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm was exhausted I was cured and to-day enjoy sound health.—C. J. Corbin, 923 Chestnut st., Field Manager, Philadelphia Pub. House, Pa. See adv't.

The court martial at Fort Myer, which tried eighteen signal service men on charges of insubordination, found all of them guilty, and sentenced them to be publicly reprimanded by the chief signal officer.

The well known strengthening properties of Iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

English "society" is disturbed over another scandal, a handsome young woman of eighteen years, a nobleman's heiress and the prospective possessor of £80,000, having eloped with one Anderson, who is married and has six children. Anderson was the steward of Lord Cranbrook's oldest son, who is the girl's guardian. The elopers were found in Ireland after a week's absence, the girl being restored to her guardian, and Anderson jailed to answer to the charge of abducting a ward in chancery.

Mr. A. J. Davenport of Shawneetown, Indian Territory, states that on the 10th inst. a Mr. Thompson and a Mrs. Woodfall came to the agency to be married. The ceremony was performed at nine o'clock in the morning, and Thompson died at noon of dropsy of the heart, and was buried at ten o'clock next day. The minister who married the couple preached the funeral sermon, and in the evening married the woman to another man.

The colored female seminary at Quitman, Ga., has burned by an incendiary.

AN IMAGINARY HELL.

Mr. Frank Morley, of Waterbury, Ct., is the possessor of a breezy and picturesque style of writing, which shows that he has missed his avocation if he is not an ink-slinger on some Connecticut paper that dares to call a spade a spade. He has lately been the victim of neuralgia at his home, 89 Grand street, and describes the disease and his cure in this lively fashion:

"After suffering all the terrors of an imaginary orthodox hell for two weeks with inflammatory rheumatism and daily growing worse, I was induced to try Athlophoros. The effect was like magic. I was relieved immediately and would like to say to all who are suffering with the dread disease, 'Don't wait; try Athlophoros.'"

Those who have suffered from inflammatory rheumatism will appreciate the force of Mr. Morley's remarks, and will also agree with the estimate which Mr. George L. Pease, another citizen of Waterbury, puts upon the value of Athlophoros:

"I would have Athlophoros," he says, "if I had to pay ten dollars a dose for it. After fourteen years of intense suffering it has done for me what our best physicians could not do. During that time I took every known medicine for neuralgia of the stomach, but found no relief at all until I took Athlophoros. The effect was wonderful. All pain disappeared and my general health was so much improved as to cause general comment. I cannot speak too highly of the merits of Athlophoros, and cheerfully recommend it to all who may be troubled with rheumatism or neuralgia."

From Pigeon Cove, Mass., Susannah Brown sends these words of good cheer to those afflicted with neuralgia:

"I had been troubled with neuralgia in my head for four or five years, day and night. Seeing an advertisement of Athlophoros in a Gloucester paper, I thought I would try it and no I sent a year ago for some. I have taken eight bottles and since last March I have had no neuralgia at all. My head, I think, is entirely well. I consider Athlophoros a great remedy for neuralgia and shall recommend it to any one troubled with it."

Mrs. Sarah J. Cross, of Monroe, N.H., says of her experience:

"Athlophoros has done wonderful cures for myself and all those who have used any that I let them have. As for myself the rheumatism is a thing of the past to me, and I feel like a new person."

"When I first tried Athlophoros," says Mrs. Mary T. Hart, of Farmington, Ct., "I was so afflicted with rheumatism in my knees that they were badly swollen, and I suffered a great deal of pain. Three doses began to have an effect, and when I had used two bottles the pain left and the swelling and stiffness disappeared and have never returned. About a year later my shoulder troubled me. One bottle of Athlophoros cured that and I have not had rheumatism since. I recommended its use to one or two neighbors, who tried it and were relieved."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will sent it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

When Poisons are Prescribed.

A druggist is not obliged to follow the prescription of a physician in case more than the maximum dose of a poison is prescribed.

"In such instances," said a prominent druggist, "we detain the customer and send a clerk to ask the physician if a mistake has not been made. He may have accidentally written morphine for quinine, or perhaps the particular patient was accustomed to the drug prescribed and needed an unusual dose. The pharmacist is held responsible for all accidents resulting from a faulty prescription, and he can not shield himself behind the doctor. He should know that certain innocent drugs when combined form a deadly poison, and he must look out for such combinations. Only a thoroughly skilled pharmacist, who has been apprenticed to the business for five years and has a license from the board of pharmacy, or who is a graduate of the College of Pharmacy, is competent to put up a prescription. He must have a good knowledge of chemistry and be skilled in the uses of poisons.

"After many years' practice a druggist becomes familiar with all kinds of prescriptions, and, as a rule, the same sort come in day after day, with little change. Where there is a deviation we are apt to examine the prescription closely in order to be sure that everything is all right. If there is doubt, we wait until we communicate with the physician. If there is no poison in the prescription, of course we do not care what we put up.

"In dealing out poisonous prescriptions we warn the patient not to take more than the prescribed dose. We don't like to get into trouble through patients taking an overdose. There is not likely to be another disaster like the one in Hoboken for some time, as the carelessness of Am Ende will tend to make all druggists unusually careful. We think of such things when we make up a prescription, and we are very careful to get the right jar. Every careful druggist, in handling a jar of drugs, will read the label when he takes it down and again when he puts it up.

"So many liniments contain poisonous materials that it has become a custom to put in blue bottles and label them 'For external use only.' Otherwise people would be apt to take them by the teaspoon."

"What if a man should bring in a prescription not signed and containing poison?"

"No trouble about that. He wouldn't get it."—New York Sun.

A Toronto newspaper tells of the late Lord Houghton that about 1877 he visited Toronto and was taken about the city by a citizen in a carriage. Bidding the coachman pause as they reached a sacred edifice in the eastern division of the town, the merchant said: "And what do you think of that, my lord?" "A splendid building; so substantial, and handsome. And pray, sir, what denomination owns it—the Church of England, I suppose?" "No, my Lord, the——" "You don't say so! The arrogance of these dissenters!" Lord Houghton had forgotten to inquire to what sect his friend belonged, who, in fact, had almost alone borne the cost of the church in question.

It is a common mistake to regard the term negro as synonymous with Africa. The word negro does not denote a nation, but an ideal type constituted by the assemblage of certain physical characteristics exemplified in the natives of certain portions of Africa and their descendants in America and the West Indies. As a rule the prevalent color in Africa is that of the Arab, the Indian and the Australian. The true negro districts are the Senegal, the Gambia, the Niger and the intermediate rivers of the coast, parts of Sudania, Sennaar, Kordofan and Darfur. People who are certainly not negroes inhabit the whole coast of the Mediterranean, the desert, the Kafir and Hottentot areas south of the line, Abyssinia and the middle and lower Nile. This does not leave much territory for the typical negro.

—In telling what mothers should do, an exchange says, "Allow the children as they grow older, to have opinions of their own." Wonder what kind of children this writer has had to do with.

"Love Sees No Faults."

It has been said; but, when a woman is dragged down, emaciated, wan, and a shadow of her former self, with never a cheerful word, she can be no longer beautiful or lovable. Nature may have been generous in her gifts, and endowed her with all the charms of her sex, but disease has crept in unawares and stolen the roses from her cheeks, the lustre from her eye, and the sunshine from her heart. But to be well again lies in your own power. Take Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," it will cure you; thousands have been cured by it. Nothing equals it for all the painful maladies and weaknesses peculiar to women. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

—"I understand you have received a call to preach at Pittsburg," remarked a gentleman to a minister. "I did receive such a call," the minister replied, "but my trial sermon failed to please the congregation, a fact of which I was politely informed on the following morning." "Indeed! What subject did you choose?" "Cleanliness is next to godliness."

—"What kind of a man is he, good bad, or indifferent?" "Well, that depends a good deal on who teeters on the other end of the plank with him." "How so, sir?" "Well, if you size him up alongside of Judas Iscariot he looms up middin' fair; but when you come to set him down between such fellows as you an' me, judge, he does dwindle terrible surprisin'—he does, for a fact."

SKIN TORTURES — AND — BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions, Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Sores, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement. MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK. BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE, EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured. HERMAN SLADE. 120 E. 4TH STREET, NEW YORK.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the CUTICURA SOAP. Have had an unusually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES proved satisfactory. W. L. HARDIGG, Druggist. UNIONTOWN, KY.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

Your CUTICURA REMEDIES outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed. H. W. BROCKWAY, M. D. FRANKLIN FALLS, N. H.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE enters upon the new subscription year with undiminished faith in the restoration to power of the party which has shown the greatest capacity for safe, patriotic, intelligent government. It thanks its agents and friends for their energy and support during the last year.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE remains the principal national exponent of the arguments, doctrines and aims of the Republican party. It is a strong, aggressive newspaper, uncompromisingly Republican, and faithfully devoted to the home interests of all America. The paper labors earnestly for a protective tariff, to develop the resources of the different States and secure good wages, good food, good clothing and comfortable homes for the people, and itself pays the highest prices to its own men of any office in New York city; for equal rights and an honest vote, North and South; for every practical measure in the interests of morality and temperance; and for upright, dignified, patriotic government.

Republicans Need The Tribune.

Every intelligent farmer; every old soldier; every worker and active man of whatever occupation; every good wife with a family; and every citizen who wants to identify himself with the party of progress, brilliant achievements and morality, needs THE TRIBUNE.

THE TRIBUNE will be good reading after Congress meets, when Evarts, Sherman, Logan, and other brilliant leaders begin to ask the Administration questions hard to answer.

As an agricultural paper THE TRIBUNE is unexcelled.

A Series of War Stories.

The grander features of the War for the Union have all been recorded. The minor incidents, the thrilling and romantic episodes, are a great volume, of which only a few chapters have ever been written.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE offers A PRIZE OF $250 in cash for the best story of the late War, written by a private soldier or sailor of the Union forces, or by an officer under the rank of Colonel or Navy Captain, about 5,000 words in length, relating a thrilling incident, raid, fight, escape, adventure, or experience, of which he himself was a part or an eye witness. A PRIZE OF $100 will be given for the second best story. Twenty-five or more of these stories will be published during 1886. Every one accepted will be paid for whether it wins a prize or not. The best two will receive the prizes. Publication begins January 6th. The competition ends July 1st, 1886. All manuscripts carefully read.

Premiums.

Wood's Household Practice of Medicine, two handsome volumes, profusely illustrated; Webster's and Worcester's Unabridged Dictionaries; Ridpath's Illustrated History of the United States; Bible Concordance of the Bible; and the Waterbury Watch. Send for sample copy, which describes the premiums.

TERMS.

The Daily, 75 cents a month; $8.50 a year. The Sunday Tribune, $1.50 a year. The Semi-Weekly, $2.50 a year, or $2.00 in clubs. The Weekly, $1.00 a year, or $1.00 in clubs. Give your subscription to THE TRIBUNE'S local Club Agent, if there is one.

THE TRIBUNE, New-York.

Gout, a painful disease affecting principally the fibrous tissues about the smaller joints, has various names, according to the parts affected, as podassa, when in the feet; chivassa, when in the hands, etc.; but whether the attack is first felt in the feet, the hands, or some other part, rub with Salvation Oil at once. It annihilates pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

The civil service commissioners will hold an examination for both type writers and stenographers at the post-office building in the city of Boston, December 10th.

Captain Mitchell, of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May, entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains, but receiving no benefit, at his wife's request began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla He immediately began to improve; in two months his rheumatism was all gone, and he sailed in command of his vessel a well man. Hood's Sarsaparilla will help you. Sold by all druggists.

The Insurance War.

At a conference of several prominent insurance agents of the state, in Concord on the 19th inst., resolution was adopted to circulate petitions asking Governor Currier to convene the legislature in special session to repeal the "valued policy" law.

The Canadian Excitement.

The French tricolor was hoisted over the city hall in Montreal on the 18th inst. This excited the English, and a conflict was narrowly averted, the tricolor being hauled down and replaced with the British flag.

A large mass meeting of Riel's French friends was held on the Champ de Mars in Montreal on the evening of Nov. 19th, their being fully 2500 persons present. Fiery, seditious speeches were made by leading politicians, condemning Sir John MacDonald and the French ministers of the cabinet, and also expressing favorable feelings to annexation to the United States, as the Orangemen are getting too much ahead in political power in the Dominion.

The English young men gathered the same evening at the Windsor hotel over 500 strong to resist the French processions at the west end. Every man carried a stout club or stick, and they announced themselves as fully determined to stop the recent effigy-burning and breaking of the peace. The police force was stationed on Bleury street to keep apart the hostile crowds. The west enders, in companies, marched down to Bleury street, but did not cross it, as they only determined to go that far and prevent the French from coming up. The latter did not appear.

On passing the queen's statue the English students surrounded it, cheered, and sang "Rule Britannia" and "God Save the Queen," flourishing clubs, sticks, etc., at the same time. The tension is strained between the races, and a very little may lead to a serious conflict.

It is reported that the government has forbidden the removal of Riel's remains to Montreal for public burial, fearing serious riots from the Orangemen.

The Warin Europe.

Dispatches from Sofia confirm the report of a Bulgarian victory. The Servians lost ten guns and 356 horses, and it is estimated that 3000 Servians were killed or wounded. The Bulgarians on the 17th captured 200 Servian cavalry.

A despatch from Belgrade says Queen Natalie of Servia has received a telegram announcing the fall of Widden. The same despatch says that a portion of the Morava division, after a severe fight, captured Radonsa. Four hundred prisoners have arrived at Belgrade from the front.

A despatch of Nov. 19th from Sofia says: The Bulgarians to-day repulsed the Servian attacks on Slaveny and drove the enemy back eight kilometers. Subsequently the Servians opened a strong artillery fire from the right wing. The Bulgarians stoutly defended their position, and again repulsed the Servians. The Bulgarians further repulsed a Servian attack on Glintzi, taking several prisoners.

A despatch of the same date from Semlin was as follows: Reliable reports received here state that the Servian loss at Silvnitza yesterday was three times greater than that given in the official accounts, and actually exceeded the previous total loss since the outbreak of hostilities. Prince Alexander was in the thick of the battle from beginning to end. The Servians noticed that he first rode a white horse, and afterward a brown horse. It is believed the white horse was shot under him.

The Independence Belge, of Brussels, Belgium, publishes a despatch from Sofia stating that the Servians attacked the Third Bulgarian regiment, escorting an ambulance train, and bayonetted the wounded soldiers which it contained. The despatch also states that Prince Alexander submits to the terms of the Sultan embodied in the latter's reply to the prince's appeal for help, and begs the Sultan to aid him at once.

A Constantinople despatch of the 19th announces that "Prince Alexander, in his request to the Porte for help, states that in compliance with the sultan's demand he has withdrawn the Bulgarian troops from Eastern Roumelia."

The Czar has ordered the army divisions in the Kieff, Kharkoff and Odessa districts of Russia to prepare to mobilize at any moment.

THE YORK POST-OFFICE.

A Washington despatch of Nov. 19th said: "The postmaster general has ordered the removal of the postoffice at York, Me., to the Harbor, so-called, a distance of three-quarters of a mile from its former location. This change, which will better accommodate a very large majority of the citizens within the York post-office delivery district, was made to meet the demands of the constantly-increasing population and business of that portion of the town known as the Harbor."

The change was probably not made for any such reason as is mentioned, but to accommodate the new postmaster, Mr. Fremont Varrell, whose store is at York harbor, and who very naturally does not wish to remove to the village. The late postmaster, Mr. Wilson M. Walker, keeps store at the village, and so long as he was the incumbent there was no thought of removing the office from the centre of the town to its edge "to accommodate a very large majority of the citizens." A post-office for the benefit of summer visitors has been established for several years in succession, during the summer, at D. A. Stevens' store at York harbor, and the largely increased number of permanent residents there warrants the establishing of a permanent office; but it seems a trifle rough on "the village" to abolish the office at that point.

The will of Julia A. Hilton, long the mistress of Edward S. Sanborn, bequeathing all her property, about $80,000, to her paramour, has been allowed to stand, the opposition of her relatives in Wells, Me., having been withdrawn, through a compromise. This is the strange case in which Sanborn and Miss Hilton were known as patrons of religion, education and morality, in Kingston, N. H., while in Boston they owned a number of houses of ill repute, and maintained an illicit connection.

The French Canadians of Nashua held a meeting Nov. 19th, protesting against the execution of Riel. Rev. J. H. Millette presided. Dr. G. H. Des Jardins of Boston, J. J. Doyle and others, addressed the meeting.

A freight train broke apart a mile south of Franklin, on the northern division of the Boston & Lowell railroad, on the night of Nov. 19th, the rear end running into the front section. The train was derailed, and several cars were smashed.

The signal office is preparing to make a request to Congress for more funds in order to enable organization for the work of foretelling tornadoes. It is considered that this would be a more useful line of labor, as far as the saving of life and property is concerned, than some that the office is now engaged in.

If it were possible to get the testimony of the multitude who have used Hoon's SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medicinal value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.:
Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,
JONATHAN J. COBURN.

THE CONCERT.

The concert complimentary to Miss Fannie P. Hoyt, Thursday evening, drew a large audience of the best people in the city—an audience both critical and appreciative, and in itself a high compliment to the talented and brilliant young violinist and her assistants on this occasion. Much had been anticipated from the array of talent announced to appear, and the expectations were more than realized at every point; and it is seldom that a Portsmouth audience,—such an one as attends an entertainment of the highest order, that is,—is roused to such generous demonstrations of approval as on that evening.

The Weber quartette is reputed the best in New England, and this will probably be credited by all who listened to the perfect harmony of their rich voices. Mrs. Philbrick shew herself to be not only a fine piano soloist, but also—what many soloists are not—a judicious and careful accompanist. The great power and flexibility and wide compass of Miss Edith Wendell's splendid voice were well displayed in her brilliant execution of the high order of music selected for her numbers, and she fully deserved the hearty recognition she received. Miss Emily Hoyt, a pretty appearing and self possessed young miss of fifteen, daughter of A. Coburn Hoyt, Esq., made her debut at this concert as a solo pianist, and her proficiency was a pleasing surprise, winning a deserved recall; many players of twice her years would be more than satisfied could they play half as well. Miss Carrie E. Hale, the elocutionist, was very satisfactory, having great command of the expression of her features and tones, much dramatic power, and the ability to make her hearers realize the spirit of the pieces she renders.

The feature of the evening, of course, was Miss Fannie Hoyt's violin playing; she produces full, round tones, pleasing to the ordinary listener and delightful to the expert, and has an easy, graceful style; and the ease and certainty with which she performs intricate passages, and the expression with which she plays, indicate careful instruction and close study, as well as great natural musical ability.

There was but one verdict at the close of the concert, and that was that it was a perfect succes.

CLOSING THE VESTIBULE.

The Penny Post says it would like to ask Collector Hanscom who gave him authority to close the vestibule of the post-office. We infer that the P. P. refers to its being closed for a greater part of the day on the Sabbath.

The enquiry seems rather fresh to come from the editors of a paper both of whom have until quite recently served under the treasury department. As we understand, the collector as such has no control over the post-office being open or otherwise, but Mr. Hanscom serves the government as custodian of the public building, a position far more onerous than remunerative. As such custodian he has charge of the building, the employment of janitors, the repairs, etc. The janitors are paid yearly salaries, and the custodian seems to have deemed it proper to allow these men to have their Sundays, with the exception of a few hours. The fact that the second afternoon New York mail now reaches here at seven o'clock P. M., and soon after that is distributed, bringing nearly all the letters from places whence letters formerly reached here at nine o'clock P. M., has caused nearly everybody to receive their letters early in the evening, and to obviate going for them on Sunday. It will be borne in mind that there is no general delivery open on Sunday, and box holders are to have two hours at noon.

Now although we in our efforts to produce an acceptable morning newspaper are obliged to do a little labor on Sundays "between meetings," we at the same time can appreciate a day of rest; and the janitors in the public building certainly should have a Sunday out during the winter season. The custodian of the public building we are informed conferred with the postmaster as to the hours for keeping open the vestibule of the office. Letters can always be posted at the office at all hours of the day or night; and if it is found that the change is one that will prove of serious inconvenience to residents, doubtless the order may be reconsidered.

We write this without hearing the statement of the custodian or postmaster; but as Bro. Hanscom was the Chronicle's (as every one's) candidate for the office of collector, and has no organ of his own, we have assumed to answer the enquiry of the Post, which is proper enough. The Post "means well, but he don't know," although we are astonished at so little familiarity with the regulations of the treasury department after so long experience as has one of the proprietors under the revenue flag opposite the Chronicle office.

NOTES FROM NEWCASTLE.

NEWCASTLE, Nov. 19th.

The Hotel Wentworth, with all the adjacent outbuildings, has received a coat of oil, which gives the paint an especially bright appearance. From the piazza of the Wentworth is seen the new Hotel Pocahontas, which is boarded in, and presents a fine appearance at the eastern side of the entrance of the harbor. There are to be seen now four summer hotels from the Wentworth piazza, namely, the Pocahentas, Pepperell, Appledore and Oceanic.

A small building is being erected on the Wendell place, which is to be used as a summer studio by the author of the Duchess Emilia.

Chas. E. Campbell is now employed as night watchman at the Wentworth.

Mr. Geo. F. Thompson expects to remove from the cottage he has occupied near the Wentworth to his renovated hotel in Portsmouth some time in December. H.

A large lot of pictures from Max Jacoby's, New York, will be on sale at Montgomery's for a few days.

The Swamscot Machine Co. of South Newmarket are building a large iron tank to hold water to be used in case of fire in the Cocheco Manufacturing Co.'s buildings. They are also building several tanks for locomotive tenders for the Boston & Maine railroad, and doing the iron work for the turn-table in the new round-house at Somerville, Mass.

The new firm of Horrocks & Marston, dealers in United States and foreign postage stamps, on the 19th inst. purchased a valuable collection, and are prepared to furnish their friends and patrons many rare and obsolete stamps, all genuine.

Aaron Young and Charles H. Hayes went to Manchester on Friday to arrange for an appropriate investment of the surplus receipts of the last state fair.

The resignation of Mr. M. Goodrich as a member of the board of instruction deprives the city of the services of a gentleman who has been judicious, earnest and active in endeavoring to forward the best interests of our public schools.

The man-hole near the riverside end of the brewery drain was put in on Friday, and is probably about the last of the brickwork that will be done on the big sewer until spring, as the deep cut in the ledge on Deer street cannot be completed before winter.

There was a husking bee at the Hayes farm one evening this week; eight hundred bushels of corn in the ear was turned out, although Hiram remarked the next morning that it was not much of a night for husking.

Mrs. A. F. Craig has returned from her sojourn at Concord, and will occupy a portion of the E. M. Brown house on State street as her future residence.

The government of San Domingo has awarded $33,000 to the widow of J. J. Platt, an American who was killed by a squad of Dominican officers last June. Mr. Platt was a native of Saco, who went to San Domingo about seventeen years ago.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address. Respectfully,

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola, for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make it the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1-0, 300 ft. $45 to $200 per lot.

We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY 8 LIMITED number ONE of our lots, giving title ALTERNATE as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $15. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be satisfied at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

What Will Surely Do It.

One's hair begins to fall out from many cases. The important question is: What is sure to make it grow in again? According to the testimony of thousands, Parker's Hair Balsam will do it. It quickly covers bald spots, restores the original color when the hair is gray or faded, eradicates dandruff and causes the scalp to feel cool and well. It is not a dye, not greasy, highly perfumed, safe. Never disappoints those who require a nice, reliable dressing.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

F. B. Culver, of Westfield, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., was afflicted with scrofulous eruptions over the back and thigh, accompanied with nausea and neuralgic pains in the head, so severe that on one occasion he fell unconscious in the street. Physicians failing to do him good, he commenced using Brandreth's Pills—five every night for a week, then rested three days, and took five every night for another week, then two every night for thirty days. To his delight, at the end of that time, the eruptions had disappeared and all pain had gone. He continues to take one pill occasionally as a precaution.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

Dr. James D. Bragg, a druggist and physician of the old school, residing at 271 East Main St., Bridgeport, Connecticut, is full of praise for Athlophoros. This is what he has to say:

"I have been a resident of this city for ten years and am conversant with the prevailing diseases in this section. None is so common as rheumatism and neuralgia. During the fall season I have a busy practice with neuralgia and rheumatic patients, and I prescribe Athlophoros with unparalelled success. It is a perfectly safe medicine, and so pure that a baby can take it."

One of the happiest men in Maine nowadays is William Sawyer, of West Hampden, Penobscot county. Mr. Sawyer is a butcher, long and favorably known in his county, and that he has abundant cause for his happiness will appear from the following statement.

"I was sick last fall with rheumatism," he says, "and a lady sent me word to try Athlophoros. I did so. When I got the medicine the minister was at my house. At four o'clock it took him and two others to get me up off the bed. I took the Athlophoros and in less than two hours one man got me off the bed and in ten hours I got off alone, and in eighteen hours my fever had all gone. I have recommended the medicine to three others that were not so badly off as I was and it worked like a charm. I tell the doctors that I will bet fifty dollars that I can cure any rheumatism fever, I don't care how bad, in twenty hours with one bottle of Athlophoros. I am a butcher going around all over the country and I have to tell this story sometimes ten times a day. I wouldn't be without Athlophoros, and carry it with me all the time."

"I wish to say a word in praise of Athlophoros," says E. J. Flood, of Oxford, Me. "I was taken with rheumatism last May and was treated by my family doctor for some time without relief. I then tried every other rheumatic cure I could hear of with the same result. Some five weeks ago I by chance learned of Athlophoros. I bought a bottle and began taking it and in less than twenty-four hours I could walk without a cane and suffered no pain. I have taken two bottles and to-day I am able to do a hard day's work. I consider it the greatest rheumatic remedy ever known. Since I have been cured I have had a number of people come to me to ask what I took to cure me. To-day I have had three ladies from a distance of six miles to hear about the great remedy. There are three persons in my village that are now using it with the happiest results."

Mrs. Charles H. Gifford, of Lincoln Centre, Me., says:

"I cannot express my thanks for the benefit I have received from the use of one bottle of Athlophoros. I inherited rheumatism from my mother, who suffered untold agony until her death. My father spent hundreds of dollars to get help for her and found none. I have tried many different remedies, but never got any relief to speak of from them, except from Athlophoros, which I can truly say has helped me. I wish to get a few more bottles, so that I can let some of my suffering friends have some."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed.

In Madagascar.

I passed many Sakalava graves today that are exceedingly curious. A square post is erected over the grave of a chief or over the family of one. Then the various other families of the same tribe consider it a sort of good luck to make a certain sort of sacrifice over the grave, to insure the peace of the departed. In case of childbirth, to insure an heir (boy), or in the case of a woman about to be married, to insure good crops, to ask for rain, etc., a bullock is generally killed. Three pointed stones are erected near the chief's tomb and a portion of the bullock eaten. The bullock's skull is then placed upon the post, allowing the hawks to cleanse it. In course of time this post gets covered with skulls, and the adjacent ground stuck full of pointed stones. This queer practice dates back many years. We passed, recently, two men carrying a dead body sewed up tightly in straw matting and slung lengthwise on a pole; seeing which, our men shouted out something in a loud voice, which meant, "Go to the north! go to the north!" and the body-bearers shot off into another direction. The idea is that the corpse may have died of some contagious disease. Bodies (as in this case) are generally followed by a large party of mourners, who rend the air with their cries and lamentations.—Lieutenant Shufeldt, United States Navy, in the United Service.

"Have you read the Pawl Mawl Gazette?" asked a man with a purely American type of countenance in an elevated car yesterday.

"I have not seen a Pal Mal Gazette," replied his younger friend, who aped the English dress.

Then a real red-faced Englishman in the corner spoke up and said: "The Pell Mell is my favorite paper," and nobody said a word till the brakeman called out: "Change for City Hall!"—New York World.

As a letter-carrier started to enter a yard on Mullet street yesterday a dog rushed at him and drove him out, and as he limped into a shoemaker's shop on the corner he was asked by the owner, "Vhell, didt you meet my new dog?" "You bet!" "Unt didt he bite?" "Snapped me here in the leg like a steel trap." "Ah! he vhas recommended to me as a dog who would bite, but I doan't know if der man lied to me or not. Vhell! vhell! So he does bite, eh? Dot satisfies me, and I doan' worry some more."—Detroit Free Press.

Henry's talk, as usual, was confined entirely to base ball. Nellie had not usually shown much interest in this subject, but this evening she evinced great animation. "Which player do you like best?" she asked. Henry replied: "The pitcher, by all means; don't you?" "No, Henry," said Nellie with a suggestive yawn: "I prefer the short stop." The answer came so suddenly that before Henry recovered his presence of mind he was out in the street, with his hat crowded over his throbbing temples, and walking at the rate of fifty laps an hour.—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Peterby was making a neighborly call on Mrs. Simson. While they were chatting together little Mamie Simson was seen coming toward the house with a package in her hand. "Mamie is such a smart child; she is too smart for her age. I often send her to the grocery on the corner with a twenty-dollar bill and she always brings back the right change." Enter Mamie, who runs to her mother and says: "I got the coffee from the grocery, but the clerk says if you don't pay last month's bill you can't get anything more on credit."—Texas Siftings.

A bright little miss living on Eagle street was given a warm cookie by a neighbor. Though contrary to her custom, the mother allowed the child to eat it. Shortly the little girl exclaimed: "Mamma, let me go and get another cookie; I know Mrs. —— will give me one." "No, dear, it will make you sick." "Will I die and go to heaven?" "Yes." "Well, Mrs. —— (her Sunday-School teacher) says heaven is a beautiful place." "You don't want to go to heaven and leave papa and mamma, do you?" "Well, mamma, you get a cookie, too, and come with me to heaven."—Utica Herald.

—"We're going to move again," said the boy to the grocery man on the corner. "No, you're not. When I called with the bill your father said he was going to stay all winter." "Well, we ain't. Ma's throwing the ashes and sweepings down cellar, and that means business every time."

—"Was your room on the port or the starboard side of the vessel?" asked an old traveller of a new one who had just returned from his first trip to Europe. "Oh, I had the same room both ways," was the answer. "It was on the port side going over, and so it was on the starboard side coming back!"

The foundation plank of the Socialists is: "Freedom from labor, anxiety and sorrow." This they can never get; but St. Jacobs Oil will give something equally desirable,—freedom from pain.

—A gentleman whose family consists of a wife and twin girl babies came in very late one night, and went to bed. His sleep was broken, and he tossed and tumbled and muttered something about "two of a kind" and a "small pair." "Poor John," murmured his wife; "he is tired, and is dreaming of the children."

John P. Sweetser, Portsmouth, N. H.

I was sick this fall with the rheumatism. I took the Athlophoros, and in less than two hours I could move one of my legs. In ten hours I got off my bed alone, and in eighteen hours my fever had gone. Wm. Sawyer, West Hampden, Me.

At Little Gap, Pa., on Thursday, Joseph Sayder used a box of dynamite cartridges for a pillow. They exploded, and his body was frightfully mangled.

Every day adds to the great amount of evidence as to the curative powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Letters are continually being received from all sections of the country, telling of benefits derived from this great medicine. It is unequalled for general debility, and as a blood purifier, expelling every trace of scrofula or other impurity. Now is the time to take it. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

The suit of Sylvester N. Stewart against the Philadelphia Press company for an alleged libellous article has been decided in favor of the plaintiff for $1200.

"It is the little rift within the lute that by and by will make the music mute," and it is the little tickling sensation in the throat which brings on hoarseness, sleepless nights and lung trouble. The early use of Red Star Cough Cure will prevent all this. It is a prompt, safe and sure medicine.

The People's & Consumers' Gas company of Brooklyn, N. Y., capital $3,000,000, was incorporated on Thursday. Its object is to furnish gas at $1 per 1000 feet.

Almanacs

Of last year are of little value, but every year added to the age of whiskey improves its quality. The difficulty has been to get that which was really good and pure and old. This difficulty is now removed, as the G. O. Taylor is sold very generally. C. H. Graves & Sons, by bottling themselves the G. O. Taylor Bourbon and Pure Rye, have met the demand for a trustworthy article which can be obtained of druggists and grocers. Care should be taken to see that the name of the firm is upon the label and over the cork in each bottle.

A Pure Judiciary.

A committee of the New York senate is investigating certain departments of the democratic government of New York city, and on the 20th inst. at the afternoon session, two stenographers of the civil district court testified to paying money liberally out of their salary toward election expenses and for other purposes. One stenographer, attached to Judge McCarthy's court, said he paid in this way $1200 a year out of a salary of $2000. This money he afterwards learned was turned over to Assemblyman Roche. When he stopped these payments Judge McCarthy told him an agreement was an agreement, and he ought to live to it. Not doing so, he was discharged. The name of this witness was George Strasner. Maurice J. O'Connor, the stenographer in Judge William H. Kelley's civil district court, said he was told after he got the position that Judge Kelly had an expensive law suit on hand and needed pecuniary assistance. Between his appointment in 1882 and the latter part of 1884 he paid over $2939. When witness stopped his payments he was discharged. This testimony caused considerable commotion among the city officials present.

Among the many new books published by Lee & Shepard of Boston, and for sale in this city by Mercer Goodrich, are the following:

"A Woman's Inheritance," by Amanda Douglass; price $1.50. All who have read the other works of this favorite American novel writer, will be pleased with this fascinating story, which is one of the best efforts of the gifted author.

"A Captive of Love," by Edward Greey; price $1.50; with twenty-six illustrations. A story founded upon Bakin's Japanese romance, "Komona Tayemu Amo Yo No Tsuki," (The moon shining through a cloud-rift on a rainy night.) Mr. Greey's works are valuable, aside from their peculiar charms as stories, for their faithful representation of Japanese manners and customs of the present time, thus being a great addition to our knowledge of the Japanese.

"Ten Boys who lived on the road from Long Ago to Now," by Jane Anderson; price $1.00. The author in this little book endeavors to make the boys of the present time better acquainted with the lives of their predecessors, by giving them short and interesting stories of ten of the boys who have lived in history from the days of Kabin, the Aryan boy who lived 4000 years ago, to the time of Frank Wilson, the boy of 1885.

"Our Father in Heaven;" the Lord's Prayer in a series of sonnets by William C. Richards. Price $1.50. Beautifully illustrated, printed on the best paper, with gilt edges and rich and elegant covers.

"The Popular Speaker," comprising fresh selections in poetry and prose, humorous, pathetic and patriotic, suitable for reading clubs, school declamations, and home entertainments; by George M. Baker. Price $1.00.

"Five Minutes Declamations," by Walter K. Fobes; selections adapted to schools and colleges. Price fifty cents.

"Parlor Varieties," by Emma E. Brewster, being the second series of Plays, Pantomines and Charades, containing eleven entertainments. Price thirty cents.

Nos. 15 and 16 of the "Reading Club," each number containing fifty selections by George M. Baker. Price fifteen cents.

Common Councilman Francis L. White of Boston has been arrested on a charge of forging a bill of sale to the amount of $2,093.

An additional article has been added to the commercial treaty of January, 1883, between the United States and Mexico, by which the time for the approval of the necessary law to carry the treaty into effect is extended to May 20th, 1886.

A prairie fire, estimated to be from forty to sixty miles wide, is sweeping through Indian Territory.

The Halifax board of health has proclaimed the Charlottetown and Souris, Prince Edward island, and Sydney, Cape Breton, districts infected with small-pox. The steamer Carroll, which will arrive at Halifax from Charlottetown, bound to Boston, will bring no passengers, and no communication with the shore will be allowed while the steamer is at Halifax.

Republican senators in Washington claim that the election of Mr. Mitchell, in Oregon, makes it absolutely certain that the republicans will retain control of the senate during the Cleveland administration.

William Heath, of the bankrupt firm of Heath & Co., brokers, of New York, was arrested on the 19th inst. and taken to the sheriff's office, where he was informed that an order of arrest had been issued against him out of the supreme court on Giovanni P. Morosini's suit to recover $480,000, and that $500,000 bail was required. He could not furnish the bail, and was sent to Ludlow street jail.

The twelve-inch breech-loading cannon built at the South Boston iron works, weighing fifty-four tons and carrying an 800-pound shot, was successfully tested at the Sandy Hook proving ground November 20th.

A bold attempt was made early in the morning on the 20th inst. to blow up a tenement house in North Adams, Mass., with "miners friend," a powder nearly as powerful as dynamite. The house and contents were damaged, but no person was killed. Edward Brown is suspected of having committed the crime.

The county infirmary near Sandusky, Ohio, took fire on the night of Nov. 20th, and five insane women were burned to death. The superintendent was fatally injured.

A London dispatch of the 20th says: Official admissions from Belgrade show that a panic exists there. The siege of Widden has been raised, and General Leschjavin, who with his division has been carrying on the siege, is now marching to assist King Milan. A report prevails at Belgrade that Prince Alexander has proposed an armistice.

HOOD'S

SARSAPARILLA

Has "decided" claims upon the public. This is positively proven by the immense good it has done to those who have been cured of diseases from which they have suffered intensely for years, as verified by the published testimonials, every one of which is a positive fact.

CHELSEA, VT., Feb. 24, 1882.
MESSRS. C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: The 6th day of last June I was taken sick with a swelling on my right foot, and with an awful pain. The swelling went all over me. My face was swelled so that I could with difficulty see out of my eyes, and I broke out over the whole surface of my body; my right foot up to my knee was one raw, itching mass, and my ankle and foot so lame and sore I could not step on it, and it would run so as to wet a bandage through in an hour. In this condition Mr. W. F. Hood of the firm of A. H. Hood & Son, druggists, of this town, handed me a bottle of Hood's SARSAPARILLA, and told me to take it. I did so, and by the time I had taken one bottle I found that it was doing me good. I have since taken five bottles more. After I had taken three bottles my soreness began to leave me, and I have been growing better every day, so that to-day I can walk without going lame. I have no soreness in my ankle and it has healed all up, and my foot is not at all. Some my recovery to your Sarsaparilla. I write this to let you know that I think it deserves the confidence of the public, especially those who are troubled with humors.
Yours most truly,
JOSIAH PITKIN.

P. S. Every person that saw me said that I never would get over my lameness without having a running sore on my ankle; but thank God I have. J. P.

No other Sarsaparilla has such a sharpening effect upon the appetite. No other preparation tones and strengthens the digestive organs like Hood's SARSAPARILLA.

Price one dollar, or six bottles for five dollars. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

NOTICE.

Having taken the store lately occupied by my deceased brother, J. M. Carr, and having within the past fifteen days stocked up with first-class goods, I now offer to my brother's patrons and all others requiring reliable goods, as good a stock, for quality and style, as can be found in the city or in the state, and at the very lowest cash prices. All are invited to call and examine the goods whether they wish to purchase or not. J. C. CARR.

The captain, mate and a seaman of the schooner John Nichols were drowned near the mouth of the Patapsco river Nov. 19th. The sailor was drunk, and the officers were trying to get him below when all three went overboard.

It was a Methodist parson this time, and an Ohio one at that; he hinted that it would be nice to go to Europe, as his throat trouble was getting worse, but the good deacons saw through the whole scheme, sent for a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and consequently now enjoy a good sermon, delivered in a good, clear tone.

THIS PAPER may be found on file at Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce St.), where advertising contracts may be made for it IN NEW YORK.

THE CENTURY for 1885-6.

The remarkable interest in the War Papers and the many timely articles and strong serial features published recently in THE CENTURY has given that magazine a regular circulation of

MORE THAN 200,000 COPIES MONTHLY.

Among the features for the coming volume, which begins with the November number, are:

THE WAR PAPERS BY GEN. GRANT AND OTHERS.

These will be continued (most of them illustrated) until the chief events of the Civil War have been described by leading participants on both sides. General Grant's papers include descriptions of the battles of Chattanooga and the Wilderness. General McClellan will write of Antietam, General D. C. Buell of Shiloh, Generals Pope, Longstreet and others of the Second Bull Run, etc., etc. Naval combats, including the fight between the Kearsarge and the Alabama, by officers of both ships, will be described.

The "Recollections of a Private" and special papers of an anecdotal or humorous character will be features of the year.

SERIAL STORIES BY W. D. HOWELLS, MARY HALLOCK FOOTE, AND GEORGE W. CABLE.

Mr. Howells's serial will be in lighter vein than "The Rise of Silas Lapham." Mrs. Foote's is a story of mining life and Mr. Cable's a novelette of the Acadians of Louisiana. Mr. Cable will also contribute a series of papers on Slave songs and dances, including negro serpent worship, etc.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Include "A Tricycle Pilgrimage to Rome," illustrated by Pennell; Historical Papers by Edward Eggleston, and others; Papers on Persia, by S. G. W. Benjamin, lately U. S. minister, with numerous illustrations; Astronomical Articles, practical and popular, on "Science;" Papers on Christian Unity by representatives of various religious denominations; Papers on Manual Education, by various experts, etc., etc.

SHORT STORIES

By Frank R. Stockton, Mrs. Helen Jackson (H. H.), Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote, Joel Chandler Harris, H. H. Boyesen, T. A. Janvier, Julian Hawthorne, Richard M. Johnston and others; and poems by leading poets. The Departments, "Open Letters," "Brie-a-Brac," etc., will be fully sustained.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS

Will be kept up to the standard which has made THE CENTURY engravings famous the world over.

PRICES. A SPECIAL OFFER.

Regular subscription price, $4 00 a year. To enable new readers to get all the War Papers, with contributions from Generals Grant, Beauregard, McClellan, J. E. Johnston, Lew Wallace, Admiral Porter and others, we will send the 12 back numbers, November, 1884, to October, 1885, with a year's subscription beginning with November, 1885, for $6.00 to the whole. A subscription, with the 12 numbers bound in two handsome volumes, $7.50 for the whole. Back numbers only supplied at these prices with subscriptions.

A free specimen copy (back number) will be sent on request. Mention this paper.

All dealers and postmasters take subscriptions and supply numbers according to our special offer, or remittance may be made directly to

THE HUNTERS.

[Written for the Chronicle by our regular poet.]

Now hardy hunters roam about
To seek some toothsome game,
An empty bag they carry out—
And bringeth back, ye same.

Full many a mile with weary feet
They tramp o'er hill and dale,
And oftentimes, perchance, they meet
A boy with birds for sale!

The long-sought game at last secured
They chucketh in ye bag—
Now all the hardships they've endured
Are told, with graphic brag.

MARITIME NOTES.

The steam yacht Velox, Rich master, put into this port on Saturday, the 21st inst., on her way from Bath, Me., to Boston, where she is to be shipped on board the barque Charles Forbes for Venezuela. The Velox is a little boat, about the size of a steam launch, and was built at Bath for Portland owners, who intended to use her in harbor cruising, but have concluded to have a bigger boat, and so dispose of this one. Her engines were built at the Goss Iron Works at Bath, and she gets along over the water very fast; her captain says she is good for 13 1-2 knots, and has actually made that speed, measured by the patent log. She put in here for coal and water, and Capt. Rich concluded to remain until more settled weather, there having been more sea and wind than he needed when he came in.

The porgy steamer Mary Odell, Coleman master, of Portland, arrived at this port Saturday forenoon, on her way from Boston to Portland to haul up for the winter. She is a little boat, of ten or twelve tons register, and on Saturday morning had got as far as Boon island on her way east, when finding the wind dead ahead and the sea quite heavy, she bore up for this harbor.

The "pinque" Lucy, from Smuttynose island, Shoals, with a quantity of dunfish from Lemuel B. Caswell, and a lot of house-keeping goods, arrived in on Saturday.

COL. T. W. PEIRCE'S NEW HEIR.

The mother of Ivory W. M. Pierce of Lynn, Mass., petitioner for a share in the estate of the late Col. Thomas W. Peirce of Topsfield, Mass., has lived in Saco for years with her husband, Benjamin Witham, said to be a rag picker. In an interview with a reporter she said that the claimant was her son by Col. Peirce, but she was never married to the father. She told the reporter "I met Tom in Dover, N. H., when I was seventeen. He wanted to marry me, but I would not. At length I consented, but his parents were mad and opposed the match, so shortly afterward I returned home to Sanford, where my folks lived." Her son was born at her father's home in Sanford, and lived there till he was five years old, when he was "put out" to a family named Moulton.

The above is the substance of a despatch sent from Biddeford, Me., to the associated press, on the 19th inst. The Boston Post of the 21st contained the following:

The counsel for the claimant in the Peirce will case says that the associated press despatch from Biddeford, Me., stating that Mrs. Benjamin Witham, Ivory W. M. Peirce's mother, had said that she never married Colonel Peirce, is unqualifiedly false, as such an interview never took place.

The Globe of the 21st published an account of an interview of its Biddeford reporter with Mrs. Witham and her family, including Ivory Williamson Moulton Peirce, the claimant. They refused to talk about the case, but Mrs. Witham told the reporter that when she was Julia Williamson, seventeen years old, "Tom wanted me to marry him, but I was only a poor girl, and his folks were a proud lot. After a long time I told Tom I would marry him, but his folks objected and I went home to Sanford. Tom came there to see me, but I lost trace of him after a while and saw him no more." The reporter adds: "Mrs. Witham would not state whether she ever married Colonel Peirce or not, but Ivory said that if there was a report going about that she married Tom Peirce and was now living with her second husband it was false."

At the close of last Friday's session of the Alabama claims court only 115 cases remained on the docket. All of these will be disposed of during the present week.

Secretary Whitney's management of the Brooklyn navy yard does not seem to be much better than Ex-Secretary Chandler's operations which were so freely condemned by the democrats. The New York election having been carried for the administration, large discharges of men from the yard have followed, on the plea of no work to be done and no money available. The farce of activity before the election, is followed by the admission that the men were taken on for political purposes, and yet the secretary will be asking Congress for appropriations to be expended in prostituting the yards for the interests of his party.

The Arkansas Telegraph Co., a branch of the Baltimore & Ohio, last week attempted to erect a line along the route of the Iron Mountain railroad, as a part of their line from Little Rock to Hot Springs, but as fast as they put up poles the railroad men pulled them down. The contest was given up by the telegraph men after five days, and the court appealed to for an injunction against the railroad. It is charged that the action of the road is instigated by the Western Union.

A stage bound from the Silver King mine to Casa Grande, Arizona, was stopped by an armed highwayman Nov. 20th near Pinal, and robbed of silver bullion worth $5000.

On Friday evening last, at Chicago, in the balk-line billiard tournament, the noted French player, Vignaux, in a game with Slosson, made the astonishing score of 600 in eight innings, an average of seventy-five, Slosson only getting a total of 136, though he had made 101 when Vignaux was but eleven. Vignaux on his third break made a run of 195; and made other runs of 99, 174 and 89.

Within the last few weeks forged bills of lading purporting to be drawn by Don Lefebre & Co., of Quebec, representing about $30,000, have been issued, indorsed and accepted by their Boston and New York agents, and advances to a large amount have been paid on them to the parties working the swindle.

Lieutenant Greely, of Arctic fame, lectured before the Scottish Geographical society at Edinburg, Scotland, Nov. 19th.

The returning officer at Camberwell, England, announces that he will refuse to recognize Miss Helen Taylor as a candidate for member of parliament.

John L. Sullivan, the Boston pugilist, has signed a contract with John Cannon of New York, under whose management he agrees to make a tour of Europe and Australia next year. He agrees to meet any man who may be brought against him, at any time, under any circumstances, with or without gloves and under any rules.

Thomas Harrigan of New Haven, Ct., went to South America six years ago. His wife, supposing him dead, after not hearing from him, married again. Harrigan is about to return home.

Thomas Hance, on trial in Annapolis, Md., for killing his wife in a bagnio in Baltimore, was on the 19th inst. acquitted.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

FOG-BELL AT YARMOUTH, N. S. Notice is given that a fog bell, established by the government of Canada at the Bunker Island light station, in Yarmouth harbor, Nova Scotia, was put in operation last month. The bell is on the western or channel side of the light building, and is operated by clockwork machinery. During thick and foggy weather it will sound at intervals of fifteen seconds.

SUBMERGED DANGER OFF POINT JUDITH. The schooner Fanny Fern, at New London, Conn., Nov. 19th, reports striking, two miles west half north of Point Judith light, a rock or sunken wreck, which knocked her centerboard up to the deck. The schooner with board up draws but five feet of water. The wreck had apparently been there some time, and makes a dangerous obstruction to navigation.

BILIOUSNESS.

Bilious symptoms invariably arise from indigestion, such as furred tongue, vomiting of bile, giddiness, sick headache, irregular bowels. The liver secretes the bile and acts like a filter or sieve, to cleanse impurities of the blood. By irregularity in its action or suspensions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the blood, causing jaundice, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, bilious diarrhœa, a languid, weary feeling and many other distressing symptoms. Biliousness may be properly termed an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Act upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1-4 ONLY $50 to $100 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $[illegible]. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise decds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

Send for pamphlet. Address

Preparing to Encounter Disease.

The prevalence of malarial disorders being dependent upon vitiated conditions of atmosphere and water is, in certain regions, of course, inevitable. The grand question, therefore, presents itself to every resident of a fever stricken locality is, "What means shall I adopt to escape the dreaded scourge?" For a third of a century Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been the embodied answer to this question. In thickly populated, and sparsely settled districts alike, in town and in country, it has afforded constant protection against malarial infection to those who have used it. It eradicates and prevents, with equal certainty, fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, and nullifies also the pernicious after effects of using persistently the hurtful alkaloid sulphate of quinine. It also remedies, with thoroughness, dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility and rheumatism.

—Freddy had been repeatedly told he must not ask people for money. One day he met Mr. Williams, who could never resist an appeal from a small boy. "Mr. Williams," said Freddy, "do you ever give five centses to little boys that don't ask for 'em?" He got the money.

From Rev. Dr. Quimby.

AUGUSTA, ME., Jan. 5, 1878.

"Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam has been used in our family for more than three years, and we can recommend it as a superior remedy for coughs and colds."

—A Belfast gentleman stopped at a house on the Northport road and asked for a drink of milk. The young lady informed him that they had only skimmed milk, which the gentleman said would do. After drinking the man insisted upon paying for it, but the young lady refused. She finally said, "We want no pay; we give skimmed milk to pigs."

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 14th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each, and severally, on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

Any holder may register on presenting at said office to MR. JOSHUA CRANE a written statement of his name, address, and the denomination and number of each certificate held by him, or, if required by the Trustees on producing the Certificates held by him or a written order from the last registered holder.

The Voting Register will close at the close of business on the Thirdeth Day of November, between which time and the Annual Meeting, on the Second Wednesday of December, no registration will be made. By Order of the Directors.

n20 FRANCIS I. AMORY, Clerk.

Benjamin H. Longnecker, director of the poor of Lancaster county, Pa., disappeared from Lancaster last March, after embezzling $8000 of trust funds. A body recently found in Los Angeles county, California, had just been identified as that of Longnecker. The cause of his death is unknown.

"I have kept your medicine, Athlophoros, and have sold quite a lot of it. I find that it is a good thing for rheumatism and neuralgia, and that people get good results from it," reports George Mallard, a prominent druggist, of Laconia, N. H.

C. S. Smith and John Currier of Lake Village, trainmen on the White Mountains division of the Boston & Lowell railroad, while sleeping in their saloon at Concord on Friday night were robbed of an overcoat, watch, etc., and a sum of money.

An unoccupied house in Alexandria, formerly owned by George A. Emerson, was burned to the ground on Friday night. Fire supposed to have been accidentally set by hunters. Probably no insurance.

E. B. Culver, of Westfield, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., was afflicted with scrofulous eruptions over the back and thigh, accompanied with nausea and neuralgic pains in the head, so severe that on one occasion he fell unconscious in the street. Physicians failing to do him good, he commenced using Brandreth's Pills—five every night for a week, then rested three days, and took five every night for another week, then two every night for thirty days. To his delight, at the end of that time, the eruptions had disappeared and all pain had gone. He continues to take one pill occasionally as a precaution.

Mrs. Mary Howe's house, barn and outbuildings at Franklin Falls, were burned Friday night. Total loss; insured $900.

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills aided by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They not only relieve present distress but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

The stable of Israel A. Dodge at Dexter lower village, Me., was burned Friday evening, with contents, including a valuable horse, carriage, etc. Fully insured; loss $1000.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please.

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD, 13 Green Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

LONGEVITY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Statistics show that New Hampshire is preeminently the home of the centenarian, nonagenarian and octogenarian, of hale and hearty old men who began life with the republic. Indeed, so numerous are the veterans of the war of 1812 in some of the remote towns of the Granite State that a popular impression prevails there that "the last war," as it is still called by these warriors of bygone days, was fought entirely by New Hampshire regiments, and that from Lundy's Lane to the battle of New Orleans they carried the American banner to the front on every hard-contested field. Many theories have been spun as to why people should live to be older in New Hampshire than in Vermont or Maine. Of course, there must be some good reason for it. Perhaps it is because they take better care of their health and understand what is the right medicine for the right disease. Such at least would seem to be the inference from the following account by Charles M. Lampney, Esq., a well-known attorney and counsellor, of Hampton, N. H., of how he was cured of rheumatism:

"I have had several attacks of rheumatism within the last thirty years," he says, "and have got rid of them the best I could with the help of good physicians. The last attack which began in April, 1884, was the severest. I was daily under the care of the doctor, who gave me the best attention to relieve me of the severe pain and to relax the contracted muscles. I was taken in the back of the neck. In a few days the pain moved down into the limbs, and in the course of three weeks had run all through the joints from head to foot. At the commencement of the fourth week it had apparently settled down to stay all over me from the back of the head to the toes, and I was unable to move any part of the body except the right hand at the wrist joints. The day before, Deacon Hobbs, a neighbor, who had been suffering for several months with rheumatism, sent me word that he was taking Athlophoros and that it was doing him good. My father accordingly sent to Boston for a bottle. It was brought into the house at 8 o'clock in the evening and found me lying in bed like a corpse.

"I was about to give up the ghost and of course was ready to take anything in hopes that it might do some good. A dose was administered and three hours later another. My hearing became obtuse and my head confused. I dropped into a sleep and slept all night. The next morning after waking I had no pain and could move any part of the body. In the course of three hours I sat up in bed without any assistance. I continued to take the medicine every three hours through the day and a part of the next day and then stopped.

"In a few days I had very severe rheumatic pains in the thumb, and when I went to bed one dose was administered. I slept all night and in the morning the pain was gone. A few days later it returned in the left hand very seriously. On retiring one dose was taken, followed by sleep and no pain in the morning. The whole amount of medicine taken was one and a half bottles, and I have had no occasion to use any since. I consider that the Athlophoros saved my life and I recommend it to all who have rheumatic troubles."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he cannot, if do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK HEAD ACHE

Sick Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills invaluable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

SICK HEAD ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

BOHEMIAN OATS.

Farmers Near Morrison Taken in by the Old, Old Scheme.

The farmers around Morrison, Ill., have lately been victimized to a large extent by an old, but on the face of it, clever swindle. The originators of the scheme call themselves the Bohemian Oat Company, and claim that their headquarters are in Indiana. Their method is as follows: They place an agent in each township, who looks over the field and picks out sixteen of the largest farmers. He goes to them and shows them samples of Bohemian oats, and expatiates on their merits till gullible farmers believe that they are the only oats worth growing. Owing to the scarcity of the oats the agent says he can only sell fifty bushels to each man. His price is $10 a bushel, and he takes the farmer's note for the amount, due one year from the January following at 6 per cent interest. His next step is to draw up a contract binding the company to sell two bushels of oats for every one the farmer buys before the note becomes due. From these sales the agent is to receive $2.50 as commission for every bushel sold. By another clause in the contract the farmer binds himself to take notes in payment of the oats sold by the agent. The notes which the farmers give the agent are, of course, good, and are readily discounted at the local banks. In good faith the farmer goes to work and raises his oats. The next year the agent will come around with notes for $1,000 in payment of 100 bushels of oats which he has sold for the farmer, and get $250 for his commission. By the terms of the contract the farmer is obliged to take the notes in payment. They may or may not be good, but the presumption would be that they are worthless, and that the farmer is out of pocket to the extent of 100 bushels of oats and $250 in cash.

A member of the firm of Hiram Sibley & Co., said yesterday that they had dealt in Bohemian oats to a very small extent. The largest lot they had sold to one man was four bushels, the market price being $4 a bushel. "The Bohemian oats," continued he, "are a hybrid. They are neither barley nor oats. They are raised in small quantities in Michigan, Kansas, and in some parts of Canada. There is no legitimate demand for them, but they are principally used by fancy farmers who wish to experiment. I should say that the scheme you speak of, as worked by the so-called Bohemian Oat Company, is, on the face of it, a swindle, pure and simple. I very much doubt if the agent ever puts in a second appearance after he has made a sale. He hardly needs to make his commissions on the second sale. Suppose he sells sixteen men fifty bushels of oats apiece: 16x50x$10=$8,000. He gets $8,000 for stuff that only cost him $3,200 at the highest market price—a nice little profit of $4,800 on an investment of $3,200."

Imbued with the spirit of calculation the reporter made a few figures on a piece of paper with results which would have startled Col. Sellers. The original investment of $3,200 would at once yield a clean profit of $4,800 in one township alone. Suppose the agent to return the next year with bogus notes. He would get a commission of $2.50 on 1,600 bushels which he would have sold to other gullible farmers—or $4,000. Aside from this he would have 1,600 bushels of oats for nothing, as of course the notes he gave the farmers were worthless. This would make $16,000, plus $4,000 which he received in commissions or in all a profit in one year of $24,800 on an original investment of $3,200. This, of course, was made in one township alone. Now, an active man, like the suppositious agent, could sell at least four townships and could still use the original $3,200. In this case his profits would be $99,200, or 3,100 per cent on his original investment. The reporter drushed up his logarithms and differential calculus and tried to figure up the profits of the next year. The result had reached the startling proportion of millions when a wild-eyed young man with dishevelled hair was seen to rush from the warehouse with frantic speed, muttering to himself something about sines, cosines, tangents, and interest. It was the reporter. He is now in a private asylum, and is very peaceable unless some one mentions oats to him, when he flies into a paroxysm of rage which lasts for hours.—Chicago Tribune.

An Important Arrest.

The arrest of a suspicious character upon his general appearance, movements or companionship, without waiting until he has robbed a traveller, fired a house, or murdered a fellow-man, is an important function of a shrewd detective. Even more important is the arrest of a disease which, if not checked, will blight and destroy a human life. The frequent cough, loss of appetite, general languor or debility, pallid skin, and bodily aches and pains, announce the approach of pulmonary consumption, which is promptly arrested and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Sold by all druggists.

Edward Glover Niles, the artist, son of S. R. Niles of Boston, of advertising fame, has been pursuing his art studies in Paris for nearly five years, and returns home to open a studio. Mr. Niles is now a pupil of Lefebre and Boulanger. Referring to Mr. Niles' contribution to the last Paris Salon, Edward King, the Paris correspondent, writes: "Mr. Niles has achieved a signal success. It is a full-length portrait of a young and attractive lady; a portrait the facture of which shows the best results of study, as well as the possession of an original taste which study cannot confer. We shall hear more of Mr. Niles in subsequent salons, and much to his advantage. Boulanger and Bouguereau have spoken in highest terms of his work."

TO ADVERTISERS.

It is coming winter and the Holidays will soon be here, and the attention of all Advertisers is called to the

New Hampshire Gazette!

As an advertising medium it presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach areas in York county, Me., or in New Hampshire, will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it has proved a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants and out-of-town advertisers should bear in mind. CHRONICLE AND GAZETTE

PUBLISHING CO. PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

1831 THE CULTIVATOR AND 1886 Country Gentleman.

THE BEST OF THE AGRICULTURAL WEEKLIES.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is the LEADING JOURNAL of American Agriculture. In amount and practical value of Contents, in talent and ability of Correspondence, in quality of paper and style of publication, it occupies the FIRST RANK. It is believed to have no superior in either of the three chief divisions of

Farm Crops and Processes,

Horticulture and Fruit Growing,

Live-Stock and Dairying,

while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest, such as the Poultry Yard, Entomology, Beekeeping, Gardening and Grapery, Veterinary Replies, Farm Questions and Answers, Fireside Reading, Domestic Economy, and a summary of the News of the Week. Its MARKET REPORTS are unusually complete, and much attention is paid to the Prospects of the crops, as thro ughout the year no one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell—is lifeless, illustrated, and is intended to supply, in a continually increasing degree, and in the best sense of the term, a

LIVE AGRICULTURAL NEWSPAPER.

Although the COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has been GREATLY ENLARGED by increasing its size from 16 to 20 pages weekly, it will continue as heretofore, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2 50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

☞ All NEW Subscribers for 1886, paying in advance now, WILL RECEIVE THE PAPER WEEKLY FROM OUR RECEIPT of the remittance, to January 1st, 1886, WITHOUT CHARGE.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE enters upon the new subscription year with undiminished faith in the restoration to power of the party which has shown the greatest capacity for safe, patriotic, intelligent government. It thanks its agents and friends for their hearty support during the last year.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE remains the principal national exponent of the arguments, doctrines and aims of the Republican party. It is a strong, aggressive newspaper, uncompromisingly Republican, and faithfully devoted to the home interests of all America. The paper labors earnestly for a protective tariff, to develop the resources of the different States and secure good wages, good food, good clothing and comfortable homes for the people, and to place the highest prices to its own men of any other nation on the earth; for equal rights and an honest vote, North and South; for every practical measure in the interest of morality and temperance; and for upright, dignified, patriotic government.

Republicans Need The Tribune.

Every intelligent Republican, every old soldier; every worker and active man of whatever occupation; every good wife with a family; and every citizen who wants to identify himself with the party of progress, brilliant achievement and morality, needs THE TRIBUNE.

THE TRIBUNE will be good reading after Congress meets, when Evarts, Sherman, Logan, and other brilliant leaders begin to ask the Administration questions hard to answer.

As an agricultural paper THE TRIBUNE is unexcelled.

A Series of War Stories.

The grander features of the War for the Union have all been recorded. The minor incidents, the thrilling and romantic episodes, are a great volume, of which only a few chapters have ever been written.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE offers A PRIZE OF $250 in cash for the best story of the late War, written by a private soldier or sailor of the Union forces, or by an officer under the rank of Colonel or Navy Captain, about 5,000 words in length, relating a personal, of which he himself was a part or an eye witness. A PRIZE OF $100 will be given for the second best story. Twenty-five or more of these stories will be published during 1886. Every one accepted will be paid for whether it wins a prize or not. The best two will receive the prizes. Publication begins January 6th. The competition ends July 1st, 1886. All manuscripts carefully read.

Premiums.

Wood's Household Practice of Medicine, two handsome volumes, profusely illustrated; Webster's and Worcester's Unabridged Dictionaries; Schaff's Illustrated History of the United States; Young's Concordance of the Bible; and the Waterbury Watch. Send for sample copy, which describes the premiums.

TERMS.

The Daily, 75 cents a month; $8.50 a year. The Sunday Tribune, alone, $1.50 a year. The Semi-Weekly, $2.50 a year; $2.00 in clubs. The Weekly, $1.25 a year; or $1.00 in clubs. Give your subscription to THE TRIBUNE, or to the Club Agent, if there is one.

THE TRIBUNE, New-York.

"For forms of government let fools contest." For ordinary life it is enough to know that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup cures coughs and colds.

The police of Cambridge, Mass., received a despatch from New York on Monday, as follows: "Fraser Cunliff, a negro, who was sentenced to six years imprisonment for burglary, has confessed to the murder of Mrs. Etta G. Carlton in Watertown." Cunliff was twice arrested on suspicion, soon after the murder.

An injured knee is not a knee-sy thing to cure, unless you have St. Jacobs Oil at hand. In that case the task is a very simple one.

Groblewski, a German saloon keeper in New York, was on the 19th inst. convicted of poisoning his second wife, and it is now stated that the authorities have proof that he got rid of his first wife in the same manner.

Every day adds to the great amount of evidence as to the curative powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Letters are continually being received from all sections of the country, telling of benefits derived from this great medicine. It is unequalled for general debility, and as a blood purifier, expelling every trace of scrofula or other impurity. Now is the time to take it. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

Another Early Abolitionist Dead.

Hon. Elizur Wright, who died in Medford, Mass., Nov. 21st, was born in South Canaan, Conn., in 1804, was graduated from Yale college in 1826, and from 1829 to 1833 was a professor in the Western Reserve college at Hudson, Ohio. In 1833 he became secretary of the American Anti-Slavery society, and editor of the quarterly Anti-Slavery Magazine. In 1838 he removed to Boston, and became editor of the weekly Massachusetts Abolitionist. In 1846 he established the Chronotype, which in 1850 was merged with the Commonwealth, he remaining editor for some years after. In 1858 he became insurance commissioner of Massachusetts, which office he held until 1866; and he was recognized as one of the best-informed men on insurance subjects in New England. He published several books which had large influence in their day. In religious matters he was a firm and avowed atheist, and took part in the convention of New York free-thinkers at Albany no longer ago than last September.

A Good Year to Read the Tribune.

The prospectus of the New York Tribune is printed to-day in another column. It is worth perusal. Some large cash prizes are offered, and a series of articles are announced, which will be of especial interest to old soldiers, and, indeed, to all who are interested in the romance of the war. It is due to the Tribune to say that it deserves well of the republican party, for the sake of the good work it has performed this past year. Faithful when other papers were false or half-hearted, aggressive, making no mistakes, constantly urging organization and work as necessary to success, it also made the most telling argumentative points of the whole campaign. The Tribune has been good reading all this year. It will be better reading yet, after Congress meets, when keen John Sherman, the brilliant Evarts, and sturdy John Logan, begin to dust the coats of Cleveland's cabinet, and ask them questions hard to answer. The Tribune has the space for ample reports of proceedings in Congress; it has a special wire from Washington; and the signal ability with which the paper is edited insures accuracy, and guarantees that no good points will be missed. The Weekly Tribune is one of the best papers for farmers, and for those who want the spirit of the metropolitan press, that is printed. The Semi-Weekly contains all the features of the Weekly, and, in addition thereto, more news and more of the brilliant special articles, by noted writers, for which the Tribune is famous.

"Poems of the Law." Messrs. Sumner, Whitney & Co., of San Francisco, have recently published in their series of "Legal Recreations"—which are books comprising entertaining readings on various topics of the law, written in light and witty style—a volume called "Poems of the Law; collected by J. Greenbag Cooke, editor of the Lyrics of the Law." It contains among other good things, "General Average," by Wm. Allen Butler; "Jacob Omnium's Hoss," by Tourgée, first published nearly forty years ago; "A Roman Law in Jerusalem," by W. W. Story; and the "Conveyancer's Guide," anonymously issued, a poem by a legal gentleman of Gray's Inn, London.

The legal profession has constantly numbered bright and racy writers, who have been able to set out in an attractive form the many oddities in which the law abounds. Our neighbors of the Occident, whose law publications are in every considerable law library in the land, seem to regard it that, at times, the hardworked attorney should pass from his severe study to a season of enjoyment of the wit and humor which there is seen in such abundance in the legal profession, gathered in the published volume of these recreations. The poor fellows deserve an occasional rest of this kind. The "Poems of the Law," uniform with other numbers of the series, can be had of all booksellers at $1.50 per volume.

The December "Atlantic" contains very interesting installments of Mrs. Oliphant's serial, "A Country Gentleman," and Henry James' new story "The Princess Casamassima." Dr. Holmes concludes "The New Portfolio" which has been so very acceptable to the readers of the Atlantic with some "After-Glimpses." Horace E. Scudder completes an excellent series of papers with one on "Childhood in Modern Literature and Art." Prof. Charles F. Smith, of Vanderbilt University, contributes an important article on "Southern Colleges and Schools." John Fiske concludes his very significant essay on "The Idea of God as affected by Modern Knowledge." Edmund Noble, author of "The Russian Revolt," writes of "Life in St. Petersburg." There are poems by William H. Hayne, Edith M. Thomas, Charlotte Fiske Bates, and others.

A genius in New York is about to publish, as he writes to a leading journal, in a volume a collection of "smart things said by bright children," and invites fond parents to jot down cute and clever sayings of their offspring, and send them to the editor. If every pair of proud parents send even one regarded smart saying of their bright child, the world would not contain the books that might be published of this to-the-doting-parents juvenile smart prattle.

The Leyland line steamer Iberian, from Boston for Liverpool, is reported a total loss on the coast of Ireland; crew saved. The vessel was valued at $500,000, and the cargo at $187,000.

The steamship Guillermo has been sunk off Birkenhead, Eng., by the steamer Roman, from New York for Liverpool.

The shore herring catch off Cape Ann this fall was the largest for many years.

The water company of Gardiner, Me., celebrated the opening of its works on the 20th inst. In the evening the citizens tendered a complimentary banquet to the officers and builders of the works.

Something more than a dozen years ago, Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for coughs and pulmonary complaints. It had formerly been the prescription of an eminent physician, and was used only in his private practice. Since its introduction, it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now there is scarcely a town in New England where its beneficent effect has not been proved. Indeed, it is a proverbial remark that Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar is, undoubtedly, the best cough remedy, and at the same time the most simple and palatable. Its action is different from the great number of cough medicines in use, inasmuch as it cures a cough by assisting expectoration, and aiding the lungs and throat to throw off phlegm and mucus. It almost instantly soothes the inflamed parts, and enables the respiratory organs to resist the influences and encroachments of this changeable and severe climate. It is put up in three sizes, the trial size being only twenty-five cents per bottle, which places it within the reach of everyone.—Boston Courier, Feb. 8th, 1885.

BOSTON & MAINE LOCOMOTIVES.

The following is a list of the names of the locomotives on the western division of the Boston & Maine railroad, in the order of their numbers:

Dragon, Portland, Reading, Medford, Norris, Swamscott, Antelope, Memecho, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine, Lawrence, Wonanlanceet, Boston, Ballardvale, Essex, Bay State, Granite State, Hinckley, O. W. Bayley, Rockingham, United States, Thomas West, Merrimac, Atlantic, Pacific, Haverhill, Mystic, Newburyport, Camilla, Andover, Durham, Hercules, Exeter, Strafford, Alton Bay, Hobart Clark, James Hayward, Shawmut, Lion, Gen. Grant, Gen. Sherman, Middlesex, Dover, Gen. Sheridan, N. G. Paul, Achilles, Suffolk, Machigonne, North Star, Saxon, Titan, Mercury, Sachem, Forest City, Francis Coggswell, Minerva, Wm. Merritt, Columbia, Pepperell, Old Orchard, Cumberland, Transport, Pilot, Samoset, Decator, Comet, Casco, Escort, J. C. Ayer, South Berwick, Lowell, Saco, S. A. Walker, Malden, Melrose, Wakefield, Eagle, Bradford, Danvers, Biddeford, Everett, Somerville, Arlington, Camp Ellis, Bay View, Newton, Kingston, Atkinson, Plaistow, Kennebunk, Madoury, Wilmington, Newmarket.

The Eastern railroad for some years did not name its engines, simply designating them by numbers; but since its lease to the Boston & Maine the locomotives have been named, and the following is a list of those running on the eastern division, so far as named and numbered:

Maverick, 101; Ipswich, 104; Union, 107; Springfield, 108; Scarboro, 110; Montrose, 111; Arundel, 112; Agawam, 121; Kearsarge, 124; City of Lynn, 125; Beverly, 126; Conway, 127; Bell Rock, 132; Boxford, 134; Seabrook, 135; John Howe, 136; Peabody, 139; Chelsea, 140; Great Falls, 141; Amesbury, 142; Clifton, 145; Marblehead, 147; Hampton, 148; Madison, 151; Salem, 154; Devereaux, 155; Portsmouth, 156; Champion, 161; Rochester, 162; Ossipee, 166; Newington, 167; Rye Beach, 170; George Hood, 172; John Thompson, 175; Salisbury, 177; Col. Coleman, 180; Manchester, 188, Laconia, 184; Agamenticus, 185; Atalanta, 186; Wells, 188; Revere, 189; Piscataqua, 190; Francis Chase, 195; Greenland, 196; The Wentworth, 201; Montserrat, 202; Eliot, 203; Kittery, 204; Magnolia, 206; Wamesit, 209; W. P. Fessenden, 213.

The Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee company will pay a semi-annual dividend of three per cent Dec. 15th.

The tide on Sunday was the highest for a considerable time, some of the wharves having been submerged.

The wooden steps to the joiner's shop entrance of the north mill were removed on Sunday night by some person or persons unknown, and probably thrown overboard or carried off for firewood.

One of the finest specimens of portrait painting ever exhibited in this city can be seen at Montgomery's music and art store—a portrait of Rev. W. A. McGinley, by Tenney.

The sea was very heavy on Sunday, and the clanging of the Kitts' rock bell-buoy was distinctly heard in this city, and by the crews of the brick schooners lying at Portsmouth bridge.

City Clerk Goodrich started on Monday morning for New York, on his week's vacation. City Messenger Gardner will attend to the duties of the clerk's office during his absence.

The lumber for the frame of E. S. Fay's tenement house on Penhallow street arrived last week, and a large gang of carpenters were at work framing it on Monday.

Seven worn-out horses were shot last week by the agent of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, to mercifully end their sufferings.

The tidegates of the north pond having for some time been lashed open, allowing free egress as well as ingress to the water, the outward rush has gradually undermined the mud-sills, and on Sunday night they were carried away. On Sunday the tide was very high, and on Monday morning the bed of the pond was more nearly bare than it had ever been seen, probably, by any one now living, the removal of the mud-sills having allowed the water to flow out a foot or more lower than when they were in position. A free sweep of the tide has been advocated as a sure cure for the north pond nuisance; this sure cure will now have a thorough testing, as the flow of the tide either way cannot be stopped without repairing the gateway.

Mr. Conn will show at No. 68 State street, to-day and to-morrow, a lot of stall-fed Vermont turkeys, which he considers "the best lot of birds that has been offered in this market for years, if ever." If they are any better than the lot he offered last year they are fine birds indeed.

Flocks of wild geese passing over the city on their way south, Sunday and Monday, indicate that ere long we are to have some weather.

Rev. Alfred Gooding preached a Thanksgiving sermon on Sunday morning.

Capt. Charles Frisbee of Kittery Point is putting in the foundations for a house at the point, for a residence for himself.

Mr. Fremont Varrell of York harbor on Monday assumed the postmastership of York, the office having been removed from the village to the harbor to accommodate Mr. Varrell. Putnam Bros., who were the contractors for carrying the mail between Portsmouth and York, have had their compensation increased $50 per annum on account of the change of route.

Mr. George Bragdon of York has bought the old Methodist parsonage in that town, the new parsonage of the society being nearly completed.

Mr. Charles Grace of Kittery Point, who was so badly injured by being thrown from his team at the Market street railroad crossing in this city some weeks ago, has so far recovered as to be able to attend to his usual business.

Mr. Stephen L. Grant, hotel proprietor of Limerick, has sold his property at York Corner to Samuel W. Junkins, Esq.

Four young men of Kittery Foreside, old enough to know better, on Sunday evening made a raid on gates and fences at Kittery Point, unhanging the former and throwing down the latter, and finished their brilliant exploits by stealing the keys of the Congregational church from the door while the congregation was worshipping inside. They were seen, and as two of them were recognized it is quite likely their fun may not turn out to be so funny as they thought.

The barque Hannah W. Dudley, of Boston, commanded by Capt. D. W. Dudley of Kennebunk, has been run ashore on the coast of South America. She was a vessel of 1128 tons, built at Kennebunk in 1877, and was on the passage from New York to Shanghai, China. Capt. Dudley was accompanied by his wife and two children. No particulars have been received concerning the disaster, but it is presumed that no lives were lost, as in case there had been it is probable that word would have been sent at the same time with news of the stranding.

Now for a Good Thanksgiving

TURKEY.

I have 1000 Turkeys, being stall fed for the last four weeks in Vermont, and have given orders to have none killed for Thanksgiving that will not weigh 8 lbs. and upwards.

☞ I fancy they are the best lot of Birds that has been offered in this market for years, if ever.

The lighter weights to be kept for Christmas.

NO. 68 STATE STREET,

WM. CONN.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 16th, 1885.

NOTICE.

Having taken the store lately occupied by my deceased brother, J. M. Carr, and having within the past fifteen days stocked up with first-class goods, I now offer to my brother's patrons and all others requiring reliable goods, as good a stock, for quality and style, as can be found in the city or in the state, and at the very lowest cash prices. All are invited to call and examine the goods whether they wish to purchase or not. J. C. CARR.

The schooner Mary Willey, Williams master, arrived on Saturday from Bangor with 120,000 feet of lumber to John H. Broughton. She made an unusually long trip this time, for her, owing to the continuous unfavorable weather.

Commander A. S. Crowninshield and Naval Constructor Frank L. Fernald, of the advisory board, arrived at this navy yard on Thursday of last week, and left Friday. They are on a tour of the several yards where work has been done for the new cruisers, inspecting the work as far as it is completed.

CONSTIPATION!

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by Constipation, and there is no other ill flesh is heir to more apt to be neglected, from the fact material inconvenience may not be immediately felt from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing piles, fistula, headache, impure blood and many other serious affections. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will immediately relieve, and one bottle positively cure or relieve any case of Constipation.

"Was troubled for a year with torpid liver and indigestion, and after trying everything imaginable used BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. The first bottle revived me and the second cured me entirely."—J. S. Williamson, Rochester, N. Y.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of Palma Sola, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1-4 $100 to $150 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (owners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $2.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as lots are LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

Send for pamphlet. Address

ST. NICHOLAS.

An illustrated monthly periodical for boys and girls, appearing on the 26th of each month. Edited by Mary Mapes Dodge. Price, 25 cents a number, or $3 a year, in advance. Booksellers, newsdealers, postmasters and the publishers take subscriptions, which should begin with the November number, the first of the volume.

ST. NICHOLAS aims both to satisfy and to develop the tastes of its constituency; and its record for the past twelve years, during which it has always stood, as it stands to-day, at the head of periodicals for boys and girls, is a sufficient warrant for its excellence during the coming season. The editors announce the following among the LEADING FEATURES FOR 1885-86.

A Serial Story by Frances Hodgson Burnett. The first long story she has written for children.

A Christmas Story by W. D. Howells. With humorous pictures by his little daughter.

"George Washington," by Horace E. Scudder. A novel and attractive Historical Serial.

Short Stories for Girls by Louisa M. Alcott. The first—"The Candy Country"—in November.

Preparing to Encounter Disease.

The prevalence of malarial disorders being dependent upon vitiated conditions of atmosphere and water in certain regions, of course, inevitable. The grand question, therefore, presents itself to every resident of a fever stricken locality is, "What means shall I adopt to escape the dreaded scourge?" For a third of a century Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been the embodied answer to this question. In thickly populated, and sparsely settled districts alike, in town and in country, it has afforded constant protection against malarial infection to those who have used it. It eradicates and prevents, with equal certainty, fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, and nullifies also the pernicious after effects of using persistently the hurtful alkaloid sulphate of quinine. It also remedies, with thoroughness, dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility and rheumatism.

Two prominent citizens of Lancaster county, Pa., David Bricker, a retired merchant of Warrick, and John S. Smith, ex-postmaster at Kinzers, committed suicide on Wednesday night, the 18th inst.

Charles A. Roberts, of East Wilson, N. Y., had thirteen scrofulous ulcers on his face and neck. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured them.

A little four-years-old girl named Gracie Hoytt died a few days ago at Hartford, Conn., from swallowing a piece of "Black Jack" chewing gum.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents.

Sadie Gilmore, a girl five years old, was put aboard a train at Hartford, Conn., Nov. 19th, for Worcester, but she failed to arrive. It is thought she was abducted.

The town of Mayfield, Me., has not paid a state tax for twenty years, and has not drawn any school money for a long time. There are five or six plantations in Maine in about as bad a fix as Mayfield, and when the legislature meets again an endeavor will be made to put them back among the wild lands. During the present fiscal year executions have been served on the town of Casco for its tax of 1883, and the town of Aurora for its tax of 1881. Executions will be served at once on several other towns.

Tired and Languid Women.

How many women there are of whom these words are true: "They feel languid and tired, hardly able to bear their weight on their feet, the bloom all gone from their cheeks, irritable and cross without meaning to be, nerves all upset, worried with the children, fretted over little things, a burden to themselves, and yet with no acute disease." What a pity it is! But a few bottles of Parker's Tonic will drive all this away, and relieve the troubles peculiar to their sex.

At Washington, D. C., Nov. 20th, Louis Sommerfield, a Pole, killed his wife and Gothieb Esinbaum in the latter's saloon, through jealousy.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 18th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crossways, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

Hon. George F. Mosher, formerly editor of the Morning Star, but for four years past a consul in Germany, arrived home in Dover on Nov. 21st.

F. B. Culver, of Westfield, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., was afflicted with scrofulous eruptions over the back and thigh, accompanied with nausea and neuralgic pains in the head, so severe that on one occasion he fell unconscious in the street. Physicians failing to do him good, he commenced using Brandreth's Pills—five every night for a week, then rested three days, and took five every night for another week, then two every night for thirty days. To his delight, at the end of that time, the eruptions had disappeared and all pain had gone. He continues to take one pill occasionally as a precaution.

Policeman George W. Goodwin of Manchester, and Corporation Watchman E. G. Woodman, have been held in $10,000 each for assault on William and James Moss, whom they arrested and who in turn are complainants.

TWO RIVAL CITIES.

In the long and at times bitter rivalry between Connecticut's two biggest cities—Hartford and New Haven—honors now seem to be pretty equally divided. Hartford has secured the State Capital, one of the most beautiful in the country, situated in a lovely park, but New Haven has gone ahead in population. In the political rivalry between the two, also New Haven by her Democratic majority, has succeeded in putting the trim little State on the list of those that voted for President Cleveland. Hartford, however, is just now proud of having had her many charms set forth at length, with plenty of illustrations, in the pages of Harpers' Magazine, and so the struggle goes on. Brains will succeed in putting one or the other city ahead, and just here it may be said that New Haven has an exceptionally brainy bar. But, then, Hartford has more literary people—Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. Among the able lawyers of New Haven is Edward A. Anketell, the assistant clerk of the Superior Court, who office is No. 10 in the Court House. Mr. Anketell is well known to the legal profession throughout Connecticut and has also the reputation of being a favored writer for the press. As such this little story, coming from him under date of September 24, 1885, possesses no slight interest:

"Day before yesterday, and for a day or two prior thereto, I suffered great pain in my right arm, which I felt sure was rheumatic. Being determined to do something to relieve the pain if possible I sent out and got a bottle of Athlophoros, and took three doses during the day. Yesterday morning the pain was nearly gone and one more dose completed the cure, so that today my arm is as well as ever."

Mr. Anketell was wise in taking such prompt measures to check the pain. Doubtless if Mr. Morris Hobbs, of Hampton, N. H., had known of the existence of Athlophoros, the rheumatism from which he suffered would have been cured with equal speed long ago. Mr. Hobbs thus tells the story of his cure:

"I had the rheumatism nine months before I heard of your Athlophoros. I was prostrate all that time and could do nothing. I had several doctors, but they did no good. I tried all the medicine I could hear of with no better results. At last I saw Athlophoros advertised and sent for some. On the day it arrived I took three doses in the afternoon before I went to bed, and that night I slept as well as I did when a boy. It seemed to kill the pain at once, and I never have been troubled since. My joints were badly swollen at the time, but as soon as the pain stopped the swelling began to go down very gradually. I am satisfied that if I had taken Athlophoros when I was first troubled with the disease it would have saved me $500 in expenses, time and pain.

"I have recommended it to several others in this place with equally good results. One case was that of a boy 16 years old, who was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that his father had to carry him up stairs to bed for two weeks. His mother came to me to inquire about Athlophoros. I advised her to get it at once by all means and she did. In two days after taking the medicine the boy was out at play with other boys, being entirely cured and has been well ever since.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

OLD HICKORY'S WIFE.

A Story of the Early Life of Rachel Donaldson and Her Marriage to Andrew Jackson.

A half-score of miles below Accomac Court-House, on the bend of an ill-kept country road as it emerges from a forest of pines, is one of the landmarks of the country—a battered, storm-beaten mill. The dwelling-house connected with this relic long since disappeared. More than a hundred years ago, writes a correspondent of the Philadelphia Record, its roof protected a little black eyed girl, the story of whose romantic career makes one of the most interesting chapters of American history. This girl, born within the shadow of this old mill, became in a most curious manner the wife of one of the most conspicuous and influential public men of this century. She died upon the threshold of the white house, the mistress of which had she lived a few months longer she would have become. One of the most famous duels that ever occurred in this country was fought to the death for a breath upon her honor. Altogether she became a very famous woman, and the fact that she loved to smoke a clay pipe with the great man who became her husband has not lessened the regard in which posterity will ever hold her.

Rachel Donaldson was born eleven years before the Declaration of Independence, and in the very year when Andrew Jackson first saw the light in a North Carolina wilderness. She passed her girlhood days within sound of the murmuring pines about the old Accomac mill, and there was living twenty years ago near the Atlantic coast an old colored woman who was the daughter of a nurse of the little black-eyed, swarthy-complexioned child who died at the Hermitage from the effects of a transport of joy at hearing the news of the election of her husband as president of the United States.

There is an eastern shore story that the great-grandmother of Rachel Donaldson was an Indian girl, who married a Donaldson two centuries or more ago. This would account for her very black hair and exceedingly dark complexion, which led a visitor to "The Hermitage" in 1828, when she was Mrs. Andrew Jackson, and about to become mistress of the white house, to hint in letters, since become historical, that the mingling of blood had been of another and less distinguished race. How long the Donaldson family lived in Accomac is uncertain, but Rachel was at least 15 before they crossed the bay and went to seek a home in the southwest. She was at that time fine-looking, dashing, and vivacious, although in her old age Mrs. Andrew Jackson was set down by the women as possessing a bad figure and no beauty to speak of. She met Capt. Lewis Robards, a Kentucky planter, a few years after his mother moved west, and married him. Rouards was a jealous fellow, who treated her with a harshness very near akin to brutality.

Robards' bad temper and jealousy had driven the young wife from his home, and she was living with her mother, who had moved out to Tennessee, when Andrew Jackson, Esq., a priceless backwoods lawyer, came there to board. There he met his first and only defeat. He fell before the fire of the dark eyes of Rachel Robards. Whether Jackson made love then and there to the wife of another man afterward became the subject of angry political controversy; but, however this may have been, the two fell in love with each other, and, what is more interesting, remained in love with each other to the end of their lives. Jackson married Mrs. Robards while she was still the wife of the Kentucky captain, and "the most chaste of women and one of the few irreproachable public men of his day are recorded adulterers, and, what is more remarkable, the record is correct." Rachel Robards ran away from her husband and lived with Jackson as his wife for two years before she was divorced. This is the verdict of history; but history has long since vindicated the reputation of the quearly-mated couple. Jackson believed, and had every reason to believe that Mrs. Robards had been divorced, and both were deceived by circumstances. When the mistake was finally discovered by the publication of the decree of divorce two years after it was supposed to have been granted, a second marriage ceremony was quietly performed at Natchez. Thus the eastern shore beauty passes into the pages of history. Her good looks, however, were not so constant as her good heart. Mrs. Jackson, truth to tell, soon grew stout and dumpy and homely, but she never lost her charm for Old Hickory, who adored her while living and fairly worshiped her after her death. One can scarcely suppress a smile at the figure this once beautiful and always good woman cut in the gilded drawing-room of a leader of society in New Orleans just after "Maj." Gen. Jackson had won his immortal victory and driven back the most magnificent expedition ever sent against this country. "Society" had tendered the general a grand reception. New Orleans was at that time socially the most elegant city in America, and the ladies were upon that occasion decked out in the most splendid of costumes, many of them just from Paris. Presently entered the hero of the hour, Jackson—tall, commanding, as graceful and dignified as a French ambassador; for no man of his time had a grander air than Old Hickory. Upon his arm was Mrs. Jackson, fresh from the backwoods of Tennessee—short, fat, with no waist, fat, chubby hands, and a red, fat, good-natured, but by no means refined face. And yet Andrew Jackson thought that she was the finest woman in that assemblage. One beauty, indeed, this

"I Don't Want Relief, But Cure," is the exclamation of thousands suffering from catarrh. To all such we say: Catarrh can be cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It has been done in thousands of cases; why not in yours? Your danger is in delay. Enclose a stamp to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for pamphlet on this disease.

At Amsterdam, N. Y., Nov. 21st, John Hall frightfully burned his wife with a red hot poker. Her recovery is doubtful.

A lady writes: "Your Hop Porous Plaster does the work every time; I do not have the awful pain in the side now." Your experience will be the same. Sold everywhere, 25c.

—Young lady—"We had a delightful time at Music hall last evening, Mr. Dumley. It was a Meyerbeer night, you know. Are you fond of Meyerbeer?" Mr. Dumley (hesitatingly)—"Ye-es, but I think I would just as soon have Milwaukee."

SKIN TORTURES — AND — BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions, Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Sores, and every species of Itching Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with skin and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE, EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases he had come under his care. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I have not another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured. The War in Europe.

As far as can be judged from the conflicting telegrams, the situation at the seat of war is as follows: Prince Alexander has held at bay the Servian divisions advancing from Shumadin, and prevented their joining the Drina and Danube divisions; and has driven the latter back from Drageman. The Morava and Shumadin divisions, under King Milan, still hold their positions. The Porte has not summoned the Servians to evacuate Bulgaria. A telegram from Sofia says the Servians have bombarded Widdin, and that the city is on fire.

The "Atlantic Monthly" for 1886 promises to be of special interest. It will have serial stories by Charles Egbert Craddock, whom Atlantic readers know so well by "The Prophet of the Great Smoky Mountains;" Henry James, whose story, "The Princess Casamassima," will continue until August; and William H. Bishop. No more appetizing announcement could be made than that James Russell Lowell will write, both in prose and poetry, for the Atlantic for the coming year. John Fiske, who has made a special study of the period from the close of the American revolution to the adoption of the constitution of the United States, will contribute six or more papers shedding much and welcome light on that period of our history. Mr. Hamerton, the eminent English writer, promises a series of papers comparing the English and French in their characters, customs, and opinions; and Mr. Aldrich, who has written some of the best short stories in American literature, will furnish some more for next year's Atlantic. AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 24th.

A large delegation from Pepperell lodge of Good Templars at Kittery Point took advantage of the bright moonlight and mild weather of Friday evening last, and visited Morrill lodge at North Kittery, coming up in Grace's barge and private teams; the occasion was a pleasant one to all, and the visitors returned to their homes in the best of spirits.

We notice by our Washington correspondence that Postmaster General Vilas has ordered the postoffice at York village changed to York harbor. This is done to accommodate the postmaster, as it certainly does not accommodate one-fourth part of the people the former office did. Now if it is policy to change the York office to accommodate the postmaster to the detriment of the people, why is it not policy to change the Kittery Depot office to North Kittery to accommodate nine-tenths of the people? And we're going to have it.

Frank C. Eaton attended the fourth quarterly session of York District lodge, I. O. G. T., held with Welcome lodge at Goodwin's Mills on the 19th inst., as a delegate from this town. There was a large attendance; nearly every lodge in York district was represented. The next session will be held with Saco lodge at Saco, in February next.

Mr. Dennis Manson has so far improved since his severe fall as to be able to be about again, much to the gratification of his many friends.

Mr. Geo. W. Muchmore is making extensive improvements on and about his house.

Mr. Oliver Hatch has a cellar about completed, and will commence at once to build a house for himself opposite the Fernald place in North Kittery.

SUE ROSA.

HEREDITARY SCROFULA.

ARE you aware that in your blood the taint of scrofula has a permanent place? This is true of every one. It is liable at any time, on the slightest provocation, to develop itself in some insidious disease. Consumption and many other diseases are outgrowths of this impurity of the blood. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA has a wonderful power over all scrofulous troubles, and the remarkable testimonials we have received unmistakably prove.

"MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen— * * * My youngest son has always been troubled with Scrofulous Humor; sores in his head discharging from his ears, and a running sore on the back of his ear for two years; his eyelids would fester and ulcerate, discharging so that I was obliged to wash them open every morning, his eyelashes nearly all coming out; he was exceedingly dainty, most of the time eating but two slight meals a day. We were unable to find anything that had the least effect upon him till last spring, 1876, we gave him two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. His appetite improved at once. * * The back of his ear healed up without a scar, and not a sore in his head since. Sincerely yours,
MRS. N. C. SANBORN,
No. 105 Merrimack St., Lowell, Mass.

"We do not as a rule allow ourselves to use our editorial columns to speak of any remedy we advertise, but we feel warranted in saying a word for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sarsaparilla has been known as a remedial agent for centuries and is recognized by all schools of practice as a valuable blood purifier. It is put up in forms of almost definite variety, but Messrs. Hood & Co., (Lowell, Mass.) who are thoroughly reliable pharmacists, have hit upon a preparation of unusual value. Certainly they have vouchers of cures which we know to be most extraordinary."—Extract from Lowell Weekly Journal.

THIS PAPER may be found on file at Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce St.), where advertising contracts may be made for it IN NEW YORK.

THE CENTURY for 1885-6.

The remarkable interest in the War Papers and in the many timely articles and the strong serial features published recently in THE CENTURY has given that magazine an regular circulation of

MORE THAN 200,000 COPIES MONTHLY.

Among the features for the coming volume, which begins with the November number, are:

THE WAR PAPERS BY GEN. GRANT AND OTHERS.

These will be continued (most of them illustrated) until the chief events of the Civil War have been described by leading participants on both sides. General Grant's papers include descriptions of the battles of Chattanooga and the Wilderness. General McClellan will write of Antietam, General D. C. Buell of Shiloh, Generals Pope, Longstreet and others of the Second Bull Run, etc., etc. Naval combats, including the fight between the Kearsarge and the Alabama, by officers of both ships, will be described.

The "Recollections of a Private" and special war papers of an anecdotal or humorous character will be features of the year.

SERIAL STORIES BY W. D. HOWELLS, MARY HALLOCK FOOTE, AND GEORGE W. CABLE

Mr. Howells's serial will be in lighter vein than "The Rise of Silas Lapham." Mrs. Foote's is a story of mining life and Mr. Cable's a novelette of the Acadians of Louisiana. Mr. Cable will also contribute a series of papers on Slave songs and dances, including negro serpent worship, etc.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Include "A Tricycle Pilgrimage to Rome," illustrated by Pennell; Historical Papers by Edward Eggleston, and others; Papers on Peru, by S. G. W. Benjamin, late U. S. minister, with numerous illustrations; Astronomical Articles, practical and popular, on "Celestial Astronomy"; Papers on Christian Unity by representatives of various religious denominations; Papers on Manual Education, by various experts, etc., etc.

SHORT STORIES

By Frank R. Stockton, Mrs. Helen Jackson (H. H.), Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote, Joel Chandler Harris, H. H. Boyesen, T. A. Janvier, Julian Hawthorne, Richard M. Johnson and others; and poems by leading poets. The Departments,—"Open Letters," "Bric-a-Brac," etc., will be fully sustained.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS.

Will be kept up to the standard which has made THE CENTURY engravings famous the world over.

PRICES. A SPECIAL OFFER.

Regular subscription price, $4.00 a year. To enable new readers to get all the War Papers, with contributions from Generals Grant, Beauregard, McClellan, J. E. Johnston, Lew Wallace, Admiral Porter and others, we will send the 12 back numbers, November, 1884, to October, 1885, with a year's subscription, beginning with November, 1885, for $6.00 for the whole. A subscription, with the 12 numbers bound in two handsome volumes, $7.50 for the whole. Back numbers only supplied at these prices with subscriptions.

A free specimen copy (back number) will be sent on request. Mention this paper.

All dealers and postmasters take subscriptions and supply numbers according to our special offer, or remittance may be made directly to

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Northeasterly winds, shifting to northerly, local snows, followed by colder, clearing weather.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 30 degrees above zero.

Raining.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooneer Grace K. Green, which left this port on Monday, the 21st inst., for Philadelphia, put in at Boston the same day for a harbor. The Sharon, Donnell master, from Cape Neddick, which arrived in Portsmouth lower harbor on the 21st, and remained there until the morning of the 23d, also made the run to Boston that day.

The steam yacht Velox, bound from Bath to Boston, remained in this harbor over the blow of the 24th; as did also the brick schooners Gurnet, Estella and Hattie Lewis, which were at Portsmouth bridge on the 22d, loaded and "waiting for a slant."

The schooner Flying Eagle, at Union wharf, is being fitted out for winter fishing under command of Capt. Wm. Randall.

The steamer Mystic was inspected in hull and boiler on Tuesday by the United States inspectors for this district, and everything found satisfactory. The boiler was tested with 150 lbs. hydraulic pressure.

A dividend of eleven per cent on the capital stock of the schooner J. Chester Wood, one of the brick fleet running between this port and Boston, was paid this week at the Dover national bank.

Rev. Dr. Alden preached a Thanksgiving sermon on Sunday evening.

Mr. Conn did a rushing business in turkeys on Tuesday, but has a large lot of fine birds still on hand for to-day's trade.

L. E. Staples has had a cash railway put in his store on Market street.

The wild geese were seen in large numbers on Tuesday, flying southwestward over the city.

The river on the 24th was higher than for many months previous, the strong northeaster backing up the tide, which would have been a very high one without its aid, so that the low-built wharves were covered to a considerable depth, and the marginal road around the south pond was out of sight throughout nearly its entire length from Richards avenue to Edward street.

Rev. John A. Goss, of Haverhill, Mass., was in this city on Tuesday, the 24th inst., to attend the funeral of Mr. Sewell W. Webber, formerly of this city but late of Chelsea, Mass., whose remains were brought to this city for interment that day, and buried from the Court street Christian church.

There will be preaching in the Methodist church Thanksgiving day, at the usual hour.

The suit Frank Jones against the London & Provincial Insurance Co., which was in order for trial last month in the United States circuit court, has been disposed of, the parties agreeing to a judgment for five thousand dollars without costs. The amount of the judgment has been paid. This is the last of the unpaid insurances upon the Rockingham fire in September, 1884.

The United States circuit court will resume its session before Judge Clark at Concord on Tuesday, Dec. 1st, at which time the grand and petit jurors have been notified by the clerk to appear.

Mr. Reuben French died in Newmarket on Thursday of last week, from the effects of an accident on the night of the 14th inst., when he arose from bed to go out of doors, but mistook the door leading to the cellar for the outside door, and fell the entire length of the stairs, his body being so tightly wedged in another doorway at the foot of the stairs as to require some of the woodwork being removed before he could be extricated. He was insensible for some time, and did not fully recover his reason up to the time of his death. He was ninety-three years of age, and was in feeble health before the accident.

About the only way the clergy can get their congregations to listen to a Thanksgiving sermon nowadays is to catch them when they are in church on the Sunday before the day named by the governor as Thanksgiving day, experience having shown that the mass of the people, even of such as ordinarily attend divine service on the Sabbath, will not attend church on a week day to listen to either a Thanksgiving or Fast day discourse.

Capt. Fernald, of the gondola Alice, while walking along the edge of J. Aibert Walker's new wharf about seven o'clock Monday evening made a misstep in the darkness, and went plump into the water ten or fifteen feet below, making a large hole therein. His only harm was a wetting.

Fire caught on Sunday morning last from a defective chimney in the grocery store of Lewis B. Holt of Concord, and though it was quickly extinguished, the stock was damaged to the estimated amount of $1000 by smoke and water. The loss was fully covered by insurance in the New Hampshire Co. of Manchester and the Granite State Co. of this city, the policy in the latter-named company having been taken out by Mr. Holt on Saturday. This is the first fire loss for the Granite State company.

The U. S. S. Vandalia was hauled under the sheers at the navy yard on Tuesday, to receive her battery and stores.

The hog cholera, or what is alleged to have been that disease, has prevailed to some extent in Eliot and Kittery recently, a number of hogs having died in each of the towns named.

Mr. Horace E. Mitchell, who was landlord of the York Harbor (formerly the Goodwin) house at York harbor last summer, has recently removed to Kittery Point for the winter.

There is to be a large quantity of firewood cut at York and Cape Neddick the coming winter, for the brickyards and the Boston market.

Several cases of scarlet fever are reported to exist at Kittery Point.

One of the handsomest pieces of work of the kind we ever saw is the plan of the newly-laid-out "Evanston" at Talpey's point, York, drawn by Mr. T. Dame of Eliot, the civil engineer who made the survey; it is as clear and distinct as a good lithograph. The plan shows about seventy-five cottage lots, besides a large space on the extreme point reserved for the "Hotel Evans;" and a number of roads, all of which excepting two short pieces are already built, and ready for driving over. The property in its present shape is considered so eligible that a speculator has offered to pay the actual cost of the land to the present proprietors, with all the improvements added, for his pick of twenty-five lots, but his offer has been declined.

Oliver Dixon of Eliot last week returned from the upper part of New Hampshire with a hundred fat turkeys for the Thanksgiving market.

Parties from Chicago who have passed summers at York beach, have been making enquiries as to the price of land in the vicinity of Roaring rock, and other matters, having in view the erection of a large hotel at that point. It is said the prospect for the building trade in York the coming season is brighter than for several years past.

Mr. Eugene Foote, porter at the Saco house in Saco, met with quite a painful accident recently. He was lighting the hotel lamps in the evening, when he fell from the step-ladder through the glass of the upper part of a door, and cut his right hand severely in seven or eight places, so that a surgeon was required to dress the wounds.

—A difficult mission—submission.

—A south Georgian statesman went to Charleston and stopped at a hotel. A waiter brought out some shrimps, which the Georgian stowed away as best he could. In a moment the waiter reappeared with a stand of celery. "No," said the Georgian, shaking his head solemnly, "I have tried your bugs, and I don't like them, and you can bet yer life I don't want none of your grass."

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of game! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. It is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is speeding its way to Palma Sola and soon the tourist will arrive at the first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

Palma Sola possesses the largest steam mill in Southern Florida, with sawmill, fire tare manufactory, packing house, warehouses, churches, school house, postoffice, stores, beautiful residences, and a large wharf at which ocean steamers arrive daily from Tampa.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based on it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1 Ox100 ft $45 to $2 00 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY 3 LIMITED number WATCHES of our best, jewelling lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $2.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must be interrogated at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

Send for pamphlet. Address

—BOSTON JOURNAL.

ST. NICHOLAS.

An illustrated monthly periodical for boys and girls, appearing on the 25th of each month. Edited by Mary Mapes Dodge. Price, 35 cents a number, or $3 a year, in advance. Booksellers, newsdealers, postmasters and the publishers take subscriptions, which should begin with the November number, the first of the volume.

ST. NICHOLAS aims both to satisfy and to develop the tastes of its constituency, and its record for the past twelve years, during which it has always stood, as it stands to-day, at the head of periodicals for boys and girls, is a sufficient warrant for its excellence during the coming season. The editors announce the following as among the LEADING FEATURES FOR 1885-86.

A Serial Story by Frances Hodgson Burnett. The first long story she has written for children.

A Christmas Story by W. D. Howells. With humorous pictures by his little daughter.

"George Washington," by Horace E. Scudder. A novel and attractive Historical Serial.

Short Stories for Girls by Louisa M. Alcott. The first—"The Candy Country"—in November.

New "Bits of Talk for Young Folks," by "H. H." This series forms a gracious and fitting memorial of a child-loving and child-helping soul.

Papers on the Great English Schools, Rugby and others. Illustrations by Joseph Pennell.

A Sea-coast Serial Story, by J. T. Trowbridge, will be life-like, vigorous, and useful.

"Jamie's Boarding House," a serial by James Otis. Dealing with news-boy life and enterprise.

Frank R. Stockton will contribute several of his humorous and fanciful stories.

"Drill," By John Preston True. A capital school-story for boys.

The Boyhood of Shakespeare, by Rose Kingsley. With illustrations by Alfred Parsons.

Short Stories by scores of prominent writers, including Susan Coolidge, H. H. Boyesen, Noah Brooks, T. A. Janvier, Washington Gladden, Rossiter Johnson, Joaquin Miller, Sophie May, Hezekiah Butterworth, W. O. Stoddard, Harriet Prescott Spofford, and many others.

Entertaining Sketches by Alice W. Rollins, Charles G. Leland, Henry Eckford, Lieutenant Schwatka, Edward Eggleston, and others.

Poems, shorter contributions, and departments will complete what the Boston Journal calls "the best magazine for children in the world."

homely wife of Jackson retained. She still had the black eyes of Rachel Donaldson, but the dark swarthy skin also remained, and added nothing to her personal appearance.

But if Rachel Donaldson had lost her vanity and sometimes smoked a clay pipe with the general, she was none the less a good and wise woman, and exercised a salutary influence upon the hot-headed and sometimes pig-headed man who never found an obstacle in his path which he did not remove. Mrs. Jackson died in 1828, just as her husband was about to start from the Hermitage for Washington, to be sworn in as president of the United States. The concluding sentences upon her tomb, written by Jackson himself, are these: "It being so gentle and so virtuous, slander might wound, but could not dishonor. Core, when he tore her from the arms of her husband, could but transport her to the bosom of her God."

Slander had indeed often wounded her, for the circumstances of her marriage were made use of in the many political contests in which Jackson was involved. Jackson resented this bitterly, and Charles Dickinson would not have been the only victim of his duelling pistol could the personal responsibility have been fixed. What might have been, or rather what might not have been, had this woman lived a few years longer? Did not Martin Van Buren win the everlasting friendship of Jackson and the succession to the presidency by adhering to the cause of Mrs. Eaton? Had Mrs. Jackson lived there would in all human probability have been no Eaton issue, Martin Van Buren would not have been president, and the course of politics for many years might have been changed. All this by a few more years of life to the girl baby who was born one morning in June in the old mill on the eastern shore of Virginia.

A neighbor of ours, Mrs. A. R. Fenton, who was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that she could not raise her arms to the top of her head or shut her hands, after using five bottles of Athlophoros is nearly free from the trouble. Hitchcock & Burbank, Pittsford, Vt.

Tired and Languid Women.

How many women there are of whom these words are true: "They feel languid and tired, hardly able to bear their weight on their feet, the bloom all gone from their cheeks, irritable and cross without meaning to be, nerves all upset, worried with the children, fretted over little things, a burden to themselves, and yet with no acute disease." What a pity it is. But a few bottles of Parker's Tonic will drive all this away, and relieve the troubles peculiar to their sex.

The reported confession of Conliff that he killed Mrs. Carleton of Watertown, Mass., was a canard.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

THE Voting Register of Certificate Holders is now making up at the Office of the Trustees, No. 10 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass. Holders of Certificates are requested to have their names placed on the Register, as without registration they cannot vote.

Any holder may register on presenting at said office to MR. JOSHUA CRANE a written statement of his name, address, and the denomination and number of each certificate held by him, or, if required by the Trustees on producing the Certificates held by him or a written order from the last registered holder.

The Voting Register will close at the close of business on the Thirtieth DAY of November, between which time and the Annual Meeting, on the Second Wednesday of December, no registration will be made. By Order of the Directors.

The list of the members of the national house of representatives is completed. The house consists of 183 democrats, 143 republicans and one greenback-democrat. Of the democrats, 110 were in the last Congress, and of the republicans eighty-four. The democratic majority will be about one-half as large as that of the last Congress.

F. B. Culver, of Westfield, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., was afflicted with scrofulous eruptions over the back and thigh, accompanied with nausea and neuralgic pains in the head, so severe that on one occasion he fell unconscious in the street. Physicians failing to do him good, he commenced using Brandreth's Pills—five every night for a week, then rested three days, and took five every night for another week, then two every night for thirty days. To his delight, at the end of that time, the eruptions had disappeared and all pain had gone. He continues to take one pill occasionally as a precaution.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please.

The president has appointed Bartlett Tripp of Yankton, Dakota, to be chief justice of the supreme court of Dakota.

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills aided by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They not only relieve present distress but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

G. S. Darling, a Wallingford machinist, dropped dead Sunday, Nov. 22d, in the Episcopal church at New Haven, Conn., where he had gone to hear his daughter sing for the first time in the choir. The young lady had hardly taken her seat after finishing her solo when she heard a groan, and, looking into the family pew, saw her father fall prostrate on the floor. The cause is supposed to have been apoplexy. Decessed was fifty-six years old.

What Will Surely Do It.

One's hair begins to fall out from many causes. The important question is what is sure to make it grow in again. According to the testimony of thousands Parker's Hair Balsam will do it. It quickly covers bald spots, restores the original color when the hair is gray or faded, eradicates dandruff and causes the scalp to feel cool and well. It is not a dye, not greasy, highly perfumed, safe. Never disappoints those who require a nice, reliable dressing.

Dover city election took place on Tuesday, Nov. 24th, and Richard N. Ross was re-elected mayor by 987 votes to 856 for William S. White, democrat. The city councils stand as follows; Aldermen, eight republicans and two democrats; councilmen, twelve republicans and three democrats.

THE DECAY OF THE HILL TOWNS.

Those who have traveled through the hill country of New England must often have been struck by the sight of a white church standing almost alone upon a summit of the great ridge. Once it was the meeting place of some flourishing village, but when the railroads came, making their way through the rough forbidding country by following the water courses closely the villagers descended into the valleys, built up towns along the great highways of travel and left the old church to mourn over its lost glories and to struggle along weakly until it too had to succumb to the new order of things. The clergy who built up these pillars of orthodoxy were strong and earnest men, and those who have succeeded them are not less so. Their lives are marked by self-sacrifice and severe work. Their labors are carried on under many difficulties and hardships, and it is not surprising that many suffer from rheumatism and neuralgia. That many of them have found a cure, however, for these diseases may be seen from these letters. Rev. A. S. Cooper, of Williston, Vt., says:

"Twelve hours' use of Athlophoros greatly removed the pain from my system and rendered the muscles so supple that I could get up and down with ease, which I have not done for a long time. I called yesterday on a gentleman who got a bottle from me and who I expected would send for more through me, but I found he had got the start of me and ordered for himself, having been much benefited by it."

Henry L. Hall, editor of Willimantic (Ct.) Journal, who is well and favorably known for miles around, says:

"Three doses of Athlophoros relieved me from a very acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism in nine hours. I consider it an invaluable remedy in rheumatic affections, and esteem it a pleasure to recommend Athlophoros."

Mr. J. B. Webster, who is the carpenter for the Willimantic Linen Co., of Willimantic, Conn., and is well-known and much respected in that neighborhood, says:

"For three months I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism, and failed to receive any relief from any of the numerous remedies for that complaint until I took Athlophoros, which entirely cured me."

Rev. S. Donaldson, of Lyndon, Vt., writes:

"The bottle of Athlophoros helped my wife greatly. She had up to the time of taking it been a great sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatic difficulties, making it almost impossible for her to walk with any ease. These difficulties have been about her more or less for fourteen years. Since taking the medicine she has been comparatively free from pain and is able to walk better than before for several years."

Rev. Charles E. Harris, formerly of New Haven, now of Brooklyn, says:

"Athlophoros acted like a charm, and I have been quite free from any attack of rheumatism from that time until the present. I can, therefore, with all sincerity testify to the valuable quality of Athlophoros as a rheumatic cure."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But if all suffer from is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

Be True to Thy Trust.

Be true to thy trust though the world should discard thee,
And the vile and the erring thy efforts despise;
Though others neglect, thy true heart will reward thee,
For virtue is riches, its possession a prize.
Wealth passes away as the mist of the morning—
And ere we have clasped it 'tis vanished soon;
And beauty o'er fades from the face 'tis adorning—
But virtue is blest when the phantoms have gone.

Be true to thy trust though thy fortune be lowly—
Though thy raiment be coarse and though small thy estate;
Bid the thoughts of thy bosom be peaceful and holy,
Bid thy heart be untainted with malice or hate.
Thou art storing a treasure more wealthy than Ophir,
Beyond the corrosion of moth or of rust,
And richer rewards than the miser's vain coffer
Await thee if thou art but true to thy trust.

Be true to thy trust, as the sweet song of childhood
Dies away from thy ears like the blast of a horn
When silent and hushed is the voice of the wildwood
And its flowers no longer thy pathway adorn.
As the day's beauty blends with the glories of even
So virtue's reflection inhaloes the just.
And glories more bright than the western horizon
Shall gild thy life's twilight if thou art true to thy trust.

Be true to thy trust, though no mortal espy thee—
Though secrecy promise to veil thy deceit;
Know the vigilant eye of conscience defies thee
Long to play undetected the part of a cheat.
If placed where the perils of life close surround thee—
If assailed by temptation and passion's wild lust—
Stern trials and danger will only have crowned thee;
There cometh deep peace if thou art true to thy trust.

And when thou reposest in death's dreamless slumbers—
Thy soul passed to God—thy frame laid in dust—
The world shall proclaim, as thy virtues men number:
"Here lieth a man who was true to his trust!"

—Eustus S. Riggs.

A NIGHT IN THE HOSPITAL.

We had fled from our home, where diphtheria had just taken away one of our children, to the private ward of the hospital in our efforts to save the others. The sisters who had charge of the ward stepped softly hither and thither, saying little about those in the rooms around us, but we caught a word here and there that gave us some cue to the occupants and some insight into their troubles. The days were short; the nights were very long. Our little child looked at us, that scorching August day, as if asking us why we did not help her. The evening was breathless. Windows and doors were all open, that a breath of air might be coaxed to come in. The child lying on the bed, scarcely covered, was continually tossing and moaning, and as the hours lengthened the air grew closer. We spoke in whispers as we fanned her, and hailed with delight the promise of a storm.

Across the hall from us was a man just closing his career of delerium tremens; his voice and that of his attendants could be heard in varying tones. Near us was an elderly German woman who was slightly deranged and brought here for care; she was too weak to move from her bed. Not far from her was a sick traveling man, brought here because he had nowhere else to go, and beside him an hotel clerk, who could get no care at his hotel.

The male attendant of the ward was one of the poor men belonging to the institution; the sister who was in charge to-night one of the youngest nuns, and one that was exceedingly anxious to do her full duty.

These people entered but dimly into our lives. The little child on the bed was our whole world, but when she slept or when she was quiet our ears heard what was saying about us, and only then.

The sky blackened as midnight came; the flashes of light grew brighter and nearer; the air began to move; the limbs of the trees tapped at our window, and by and by the faint muttering of thunder was heard. The electrical effect in the air was quickly felt in all the rooms. The sister began looking after windows and doors, and the thunder hurried near.

Crash! What a terrible shock! It seemed just at our very door, and as if that was the loosening of the floodgates, the rain came down in torrents.

"Sis-tare! Sis-tare!"

"What is that? Ah, it is the German woman; poor soul! Perhaps the thunder has frightened her.

"Sis-tare! Sistare! Oh, oh, oh!" and the voice fell into a muttering, unintelligible cry.

Hark! That is not the sister. No, it is the crazy man (drink-crazed) across the hall. He talks loudly and his attendant closes the door. Other sick men call for the sister, and we hear her step as she passes from room to room across the hall.

With doors and windows closed to keep out the storm the air in the rooms become heavy and stifling. We watch our child and forget storm and surroundings. Her syptoms seem to our ignorant eyes less favorable. Her eyes seem to be questioning us as crash after crash of thunder follow each other.

"Sis-tare! Sis-tare!"

That moaning cry breaks in upon our forgetfulness. Poor woman! alone in her room, what wierd fancies may she have from out this terrible storm?

"Sis-tare sistare! Oh! Sistare!"

What can she want? Her cry is heart-breaking, so one of us search for the sister. Yes, she hears her, and has been there, but the woman wants companionship more than medicine, and she must attend equally to all.

Crash! How fearfully close it is! No wonder the man whose brain has lost its control shouts out, and the sister hurries to the assistance of the attendant. How she soothes the patients! Hear her, "Yes, yes; take this, dear; take this. She comes out looking exhausted and hopes the dose she has given him will send him to sleep.

This long from our own child. The storm affects her as it does the others. Let us sooth her and help her. The clock moves so slowly; the storm seems so interminable. The little face continues to question, and just as we think we have soothed her to quietness—

"Sis-tare! Sis-tare! Oh, sis-tare!"

The moan fills the whole house, and every room that but now was quiet is at once in need of the watcher, and the sick are calling for her.

"Come and eat something."

It is the voice of the sister. "Come and get a cup of tea, and you will be helped by it."

Who can eat? No, we do not need it. But she is wise, and she understands. How many just such anxious parents may she not have seen in that same room?

"Come," she says, and one goes. Yes, she is wise. Here in the little pantry over her gas stove she has made a pot of tea and has spread out a little lunch. We had not felt the need of it, but the strength it gives is very grateful. We take turns at the little table, the sister hardly able to stay a moment with us.

"Yes," she says, "it is busy tonight;" and she says it in broken English with a French shrug. "People are always uneasy in a storm. And tonight the thunder is so loud, and the lightning so bright, it is more worse than she is known of before."

"Sis-tare! Sis-tare!"

"Yes, that poor old woman is lonesome. Her husband have staid with her before now but to-night he went home, and she is troubled. But she is not in grief; she is company wanting."

And the sister shrugs her shoulder in sympathy.

A noise in the room across the hall arouses her. "Yes, it is that good man. It is much pity; he is so good, but when he drinks then he goes on."

"Has he been here before?"

"Oh, indeed! with an expressive shrug, "he was many times here. We will make him good. Oh, indeed, yes, he was here."

It is but an hour since the storm began. It seems a week. The flashes of lightning are less frequent; the rain is gentler, can we not open the doors? Ah, what blessed air comes in! If only such a storm could heal these suffering ones.

"Sister! Sister!

That is not the old woman, but the whisper call of the attendant opposite.

"Sister! Sister! Come quick!"

What is wrong now? Her soft slippers skim over the hall floor quickly; we hear them whisper together; she hastens away again, and by and by returns with another, in whose voice we recognize the Sister Superior. What is it?

"Sis-tare! Sis-tare!"

They pay no attention to this, but hasten to the room. "Can you leave your child a moment?" It is the Superior. "What is it, Sister?" "I fear the man is dying." So is our child. But we can step across the hall, "Is there aught we can do?" "No; the doctor said he was afraid for him; he could not stop, and he was such a nice man when he was himself."

"Sis-tare! Sis-tare!"

"Go to her, sister, and comfort her," and the Superior sends her helper.

Dying! No friend near but the Sisters of Charity. Dying! Killed by himself, and dying in this bare room where, perhaps, many others have died. No look of intelligence in the eyes; the brain evidently full of wild visions. Dying! Dying in the hospital. A good place to go when one is sick; a good place to get better in, but alas! a dreary place to die in.

The storm was over. Open doors and windows and let out the foul air. We are not able to stop and weep over the dying of others; our own child demands our every thought. Is it our fears that lead us to think she looks worse? Would that morning and the physician were here! The pulse is weaker. Is it worse?

"He is dead," some one whispers at our door. Yes, the world is dying. Why shouldn't he die? He was past middle life; he abused his manhood; he has tempted fate, and he should die. But this little child—

"Sis-tare! Sis-tare!"

Yes, this old woman will probably get better and live on for years, while this little child—

How quiet she is.

Yes, this little child lies here struggling for her life. How quiet the world is after the storm. Is death as quiet to this man, or has he gone from a troublous world into one still more full of trouble?

Is it time for medicine? But what good is medicine? We have been so anxious to be exact; to measure so carefully, but of what avail? We have been wishing for the morning, but now we dread it. Every minute is taking her away from us. The birds begin to twitter in the trees; the woman has gone to sleep; a faint gleam of light breaks in the sky; the morning is coming all too swift, for it will bring us only a baby's shroud.—William H. Maher, in Inter Ocean.

Lady Dufferin takes a deep interest in improving the condition of the women of India. One movement encouraged by her is of an unsectarian and national character to organize and stimulate female medical education and facilitate the treatment of native females by women, and to supply trained nurses and midwives for hospitals and private houses. The association will provide scholarships for women under tuition, and will procure from Europe and America a sufficient number of skilled female medical teachers. The executive body consists of a small central committee working under the Presidency of Lady Dufferin. It is hoped that corresponding branches will be formed in each province. A general meeting of all the branches will be held yearly in Calcutta. The Maharajahs of Ulwar, Rutlam, and Cashmere have already promised their support and sympathy, and aid from England and India is invited.

The laughing plant of China is so called because its seeds produce effects like those produced by laughing gas. The flowers are of a bright yellow, and the seed pods are soft and woolly, while the seeds resemble small black beans, and only two or three grow in a pod. The natives (Chinese) dry and pulverize them, and the powder, if taken in small doses, makes the soberest person behave like a circus clown or a madman, for he will dance, sing and laugh most boisterously and cut the most boisterous, fantastic capers, and be in an uproarious ridiculous condition for about an hour. When the excitement ceases the exhausted exhibitor of these antics falls asleep, and when he awakes he has not the slightest remembrance of his frisky doings.

Death of Vice President Hendricks.

The bright cheerfulness of to-day's home festival will be shadowed throughout the land by the knowledge that a man who for more than twenty years has stood prominently forward as a leader in the nation, has gone the way of all the earth. Thomas A. Hendricks, elected by the people to the second highest office in the nation, is dead. The following despatch was received last evening:

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 25th.
Vice President Hendricks died very suddenly at 4:30 this afternoon.

THANKSGIVING.

Again comes Thanksgiving. The annual return of this season of festivity allows us the privilege of a brief chat with our readers, to hint that there is much to-day for which we should give thanks. We, that our readers are loyal to our paper and appreciate our efforts to serve them from day to day and from week to week to the best of our humble ability, and they, doubtless, that they are supplied with so many good things which we are constantly catering for their benefit.

This is the season when the heart of the husbandman rejoices at the bountiful crops he has been able under the blessings of Providence to raise upon his broad acres, though, here and there, there may be the suggestion that when crops are heavy prices are apt to be low. But even this, he must admit, is of advantage to the poor, whom we always have with us.

As a people, we each year have much for which we should indeed raise our grateful song of thanksgiving. While our friends at Washington are considering what is the best mode of the country's procuring the means of naval defence, we are at peace with all the world, and not engaged, like our brothers across the water, in carrying war into distant lands. The country has recovered from its political excitement which a year ago filled the land, and until Congress meets, comparative happiness is ours to enjoy. The laborer, save when he enters upon a generally foolish strike, in general has employment, and suffers from none of the anxiety of the employers, who often have to provide him with work even at a loss to themselves. Prosperity attends legitimate efforts to increase the wealth of the nation, and plenty is within the reach of those who are willing to toil for its attainment. Let us, then, be thankful to the all-wise Giver, not because by presidential or gubernatorial edict this is a day set apart for this duty, but because as individuals and as a people of a great nation the continued goodness of the Creator has been manifested toward us during the past year, as in all ages of our country; let us not forget Him who in all these years since the birth of this happy part of his creation, has never forgotten us, his grateful children.

Death of the King of Spain.

King Alfonso of Spain died at nine o'clock in the forenoon, Nov. 25th, of consumption accelerated by dysentery, in his 28th year. He was a brave and good king.

The Great Tide.

Immense damage, estimated at millions of dollars, was done in New York, along the sound and the Long island shore, and the New Jersey coast, by the storm and high tide of Nov. 24th. The damage along the North river wharves was $100,000 or over; and on one pier of the East river 8000 barrels of lime and cement were slaked. A long section of the Long Island railroad was washed away, and the Ocean City and Sea Isle branches of the West Jersey road were damaged. At Asbury Park, Long Branch, Ocean Beach and Atlantic City cottages were carried to sea, hotels damaged, and the whole contour of the beaches changed. At Asbury Park the schooner Peacedale was totally wrecked; and at Ocean Beach the ship Malta was broken to fragments, one seaman being lost.

The War in Europe.

Despatches of Nov. 24th from Sofia were as follows: "The city is wild with excitement over news from the front stating that Prince Alexander, at the head of the Bulgarian troops, has followed up his victories, and is driving the Servians slowly but surely from Bulgarian territory. The latest despatch says that Prince Alexander stormed the heights of Tzaribrod and occupied the city last evening." "The Servians attacked the Bulgarian centre this afternoon, were repulsed, and retired in disorder, crossing the frontier near Tsaribrod. The Servians are now retiring from their positions at Tru. The Bulgarians are advancing to the frontier. Widden is being shelled by the Servians, but has not been set on fire. The Bulgarian commandant there prohibits the passage of eight Austrian tugs."

Despatches of the 24th from Belgrade reported: "The Servians are continuing their retreat and the main army is now in Servian territory. The troops seem to be demoralized, and since the recapture of Tsaribrod by the Bulgarians they have fallen back without offering any resistance to the victorious Prince Alexander. The Bulgarians have occupied all the positions recently held by the Servians in Bulgaria, and are advancing to the frontier. King Milan has decided to abdicate the throne. If necessary, Austria will occupy Servia in order to prevent the accession of Prince Karageorgivicks."

Fisheries Statistics.

The Cape Ann Advertiser says that during the past year the total loss of life in the Gloucester fisheries was thirty-four, against 131 the previous year, and an average of 124 for the fifteen years preceding. Twelve vessels, of a tonnage aggregating 639 tons, valued at $67,000 and insured for $53,000, have been lost, against sixteen vessels of 1,104 tonnage, $87,000 valuation and $63,000 insurance the previous year. The average loss for the fifteen years preceding this has been fifteen vessels, 972 tons, valuation $78,000, insurance $59,000.

Beginning Nov. 24th and continuing every four weeks thereafter, United States mails for Australia and New Zealand will hereafter be forwarded from San Francisco by the English steamers Zealandia and Australia, and the American steamers Alameda and Mariposa. This arrangement places two American steamers on this service, instead of one, as heretofore.

THE CENTURY
for 1885-6.

The remarkable interest in the War Papers and in the many timely articles and the strong serial features published recently in THE CENTURY has given that magazine as regular circulation of

MORE THAN 200,000 COPIES MONTHLY.

Among the features for the coming volume, which begins with the November number, are:

THE WAR PAPERS BY GEN. GRANT AND OTHERS.

These will be continued (most of them illustrated) until the chief events of the Civil War have been described by leading participants on both sides. General Grant's papers include descriptions of the battles of Chattanooga and the Wilderness. General McClellan will write of Antietam, General D. C. Buell of Shiloh, Generals Pope, Longstreet and others of the Second Bull Run, etc., etc. Naval combats, including the fight between the Kearsarge and the Alabama, by officers of both ships, will be described.

The "Recollections of a Private" and special war papers of an anecdotal or humorous character will be features of the year.

SERIAL STORIES BY W. D. HOWELLS, MARY HALLOCK FOOTE, AND GEORGE W. CABLE.

Mr. Howells's serial will be in lighter vein than "The Rise of Silas Lapham." Mrs. Foote's is a story of mining life and Mr. Cable's a novelette of the Acadians of Louisiana. Mr. Cable will also contribute a series of papers on Slave songs and dances, including negro serpent worship, etc.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Include "A Tricycle Pilgrimage to Rome," illustrated by Frenell; Historical Papers by Edward Eggleston, and others; Papers on Persia, by S. G. W. Benjamin, lately U. S. minister, with numerous illustrations; Astronomical Articles, practical and popular, on "Sidereal Astronomy"; Papers on Christian Unity by representatives of various religious denominations; Papers on Manual Education, by various experts, etc., etc.

SHORT STORIES

By Frank R. Stockton, Mrs. Helen Jackson (H. H.), Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote, Joel Chandler Harris, H. H. Boyesen, T. A. Janvier, Julian Hawthorne, Richard M. Johnston and others; and poems by leading poets. The departments,—"Open Letters," "Bric-a-Brac," etc., will be fully sustained.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS

Will be kept up to the standard which has made THE CENTURY engravings famous the world over.

PRICES. A SPECIAL OFFER.

Regular subscription price, $4.00 a year. To enable new readers to get all the War Papers, with contributions from Generals Grant, Beauregard, McClellan, J. E. Johnston, Lew Wallace, Admiral Porter and others, we will send the 12 back numbers, November, 1884, to October, 1885, with a year's subscription beginning with November, 1885, for $6.00 for the whole. A subscription, with the 12 numbers bound in two handsome volumes, $7.50 for the whole. Back numbers only supplied at these prices with subscriptions.

A free specimen copy (back number) will be sent on request. Mention this paper.

All dealers and postmasters take subscriptions and supply numbers according to our special offer, or remittance may be made direct to

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Cloudy, with local rains or snows, followed by clearing weather and lower temperature.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 26 degrees above zero.

Raining.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

There will be a Union Thanksgiving Service, in which the pastors of the other churches are expected to participate, in the North church at 10:30 o'clock this forenoon. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. W. A. McGinley; subject, "This Present World." All are cordially invited.

There will be preaching in the Methodist church to-day at the usual hour, by Rev. O. H. Jasper, the pastor.

THE STORM.

Not for many months has there been a more uncomfortable night in which to be out, than that of Tuesday, the 24th inst. Spells of rain and snow, in about equal divisions, made the walking simply horrible, and saturated even the rubber-clad individual who had to face the miseries of the entire night.

The wind during the night blew quite heavily, but no serious damage is reported. About quarter-past five o'clock, Wednesday morning, as Officer Quinn was passing through Fleet street he ran foul of a fire-alarm wire which had been so loaded with ice as to tear from the roof of a neighboring building the cleat to which it was fastened, and was drooping near the ground; word was sent to Superintendent Trafton, who was quickly on hand to repair the damage. A tree opposite the end of Dearborn street blew down across the Baltimore & Ohio wires, bending two poles nearly to the earth, and snapping in two the pole bearing box No. 7 of the fire alarm. A little erratic striking of the fire alarm resulted.

The Pullman train which left this city at four o'clock Wednesday morning ran into the branches of a fallen tree between this city and Greenland, and had the headlight and the cab windows smashed. The train was stopped at Greenland depot and a report telegraphed to this station, and a shifting engine with a crew of axe men proceeded to the place and soon cleared away the obstruction.

About five o'clock Wednesday morning a man entered the police station, and asked a chance to thaw himself out. He had just arrived in from York, having been on the road since two o'clock with an ox team loaded with poultry; he had not met or passed any person on the road, and was soaked to the skin and chilled way through.

The tides on Wednesday were higher than on the previous day,—higher than for years, in fact, but the only disaster reported as caused by the unusual flood was the drowning of a hog in a pen near Puddle dock.

There were but few teams with poultry in town from the surrounding country on Wednesday, the bad travelling and worse weather preventing them from coming. This kept up the prices of poultry and helped the storekeepers who had previously received supplies, but must have caused loss to many farmers who were unable to get their dressed birds to market.

WE RETURN THANKS.

The Portsmouth Journal, whose editor in making up his paper has a week's time in which to criticise what is found in the columns of our daily, whence is drawn much that appears in his own sheet, calls attention to an inaccuracy in an article in the Chronicle, written late at night and printed within a few hours of the time it was written, in the structure of one of its sentences finding omitted a noun—an obvious "leave out" by either the editor or compositor.

In the same item our State street brother objects to the word "shew," and says if the Chronicle "desires an archaic and nearly absolute word it can use 'shewed.'" We are obliged for the permission, but have no present use for "absolute" words.

We like to be kept straight by a "journal of literature" which speaks of a clergyman who "occupied the morning with a Thanksgiving discourse," and solemnly assures its readers that the "solicitor for the state department decided that the court of commissioners of Alabama claims had no power to appoint additional council of the United States!" Just what the court expected to do with a "council" and how numerous a body it would have been, we are not told.

There is something about "casting the first stone" which will suggest itself to every casual reader of the Journal, which in our opinion is in some respects not so carefully edited as it might be, even though it has what it says the new hotel not yet opened will have, "experienced management."

This being the great New England holiday, we shall issue no paper to-morrow.

The Casino will be open to-day and this evening, and good music will be provided.

Mayor Eldredge will furnish all the outside poor with a substantial and generous Thanksgiving dinner to-day at his own expense.

Dr. Francis E. Langdon started on Tuesday, 24th inst., for Florida, where he will spend the winter.

Not a prisoner, tramp or lodger enlivened the cells of the police station up to midnight on Wednesday night.

About 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening of this week a man and a boy attempted to purchase their supply of Thanksgiving poultry from a hen-coop at the north end, in the absence of the owner, but on being hailed from a window departed over the fence in a hurry.

Mr. Plumer Spinney, the well known expressman, and wife, are spending Thanksgiving with relatives at West Lynn, Mass.

A large elm tree which had long stood in front of Call mansion opposite the academy in Islington street, was taken down by the street commissioner on Tuesday of this week, having been regarded as dangerous from its decayed state. There are many trees about town which require pruning under the direction of a proper forester.

Second Assistant Engineer Oliver P. Remick, of the United States revenue marine, arrived at his home in Kittery on Monday night of this week, having been detached from the Galveston district after three years' service, and ordered to join the Dallas at Portland, Me. Mr. Remick remains at home over Thanksgiving.

The new Porter shoe factory at Concord is partially idle, the union lasters being on a strike.

NO. 68 STATE STREET,

WM. CONN.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 18th, 1885.

NOTICE.

Having taken the store lately occupied by my deceased brother, J. M. Carr, and having within the past fifteen days stocked up with first-class goods, I now offer to my brother's patrons and all others requiring reliable goods, as good a stock, for quality and style, as can be found in the city or in the state, and at the very lowest cash prices. All are invited to call and examine the goods whether they wish to purchase or not. J. C. CARR.

New Hampshire Patents.

The following list of patents granted Nov. 24th to citizens of New Hampshire, is specially reported by Franklin H. Hough, solicitor of American and foreign patents, No. 925 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C.:

No. 331,025. C. M. Baxter, Lebanon, hot-air furnace.

No. 331,187. G. B. N. Dow, assignor to W. Corey, Manchester, bracket.

No. 219,664. E. Hall, Cambridge, Mass., assignor to Hall Roller Skate Co., Nashua, N. H., (re-issue,) roller skate.

No. 330,906. J. Lancaster, Dover, stop-motion for spoolers, etc.

The whole number of patents granted to citizens of the United States for the week ending Nov. 24th was 404.

At Augusta, Me., on the evening of Nov. 24th, the governor and council in executive session voted to extend clemency to the Kittery murderers. Oscar E. Blaney's sentence was commuted from death to imprisonment for life, on the ground that, having given evidence for the state, he was entitled to mercy. The execution of Mrs. Mary E. Barrows' sentence was suspended until the third Friday in April, 1887. Blaney and Mrs. Barrows were to have been hung in December. Another legislature will convene before the reprieve of the latter expires.

On the evening of Nov. 23d, at Atlantic City, Va., Annie Dickson, aged sixteen, was shot dead by her betrothed, Thomas Moses, aged twenty, at the residence of her father. The shooting was accidental. Young Moses took hold of Mr. Dickson's shot-gun, and said, "I will go through the military drill for you," and as he was carrying the gun to his shoulder it exploded. The charge entered the girl's neck, and she died almost instantly in the arms of her lover. The gun was supposed to be unloaded.

At Fort Lafayette, N. Y., Nov. 21st, successful experiments were made with an eight-inch dynamite air-gun.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA?

Among the many symptoms of Dyspepsia or indigestion the most prominent are: Variable appetite; faint, gnawing feeling at pit of the stomach, with unsatisfied craving for food; heartburn, feeling of weight and wind in the stomach, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, low spirits, general prostration, headache, and constipation. There is no form of disease more prevalent than Dyspepsia, and none so peculiar to the high-living and rapid-eating American people. Alcohol and tobacco produce Dyspepsia; also, bad air, rapid eating, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will cure the worst case, by regulating the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. Sold everywhere.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the trade heretofore wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1-4x300 ft $45 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY ALL UNITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $2.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise the deed will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

The Grand Aims of Life

Are nullities to the chronic invalid. What to him are the rewards of ambition, the accumulation of fortune, or the fruition of domestic happiness? The zest of life is gone, its aims are dead. Well for him if all this is not irretrievable—if his malady is not of the deep seated organic sort which forbids hope of cure. For many of the ills to which flesh is heir, formerly supposed to be incurable, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a sovereign remedy. Among them are dyspepsia, chronic constipation, rheumatism, debility and nervousness. These are remediable with the grand restorative, which does the work throughly, striking at the root of the evils to the removal of which it is adapted. By insuring activity and purity of the circulation, inducing a healthy flow of the bile, and promoting a regular habit of body, it fortifies the system against malaria. It is also useful as a diuretic.

In Springfield, Mass., on Sunday, Nov. 22d, Rev. Pleasant Hunter, pastor of the Palmer Congregational church, read a letter to his people saying that he had decided to remain with them as a matter of duty, and decline the calls of the churches at Ware, Newtonville and Worcester. His present salary is $1800, whereas his offer from Newtonville was $3000, and from the Salem street church at Worcester $5000.

Working people are practically benefitted by the use of James Pyle's Pearline. It lessens the toil and drudgery of washday, without damage to fabric or hands, and expedites all the kinds of cleansing surprisingly, without the aid of soap, soda, or other preparations. Sold by all grocers, but see that counterfeits are not urged upon you.

—A Belfast gentleman stopped at a house on the Northport road and asked for a drink of milk. The young lady informed him that they had only skimmed milk, which the gentleman said would do. After drinking the man insisted upon paying for it, but the young lady refused. She finally said, "We want no pay; we give skimmed milk to pigs."

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly co-operate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

The Grand Alms of Life

Are nullities to the chronic invalid. What to him are the rewards of ambition, the accumulation of fortune, or the fruition of domestic happiness? The zest of life is gone, its aims are dead. Well for him if all this is not irretrievable—if his malady is not of the deep seated organic sort which forbids hope of cure. For many of the ills to which flesh is heir, formerly supposed to be incurable, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a sovereign remedy. Among them are dyspepsia, chronic constipation, rheumatism, debility and nervousness. These are remediable with the grand restorative, which does the work throughly, striking at the root of the evils to the removal of which it is adapted. By insuring activity and purity of the circulation, inducing a healthy flow of the bile, and promoting a regular habit of body, it fortifies the system against malaria. It is also useful as a diuretic.

Dr. Sumner Marden, an eminent physician of Concord, was smitten with apoplexy and died suddenly at noon on Nov. 27th, in his office.

"100 Doses One Dollar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.

Eleven inches of snow fell on Wednesday, Nov. 25th, at Bristol, and sixteen inches covered the roads and all-out-doors at Haverhill and Wells River, this state.

The Concord railroad has just completed a magnificent depot and extensive train-sheds for the accommodation of the passenger traffic of the various roads that connect at the capital city. The old building was demolished to make room for the handsome new station.

F. B. Culver, of Westfield, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., was afflicted with scrofulous eruptions over the back and thigh, accompanied with nausea and neuralgic pains in the head, so severe that on one occasion he fell unconscious in the street. Physicians failing to do him good, he commenced using Brandreth's Pills—five every night for a week, then rested three days, and took five every night for another week, then two every night for thirty days. To his delight, at the end of that time, the eruptions had disappeared and all pain had gone. He continues to take one pill occasionally as a precaution.

Immediately after the death of King Alfonso, of Spain, the cabinet met, and the queen was appointed regent.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please.

Frank Mitchell was on Nov. 24th arraigned in Boston for the murder of his wife in July last. This was the case in which a woman's body was found floating in pieces in the Charles river.

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills aided by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They not only relieve present distress but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

Peter Miller, aged twelve years, arrested in Portland, Me., for putting stones on the railroad track, became insane through fear on being locked in a cell alone, Nov. 24th.

Take Warning,

And don't let the germs of that vile disease, Catarrh, take root and flourish in your system. Sulphur Bitters will prevent this and will make you strong and healthy.—Editor Weekly Press.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

NEW ENGLAND'S SENTIMENTS.

A large part of the great influence which New England has wielded in the councils of the nation and through its progressive institutions has been because of the general unanimity of the six States on most important questions, enabling them to act as a unit. This is not now perhaps so true of political affairs as it once was, but in most matters there is a substantial agreement of opinion. Just at present this is shown in the universal commendation of Athlophoros, praises of which come from all quarters of every State. A few of them follow:

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the last three years," says E. Parkhurst, of Woonsocket, R. I., "having been unable to do any active labor during that time, and for a large portion of the time being confined to my bed. I had taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with no relief, until I was induced to try a bottle of Athlophoros. The first three doses resulted in my having the best night's sleep that I had enjoyed for three years, and by the time the first bottle was taken I realized that I was on the road to complete recovery. I have since taken six bottles and am now able to attend to my business and consider myself a well man."

Mrs. C. N. Paige, of Boltonville, Vt., says:

"I first saw Athlophoros advertised in a paper, and as it was only recommended for rheumatism and neuralgia I had great faith to believe it could do me some good. My husband, therefore, sent for a bottle. I had been a great sufferer from neuralgia for years, and had spells when no one who saw me thought I could live. Many times I have wished death would end my agony. The pain would commence in the pit of my stomach and go from there right through my heart. I had employed doctors who were thought very skillful, but I got no benefit from them. I had these spells every two or three weeks for over two years before taking Athlophoros. That was one year ago last April and I have had only two of them since, the last one during the winter. I took then part of another bottle and have had none since. Words can never express the relief I feel at being rid of such agony as I suffered when I had those spells."

Mrs. Harriet Strong, of Westville, Ct., tells this straight-forward story:

"I had the rheumatism, which settled in my knees and hips. The joints were so stiff and the pain so great that I could not walk, but was obliged to move around in a chair. Several doctors did all they could for me, but I was no better. While in this condition, sitting in my chair by the window reading a paper, I saw an advertisement of Athlophoros. I thought I would try it and sent for a bottle. When they brought it to me I told them I considered it a dollar thrown away, as I had not a particle of faith, but I commenced taking it and after the third dose I thought I felt a change for the better. I continued to use it as directed until I have taken four bottles. Strange as it may seem, I am perfectly cured and am about the house all day, doing all the housework, with not a bit of rheumatism about me. I can never return thanks enough to the parties that make Athlophoros for the benefit I have derived from its use. I recommend it to everybody."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

The Messenger.

"I'll be a singer," so she said one day;
"My words shall soothe and strengthen earth's rough way
For many a weary heart."
Her lines, though rhymed with all a poet's art,
And measured as the drum-beat's steady roll,
Touched not a single soul.
God sent His angel down, and gently smote
Her lyric plans; and disappointment's note
Quivered through all her life.
Once more she wrote; but, under all, the strife
Of grief and bitter loss echoed so plain,
Who read shed tears of pain.

Again the silent, white-winged angel came,
And snatching love with life's best hopes away
Left but a breaking heart.
No longer from humanity apart
She wrote, but learned a lesson born of trust,
And wrote, because she must.

Brave, helpful words of truth. So as we hide
Our selfish griefs, and at God's will be tried
In crucible of sorrow,
Strength comes to point a brighter, glad to-morrow
To fainting, struggling souls; and keenest loss
A crown may be, not cross.

—Helen M. Winslow in Every Other Saturday.

DRIFTING.

"The boat is trimmed with sail and oar,
And all prepared to quit the shore;
Then off we go, with wind and tide,
Across the sunny waves to glide.
Then row! row! row!
Merrily over the waves we go!

The words of the boating-song floated lightly over the waters, and died in many echoes among the trees on the river-bank.

They brought a smile to the lips of Grant Clayton, artist and idler, as he lay under the shadow of those same trees.

Lazily he lifted his handsome head, resting it on his hand, and looked for the singer.

There she was in her light little skiff, just "feathering" the oars, seemingly as happy as a child, with her bare brown arms showing, graceful and pretty, from the light muslin she wore, and the sunset slanting on her dark, uncovered head.

"A perfect picture!" the young man thought, his artist-eyes kindling. "I wonder if I have time to make a sketch of her? I might call it 'Drifting.'"

He took out pencil and paper, and was soon at work. The girl noticed him as she passed, and at first seemed surprised, then laughed softly and hastily "backed water," until the skiff was under the shadow of the bank.

"Rex!" she called. "Come, show yourself openly, sir! I'll never believe you again when you say you cannot sketch. Come and row me home; I'm tired."

Grant sprang up then—a tall, handsome, but rather shame-faced young man—and approached the bank. The girl eyed him with perfect composure.

"I—I beg your pardon!" he stammered, very much confused by those calm, dark eyes. "I am not Rex, whoever he may be."

"So I see," she replied calmly.

And with a motion of her slender wrists, she sent the skiff out again from the shore; then bending gracefully to the oars, she seemed fairly to fly over the surface that her boat scarcely rippled.

"Jovel what a face!" the young man thought again, remembering all its calm, dark beauty, as it had shone on him from the shadows. "I will see it again if I have to haunt the margin of this river for ever."

The dark, glowing face went with him the whole night long; it haunted the reception rooms of Mr. Nettleby, whose guest he was, during the following day, which was one of constant rain, and kept him indoors.

He made half a dozen copies of his hasty sketch, but not one of them did justice to the face of his "lady of the lake." He tore them up in despair, and wondered what ailed him, as many wiser men have done before him, and probably will do after, when the first light shaft has flown from the bow of Cupid, and the little god laughs to see how certain was his aim.

When the sun came out, on the third day, a very handsome young artist might have been found in the very spot from which he had seen the small boat first; but, although he watched for it until he almost lost his dinner, it never came.

"I am a masculine Mariana," he told himself, in disgust. "She cometh not, and I'm making a fool of myself."

So he went back to Mr. Nettleby's and found the daughters of the house ready to remind him of an engagement which had completely escaped his mind—a lawn-dance, to which he was to escort them, given by a Mrs. Langton.

"You have never seen Inez, or you would have remembered," Miss Nettleby told him, and he laughingly declared he had not.

They arrived rather late at the picturesque house of the Langtons, and found the merriest party possible—dancing and laughing, and "turning all things to mirth" in Mrs. Langton's grounds.

"If I should meet her here!" Grant thought, as he bent over the fair hand of his hostess.

And the lady, as if conscious of his prayer, led him across the sward and straight up too stately figure, which was standing directly under a fall of rose-hued light.

The light came from a colored lantern suspended from a branch above her, but to the dazzled eyes of the artist it seemed to come straight from heaven; for, at the words, "Inez, my daughter, I wish to present Mr. Clayton to you," the dark eye turned in his direction, and they were the same calm, magnificent ones that had looked up to him through the shadows of the sunset.

He was stammering forth some commonplace words when a burst of music drowned his voice, and in another moment he found himself leading Inez Langton toward the platform, which had been erected among the trees of the lawn.

He had taken her for some farmer's daughter when he saw her rowing on the river; but her beauty had taken captive his artist soul.

He found her a very queen of society, possessed of every grace, when he met her in her stately home; and ere the night was over, he knew that he had found his fate at last—he loved her!

After that, there were no more hours of idle dreaming on the banks of the river; no more dallying with brush and pencil; no more bold sketching of this or that picturesque spot. The artist in Grant Clayton slept; the man was wooing, with all his powers, the dark-eyed heiress of Leighton.

Once, as she allowed him to row her down the river, he pointed out the spot on which he lay and listened to her song.

"I thought of all the old legends—of the sirens that sang men to death, and the German Lorely," he said, "but the chain fell on me in that hour, too. I have been under a spell of enchantment since. Is it one which will end in death for me, I wonder?"

The girl's eyes softened, as they went dreamily over the waters, and her lips became tremulous.

"Oh, do not say such things to me!" she pleaded; "they are so hard to bear. When you—you joined in my song that day—you remember it?—I thought you were—were another. Ah, Heaven, how we have drifted, you and I!"

"Into something new and strange, but sweet as a dream of the Lotos-eater," he said, softly, laying his hand on hers.

She drew her hand from him with a shiver.

"Let me tell you," she said. "I called you 'Rex' that day. You have never asked me for whom I mistook you."

"I did not think to ask. Was it not a friend?"

"A friend? Ah, no! a—a lover—the man who—who is to be—my husband."

Startled and white he sat there, looking at her fixedly, half-reproachingly. She gave him one swift glance, then shrank back, a look of keenest suffering on her face. At last he broke the silence.

"It was the song of the Lorely, then!" he said bitterly.

But that was all.

A wave of color burned transiently in her face; her hands trembled.

"I can say nothing to you," she faltered. "Do not think me weak or—or

SKIN TORTURES — AND — BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions, Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Sores, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Contagious and Constitutional Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with sores and scaws, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement. MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK. BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE, EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured. HERMAN SLADE. 136 E. 4TH STREET, NEW YORK.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the CUTICURA SOAP. Have had an unusually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of Itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES proved satisfactory. W. L. HARDIGG, Druggist, UNIONTOWN, KY.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

YOUR CUTICURA REMEDIES outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed. H. W. BROCKWAY, M. D. FRANKLIN FALLS, N. H.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Are sold by all druggists. Price: CUTICURA, 50 cents; RESOLVENT, $1.00; SOAP, 25 cents. POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston. Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

The War in Europe.

A despatch of Nov. 25th from Belgrade was as follows: "King Milan has returned to the city. The war is considered to be over. The order summoning the Landsturm for active service has been countermanded."

A London despatch of the same date said: "A despatch from Sofia this afternoon says: King Milan sent a message under a flag of truce to the Bulgarian advance line, proposing peace at the request of the powers. The Bulgarian commander sent the message to Prince Alexander. The latter declined to accept the proposition, on the ground that Bulgaria had not received a request from the powers. Prince Alexander refuses to accept a peace proposal until the Servians have evacuated the Widden district, and the amount of war indemnity payable by Servia to Bulgaria has been fixed."

From Vienna the following came on the 25th: "The Servians bombarded Widden the whole night long, and at six o'clock this morning, after being strongly re-enforced, they attempted to carry the city by an assault, but were repulsed after three hour's sanguinary fighting."

A despatch received in London from Sofia on Nov. 27th announced that Prince Alexander, at the head of 50,000 Bulgarian troops, entered Servia on Thursday morning, the 26th.

A despatch of Nov. 27th from Belgrade says: "The Bulgarians yesterday vigorously attacked the Servians at Pirot, and captured the city after being twice repulsed. The Servian ministers have started to join King Milan at Nissa. Large bodies of Servian troops are hastening to the front."

Laborers Rescued.

The secretary of the navy is informed of the arrival of the U. S. S. Powhatan at Key West, Nov. 26th, with the rescued men from the island of Roucador in the Carribean sea, where the vessel was sent to bring them away. All, including the passengers, are reported well.

The Roucador island men are laborers who were left there several months ago by vessels which went to get out cargoes of guano. The story of their sufferings has recently been published, to the effect that the vessels, having been loaded, sailed away, leaving the men to get out and prepare for shipment a further supply of guano. The vessels did not return, and after suffering terrible hardships the firemen and two others of the deserted men made their way in a small boat to Aspinwall, and a vessel was there chartered and went to Roucador with supplies. Three cargoes of guano were then successively taken away, when the master of the enterprise was laid up with rheumatism, and after three months' delay a request was made and immediately complied with that a naval vessel be sent to bring away the laborers.

Carter Harrison Must Go.

Judge Pendergast, in the county court at Chicago on the morning of Nov. 25th, decided that it would be proper to open the ballot boxes and count the ballots cast for mayor last spring, and to submit the result of the recount as evidence in the contest now pending in that court as to the right of Carter W. Harrison to hold the office of mayor of Chicago. This is the point fought against by the attorneys for Mayor Harrison, who claimed that the declaration of the vote by the returning boards was final, and insures an immediate recount of the ballots.

The students of Trinity college have passed resolutions urging Dr. Smith, president of the college, and recently elected bishop of Eastern Maryland, to remain with the college. Trinity has materially gained strength since Dr. Smith has been president.

The Virginia board of state canvassers has finished the count of the vote cast in the last state election for attorney-general. The whole number of votes cast was 288,504, of which Ayers, dem., received 152,376, and Blair, rep., 136,129. Ayers' majority, 16,246.

B. M. Hemenway of Rockland, Me., committed suicide by hanging Nov. 25th.

Mrs. Sally Lane of Gloucester, Mass., the second oldest person on Cape Ann, died Nov. 24th, aged ninety-eight years and eleven months. She leaves six brothers and sisters, whose ages range from seventy-three to ninety-three years.

The Boston superintendent of police has sent circulars to police captains and superintendents in other cities, containing a description of Adrian L. Mellen, otherwise called Alfred Mellen, of Baltimore. The circular states that he is wanted on an indictment for conspiracy to kill and murder. The hiding away of Mr. Mellen does not look much as though he is the blameless individual he is claimed by his friends to be.

—The six-year-old daughter of a Brooklyn merchant went for a stroll with her mother. She walked on the top of a low stone wall beneath a colonnade of maples. A slight breeze agitated the leaves just above her head. Suddenly she paused, and with a little shudder, said: "Take me down, mamma, I don't like to hear the trees breathe."

—Spohr is said to have first noticed his wife when she called out to a friend, as he stood up to direct his first concert as the appointee of the Duke of Gotha: "Look at our new director of concerts. How like a hop-pole he looks!"

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. FRONSDOROF, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

THE CENTURY for 1885-6.

The remarkable interest in the War Papers and in the many timely articles and the strong serial features published recently in THE CENTURY has given that magazine an regular circulation of

MORE THAN 200,000 COPIES MONTHLY.

Among the features for the coming volume, which begins with the November number, are:

THE WAR PAPERS BY GEN. GRANT AND OTHERS.

These will be continued (most of them illustrated) until the chief events of the Civil War have been described, by leading participants on both sides. General Grant's papers include descriptions of the battles of Chattanooga and the Wilderness. General McClellan will write of Antietam, General D. C. Buell of Shiloh, Generals Pope, Longstreet, and others of the Second Bull Run, etc., etc. Naval combats, including the fight between the Kearsarge and the Alabama, by officers of both ships, will be described.

The "Recollections of a Private" and special war papers on a novel plan of humorous character will be features of the year.

SERIAL STORIES BY W. D. HOWELLS, MARY HALLOCK FOOTE, AND GEORGE W. CABLE.

Mr. Howell's serial will be in Father vein, has "The Rise of Silas Lapham." Mrs. Foote's is a story of mining life and Mr. Cable's a novelette of the Acadians of Louisiana. Mr. Cable will also contribute a series of papers on Slave songs and dances, including negro serpent worship, etc.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Include "A Trieste Pilgrimage to Rome," illustrated by Pennell; Historical Papers by Edward Eggleston, and others; Papers on Poets, by S. G. W. Benjamin, lately U. S. minister, with numerous illustrations; Astronomical Articles, practical and popular, on "Sidereal Astronomy"; Papers on Christian Unity by representatives of various religious denominations; Papers on Manual Education, by various experts, etc., etc.

SHORT STORIES

By Frank R. Stockton, Mrs. Helen Jackson (H. H.), Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote, Joel Chandler Harris, H. H. Boyesen, T. A. Janvier, Julian Hawthorne, Richard M. Johnston and others; and poems by leading poets. The Departments,—"Open Letters," "Bric-a-Brac," etc., will be fully sustained.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS

Will be kept up to the standard which has made THE CENTURY engravings famous the world over.

CLEAR YOUR SIDEWALKS.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 27th, 1885.

The attention of citizens is called to the ordinance which requires each householder and occupants to keep the sidewalk in front of his or her premises cleared from snow and ice. It is hoped that all persons will cheerfully assist the authorities in the endeavor to execute this ordinance, and thereby contribute to the comfort and safety of all persons using our sidewalks. M. ELDREDGE, Mayor.

Thanksgiving services were held at the Episcopal, Methodist and Congregational churches, but the three congregations would not have filled the smallest chapel in the city. At the North church there were present five clergymen, besides the pastor, but the congregation did not number a hundred, and of those present nearly all were men.

The charity ball of Storer Post, G. A. R., on Thanksgiving eve, was attended by a throng which filled Franklin hall, nearly 200 couples participating in the grand march. How many would have been present had the weather been halfway decent can only be guessed. The supper, provided by Mr. W. H. Wingate, was one of the best ever gotten up for a dancing party in this city.

Mr. Idris, a tenor of marked ability, will sing in the Unitarian church to-morrow.

Marcus P. Norton, of valve-suit fame, was in town on Friday, and called on the clerk of the United States circuit court. Marcus intends to give the New Hampshire cities another chance to try the Knibbs patent cases if he can get his cases in trim for a retrial. He contends that much of the testimony on the part of the defendants in the Dover case was false, and is not likely to appear if he ever obtains another trial.

Mayor Eldredge's kindly and generous remembrance of the out-door poor of the city on Thanksgiving day recalls to mind the fact that the late Christopher Toppan, when mayor, did a like good deed each year, and that the inmates of the almshouse annually enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner from the interest of a fund left by him for the purpose.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE, Nov. 27th, 1885.

The attention of owners and occupants of buildings or lands having sidewalks adjoining, is respectfully called to Sections 3 and 4 of Chapter 16, Revised Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

Sec. 3. The occupants, or, if unoccupied, the owners, of all the buildings and lands situate within the city, shall keep the sidewalks adjoining their respective premises, in all cases where a sidewalk has been or may be constructed, free from snow, by causing the snow to be removed into the street, and evenly spread, and when any of said sidewalks are covered with ice, so as to make the passing dangerous, said owners or occupants shall spread over said sidewalk ashes, sand or salt in such a manner as to prevent the same from being dangerous, within six hours after the cessation of every fall thereof, or when the snow shall have blown or drifted upon the sidewalk by the wind. The time herein allowed for the performance of the work to be computed from sunrise the succeeding morning, whenever the fall of snow shall have ceased in the night time.

Sec. 4. Any person disregarding or offending against the provisions of this ordinance, shall, upon conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each and every offence, with costs of prosecution; and it shall be the duty of the city marshal, under the counsel and direction of the mayor, to cause this chapter to be enforced.

CHARLES W. NORTON, City Marshal.

PLEDGEE'S SALE AT AUCTION.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters, that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once, and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it, Godspeed.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. It is beautifully located on the Gulf coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of this place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1:0x100 ft $45 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY 3 LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $1.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise delay will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

wicked. Only—only it is sometimes too late when we learn to read our own hearts!"

"Was it so with you?" he questioned, his lips very white.

She bent her head, and a sob broke from her.

"Oh, do not remain here!" she cried. "Go away; go back to your world—to your work. He is noble and true, and—and he loves me!"

"Heaven help us both!" the young man prayed, reading the full meaning of her words.

Then he lifted the oars, and shot the boat shoreward. As it touched the bank he sprang from it.

"Farewell, Inez," he said simply.

And in a moment the trees had hidden him from her.

Five years later, a party of strangers were going through one of the galleries of St. Petersburg, and halted before one picture.

"Inez," somebody called, "come here! This is surely your face on the canvas. Who can have painted it?"

A stately dark-eyed woman obeyed the summons, and turned deadly pale as she gazed.

"It is a masterpiece!" somebody cried.

But she did not heed, did not hear. She had gone back to the sunset hour which a hand she knew had portrayed her. Her own voice echoed about her as it had that day, until another took up the strain, and mingled with its sweetness a stronger melody.

She almost felt the last touch of sunset on her face, as it lay in the picture; for, as she had gone idly through it that summer day, so he had painted her—the man who had loved her, whom she had sent from her.

"Drifting," he had called it.

And the dark eyes of Inez filled as she looked at the calm face of the girl, who, she told herself, had died long since, leaving a woman, sad and sorrow-worn in her place.

She found his name—Grant Clayton—and with a hand that trembled, penned him a line.

"I remain a week in the city. If you have not forgotten an old friend, I will be glad to see you at—"

Here followed the address.

An hour after he received her note he stood before her with outstretched hand, and a face which the years had scarcely touched in passing.

"I knew how great a folly I committed in coming here and looking on your face again," he said to her; "but I could not help it—I came. In an hour we will again bid each other farewell; but I had such a yearning for sight of your face, sound of your voice, touch of your hand! I did not mean to say this to you," he broke off, suddenly; "but for five years I have been as the starving, as one dying of thirst! The draught may have much bitterness in it, but I will cool my fevered lips. As for that other, to whom you belong—"

She lifted her shaking hand to silence him.

"My husband has been dead two years," she said, softly.

Grant uttered a low cry.

"And for two years you have been free! Why did I not know! Why did you not send me word to come to you? Did you forget? Did you not want me?"

Her eyes fell, and the laces rose hurriedly over her heart.

"I did not know you would care to come."

"Oh, Inez! But now—now that fate has brought us together? Will we part again, my beloved?"

"Not unless you will it so," she whispered. "I loved you then! I strove against it, Heaven knows! But I have loved you ever since!"

"I Don't Want Relief, But Cure," is the exclamation of thousands suffering from catarrh. To all such we say: Catarrh can be cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It has been done in thousands of cases; why not in yours? Your danger is in delay. Enclose a stamp to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for pamphlet on this disease.

—Tourist—"I thought some extensive improvements in Central park had been projected." Proud New Yorker—"That's so: they were; on a most magnificent scale." Tourist—"Why were they never carried out?" Native—"Oh, the rest of the country wouldn't subscribe the money."

—Old Mr. Bently—"I see that at the base ball game yesterday the home club put in its strongest battery." Old Mrs. Bently—"You don't tell me. I wonder what they'll do with electricity next?"

Assistant Engineer H. C. Baughman has been granted sick leave for six months.

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., can be cured in less time, with less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

A four-story frame building and a two-story machine shop, both unoccupied, in Jersey City, N. J., fell Nov. 25th, burying in the ruins a large number of persons, mostly boys and girls, who were engaged in tearing the tenement house down. Four children were killed, and a number of others, and several adults, wounded.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Gen. John Eaton, commissioner of education, on Nov. 25th tendered his resignation to President Cleveland, to take effect on the appointment of his successor, Gen. Eaton resigns to accept the presidency of a college.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 18th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

THE CENTURY CO., NEW YORK.

AN IMAGINARY HELL.

Mr. Frank Morley, of Waterbury, Ct., is the possessor of a breezy and picturesque style of writing, which shows that he has missed his avocation if he is not an ink-slinger on some Connecticut paper that dares to call a spade a spade. He has lately been the victim of neuralgia at his home, 89 Grand street, and describes the disease and his cure in this lively fashion:

"After suffering all the terrors of an imaginary orthodox hell for two weeks with inflammatory rheumatism and daily growing worse, I was induced to try Athlophoros. The effect was like magic. I was relieved immediately and would like to say to all who are suffering with the dread disease, 'Don't wait; try Athlophoros.'"

Those who have suffered from inflammatory rheumatism will appreciate the force of Mr. Morley's remarks, and will also agree with the estimate which Mr. George L. Pease, another citizen of Waterbury, puts upon the value of Athlophoros:

"I would have Athlophoros," he says, "if I had to pay ten dollars a dose for it. After fourteen years of intense suffering it has done for me what our best physicians could not do. During that time I took every known medicine for neuralgia of the stomach, but found no relief at all until I took Athlophoros. The effect was wonderful. All pain disappeared and my general health was so much improved as to cause general comment. I cannot speak too highly of the merits of Athlophoros, and cheerfully recommend it to all who may be troubled with rheumatism or neuralgia."

From Pigeon Cove, Mass., Susannah Brown sends these words of good cheer to those afflicted with neuralgia:

"I had been troubled with neuralgia in my head for four or five years, day and night. Seeing an advertisement of Athlophoros in a Gloucester paper, I thought I would try it and so I sent a year ago for some. I have taken eight bottles and since last March I have had no neuralgia at all. My head, I think, is entirely well. I consider Athlophoros a great remedy for neuralgia and shall recommend it to any one troubled with it."

Mrs. Sarah J. Cross, of Monroe, N.H., says of her experience:

"Athlophoros has done wonderful cures for myself and all those who have used any that I let them have. As for myself the rheumatism is a thing of the past to me, and I feel like a new person."

"When I first tried Athlophoros," says Mrs. Mary T. Hart, of Farmington, Ct., "I was so afflicted with rheumatism in my knees that they were badly swollen, and I suffered a great deal of pain. Three doses began to have an effect, and when I had used two bottles the pain left and the swelling and stiffness disappeared and have never returned. About a year later my shoulder troubled me. One bottle of Athlophoros cured that and I have not had rheumatism since. I recommended its use to one or two neighbors, who tried it and were relieved."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will sent it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

OUR NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

FURS, OUT-DOOR GARMENTS, WEDDING DRESSES, DECEMBER NOTES.

FURS.

The chief novelty in furs is a short mantelet of sealskin, usually bordered by beaver or some other soft brown fur. Again we find the fur-lined circular, which describes a veritable circle in fashion, and this year encloses us in as welcome an embrace as ever. Long sealskin cloaks are gladly worn by those who can afford them, but there is a coquettishness in the seal mantelet that commends itself to the young, to say nothing of an advantageous showing of a costume too pretty to be hidden. There is, too, a complement of brocaded cloaks with fur borders, while many of the stylish cloth cloaks are fur-bordered. Fur trimmings, indeed, are extremely fashionable. They can hardly be misplaced. Costumes are finished by them, and what seems incredible, even pale evening toilettes are now and then fur-adorned. Not more unsuitable than the dark tan, undressed gloves which are worn with the most delicate evening toilettes, yet this idea has held sway these several years, and is now as much as ever in vogue. Mink fur comes up with great prestige from its long obscurity. Old capes and huge old muffs are pulled down and out and made up into very small muffs and collarettes of to-day. Mink is the favorite border, while happy is the owner of a mink-lined circular.

OUT-DOOR GARMENTS.

For the youthful, there is a run upon jackets. Chiefly of cloth, and tight, with severe military fit and high collar. On many of these jackets the enormous metal buttons of the day shine with peculiar effect. They are as large as individual butter-plates, and to see a small person carrying a number of them, is sometimes quite absurd. On the cloth redingotes of the day they are stylish enough, especially when worn by a tall, slender woman, but when glittering obtrusively on the stout, they are as misplaced as when in too great numbers they seem to weigh down a petite. The mention of cloth redingotes brings up a topic of much importance and variety. Chiefly of colored cloth, these garments have great prestige; among colors, a dull red is greatly liked, while for jackets worn by young people, this redness loses much of dullness, becomes bright, and may be trimmed by gilt braid and military buttons. Bright green is another color in favor with the young. We see bright green jackets, and hear of equally bright green cloth costumes in preparation.

WEDDING DRESSES.

June in the spring, November in the fall, are the times set apart for weddings. Brides like these months, because the demi-saison is past, and their trousseaux can be one thing or the other. No expensive or inconvenient mixing up of thin and thick apparel. The months of July and December, then, are set apart as honeymoons; beaming hope only on the newly married, who, with confidence amazing, venture on a life-drawing of lottery tickets, far more uncertain than the Louisanna lottery, since blind Cupid is a poor substitute for Gens. Beauregard and Early, who watch with Argus eyes. In the way of material, we find plush, silver brocade or heavy satin most used, while as to trimming, there is no rival to fine lace. Both plush and silver brocade are too thick or too pronounced to be made up alone. They need an offsetting of satin; but satin, though often touched up by either of the first-named fabrics, can appropriately form an entire wedding dress, with some draping of costly lace, and the gentle fall of the tulle veil from above. A new kind of moire is now, too, sometimes employed for the bridal toilette. A style whereon is depicted successive ripplings, such as we note when a stone is thrown in the water. This fabric likewise should be combined with plain satin.

DECEMBER NOTES.

Evening toilettes are constantly made with very low necks, often no sleeves, and much in favor is a waist, pointed back and front, to which a loosely draped skirt is attached with deep old-time French gathers. Satin brocade has a certain favor, but the introduction of plush, velvet brocade, moire silks and frise combinations, whether striped or floral, has interfered with its use. Drapery hangs much more loosely and in larger pieces than formerly, with very full back breadths.

Evening fans are of gauze, hand-painted, or frequently with mixture of tinsel in satin. Cream white, light tan, pearl, pale lemon or putty shades are in better taste than dark tan for gloves. But the glove must meet or almost meet the sleeve, and where the sleeve is very short or entirely wanting, the glove is astonishingly long.

Sleeves may reach to the elbows with fall of lace, and necks may be close and high. Then we see many square and many heart shaped necks. Trains are more worn by those who do not dance than those who do. LUCY CARTER.

How often is the light of the household clouded by signs of melancholy or irritability on the part of the ladies. Yet they are not to be blamed, for they are the result of ailments peculiar to that sex, which men know not of. But the cause may be removed and joy restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," which, as a tonic and nervine for debilitated women, is certain, safe and pleasant. It is beyond all compare the great healer of women.

—The first "weather" report—thunder.

Those sharp pains in the small of the back and around the hips will quickly go after you apply a Hop Plaster. Ladies, pay attention to this. 25c.

—There was a man once on a time, who thought him wondrous wise. He swore by all the fabled gods he'd never advertise. But the goods were advertised ere long, and thereby hangs a tale. The "ad," was set in nonpareil, and headed "Sheriff's Sale."

Many persons are using Ely's Cream Balm, a catarrh remedy, with most satisfactory results. A lady is recovering the sense of smell which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber has used it in his family and recommends it very highly. A Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness.—Pittson, Pa., Gazette. Not a liquid or snuff. 50 cents.

—A wise saw—a saw of which all the teeth are wisdom teeth.

For Washing Clothing, and all laundry and cleansing purposes, James Pyle's Pearline is a favorite compound. Does not injure the fabrics, and saves a great deal of labor. Sold by grocers.

The butcher does have some funny expressions; he told his assistant the other day to break the bones in Mr. Williams' chops, and put Mr. Smith's ribs in the basket for him, and tell Mrs. Black to take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for her cold.

The partially decomposed body of Chapin Marden, light keeper at Owl's Head in Lake Memphremagog, was found in bed at the light station Nov. 26th. The appearances indicated that death occurred two weeks previous. Navigation had been suspended, and the absence of the lights was not noticed.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents.

The Presidential Succession.

The death of Vice President Hendricks at a time when there is neither a president pro tempore of the senate nor a speaker of the house of representatives brings home to the people so forcibly the defects in the existing law for the succession that Congress will probably feel compelled to take immediate steps to provide against a similar contingency in future. As the law now stands, if President Cleveland were to die to-day there would be no one with authority to act in his place, nor could there be until the assembling of Congress on Monday next. The law which was intended to provide for the succession, and which is still in force, was passed in 1793, and reads:

In case of removal, death, resignation or inability of both the president and vice president of the United States, the president of the senate, or, if there is none, then the speaker of the house of representatives for the time being, shall act as president until the disability is removed or a president elected.

It may be worth while to observe in passing that the president pro tem. of the senate, if there were one, would not be vice president. It will be noted that the law above quoted declares that in case of the death or removal of both president and vice president then the president of the senate or speaker of the house shall act as president, but omits to declare that in case of the death of the vice president either of those officers shall act as vice president.

Hence, if President Cleveland lives there will be no vice president of the United States until March 4th, 1889.

Mr. Hendricks is the fifth vice president to die in office. The others were George Clinton and Elbridge Gerry, both in the administrations of President Madison, William R. King in the administration of President Pierce, and Henry Wilson in the second term of President Grant. Four times the country has stood with but one life between it and an interregnum, and the warning has been emphasized sufficiently to leave no excuse for the neglect of Congress.

The War in Burmah.

The latest advices from Rangoon, India, say the British expedition reached Nyeenyan on Nov. 25th, and proceeded for Mandalay the same evening. The Madras sappers, supported by the Hampshire regiment, gallantly scaled the earth-works at Pagan, and the enemy bolted into the jungle.

It was reported in London on Nov. 27th that King Theebaw had abandoned the capital, Mandalay, and sought refuge on Chinese soil, rather than await the arrival of the British army of invasion. It is not believed that Theebaw will be allowed to remain long in Chinese territory. It is said that he will be handed over to Earl Dufferin, and be sent into exile in some remote British possession. The British troops were before Mandalay.

Woods' Railway Law.

Mr. H. G. Wood of Boston, who for many years was attorney for a leading railway in New York state, has prepared a treatise on the law of railroads which is published in three volumes by Charles C. Soule of Boston.

The book is not like the ancient law books which gave the views of a writer, however distinguished as a jurist, with an occasional authority sustaining his positions, but treats of topics peculiar to the class of railway corporations with the gists of cases by way of illustration. This, of course, makes the pages to largely consist of notes of decisions, the selection of which required the writer to examine many thousand cases, from which he has eliminated the doctrine, and given it to his readers in copious notes. The volumes are subdivided into thirty-three chapters, extending from the inception of a corporation, and including the construction of the railway, injuries, carriage of passengers and freights, leases, legislation, contracts, — indeed, the multifarious questions so frequently presenting themselves in railway law, are fully discussed.

The book is an important one, not only to judges and practicing lawyers, but to railway shareholders and managers, as well as to bondholders and investors and dealers in railway securities. Its subjects are well classified, so that the layman, as well as the lawyer, by aid of its index, can easily obtain information concerning the latest-announced law relative to the subject matter in which he may have an interest.

Farm Laws.

An interesting book written by Mr. Henry Austin is being printed by the University Press, Cambridge, Mass., entitled "Farm Laws." It includes the legal rights and liabilities of farmers, and among the subjects are chapters on Real Property; Landlord and Tenant; Fences and Boundaries; Public and Private Ways; Riparian Rights; Crops and Timber; Domestic Animals, including warranty of same; The Farmer and his Laborer; A digest of the Game and Fish laws throughout the United States, and many other chapters of interest. The book will be about four hundred pages, and Mr. Austin has collected over a thousand cases decided in almost every state in the Union, for the use of lawyers, which appear in the notes to each page. The well known law publisher of Boston, Charles C. Soule, No. 26 Pemberton square, will have charge of its sale. Mr. Austin is a graduate of Harvard college, a member of the Massachusetts bar, and of the District and Circuit courts of the United States. He has written many legal articles for the leading magazines, and his publisher predicts a large sale of his new law book.

Mayor O'Brien of Boston was on Friday renominated by the democratic caucus, having 190 votes to forty-three for Alderman Whitten.

The old ship Cornelius Grinnell, transformed into a coal barge and having on board 1600 tons of coal, was abandoned by the tug America on Nov. 23d, while on the trip from Norfolk, Va., to New London, Conn., the wind and sea having rendered her unmanageable. The tug was barely able to make a harbor, and the barge undoubtedly foundered with all on board, four men.

The latest Cairo, Egypt, news is to the effect that 800 rebels have appeared before Koshay, which is garrisoned by the First Battalion of the Cameron Highlanders and a battalion of black troops.

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Of course the great number of democratic editors and prominent managers in the party were far better satisfied with Mr. Hendricks' views upon the spoils system than with Mr. Cleveland's professional ideas upon civil service reform. Occasionally in expression of their appreciation of the dead vice president, in the columns of democratic papers, a gentle but unmistakable rap is administered to the president. One paper however, in Indiana, admits that the party is beginning "to realize that the president will not be driven from his position by the spoils statesmen with dry mouths and yawning lungs, and not much of anything else."

BURGLAR CAUGHT.

A man giving the name of Charles Douglass, was arrested about 10:20 P. M. Saturday evening, by officers Hobbs and Quinn for breaking and entering the store of George W. Plummer, on Congress street. When the officers arrived he was hard at work trying to open the money drawer.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH NUISANCE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Thanksgiving Day, 1885.

Mr. Editor: Please allow me to enter a vigorous protest in your columns against the dangerous condition of the sidewalk adjacent to the Baptist church on Middle street, during winter weather. One water spout of the church is broken off six feet above the pavement, and delivers its water on the heads of unlucky passers-by, while the other, though running to the ground, pours its stream over their feet. This is bad enough in summer; but now that this water will soon form slippery sheets of ice it becomes exceedingly dangerous for any one to pass that way. The conductors should be made to run beneath the sidewalk, and deliver water into the street. This nuisance is of long standing, and I have twice complained of it this autumn to the Reform City Government, but so far no relief has been afforded, nor is there evidence to show that anything has been done in the premises.

INDIGNANT SUFFERER.

Mr. Editor: I am glad to see that the attention of the mayor has been called to the serious annoyance caused by the winter's droppings from the eaves of the Middle street church. But what can the mayor do more than call the attention of the wardens to this long-complained-of nuisance? Every winter we have snow which has slipped from the roof, suffered to remain in heaps until frozen in irregular masses, making walking dangerous. Then in melting days the overflowing spout sprinkles the passing pedestrian. The truth is that the wardens do not appreciate the annoyance of every passer-by.

There is a similar annoyance from a leaky spout on a house in State street, between the Rockingham and the post-office. Dangerous ice-mounds form in front of the house, and every day when it thaws passers-by are struck by drops, but the owners seem to care not. Their eaves project, and the right to drop, drop, drop, seems to have become undisputed.

The location of the Middle street church so near the street, with its overhanging eaves, is unfortunate. There ought to be some remedy for this evil, which in its effects often causes transgressive feelings which sometimes find utterance in expletives, the corruping influence of which under the very "droppings of the sanctuary" are, I fear, more potent for the wrong than can be all the pulpit oratory of the good Doctor in the opposite direction. ANABAPTIST.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The directors of the hospital very gratefully acknowledge the following donations: Four firkins, two preserve jars, three dozen clothes-pins, and a comforter, from a friend; 3 1-2 lbs. of coffee and two lbs. of tea, from Mr. H. C. Locke; six plates, six cups and saucers, cream pitcher and sugar basin, from Mrs. Frye, (at Mrs. Whipple's.)

Mr. John Pender in another column announces his readiness to place a moderate amount of insurance in the People's Fire Ins. Co. of Manchester and the Granite State Fire Ins. Co. of this city, on approved risks, application to be made at the National Block insurance agency, or by mail. As the amounts of risks to be taken are limited, property owners desiring reliable protection under the New Hampshire insurance laws will do well to be prompt in their applications.

The schooner Clyde came in on Sunday with 7000 lbs. of fish; she reports having lost twelve nets during the breeze of last week. Capt. Jim Burke came in on Sunday with the Franklin Schenck, from trawling, with 8000 lbs., and a quantity of crawm, such as bream and blackbacks, which are considered a great delicacy in the New York market; these catches were sold to Elvin Newton & Co., The Rambler, Capt. Isaac Pridham, came in with 4000 lbs. The cool weather has caused a slight advance in prices.

A brilliant meteoric display is reported as having been seen on Friday evening between seven and eight o'clock, by several people in this city.

See advertisement of watch lost, in another column.

Hereafter the admission to the Casino will be ten cents for the afternoon, twenty cents for the evening.

Mr. Moses Bennett has been appointed postmaster at South Berwick Junction.

The custom house building was draped in mourning on Saturday, in memory of Vice President Hendricks. The flags on the city building, the Liberty bridge pole, and many private flagstaffs, will be displayed at half-mast until after the funeral.

A hydraulic engineer from out of town was on Saturday engaged in boring along the line of the sewer on Deer street, where the deep cut is to be made, to locate the ledge as to its depth. Eight holes were put down, and the ledge found at an average distance of about eight feet from the surface.

On Wednesday, Nov. 25th, the day of the big storm and high tide, the water was two and one-half feet deep in the Eastern railroad tunnel at Salem, Mass., and fires in locomotives were extinguished as they passed through. Planks and other debris had to be fished out before trains went through, and crowds gathered at either entrance watching the swish and swirl of the water as it dashed upon the sides of locomotives. The 2:10 P. M. Danvers train was stopped by the water, but managed to get out, having on a good head of steam.

Engine Canterbury, attached to the up freight, due at Plymouth at 4:40 P. M. on Nov. 27th, jumped the track while drawing into the yard at Plymouth, and went over the bank. When it went over, the engineer, Worcester Dearborn, jumped from the engine and was struck immediately by the tender, and instantly killed. The deceased resided at Concord, where he leaves a wife and one child. He was about thirty-five years old, and a member of Chocorua lodge of Odd Fellows of Lake Village.

Hon. Frank Jones and Mr. Josiah H. Morrison arrived home by the Pullman train on Saturday night. Mr. Jones' health has been greatly improved during his absence in Europe.

Thirteen joiners and one joiner's laborer were discharged from the construction department at the navy yard on Saturday evening.

Read what the people say concerning the ability of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to cure asthma, catarrh, croup, colds, etc. Mrs. Dora Koch of Buffalo, says: "For croup it is decidedly efficacious." [Mrs. Jacob Mellinor of Marion, Ohio, says the same thing.] S. S. Graves, Akron, N. Y., writes: "Had asthma of the worst kind, took one dose of Thomas' Eclectric Oil and was relieved in a few minutes. Would walk five miles for this medicine and pay $5 a bottle for it." Druggist C. R. Hall, Grayville, Ill., says: "Cured an ulcerated throat for me in twenty-four hours." "Sat up in bed and coughed till the clothing was wet with perspiration. My wife insisted that I use Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The first teaspoonful RELIEVED me." E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, N. Y., Thomas' Eclectric Oil is also a Tip-Top external application for rheumatism, cuts, scalds, burns, bites, bruises, etc. When visiting the druggist, ask him what he knows of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; if he has been long in the drug trade, he will be sure he will speak highly of it.

Worked Wonders.

City of Portsmouth.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE, Nov. 27th, 1885.

The attention of owners and occupants of buildings or lands having sidewalks adjoining, is respectfully called to Sections 3 and 4 of Chapter 16, Revised Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

Sec. 3. The occupants, or, if unoccupied, the owners, of all the buildings and lands situate within the city, shall keep the sidewalks adjoining their respective premises in all cases where a sidewalk has been or may be constructed, free from snow, by causing the snow to be removed into the street, and evenly spread, and when any of said sidewalks are covered with ice, so as to make the passing dangerous, said owners or occupants shall spread over said sidewalk ashes, sand or salt in such a manner as to prevent the same from being dangerous, within six hours after the cessation of every fall thereof, or when the snow shall have blown or drifted upon the sidewalk by the wind. The time herein allowed for the performance of the work to be computed from sunrise the succeeding morning, whenever the fall of snow shall have ceased in the night time.

Sec. 4. Any person disregarding or offending against the provisions of this ordinance, shall, upon conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each and every offence, with costs of prosecution; and it shall be the duty of the city marshal, under the counsel and direction of the mayor, to cause this chapter to be enforced.

CHARLES W. NORTON, City Marshal.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

Palma Sola possesses the largest store in Southern Florida, with sawmill, lath and shingle manufactory, packing houses, warehouses, churches, school house, postoffice, stores, beautiful residences, and a large wharf at which ocean steamers arrive daily from Tampa.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1 Q:$300 fr $45 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep incoming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY: LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $4.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure prompt ness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

"I was most ready to return a blow and would not break at all this sort of thing," for I knew I could cure all damages with Salvation Oil.

—A juvenile New Yorker visiting in South Boston was shown the other day a building which had been moved from City Point to another portion of the peninsula by means of floats. He was much interested in the matter, and after apparently exhausting the fund of information to be obtained by questioning, was silent for a moment. Then suddenly one more question suggested itself to him—"How did they get the cellar around?"

Smart Weed and Belladonna combined with the other ingredients used in the best porous plasters make Carter's S. W. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

—A man went into the country on a recent Sunday for a walk. He carried his overcoat on his arm, but finding it burdensome, hung it on a fence. Taking a card from his pocket he wrote: "Do not touch this coat; infected with small pox." He came back two hours later and found the card, upon which was written, underneath his warning, "Thanks for the coat; I've had small-pox."

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave constipation. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, impotence, sexual debility. $1.

A Paris dispatch says that Premier Bussin has announced that the government intends to establish a poll tax and an opium tax in Tonquin in order to defray the cost of the occupation of that country.

"Rough on Pain."

Cures colic, cramps, diarrhœa; externally for aches, pains, sprains, headache, neuralgia, rheumatism. For man or beast. 20 and 50c.

Rev. Dr. Smith, president of Trinity college, has decided to decline the position of bishop of Easton, Md., to which he was recently elected.

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

The brig Mattie Brussels, from Philadelphia for Portland, Me., with coal, was seen disabled and apparently nearly waterlogged off the Jersey coast on Nov. 27th, but owing to the great gale and sea the life-saving crews could do nothing. She was last seen drifting down the coast, gradually nearing the land, and is supposed to have been lost with her crew of six men.

Not a Single Gray Hair.

"You may laugh and think me a vain thing," writes Mrs. J. R. C., of San Francisco, to a friend in this city, "but I have not a gray hair in my head, and yet (sad to say) I am fifty and a day. Recently my hair was not only quite gray but quite thin, too. Parker's Hair Balsam—made in New York, I think—did wonders for me. Try it if you have occasion. It really does what I say, and restores the color also." Not a dye, not greasy, highly perfumed. Only reliable 50c. dressing.

At Norwich, Conn., Nov. 27th, John Grey, a Scotch mill operative, aged twenty-two, attempted to murder his wife and then kill himself. He fired four shots, and made a flesh wound on the right side of his wife's head, and also one on the right side of his own chin. He was arrested. The couple had been married ten months. Cause of shooting, whiskey and jealousy.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too! Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and refusing or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly co-operate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly-increasing nuisance.

Littell's Living Age.

IN 1886, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its forty-third year, having met with continuous commendation and success.

A WEEKLY MAGAZINE, it gives fifty-two numbers of sixty-four pages each, or more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a completeness nowhere else attempted,

The best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Serial and Short Stories, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature, and from the pens of the

FOREMOST LIVING WRITERS,

The ablest and most cultivated intellects, in every department of Literature, Science, Politics, and Art, find expression in the Periodical Literature of Europe, and especially of Great Britain.

The Living Age, forming four large volumes a year, furnishes, from the great and generally inaccessible mass of this literature, the only compilation that, while within the reach of all, is satisfactory in the COMPLETENESS with which it embraces whatever is of immediate interest, or of solid, permanent value.

It is therefore indispensable to every one who wishes to keep pace with the events or intellectual progress of the time, or to cultivate in himself or his family general intelligence and literary taste.

OPINIONS.

"It does not too much to say that with THE LIVING AGE one commands the whole field of current literary activity; and it has never been so bright, so comprehensive, so diversified in interest as it is to-day."—Boston Traveller.

"It has now for many years held the first place of all our serial publications. There is nothing noteworthy in science, art, literature, biography, philosophy, or religion, that cannot be found in it. Politics nearly all the good literature of the time."—The Churchman, New York.

"Nearly the whole world of authors and writers appears in it in their best moods. The reader is kept well abreast of the current thought of the age."—Boston Journal.

"It may be truthfully and cordially said that it never offers a dry or valueless page."—New York Tribune.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

Dr. James D. Bragg, a druggist and physician of the old school, residing at 271 East Main St., Bridgeport, Connecticut, is full of praise for Athlophoros. This is what he has to say:

"I have been a resident of this city for ten years and am conversant with the prevailing diseases in this section. None is so common as rheumatism and neuralgia. During the fall season I have a busy practice with neuralgia and rheumatic patients, and I prescribe Athlophoros with unparalelled success. It is a perfectly safe medicine, and so pure that a baby can take it."

One of the happiest men in Maine nowadays is William Sawyer, of West Hampden, Penobscot county. Mr. Sawyer is a butcher, long and favorably known in his county, and that he has abundant cause for his happiness will appear from the following statement.

"I was sick last fall with rheumatism," he says, "and a lady sent me word to try Athlophoros. I did so. When I got the medicine the minister was at my house. At four o'clock it took him and two others to get me up off the bed. I took the Athlophoros and in less than two hours one man got me off the bed and in ten hours I got off alone, and in eighteen hours my fever had all gone. I have recommended the medicine to three others that were not so badly off as I was and it worked like a charm. I tell the doctors that I will bet fifty dollars that I can cure any rheumatism fever, I don't care how bad, in twenty hours with one bottle of Athlophoros. I am a butcher going around all over the country and I have to tell this story sometimes ten times a day. I wouldn't be without Athlophoros, and carry it with me all the time."

"I wish to say a word in praise of Athlophoros," says E. J. Flood, of Oxford, Me. "I was taken with rheumatism last May and was treated by my family doctor for some time without relief. I then tried every other rheumatic cure I could hear of with the same result. Some five weeks ago I by chance learned of Athlophoros. I bought a bottle and began taking it and in less than twenty-four hours I could walk without a cane and suffered no pain. I have taken two bottles and to-day I am able to do a hard day's work. I consider it the greatest rheumatic remedy ever known. Since I have been cured I have had a number of people come to me to ask what I took to cure me. To-day I have had three ladies from a distance of six miles to hear about the great remedy. There are three persons in my village that are now using it with the happiest results."

Mrs. Charles H. Gifford, of Lincoln Centre, Me., says:

"I cannot express my thanks for the benefit I have received from the use of one bottle of Athlophoros. I inherited rheumatism from my mother, who suffered untold agony until her death. My father spent hundreds of dollars to get help for her and found none. I have tried many different remedies, but never got any relief to speak of from them, except from Athlophoros, which I can truly say has helped me. I wish to get a few more bottles, so that I can let some of my suffering friends have some."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

"Consumption Cure"

would be a truthful name to give to Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," the most efficacious medicine yet discovered for arresting the early development of pulmonary disease. But "consumption cure" would not sufficiently indicate the scope of its influence and usefulness. In all the many diseases which spring from a derangement of the liver and blood the "Discovery" is a safe and sure specific. Of all druggists.

A. W. Tompkins, M. D., 167 Clinton Place, New York, writes June 2, 1883: "In many of those insidious diseases of the brain and spinal cord, where local stimulation must be obtained, and where liniments, blisters and various applications fail, marked relief from pain can be obtained, and the patient greatly benefitted, by placing strips of Allcock's Porous Plasters over the spinal cord, from base of brain to end of spine. In all cases of spinal irritation, weakness or nervous prostration, I recommend Allcock's Porous Plasters."

The road across Pleasant beach, Cohasset, Mass., was badly washed by the sea last week. The high tide makes the road impassable for vehicles or foot travel.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too! Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

A life of indolent ease and sensuality, the use of highly seasoned animal food, and alcoholic drinks are the predisposing causes of gout. When aware of its presence in the system lose no time in procuring Salvation Oil. It kills pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Ensign W. J. Maxwell is ordered to the fish commission steamer Fish Hawk.

After Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrated. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

Ensigns E. Simpson, Jr., and Miles C. Gorges are detached from duty on the coast survey, and ordered to the Despatch.

When you find United States senators and congressmen publicly endorsing Red Star Cough Cure, you may rest assured that they have had satisfactory personal experience of its virtues.

Statistics of the Life-Saving Service.

The annual report of Sumner I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life-saving service, shows that at the close of the last fiscal year the establishment embraced 203 stations. The number of disasters to vessels during the year was 256, having on board 2206 persons, of whom 2196 were saved. The number of shipwrecked persons who received succor at the stations was 568. The estimated value of the vessels involved in these disasters was $3,519,550, and of their cargoes $1,084 905. Of the total amount $3,352,760 was saved and $1,251,695 lost. The number of vessels totally lost was fifty-six.

In addition to the foregoing there were during the year 115 casualties to smaller craft, such as sailboats, rowboats, etc., on which were 233 persons, 232 of whom were saved. The property involved in these instances is estimated at $28,925, of which $26,823 was saved. There were thirty-seven persons rescued who had fallen from wharves, piers, etc., and who would have perished without the help of the life-saving crews.

The total loss of life within the scope of the service the past year was the smallest ever recorded since its general extension, except in the year 1880, when but nine persons were lost. Since that time, however, the field of operation has been greatly enlarged by the addition of twenty-four stations.

The assistance rendered in saving vessels and cargoes during the past year was larger than any previous year, except the last preceding. 366 vessels having been worked off when stranded, repaired when damaged, piloted out of dangerous places and similarly assisted by the station crews. There were, besides, 204 instances where vessels running into danger of stranding in the night were warned off by the signals of the patrol.

The following gives a summary of the service statistics from the introduction of the present system in 1871 to the close of the fiscal year. The loss of life as stated below includes 183 lost at the wrecks of the Huron and Metropolis, which are really not chargeable to the service:

Number of disasters, 2918; property involved, $51,763,694; property saved, $36,277,929; property lost, $15,485,765; persons involved, 25,693; persons saved, 25,236; persons lost, 457; persons succored at stations, 4829. Deducting from the number of lives given above the loss at the wrecks of the Huron and Metropolis, there is presented the remarkable exhibit of only 274 lives lost within the scope of the service during the fourteen years embraced by the statement.

Miss Mary Steele of Castleton, Vt., aged fifty-four years, was found dead on a lounge in her home on Saturday afternoon last, under circumstances indicating that she had been brutally murdered. Her brother, Guy Steele, who recently returned to Castleton from this city, and had been drunk ever since his return, has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the murder. He was for some time employed on the big sewer by Mr. Shanahan, and on Nov. 12th was before the Portsmouth police court under the name of George Steele, and fined $9.90 for drunkenness.

Ira A. Moody of Medfield, Mass., aged about fifty-six years, was found dead in his bed Nov 28th. Mr. Moody was stationed at Fort Constitution, Newcastle, as boss blacksmith during the war.

The regular monthly test of the fire alarm apparatus will be made Wednesday afternoon, from one o'clock to four; and all persons, the firemen in particular, will please govern themselves accordingly.

The three o'clock train from the eastward, Saturday afternoon, was considerably behind time, owing to the engine breaking down between Conway Junction and Eliot. A locomotive was sent from this city, but that too gave out partially, though it managed after a time to bring in the train.

In the report of a recent wedding, and the list of customary presents, printed in a Massachusetts paper, presents of money in small sums are scheduled, though none under five dollars are allowed honorable mention.

Advices received from Little Rock, Ark., say that articles of association of the Kansas & Arkansas Valley railroad company were filled on Friday last in the secretary of state's office; capital stock, $8,000,000. It is proposed to build a railroad from the western terminus of the Little Rock & Fort Smith railroad, near Buren, Ark., through the Indian territory to a point near Arkansas City, on the Arkansas river, the main line and branches to be 320 miles. Among the incorporators are Elisha Atkins, F. Gordon Dexter and C. W. Huntington, of Boston; E. H. Winchester of Portsmouth, N. H.; R. T. Wilson of New York; John G. Fletcher, John D. Adams, George W. Hughes and Henry Wood of Little Rock.

James Coffey, a milkman, while on the Ash street crossing of the Worcester & Nashua railroad at Nashua on Nov. 29th, with his milk team, was struck by a shifting engine and instantly killed. The horse escaped.

The funeral of Worcester W. Dearborn, the locomotive engineer who was killed at Plymouth on Friday evening of last week, took place in the Universalist church at Concord on Sunday afternoon, Rev. A. P. Rein officiating. There was a large attendance of railroad men and Odd Fellows.

Nov. 29.—President Cleveland has yielded to the urgent requests of friends and public men, and will remain in the city and not attend the funeral of Mr. Hendricks. The secretaries of state, navy and interior and the postmaster general will leave for Indianapolis Monday morning. A full senatorial committee will also attend the funeral service.

The republican senators propose to hold a caucus on Saturday next to nominate one of their number for president pro tem. of the senate.

The superintendent of the life saving service reports that the loss of life the past year within the scope of the service is the smallest ever reached since the general extension, except in 1880.

Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury called on the president Saturday, and talked with him about the proposed new treaty with Great Britain respecting the fisheries.

Ther will be two of the Breckinridge family of Kentucky, members of the forty-ninth congress. One, Clifton B. Breckinridge of Arkansas, is a son, and the other, C. C. P. Breckinridge of Kentucky is a cousin of the late Vice President and senator John C. Breckinridge. The latter is a man of great ability and as an orator has but few superiors. His friends predict for him a brilliant career in his new field of labor.

—A correspondent wishes to know what is the proper width of a frieze. Generally speaking, this matter is governed by the size of the man's ears.

Hon. Henry F. French, of Concord, Mass., died there suddenly Nov. 29th, aged seventy-three years. He was born at Chester, in this county, and for some years practiced law in this city. He was solicitor of Rockingham county about 1845, and judge of the court of common pleas in 1855. He was a democrat up to the time of the Kansas-Nebraska infamy in 1854, when he became a republican. He removed to Massachusetts during the civil war.

The bridge between Newington and Dover point was reopened for the passage of trains on Saturday evening last. The repairs made have been extensive, and the bridge is now good for years to come.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

A special meeting of the city councils was held on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, Mayor Eldredge in the chair, to take appropriate action in regard to the death of Vice President Hendricks, and the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The death of one, who, by an untiring endeavor to have the right prevail, by steadfast devotion to principle, and by unswerving honesty, has attained a position next to the highest in the gift of a great people, is not only a public loss to the nation but a personal loss to each citizen.

Resolved, That the city of Portsmouth, in common with the whole country, mourns the death of THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, Vice President of the United States, which occurred at his home on the twenty-fifth inst.; and by its City Councils, the city hereby gives public expression to its appreciation of the high character and worth of the late Vice President, and to its sense of the loss which the country and every citizen has sustained in his death.

Resolved, That we tender to the family and friends of the deceased our sympathy in their bereavement; and we recognize the fact that the country will be fortunate indeed, if he who may be chosen to perform the duties of vice president shall be equally honest, true and capable as he whose death we here commemorate.

It was voted that a copy of the resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, and that the citizens be requested to close their places of business from twelve o'clock, noon, to three o'clock P. M., on Tuesday, Dec. 1st; also that the bells of the city be tolled from twelve o'clock to two on the 1st.

It is hoped that all citizens will conform to the above request, and pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of the departed vice president.

MASONIC ELECTION.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's lodge of Masons was held on Monday evening, and officers elected for the ensuing year as follows:

John Tanton, W. M.;
Walter H. Page, S. W.;
Richard I. Walden, J. W.;
Wingate N. Ilsley, Treas.;
Samuel M. Joy, Sec.;
John Christie, John Pender, standing committee;
Lemuel T. Davis, representative to the grand lodge.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, Nov. 30th.

Chas. Douglass was charged with breaking and entering the store of George W. Plumer, on the corner of Congress and Fleet streets, between ten and eleven o'clock Saturday night. The credit for Douglass' capture is due largely to the courage and self possession of Miss Mary Plumer, who having discovered that there was a man in the store, which is in a part of their dwelling, notified her mother, refused to allow her father to be awakened, and hastened to the police station with the report. Officer Hobbs, captain of the night watch, accompanied her back, and through the window could dimly discern, by the light of a street light, a man endeavoring to open the money drawer. Officers Quinn (fire police) and Wendell came along, and the former was sent into the house by the rear while the other was stationed at the corner, Mr. Hobbs entering by the side door on Fleet street. As Mr. Quinn entered the burglar ran, but fell in the hall in front of Mr. Hobbs, and was at once taken with a fit. He was conveyed to the station and searched, and again went off in a fit, which lasted a good part of the night. He got into the store by breaking a window in the rear of the house, and passing through, and was working at the drawer with a case-knife when disturbed. He pleaded guilty to the charge, and was held in $500 for his appearance at the April term of the supreme court. In default of bail he was committed to jail. He came out of jail on Saturday, having served a term there for stealing clothing. It is said he is a graduate of the state prison.

Frank Lamprey, a tinsmith who has been at work in this city a couple of months, was arrested at the railroad station Sunday afternoon as he was about to take the train for Boston, he having on an overcoat and pair of gloves belonging to Joseph Freeman. In court he entered a plea of guilty, and was held in $400 for the April term. Jail in default of sureties.

Robert Harrington, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90, and paid up.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

On Monday all the navy yard workmen were notified that there would be no work on the yard on Tuesday, the 1st inst., on account of the funeral of Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks taking place that day.

At the Norfolk navy yard orders have been received in the construction department to make no discharges of workmen hereafter for want of money. If there is work to do the hands are to be kept at work until money is provided.

Congressman Lovering of Massachusetts has replied to the petition of Charlestown men asking for the reopening of the navy yard there, that he desires and expects that the yard will be opened at no very distant day, but despairs of it for the coming winter.

A stalwart democratic paper of Virginia says: "Our Norfolk and Portsmouth [Va.] friends are agitated over the employment of twenty colored laborers in the navy yard at Gosport to the exclusion of white laborers, and the powers at Washington seem to be held responsible for it. The reason for the action of the authorities is not given to the public, but it is whispered in private that the negroes employed at the yard are of the democratic persuasion, and that their employment is given as the reward of public partisan service in the late campaign, —which is legitimate in politics and a logical outgrowth of stalwart democracy. If the negroes did good and faithful service in the campaign we can see no good reason for complaint at their employment on the public works under a democratic administration." The democrats, however, insist that the blank men of color are well enough for voting material when they vote the democratic ticket, (and very many of them in some states are allowed to vote no other,) but when it comes to taking them on the navy yard, as Capt. Corcoran remarked, "Why, darn it, it's too bad."

William H. Rollins, Esq., president of the Portsmouth savings bank, has arrived home from a trip to Indiana in the interest of the bank, his mission having been successful.

One of the tide gates of the north pond has gone altogether, and the other is swinging at will, both ways. The pond was almost wholly bare at low tide on Monday afternoon, a crooked thread of water not over fifteen feet wide being all that could be seen for most of the pond's length.

Capt. Joseph Swett of Cape Neddick, a well known ship master in this vicinity, having commanded the schooners T. J. Trafton and Clara E. Simpson of this port, was found dead in his bed Saturday morning.

The mission band connected with the Middle street Sunday school will give an entertainment in the church vestry on State street, Wednesday evening, Dec. 2d. The entertainment will consist of musical selections, recitations etc., by the scholars.

CONSTIPATION!

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by Constipation, and there is no other ill flesh is heir to more apt to be neglected, from the fact material inconvenience may not be immediately felt from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing piles, fistula, headache, impure blood and many other serious affections. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will immediately relieve, and one bottle positively cure or relieve any case of Constipation.

City of Portsmouth.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE, Nov. 27th, 1885.

The attention of owners and occupants of buildings or lands having sidewalks adjoining, is respectfully called to Sections 3 and 4 of Chapter 14, Revised Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

Sec. 3. The occupants, or, if unoccupied, the owners, of all the buildings and lands situate within the city, shall keep the sidewalks adjoining their respective premises, in all cases where a sidewalk has been or may be constructed, free from snow, by causing the snow to be removed into the street, and evenly spread, and when any or said sidewalks are covered with ice, so as to make the passing dangerous, said owners or occupants shall spread over said sidewalk ashes, sand or salt in such a manner as to prevent the same from being dangerous, within six hours after the cessation of every fall thereof, or when the snow shall have blown or drifted upon the sidewalk by the wind. The time herein allowed for the performance of the work to be computed from sunrise the succeeding morning, whenever the fall of snow shall have ceased in the night time.

Sec. 4. Any person disregarding or offending against the provisions of this ordinance, shall, upon conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each and every offence, with costs of prosecution; and it shall be the duty of the city marshal, under the counsel and direction of the mayor, to cause this chapter to be enforced.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and as soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 100x200 ft $45 to $200 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LOT with number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $1.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise checks will be sent C. O. D. MARBLE WORKS!

JOHN S. TREAT

THE OLDEST IN NEW ENGLAND.

COR. DEER AND VAUGHAN STS

NEAR E. R. R. DEPOT.

Having on hand the largest and best selected stock of this side of Boston, I would respectfully call your attention to the same, believing that in most cases it is better for persons about purchasing to see what they are buying than to buy of irresponsible agents with nice looking Photographs of Monumental work. Having a thorough knowledge of the business gained in the principal cities of the Union and still giving my personal attention, all will be satisfied who will give me a call, as to quality of work and prices.

Particular attention given to fencing cemetery lots with marble or granite posts or curbs.

TO ADVERTISERS.

It is coming winter and the Holidays will soon be here, and the attention of all Advertisers is called to the

New Hampshire Gazette!

As an advertising medium it presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to cus tomers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in York county Me., or in New Hampshire, will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants and out-of-town advertisers should bear in mind. The Grand Aims of Life

Are nullities to the chronic invalid. What to him are the rewards of ambition, the accumulation of fortune, or the fruition of domestic happiness? The zest of life is gone, its aims are dead. Well for him if all this is not irretrievable—if his malady is not of the deep seated organic sort which forbids hope of cure. For many of the ills to which flesh is heir, formerly supposed to be incurable, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a sovereign remedy. Among them are dyspepsia, chronic constipation, rheumatism, debility and nervousness. These are remediable with the grand restorative, which does the work throughly, striking at the root of the evils to the removal of which it is adapted. By insuring activity and purity of the circulation, inducing a healthy flow of the bile, and promoting a regular habit of body, it fortifies the system against malaria. It is also useful as a diuretic.

Lieutenant Commander Charles H. Davis is ordered from the Powhatan, and to report in person at the navy department at Washington.

Smart Weed and Belladonna combined with the other ingredients used in the best porous plasters make Carter's S. W. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

Father Sentenner, cure of Notre Dame church at Montreal, on Sunday last read a letter from Bishop Fabre, granting permission to all churches in the diocese to say mass for the repose of the soul of Louis Riel, provided no political demonstration was made.

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave constipation. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier

KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not let your Kidneys get out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. It will not cure lame back, or mercury, they are dead certainly. Place your trust in you are sick, no SULPHUR BITTERS, no matter what ails you, use the power and best medicine ever made. Sulphur Bitters!

Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Have you a bad taste in your Mouth, and are your bowels costive? Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or breath fond and are flat on your back, offended? You may then cry out, but get some at once. It will cure you. Sulphur stomach is out of order. Use Bitters is a cure for all SULPHUR BITTERS. The Invalid's Friend.

Immediately The young, the aged and infirm, the weak, suffering are soon made well by the use of SULPHUR BITTERS. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Don't Wait!

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Nov. 13th, 1885.

THE attention of all persons is called to Sections 10 and 11 of Chapter 17 of the Ordinances of the City, relating to the obstruction of streets, sidewalks and door steps by standing and collecting thereon; and the City Marshal and Police Officers are directed to enforce the same. The ordinance provides that all persons congregating upon the sidewalks or crosswalks, "and remaining or neglecting to move on immediately after a request so to do, made by the Mayor, the Marshal, or any Constable or Police Officer, shall each and severally on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than ten dollars."

It is hoped that all good citizens will gladly cooperate with the authorities in the endeavor to abate this rapidly increasing nuisance.

The signatures to the Caroline islands protocol by the Spanish ambassador and the German minister will be soon fixed. Spain has conceded the same advantages to England that she has given Germany, in return for which England is to recognize Spain's sovereignty over the Caroline and Pelew islands.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too! The body of Warren S. Yates, son of President Yates of the Nebraska national bank at Omaha, Neb., and a member of the junior class at Yale, who was blown out into the sound in an open boat while ducking off Stony Creek, Conn., on Thanksgiving day, was recovered on Saturday on the Long Island shore. His boat did not capsize, and his dead body, one ear and his gun were found in it when it came ashore. It is supposed that he died from fright and exposure.

Littell's Living Age.

IN 1885, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its forty-third year, having met with continuous commendation and success.

A WEEKLY MAGAZINE, it gives fifty-two numbers of sixty-four pages each, or more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents to an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a completeness nowhere else attempted,

Three and a Quarter Thousand

The best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Serial and Short Stories, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature, and from the pens of the

FOREMOST LIVING WRITERS.

The ablest and most cultivated intellects, in every department of Literature, Science, Politics, and Art, find expression in the Periodical Literature of Europe, and especially of Great Britain.

The Living Age, forming four large volumes a year, furnishes, from the great and generally inaccessible mass of this literature, the only compilation that, while within the reach of all, is satisfactory in the COMPLETENESS with which it embraces whatever is of immediate interest, or of solid, permanent value.

It is therefore indispensable to every one who wishes to keep pace with the events or intellectual progress of the time, or to cultivate in himself or his family general intelligence and literary taste.

OPINIONS.

"It is not too much to say that with THE LIVING AGE one commands the whole field of current literary activity; and it has never been so bright, so comprehensive, so diversified in interest as it is to-day."—Boston Transcript.

"It has now for many years held the first place of all our serial publications. There is nothing noteworthy in science, art, literature, biography, philosophy, or religion, that cannot be found in it. It contains nearly all the good literature of the time."—The Churchman, New York.

"Nearly the whole world of authors and writers appear in it in their best moods. The reader is kept well abreast of the current thought of the age."—Boston Courier.

"Among be truthfully and cordially said that it never offers a dry or valueless page."—New York Tribune.

"It enables its readers to keep fully abreast of the best thought and literature of activation."—Christian Advocate, Pittsburg.

"Biography, fiction, science, criticism, history, poetry, travels, whatever men are interested in, all are found here."—New Watchman, Boston.

"Taken as a whole, it is possible to be as well informed in current literature as by the perusal of no long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"In fact, a reader needing more than this one publication to keep him well a reast of English periodical literature."—Sunday School Times, Philadelphia.

"Foremost of the eclectic periodicals."—N. Y. World.

"In subscribing for it our readers will secure more for their investment than in any other way of which we are cognizant."—Iowa Churchman, Davenport.

LONGEVITY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Statistics show that New Hampshire is pre-eminently the home of the centenarian, nonagenarian and octogenarian, of hale and hearty old men who began life with the republic. Indeed, so numerous are the veterans of the war of 1812 in some of the remote towns of the Granite State that a popular impression prevails there that "the last war," as it is still called by these warriors of bygone days, was fought entirely by New Hampshire regiments, and that from Lundy's Lane to the battle of New Orleans they carried the American banner to the front on every hard-contested field. Many theories have been spun as to why people should live to be older in New Hampshire than in Vermont or Maine. Of course, there must be some good reason for it. Perhaps it is because they take better care of their health and understand what is the right medicine for the right disease. Such at least would seem to be the inference from the following account by Charles M. Lampney, Esq., a well-known attorney and counsellor, of Hampton, N. H., of how he was cured of rheumatism:

"I have had several attacks of rheumatism within the last thirty years," he says, "and have got rid of them the best I could with the help of good physicians. The last attack, which began in April, 1884, was the severest. I was daily under the care of the doctor, who gave me the best attention to relieve me of the severe pain and to relax the contracted muscles. I was taken in the back of the neck. In a few days the pain moved down into the limbs, and in the course of three weeks had run all through the joints from head to foot. At the commencement of the fourth week it had apparently settled down to stay, all over me from the back of the head to the toes, and I was unable to move any part of the body except the right hand at the wrist joints. The day before, Deacon Hobbs, a neighbor, who had been suffering for several months with rheumatism, sent me word that he was taking Athlophoros and thought was doing him good. My father accordingly sent to Boston for a bottle. It was brought into the house at 8 o'clock in the evening and found me lying in bed like a corpse.

"I was about to give up the ghost and of course was ready to take anything in hopes that it might do some good. A dose was administered and three hours later another. My hearing became obtuse and my head confused. I dropped into a sleep and slept all night. The next morning after waking I had no pain and could move any part of the body. In the course of three hours I sat up in bed without any assistance. I ventured to take the medicine every three hours through the day and a part of the next day and then stopped.

"In a few days I had very severe rheumatic pains in the thumb, and when I went to bed one dose was administered. I slept all night and in the morning the pain was gone. A few days later it returned in the left hand very seriously. On retiring one dose was taken, followed by sleep and no pain in the morning. The whole amount of medicine taken was one and a half bottles, and I have had no occasion to use any since. I consider that the Athlophoros saved my life and I recommend it to all who have rheumatic troubles."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he doesn't do, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

JUMPED HIS CLAIM.

How a Young Dakota Settler Lost His Farm and Won It Back with a Wife.

A year ago last spring, writes a Sully, Dakota correspondent of the New York Sun, a young man named Belden came to this county, took up 160 acres of land, and built himself a shack. Two weeks later a girl named Helen Chapman took up the claim adjoining his on the west, and also built a cabin. The neighbors became slightly acquainted, but both were too busy to do much visiting. Belden was an easy-going fellow, none too fond of work, and Helen was an active, aggressive, good-looking, and ambitious young woman. She did two days' work to his one, and had a better farm at the end of sixty days than he would have had at the end of a year if he had kept on in the way that he was going.

After Belden had been on his place about three months he became weary of the monotonous life, and, going to town to save some fun, found so much enjoyment that he came pretty near forgetting to go home. When he had been gone longer than the time permitted by the land law, Helen, who had been watching her opportunity, jumped his claim, and in less than ten hours had a shack of her own standing on his farm. Belden returned at last, and, finding that a woman had jumped his claim, he said nothing. If it had been a man it would have been his duty to go out and fight him to the death, but as it was a woman, and a rather comely one at that, he thought he would say nothing and trust to luck to get rid of her. Occupying his own shack, he was not more than three hundred feet from her new habitation. She held her ground well, treating him as an interloper, and never acting as though she had any idea that he belonged there.

Belden's wrath began to rise finally, and when he reflected on the comments that would be made if he permitted a girl to jump his claim he grew furious. Knowing that the temper of most settlers would brook no interference with a girl farmer he went to town for consultation. First he talked with some of his friends, who drank his whisky. They shook their heads and said it was a mighty bad job. Then he consulted a lawyer, who gave him some hope.

In the course of a day or two he got two of his friends and the lawyer to go out to his place with him to see what they could do toward patching up a settlement. Once on the ground it was agreed that the lawyer should go and see the girl. He was absent an hour and a half, and when he returned he said it was no use. The girl was positive, and he didn't see what could be done about it.

"If it was a man," he said, "we could go over there and throw him by the heels over into the next county, but it won't do to harm a woman."

The four talked the matter over, and it was finally agreed that the lawyer should call again in the morning, and represent to her that Belden's friends were coming to his assistance, and that if she wanted to avoid serious trouble she had better abandon her shack and leave his claim alone. The lawyer started out on his errand the next day, but he was back again in fifteen minutes with a lump on his head the size of a horse-chestnut, where he said she had hit him with an ax-handle.

After talking the matter over, everybody being mad, it was decided that they would give her a scare as soon as it became dark. At about 9 o'clock all hands went over to the girl's new shack and surrounded it. At a given signal they yelled and fired their revolvers in the air. The report had hardly died away when a gun-shot was discharged from one window of the shack, and a moment later another shot was fired from the other side of the house. The men waited in silence for a few minutes, when two more barrels were fired. This convinced them that the girl was not to be frightened, and they crawled away as stealthily as they could. All that night the girl's shotgun thundered at regular intervals, until her adversaries, who were vainly trying to sleep, wished it would explode and blow her and her shack to kingdom come.

In the morning Belden's lawyer and two friends started for town, leaving the cramped farmer alone in his misery. After their departure Belden did some work on the place, taking care not to run across the girl, and, though they saw each other frequently, they both avoided a meeting.

Things went along in this way until fall. Helen worked on her own farm a good part of the time, and Belden passed a good many days in hunting. He had made up his mind that he would use the girl out, and he believed that afterwards he would be able to get rid of her by a good voluntarily abandon the premises. In this he was mistaken. One day, while out on a hunting expedition, he discharged his gun accidentally, and received several shots in his arm and side. He got home without difficulty, and, examining the wounds, made up his mind that he would go to town the next morning to have them attended to. The next day he was in no condition to move, and was obliged to keep his bed. Growing rapidly worse, and fearing that his injuries would result seriously if not attended to, he watched for his next-door neighbor, and when he saw her he signaled for her to come to him. The girl came up and heard his story, and volunteered to go to town for a doctor. When the physician arrived and dressed Belden's wounds Helen told them that she would look in occasionally and attend to the sick man's wants, and she kept her promise religiously. For nearly a month she visited Belden's shack regularly, cooked and served Belden's meals, dressed his wounds, and helped him as tenderly as a relative could. When he got so that he could sit up and help himself her visits became shorter and at longer intervals, and at length they ceased altogether.

This last spring it became necessary for somebody to put in the crops if anything was to be done. Belden had had no settlement with the girl, and she appeared to be making preparations to work his farm as well as her own. He didn't want to give up beaten, and he could not quarrel with the woman, especially one to whom he was under so many obligations. Finding that things were becoming intolerable as they were, he called on her one evening in May, and they had a long talk, the result of which has just been discovered. After that consultation they were frequently together. They worked both farms this year and made big crops, and last week they were married.

They Wouldn't Stand That in Ohio.

"I guess my notions about things are too hifalutin' to suit most people," remarked a sad-eyed passenger. "I have been running a country paper down in Ohio, but I didn't get along very well. The young men kicked when I refused to describe dog-fights, the old settlers sort of went back on me when I failed to write a column obituary of every one of their number who happened to die, the women lost faith in me when I neglected to chronicle the visiting movements of every female who went out of town for a day or two, and the business men growled because I didn't write a two-stick puff whenever one of 'em put up a new awning or painted his horse-barn. But the climax caught me last week. We had a town election, and our party elected the street commissioner and two councilmen, and when my readers looked in the paper for the news of their glorious victory and didn't find a rooster two columns wide, with 'We Met the Enemy, and He is Ours' on a streamer flowing from his gills, they called a mass meeting of my creditors and sent two constables around with the bills. Now, I'm on my way out West to look for a job. All I have left of that printing office is seven em quads, and I've got 'em right here, and I'll jeff you to see who pays for the drinks."—Chicago Herald Traveler.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribable. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The Vice President's Funeral.

The body of Thomas A. Hendricks, late vice president of the United States, was conveyed to the tomb in Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1st, with solemn and imposing ceremonies. The city was in mourning, and an immense concourse of people thronged the streets. The bells of all the churches were tolled; the clergy, without respect to sect, joined in the obsequies; and a deep appreciation of the nation's loss was evident on all hands.

President Cleveland did not attend, the earnest objections against his making the journey from Washington having prevailed. Secretaries Bayard, Lamar, Whitney and Endicott, Postmaster General Vilas, Justices Matthews and Blatchford of the United States supreme court, delegations of the senate and house, the governors of Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky, Generals Sherman and Schofield, Ex-President Hayes, and hundreds of other distinguished men, were present. There were 15,000 persons in the procession. The body was laid beside that of his only child, a boy who died years ago.

A despatch of Nov. 30th from Rangoon says: King Theebaw of Burmah, becoming alarmed at the rapid approach of the British expeditionary force under Gen. Prendergast, notwithstanding the resistance offered by the Burmese, sent a messenger to Gen. Prendergast begging him to grant an armistice for the purpose of peacably settling the difficulty between Burmah and the Indian government. Gen. Prendergast in reply demanded the surrender of the Burmese army and Mandalay, the capital, stating that only then could he entertain any request looking to a settlement of the dispute. King Theebaw acceded to the terms, and the Ava forts, with twenty-eight guns, were turned over to the British troops. A garrison was placed there, and the British troops proceeded to Mandalay on the 28th inst."

"Littell's Living Age for 1886." The frequent issue and closely filled pages of Littell's Living Age enable it to present with satisfactory completeness as well as freshness what is essential to American readers in the best periodical literature of the day. This literature covers a constantly broadening field, and now embraces to a greater extent than ever before the productions of the most eminent writers in all departments of knowledge and literary work. The Living Age was therefore never before so valuable, so convenient and so important as now; as with it one can easily and economically keep abreast of the best literature of the time. The prospectus of this magazine for 1886 is worthy the attention of all who are selecting their reading-matter for the new year. Reduced clubbing rates with other periodicals are given, and to new subscribers remitting now for the year 1886 the intervening weekly numbers are sent gratis. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

Pay Director C. P. Wallach is detached from duty at the navy pay office, Norfolk, and ordered to settle accounts and await orders.

The South End Industrial School, founded about three years ago by several Unitarian churches in Boston, is now under the charge of Mrs. I. F. Waterhouse, widow of Rev. I. F. Waterhouse, formerly of this city. The school is doing a great work in directing the industrial education of needy young persons in Boston; and of course, under the management and with the co-operation of several prominent clergymen, among them Rev. James DeNormandie, a better moral elevation is attained by the persons designed to be benefitted by the school.

Work was suspended on Tuesday at the Portsmouth Machine Co.'s works, in consequence of damage to the engine caused by backing of water into the cylinder.

The severe storm of Nov. 24th, 25th and 26th at Minot's Ledge lighthouse left visible traces. The solid pile was severely shaken, and rocked uncomfortably when the wind was at its height, and the dishes on the shelves rattled very suggestively. On Thursday afternoon, when the wind and sea were at their worst, the paint on the inside cracked and came off in huge sheets, but beyond this no damage was done.

A meeting of the fishermen of Portland, Me., was held Nov. 30th, to consider the matter of the protection of fishing interests. A memorial to Congress was drawn up protesting against any treaty arrangement or legislation which would admit Canadian fish into American markets free of duty. The report of mackerel packers in Portland this year shows that 79,477 barrels were handled, of which only 875 barrels were caught in English waters.

Schooner Isabella Thompson, from Bangor for New York with lumber, was dismasted and waterlogged six miles off Cape Ann in the gale of Nov. 30th. Her crew were taken off by the steamer State of Maine, and carried into Portland.

The fishing schooner Otis P. Lord arrived at Gloucester on the 30th ult. from La Have bank, off the coast of Nova Scotia, having sailed 300 miles without a rudder, and reached her home port without assistance.

The waves rolled heavily over York sands during the great storm of last week, and the spray went in showers over the Nubble; the sea broke at times a full mile off shore. A portion of the new beach-side road, near the Hotel Bartlett and the Garrison house, was much damaged, and partly carried away. The dam of the millpond at York harbor, upon which Capt. Emerson has expended considerable time and money for the purpose of making a big ice pond, was considerably injured, and the salt water let in, much to the regret of his neighbors, who wish him success in his enterprise.

100 Doses

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BRXWXXR, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEBLE, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

THE ANNUAL RECORD.

Its Enormous Total and Wide Distribution. Caprices of Fortune.

A partial list of the prizes above One Thousand Dollars, paid by The Louisiana State Lottery Company during the year ending November, 1885, together with the names and addresses given to the Company by the holders, omitting those who have requested it.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT--CLARK, J.

This court came in at Concord on Tuesday. The grand jury were briefly addressed by the judge, and retired with District Attorney Frink, who presented two cases for their attention. The petit jurors, who had been excused until this day, were called.

The grand jury reported two bills of indictment at 12 o'clock, and were discharged. One indictment was against Ann T. Worthen, for making a fraudulent affidavit in a pension claim, and one against John Dolan, for breaking into a postoffice in Rumney.

District Attorney Frink officially announced the death of Vice President Hendricks, and suggested that the business of the court should cease during the hours in which the obsequies of the distinguished citizen were observed.

The court responded feelingly and eloquently, and ordered the adjournment to Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Mary Willey has finished her trips between Bangor and this port for this year, having made ten round trips, taking a load of corn from Portland to Bangor on each one, and returning with lumber to John H. Broughton. Capt. Williams had intended to make one more trip, but the weather has got to be so "catchy" that it was at last thought not advisable. Last year the Mary Willey made eleven trips, and the year before thirteen.

The work of excavating and removing Gangway rock has ended for this season, and preparations were being made on Monday for taking up and landing the drill-platform which has stood over the rock all summer, except when it was "knocked galley west" by some schooner.

The Gloucester fishermen who use gillnets for winter fishing suffered great loss of property during the heavy and long-continued storm of last week. On Friday the netting fleet went out for the first time that week, to look after their tackle; many of the nets had disappeared, and others were twisted and torn, and badly chafed. Some of the vessels lost all their nets, and the lucky one which did not lose half or more are few in number. The schooners Clara B. Swett and Rising Star lost eight nets each, the J. B. Keene six, the Clyde twenty-one, and the Northern Eagle twenty-four. [The Northern Eagle was the first American fishing schooner to use nets for taking cod.] The larger part of the fleet remain to be definitely heard from. The loss is a serious one to the fishermen, who were taking good hauls of pollock, and were about to start for the Ipswich bay codfishery. They will be obliged to procure outfits, which may occasion delay during the most favorable period for that fishery.

The schooner Chilion, Call master, arrived in the lower harbor on Monday evening in less than forty-eight hours from Bangor, with lumber to Thomas E. Call & Son.

The steamer Star of the East, Collins master, from the Kennebec for Boston, put into the lower harbor on Tuesday from stress of weather, and the steamer James Sampson brought up to this city about twenty of her passengers, who left for Boston on the afternoon train, having had all the navigation they wanted for the present. The sea was reported as rough in the extreme.

Capt. William Brewster came in from Smuttynose Island, Isles of Shoals, on Sunday, and engaged the schooner Loella, Capt. Amee, to take Lemuel B. Caswell's fish to a market. He reports a smooth sea on that day, but that the storm of the previous week was the hardest since 1851. The seas at high tide poured over the sea wall between Smuttynose and Malaga islands, and the roof of Mr. Caswell's fishhouse was raised, though his stock of cured fish was luckily undamaged.

Up-river navigation is over for this year, the ice having formed to a considerable thickness.

The brickers have about run their course for this season. The D. K. Ham, which arrived from Boston on Sunday, has hauled up at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf; and the Emily A. Staples, which arrived on Monday from Boston, light, has hauled up at Call's wharf, having finished her trading between Saco, Me., and Boston. The Hattie Lewis, Estella and Gurnet, which sailed for Boston on Sunday after a week's stop at Portsmouth bridge with cargoes on board, will haul up on their return from this trip.

Mr. Editor: Some days ago there appeared in the Chronicle an item stating in substance that the scholars from the third district, attending school at the Academy, would be transferred to the Haven school. Such proved to be the case—to a certain extent; but one or two of the larger scholars, not being satisfied with this arrangement, through some mysterious power were sent back to the Academy; though, when a third gentleman sought to have his daughter sent back, he was informed that there was "no room," etc. Now, what I would like to ask is, why this favoritism? There certainly is a chance for an explanation somewhere. If one or two favorite ones can go to the public schools where they like, why cannot others?

SOUTH ENDER.

As a mark of respect to the late Vice President Hendricks, business was generally suspended in this city on Tuesday from noon to three o'clock, in accordance with the suggestion of the city government; and the bells were tolled from twelve o'clock until two. The postoffice, by direction of the postmaster general, was closed from twelve o'clock to five. At the navy yard a salute of thirteen guns was fired at sunrise, nineteen guns at noon, and twenty-one guns at sunset. Flags at the navy yard, throughout the city and on the shipping in the harbor, were displayed at half-mast during the day.

Contractor Shanahan started a steam drill at work on the Deer street ledge, Tuesday morning, and the progress made was satisfactory.

A brakeman named Littlefield had one of his hands badly crushed while coupling cars on the eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad near Greenland, early in the morning on the 1st inst. Dr. Parsons dressed the wounded hand.

An attempt was made to wreck the 12:30 P. M. train on the Boston & Maine railroad, western division, Nov. 30th, between Oak Grove and Fells stations, Mass. The obstruction was discovered and removed in time to avoid an accident.

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON

City of Portsmouth.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE, Nov. 27th, 1885.

The attention of owners and occupants of buildings or lands having sidewalks adjoining, is respectfully called to Sections 3 and 4 of Chapter 14, Revised Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

Sec. 3. The occupants, or, if unoccupied, the owners, of all the buildings and lands situate within the city, shall keep the sidewalks adjoining their respective premises, in all cases where a sidewalk has been or may be constructed, free from snow, by causing the snow to be removed into the street, and evenly spread, and when any of said sidewalks are covered with ice, so as to make the passing dangerous, said owners or occupants shall spread over said sidewalk ashes, sand or salt in such a manner as to prevent the same from being dangerous, within six hours after the cessation of every fall thereof, or when the snow shall have blown or drifted upon the sidewalk by the wind. The time herein allowed for the performance of the work to be computed from sunrise the succeeding morning, whenever the fall of snow shall have ceased in the night time.

Sec. 4. Any person disregarding or offending against the provisions of this ordinance, shall, upon conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each and every offence, with costs of prosecution; and it shall be the duty of the city marshal, under the counsel and direction of the mayor, to cause this chapter to be enforced.

CHARLES W. NORTON, City Marshal.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of game! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to eat as tasty as epicurean taste.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 100x300 ft $45 to $250 per lot.

We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY 1,000 LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (owners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $1.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure prompt-ness, otherwise one will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first are the first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

For Washing Clothing, and all laundry and cleansing purposes, James Pyle's Pearline is a favorite compound. Does not injure the fabrics, and saves a great deal of labor. Sold by grocers.

In Providence, R. I., Nov. 30th, during the temporary absence of Mrs. Patrick Fitzgerald from her home, her children in some way set fire to a mattress in a crib in which the youngest was sleeping, and the three little ones, aged respectively four years, three years and one year, were suffocated before help reached them.

Not a Single Gray Hair.

"You may laugh and think me a vain thing," writes Mrs. J. R. C., of San Francisco, to a friend in this city, "but I have not a gray hair in my head, and yet (sad to say) I am fifty and a day. Recently my hair was not only quite gray but quite thin, too. Parker's Hair Balsam—made in New York, I think—did wonders for me. Try it if you have occasion. It really does what I say, and restores the color also." Not a dye, not greasy, highly perfumed. Only reliable 50c. dressing.

How often is the light of the household clouded by signs of melancholy or irritability on the part of the ladies. Yet they are not to be blamed, for they are the result of ailments peculiar to that sex, which men know not of. But the cause may be removed and joy restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," which, as a tonic and nervine for debilitated women, is certain, safe and pleasant. It is beyond all compare the great healer of women.

Governor Moody Currier of New Hampshire is not only chairman of the committee which has been designated to erect a monument to Matthew Thornton, but he has also consented to contribute four lines of original verse to be cut in the stone.

The most stubborn causes of dyspepsia and sick headache yield to the regulating and toning influences of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Try it.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. Only one pill a dose.

The will of David Dickson, the millionaire Georgia planter, who left the bulk of his estate to a colored woman in trust for her two mulatto children, has been sustained by a jury.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too! Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

According to a writer who has kept the statistics 12 ocean steamers were lost or stranded during the month of November involving an estimated loss, including cargoes, of about $6,000,000. A. W. Tompkins, M. D., 167 Clinton Place, New York, writes June 2, 1883: "In many of those insidious diseases of the brain and spinal cord, where local stimulation must be obtained, and where liniments, blisters and various applications fail, marked relief from pain can be obtained, and the patient greatly benefitted, by placing strips of Allcock's Porous Plasters over the spinal cord, from base of brain to end of spine. In all cases of spinal irritation, weakness or nervous prostration, I recommend Allcock's Porous Plasters."

TWO RIVAL CITIES.

In the long and at times bitter rivalry between Connecticut's two biggest cities—Hartford and New Haven—honors now seem to be pretty equally divided. Hartford has secured the State Capital, one of the most beautiful in the country, situated in a lovely park, but New Haven has gone ahead in population. In the political rivalry between the two, also New Haven, by her Democratic majority, has succeeded in putting the trim little State on the list of those that voted for President Cleveland. Hartford, however, is just now proud of having had her many charms set forth at length, with plenty of illustrations, in the pages of Harpers' Magazine, and so the struggle goes on. Bridgeport will succeed in putting one or the other city ahead, and just here it may be said that New Haven has an exceptionally brainy bar. But, then, Hartford has more literary people—Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. Among the able lawyers of New Haven is Edward A. Anketell, the assistant clerk of the Superior Court, who office is No. 10 in the Court House. Mr. Anketell is well known to the legal profession throughout Connecticut and has also the reputation of being a favored writer for the press. As such this little story, coming from him under date of September 24, 1885, possesses no slight interest:

"Day before yesterday, and for a day or two prior thereto, I suffered great pain in my right arm, which I felt sure was rheumatic. Being determined to do something to relieve the pain if possible I sent out and got a bottle of Athlophoros, and took three doses during the day. Yesterday morning the pain was nearly gone and one more dose completed the cure, so that today my arm is as well as ever."

Mr. Anketell was wise in taking such prompt measures to check the pain. Doubtless if Mr. Morris Hobbs, of Hampton, N. H., had known of the existence of Athlophoros, the rheumatism from which he suffered would have been cured with equal speed long ago. Mr. Hobbs thus tells the story of his cure:

"I had the rheumatism nine months before I heard of your Athlophoros. I was prostrate all that time and could do nothing. I had several doctors, but they did no good. I tried all the medicine I could hear of with no better results. At last I saw Athlophoros advertised and sent for some. On the day it arrived I took three doses in the afternoon before I went to bed, and that night I slept as well as I did when a boy. It seemed to kill the pain at once, and I never have been troubled since. My joints were badly swollen at the time, but as soon as the pain stopped the swelling began to go down very gradually. I am satisfied that if I had taken Athlophoros when I was first troubled with the disease it would have saved me $500 in expenses, time and pain.

"I have recommended it to several others in this place with equally good results. One case was that of a boy 16 years old, who was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that his father had to carry him up stairs to bed for two weeks. His mother came to me to inquire about Athlophoros. I advised her to get it at once by all means and she did. In two days after taking the medicine the boy was out at play with other boys, being entirely cured and has been well ever since.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

A Girl's Mustache.

It was the face of a handsome brunette just verging into womanhood. On her upper lip and slightly shading its scarlet hue grew a dark silken mustache that on a dude would have been cherished and cultivated as the choicest treasure on earth. Her head rested in a metal plate connected by a wire with a galvanic battery on the table. The doctor took up from the table at his elbow something that looked like an ebony pen staff. This also was connected with the battery. In the end was a very fine gold-plated needle. The doctor looked cautiously over the young lady's dainty little mustache, and, at length singling out a hair, inserted the point of the needle down by the hair-bulb and, pressing a little spring in the handle, turned on the current from the battery.

When the electric current ran down the point of the needle the young lady winced and clenched her hands while the tears came to her eyes. This lasted only for a moment, for as soon as a little froth appeared around the needle it was removed and the hair dropped out. After forcing out about a dozen of the hairs on each side of the lip the doctor stopped. The young lady removed her head from the metal plate, wiped her face with a scented pocket-handkerchief, and tripped gayly to the mirror. he took a long glance of intense satisfaction and gleefully remarked that they would soon all be gone. Then she put on her hat and left, after having made an appointment for another sitting.

"So you remove mustaches from the young ladies who are unfortunate enough to have such hirsute adornments!" remarked the reporter. "Will you tell me how it is done?"

"The operation is not very new," was the reply. "It has been known and practiced for years, especially in the East. The electric current decomposes the salt in the skin into acid, which goes to the metal plate, and the alkali which accumulates around the needle destroys the hair-bulb so that the hair can never reappear. This method is also very useful in removing the ugly bristles that grow in moles, for the hairs are then large in size and few in number. It is only necessary to spend a few seconds on each hair and but a few minutes on a dozen, after which a rest of several days is taken to allow the inflammation to disappear before undertaking any more."

The Seals.

It is a matter of decided interest to find out just what the seals are doing—how many fish they destroy and the kinds of fish they consume. These seals make a decided impression upon salmon, smelts, mackerel, and all the choice fish that frequent the shores and inland waters. If it is true that we are feeding our seal menagerie at an expense of 120 tons of fish a day it might be desirable that the job should be taken off our hands. Considering the cost, there is not enough fish to warrant the show. As to the point made, that the seals have always been here and have been regular feeders on the fish named it is said, on the other hand, that seals about the harbor have greatly multiplied, and that they will probably go on multiplying indefinitely if they are not disturbed. But why they should multiply faster now than in former times is not explained. If another 4,000-band of seals were added to the present number, according to the present ratio of consumption it would require 240 tons of fish daily to satisfy the increased seal population. What, then, would be left for the inhabitants? But suppose, after all the faces have been collected, it should be decided that the seals must go, how are they to be made to quit? Constant shooting of them on the rocks might worry them so that they might seek more peaceful quarters for a time. But when the raid had ceased, would not there be shortly thereafter other 4,000 seals back in the old haunts? It will be noted that the immense number of fur-seals killed in Alaskan waters, and within a limited district, does not perceptibly decrease the number. Just about as many frequent the shores of the same islands every year.—San Francisco Chronicle.

"I have known many singers in my day and heard many stories about them and their voices, but I have never heard of but one case where a man willed his voice to another," said Mr. L. E. Gannon, the baritone, in talking with your correspondent recently. "Sher Campbell, the baritone, who, with William T. Castle, did so much in making English opera a success in this country," said Mr. Gannon, "was raised in Salem, Mass., the place where I hail from. Before Campbell and Castle began singing in opera they were ballad singers in a minstrel troupe, and excellent ones, too. On their first trip to the Pacific coast they were in a party which included John Hecker, who had a magnificent baritone voice. At that time both Campbell and Castle were tenor singers. Campbell's voice was even higher than that of Castle. Hecker got sick and had to be left on the way. He died soon afterward. He felt that he was going to die, and told all the members of the troupe that they would never see him again alive. As Campbell was leaving him he said: "Johnny, you can leave me in your will that pin (a small diamond he wore), but what I would prize more, if you could will it to me, would be your voice. I am tired of singing tenor." Well, the minstrel party went to San Francisco. While there word came that Johnny Hecker had died. Some weeks afterward Campbell received the diamond pin, which Johnny had directed should be sent to him. With it was a note stating that as he (Campbell) had asked for the pin it would be sent him after his (Hecker's) death. The note ended: 'I also will you my voice, which you also asked for.' Campbell was very much affected by the message. He talked of nothing else all that day and far into the night. When he woke the following morning he had a baritone voice. His voice had changed from a tenor to a baritone. As you know, his magnificent baritone voice made his name famous in all parts of the country, and did so much to establish English opera in this country."—New York Herald.

Still We Grow.

Twenty-five years ago we were 30,000,000 of people; now we are nearly 60,000,000. Then we had 141 cities and towns of over 8,000 inhabitants, now we have 286 of such cities and towns. Then the total population of our cities was 5,000,000, now it is about 12,000,000.

Our coal mines then produced 14,000,000 tons, now 85,000,000 tons, or six times as much.

The iron product amounted to 900,000 tons of ore; to-day it foots up over 8,000,000 tons a year, almost a nine fold increase.

In 1860 our metal industries employed about 53,000 hands, consumed $100,000,000 worth of material, and turned out about $180,000,000 in annual products.

To-day these industries employ 300,000 hands, consume $380,000,000 of material, and their annual product amounts to $660,000,000 a year.

In 1860 the wood industries employed 130,000 persons; to-day they employ 340,000, while the value of their annual product has trebled.

The woolen industry employed 600 persons then, and now employ 160,000, while our home mills, which produced goods of the value of 80,000,000 in 1860, now turn out an annual product worth $270,000,000.

Finally there is cotton. In 1860 we imported 220,000,000 yards of cotton goods; in 1881 we only imported 70,000,000 yards.

In the meantime the number of hands employed in American cotton mills has increased to 200,000, and we export over 150,000,000 yards of cotton goods a year, instead of importing 227,000,000 yards as we used to do.

Finally, the total of our exports has doubled. In 1860 it stood at $400,000,000, and now it stands at about $800,000,000.—Cincinnati Commercial.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Dec. 1st.

Mr. C. A. Todd is doing a good business in his grocery store at North Kittery, in spite of the itinerant grocery pedlers that infest that region. We still have unremitted hopes of a postoffice there, although our Ephraim says he settled that question long ago.

Fred A. Fernald of this town, a student at Dartmouth college, is teaching the winter term of school in District No. 1, which commenced Monday, the 30th ult.

Mr. E. R. Fuller of North Kittery has engaged to teach the winter term of school at York village, and we understand he intends to reside there during the winter.

Samuel J. Keen and Clifford Williams had two pigs slaughtered Monday last, that they had raised together; one weighed 545 lbs. and the other 465.

Herbert A. Harrold, son of Lieut. Christopher W. Harrold, U. S. A., and who has passed several summers at the home of his grandfather, Mr. James Harrold, in North Kittery, is now in Victoria, Orange Co., Florida, where he has a large and promising orchard of orange, lemon and lime trees in a good state of cultivation, and is enjoying himself in that salubrious climate much better than he would in our cold winters at the north.

We understand that Mr. Joseph Langton and wife will pass a portion of the present winter in Florida, at the same place they did last season, for the benefit of their health.

Thanksgiving has passed with but few cases of matrimony in our vicinity; it seems to be an "off year."

Morrill lodge of Good Templars at North Kittery are contemplating a visit to Old York lodge, Wednesday evening, the 2d inst.

Mr. John J. Lambert has moved to the Foreside, to remain during the winter; his house at North Kittery is closed.

Mr. Wm. L. Fernald of North Kittery is principal of the high school at North Conway, N. H.

Mr. Perry C. Moore had a pig slaughtered this week that tipped the scales at 457 pounds.

George Batty, the whistling soloist who gave musical entertainments in Kittery and York, as well as throughout the state, last season, is now engaged as engineer of a large steamer that runs as a fruiter from Central America.

No. 331,400. W. D. Huse, Laconia, assigner to O. Towmbly, Lake Village, and T. S. Nowell, Boston, Mass., knitting-machine, (three patents.)

The whole number of patents granted to citizens of the United States for the week ending Dec. 1st was 459.

At Enfield, Me., Dec. 1st, Ed. Whitney, aged twenty-four years, shot his wife, aged eighteen, with a revolver, but not fatally, and then killed himself. They had been married three weeks, and Mrs. Whitney left her husband the day before the tragedy.

The employes in the shoe factory of Kimball Brothers at Gardiner, Me., having struck, the workmen in the Lynn factory owned by the same firm have also struck, to help their Maine brethren.

The circuit court of Cincinnati has decided that the republicans of Hamilton county elected nine candidates for the legislature, and the democrats one. The defeated republican was a colored man.

The senior class of Dartmouth college gave eighteen votes for James G. Blaine to be commencement orator. Benjamin F. Butler and James Russell Lowell had three votes each.

Major Gen. Alexander Shaler, commanding the 1st division New York national guard, has been held for examination on a charge of bribery in connection with the purchase of sites for armories.

The republican convention of Boston on the evening of Dec. 1st nominated Ex-Sheriff Clark for mayor.

In Bangor, Me., Dec. 1st, at a meeting of the city council, the committee to whom was referred the proposition of the Maine Central railroad to purchase the Bangor & Piscataquis railroad made a report, which opposed selling at the price offered. The report was unanimously adopted.

The fire alarm was tested by Supt. Trafton on the afternoon of the 2d inst., and worked satisfactorily.

The Gangway rock "band-stand" has been landed on Peirce's island, where it will remain during the winter.

Among the recent transfers of real estate in York county, recorded in the registry of deeds, are the following: Kittery—Mary E. Peake of South Boston, Mass., to Capt. Charles W. Frisbee of Kittery, real estate in Kittery for $550; Wm S. Locke et ux, of Manchester, N. H., to James W. Locke of Key West, Fla., real estate in Kittery for $1; Franklin W. Blaney to George W. Mr. Andrew R. Webber of York has recently purchased an ice-cutting machine of the latest style, which though light and easily drawn is very effective. The sea during the recent big storm broke over the beach into Preble's pond, where such fine ice has been cut in winters past, and has probably ruined it for that purpose for the coming season. Hon. E. C. Moody has offered him the use of a pond on his land near by.

City of Portsmouth.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE, Nov. 27th, 1885.

The attention of owners and occupants of buildings or lands having sidewalks adjoining, is respectfully called to Sections 3 and 4 of Chapter 16, Revised Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

Sec. 3. The occupants, or, if unoccupied, the owners, of all the buildings and lands situate within the city, shall keep the sidewalks adjoining their respective premises, in all cases where a sidewalk has been or may be constructed, free from snow, by causing the snow to be removed into the street, and evenly spread, and when any of said sidewalks are covered with ice, so as to make the passing dangerous, said owners or occupants shall spread over said sidewalk ashes, sand or salt in such a manner as to prevent the same from being dangerous, within six hours after the cessation of every fall thereof, or when the snow shall have blown or drifted upon the sidewalk by the wind. The time herein allowed for the performance of the work to be computed from sunrise the succeeding morning, whenever the fall of snow shall have ceased in the night time.

Sec. 4. Any person disregarding or offending against the provisions of this ordinance, shall, upon conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each and every offence, with costs of prosecution; and it shall be the duty of the city marshal, under the counsel and direction of the mayor, to cause this chapter to be enforced.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 2d.

Patrick Sweeney, Daniel Ryan, Frank Nelson and John O'Connor were brought up for drunkenness. They all presented the appearance of professional bummers and tramps, and were evidently in pursuit of comfortable winter quarters. All pleaded guilty, of course; and three of them were assessed $9.90 each—more money, probably, than the whole pack ever earned in all their lives. O'Connor, who had just finished a five weeks' term at Brentwood, was ordered to leave town on pain of being proceeded against under the tramp law.

MASONIC ELECTION.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of St. John's lodge, held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 2d:

Edward W. Riley, W. M.;
Albert R. Junkins, S. W.;
Howard S. Frisbee, J. W.;
Oliver G. Fernald, Treas.;
John H. Cheever, Sec.;
Wm. G. Billings, representative to grand lodge;
Benj F. Webster, Washington Freeman, standing committee.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT--CLARK, J.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 2d.

John Dolan, charged with breaking into the postoffice at Quincy, a sub-office in Rumney, was tried. Dolan when arrested in Manchester in June said he had broken into a postoffice just above Plymouth. The government called five witnesses. Dolan offered no defence, and had no counsel. Verdict, guilty; sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, and to confinement at hard labor in the state prison for the term of two years. This being the only case for trial by the jury, the jurors were then discharged from further attendance.

PROBABLE SUICIDE.

At about a quarter before one o'clock yesterday it was discovered by guests of the Webster house, having occasion to pass up and down stairs to their rooms, that Mr. Wm. D. Perkins, who has for some months been living there, had inflicted a serious wound on his throat with a razor. He was about to cut another gash, when the clerk of the house rushed into his room and took the razor away from him. It was evidently his intention to make a sure job of it, as he said after he had been found that he had been sick for two months, and had suffered terribly and thought he might as well put an end to his life, and if people had kept away he would have finished it. It is thought that he cannot recover. Low spirits and his ill health are said to be the cause for the rash act.

A REAL SHIP COMING.

The ship Lizzie Moses, from New York for this port, passed through Hell Gate Nov. 30th, and anchored off the Herald telegraph station at Whitestone, N. Y. The Lizzie Moses is a ship of 1124.35 tons register, built at Bath, Me., in 1859, and owned at that port. She is bound to the eastward to be made into a barge, and brings a cargo of coal to this port to help pay her towage and other expenses.

It is many years since a merchant ship—a genuine square-rigger, full laden, arrived at this port; just how many we cannot say, but we think it must be twenty-five or thirty, at least. If we remember aright the ship Simla was the last one to come up the Piscataqua; this was not far from twenty years ago, but she brought no cargo, her errand being to go into the naval dry-dock for repairs. The William H. Marcy was the last merchant ship to sail from this port, we belive, but she has never returned, and never will, having been sold some time ago to go under a foreign flag.

Editor of Chronicle: The Penny Post and the Manchester Union of today (Dec. 2d) make mention of an incident of yesterday, coupling my name with it in a manner evidently intended to be complimentary, but which is really a source of chagrin. Please allow me space to say that the item referred to was neither suggested nor authorized by me, and that I regret its publication; whatever I did was not done with any reference to notoriety.

Yours truly, C. M. GIGNOUX.

A poor woman living in the vicinity of Bridge street had sixteen hens stolen from her coop on a recent night. The fowls were evidently killed in the coop by the contemptible thieves.

Fourteen candidates for the appointment of cadet in the army presented themselves at Manchester for examination on Wednesday of this week, among them Messrs. Mason and Locke of this city, and one applicant from Seabrook. Congressman Haynes left Manchester for Washington during the examination. The papers will be forwarded to him at Washington for his inspection.

The wooden jackets of the drinking fountains in front of the post-office and Franklin block were put in place for the winter on the 2d inst., the fountains having been frozen up for some days. The big fountain on Market square will be kept running all winter, unless the cold weather stops it.

The schooner Flying Eagle, Capt. William Randall, started on her first winter-fishing trip for this season at three o'clock this (Thursday) morning, carrying a picked crew of experienced fishermen, as follows: Frank W. Hidden, Frank A. Cook, Frank Williamson, John Harvey, Charlie Wallace and Wilbert Haley.

In order to make room for the largest and finest stock of holiday goods in their line ever exhibited in this city, Messrs. Ayers & Locke will for three weeks coming sell goods now in store at prices lower than the same qualities can be purchased for in Boston. It is needless to say anything as to the extent and variety of the stock carried by this firm.

A report is current among the dissatisfied wing of the local democracy that a new democratic club of 200 "stalwarts," with an ex-member of Congress as president, will shortly be formed here, and will issue a political daily paper in advocacy of the radical democratic creed, under the editorship of a veteran printer of Portsmouth.

Mr. William Frye, the veteran cooper and fish packer of Portsmouth, returned home recently from Northborough, Me., after the decease there of a relative whom he had been attending. He will visit some of his family in Boston this winter, returning in the spring to engage in business here.

It is alleged, we do not know with how much truth, that much of the kerosene now sold in the city is of a lower standard than would have been approved by the former inspector.

Mr. Albion S. Carroll, since finishing blasting with dynamite at C. E. Walker's new house, has been engaged in breaking boulders on Rev. Alfred Elwyn's farm on Lafayette road, for the foundation and cellar wall of the large new barn being erected there. Afterward he will proceed on similar work at the premises of a government official near by, where some of the fences are to be removed and granite curbs substituted.

The Rochester water works were completed Dec. 2d; water was let on, and the result proved satisfactory. The water is brought from a point three miles away, and the works cost $150,000.

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B.B.B.

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to palma sola, and soon the tourists will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

Palma Sola possesses the largest store in Southern Florida, with sawmill, lime kiln, manufactory, packing houses, warehouses, churches, school house, postoffice, stores, beautiful residences, and a large wharf at which ocean steamers arrive daily from Tampa.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a fine location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1 0x100 ft. $50 to $2 00 per lot. We want PALMA SOLA to keep booming, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $5.00. Applicants can send postal money order for application to insure prompt ness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

William P. Walker,

Feeble Frames, Shaky Nerves

And dyspeptic stomachs are usually found in conjunction. Vitality is lacking in all three. How can this be created? Simply by using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters with regularity, abstaining from habits inconsonant with health, and by the use of a digestible diet. As an initial step toward the reinvigoration of a depleted system, as a resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is most desirable since it corrects acidity consequent upon a vitiation of the gastric juice and the presence of bile in the stomach, and having regulated and, as it were, lubricated the digestive mechanism, sets it and keeps it at work. An immediate gain in vigor is the result. The food is converted into blood, upon which the system draws for nutrition, the nerves as they acquire vigor become tranquil, the muscular fiber gains substance and hardness, and appetite and sleep improve. Constipation, fever and ague, rheumatism and renal ailments yield to the Bitters.

"Consumption Cure" would be a truthful name to give to Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," the most efficacious medicine yet discovered for arresting the early development of pulmonary disease. But "consumption cure" would not sufficiently indicate the scope of its influence and usefulness. In all the many diseases which spring from a derangement of the liver and blood the "Discovery" is a safe and sure specific. Of all druggists.

Professor Eaton, of Yale college, in a recent lecture to the students told them it was not certain that Eve tempted Adam with an apple in the Garden of Eden. He thinks probably it was a quince, "because the apple of the present day was propagated from the early crab-apple, and it is not at all likely Adam would have been taken in by such a puckery little bait."

Some of the French Conservative papers in Montreal province are urging the Dominion government to take steps to assert Canada's claim to the state of Maine, which they allege is a just one. This movement is of course started to withdraw the attention of the people from the Riel affair, and allow the French members of parliament to return to their former allegiance without compromising themselves with their constituents. The French press of Montreal city has fallen into the trap, and is gravely debating whether the American government would be willing to accept a compensation in money for the territory Canada would receive by a retification of the frontier.

A. W. Tompkins, M. D., 167 Clinton Place, New York, writes June 2, 1883: "In many of those insidious diseases of the brain and spinal cord, where local stimulation must be obtained, and where liniments, blisters and various applications fail, marked relief from pain can be obtained, and the patient greatly benefitted, by placing strips of Allcock's Porous Plasters over the spinal cord, from base of brain to end of spine. In all cases of spinal irritation, weakness or nervous prostration, I recommend Allcock's Porous Plasters."

A peculiar state of affairs exist at Council Bluffs, Iowa. There is a state law against liquor selling, but Mayor Vaughn, of Council Bluffs, issues licenses signed by himself, permitting saloons to sell anything they choose, so that they pay the city twenty-five dollars each per month. The tax is promptly collected, and no saloon can sell a drop of liquor unless it pays its license tax.

THE DECAY OF THE HILL TOWNS.

Those who have traveled through the hill country of New England must often have been struck by the sight of a white church standing almost alone upon a summit of the great ridge. Once it was the meeting place of some flourishing village, but when the railroads came, making their way through the rough forbidding country by following the water courses closely the villagers descended into the valleys, built up towns along the great highways of travel and left the old church to mourn over its lost glories and to struggle along weakly until it too had to succumb to the new order of things. The clergy who built up these pillars of orthodoxy were strong and earnest men, and those who have succeeded them are not less so. Their lives are marked by self-sacrifice and severe work. Their labors are carried on under many difficulties and hardships, and it is not surprising that many suffer from rheumatism and neuralgia. That many of them have found a cure, however, for these diseases may be seen from these letters. Rev. A. S. Cooper, of Williston, Vt., says:

"Twelve hours' use of Athlophoros greatly removed the pain from my system and rendered the muscles so supple that I could get up and down with ease, which I have not done for a long time. I called yesterday on a gentleman who got a bottle from me and who I expected would send for more through me, but I found he had got the start of me and ordered for himself, having been much benefited by it."

Henry L. Hall, editor of Willimantic (Ct.) Journal, who is well and favorably known for miles around, says:

"Three doses of Athlophoros relieved me from a very acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism in nine hours. I consider it an invaluable remedy in rheumatic affections, and esteem it a pleasure to recommend Athlophoros."

Mr. J. B. Webster, who is the carpenter for the Willimantic Linen Co., of Willimantic, Conn., and is well-known and much respected in that neighborhood, says:

"For three months I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism, and failed to receive any relief from any of the numerous remedies for that complaint until I took Athlophoros, which entirely cured me."

Rev. S. Donaldson, of Lyndon, Vt., writes:

"The bottle of Athlophoros helped my wife greatly. She had up to the time of taking it been a great sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatic difficulties, making it almost impossible for her to walk with any ease. These difficulties have been about her more or less for fourteen years. Since taking the medicine she has been comparatively free from pain and is able to walk better than before for several years."

Rev. Charles E. Harris, formerly of New Haven, now of Brooklyn, says:

"Athlophoros acted like a charm, and I have been quite free from any attack of rheumatism from that time until the present. I can, therefore, with all sincerity testify to the valuable quality of Athlophoros as a rheumatic cure."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

NO LONGER SAD.

"There's a gentleman to see you, miss."

Miss Marion Audley walked into her aunt's artistic drawing-room with a slight hastening of the artificially languid step that had lately become habitual with her.

A gentleman, at this particular time, this particular afternoon, meant someone she was conscious of rather wishing to see than otherwise.

She gave in passing a sidelong and surreptitious glance at a mirror, which reflected a satisfactory vision in severely elegant visiting-dress, and with a most unexceptionable spring bonnet upon a well-poised little head, and raised her eyes to encounter a straightforward masculine gaze which caused her to start back with a dark flush suddenly overspreading her cheeks.

"Owen Hilyar!"

"Yes. You don't seem very much pleased to see me."

She did not; there was no doubt of that. The young man came forward and took her hand.

"Marion, come. Haven't you a word of welcome to say to me? I have looked forward to this moment so long and so ardently."

He was very handsome and eager, bending down to her, but to Marion he only seemed, compared with the men she had of late been thrown in contact with, uncouth and rough; and his clothes had not the right appearance at all.

"Of course I am glad to see you," she said, drawing herself away with badly concealed impatience, "but you took me so by surprise. I didn't expect you."

She turned from him and began removing her bonnet.

He looked a moment at her slight, round young form, thrown into delicious relief with the two raised arms, and then said in a changed tone:

"I thought the surprise might be as pleasant to you as it would have been to me."

She made no reply. Good gracious! why need he be so intense? And why need he come dropping in upon her like this, without a word of warning?

"You expect someone, evidently," he hurried on. "Who? Some man? Tell me, Marion! Why have you written so little of late, and such cold letters? Have you changed towards us all? Have you forgotten us?"

He had approached her again, and suddenly, with a burst of uncontrollable passion, stooped and seized her in his arms.

She gave a low cry, pushed him from her, and stood before him with flaming eyes.

"How dare you!" she said, trembling with anger. "How dare you presume! I have forgotten you in the sense that you mean, if you must know all. I do not wish to be reminded at all of those days before I left home. The whole thing is hideous to me—the life, and the place, and all. Aunt Harriman has made another sort of existence for me, and I mean to follow it. I have nothing more to say, and I hope you understand, once for all."

Hilyar had looked at her very steadily while she spoke. He interrupted by not so much as the movement of a muscle. When she had quite finished, he slowly took up his hat and walked towards the door.

"Thank you for opening my eyes. You have been very frank," he said.

She made, unconsciously, a faint movement to detain him, but the door had already closed behind him.

Five minutes later, the person she had expected to find on coming in from her drive, and whose name was Frank Dutton, made his appearance.

He noticed that she looked a trifle pale. He did not know that she was quite as pretty for it. And Mr. Frank Dutton was in matters of feminine loveliness quite a connoisseur, or so he considered himself.

* * * * * * *

One bright spring afternoon two years later, Mrs. Harriman was driving up the Champs Elysees, in Paris, with her two nieces, Marion, and Virginia Audley. The latter had only recently enjoyed her favors and the advantage of her position and her fortune, but, though not to be compared in point of looks to her stately elder sister, had already impressed her aunt with the idea that, after all, she might "do better" than Marion.

To speak truth, Mrs. Harriman was very much disappointed in that young lady. Had she not done everything for her, taking her from her plain home in an obscure little town, and giving her two seasons in London and one now in Paris, and all under the very best auspices? And what had come of it all? She had had a great deal of success at first, to be sure, and had seemed very sensible of her privileges and alive to the duty incumbent on her of making the most of them. But then gradually she had lost interest, grown more and more listless, and actually let pass three most exceptionable opportunities—such as any girl in her right mind would have jumped at—of settling herself in life. And now this last inexplicable freak about the Comte de——.

"Why, Marion. There is Owen Hilyar," suddenly cried Virginia, interrupting her aunt's irate monologue.

The carriage, rolling slowly on in the press of vehicles, passed close by a tall broad-shouldered pedestrian, who was waiting for a momentary break in the stream of horses and wheels to make his way over.

He heard the exclamation and raised his eyes. Virginia leaned forward and smiled all over her pretty face. Hilyar raised his hat, and already the crowd had separated them.

"Oh, hasn't he got to be awful handsome!" cried Virginia. "He always was, of course. But Paris and civilisation have agreed with him wonderfully."

"Who is the young man?" enquired Mrs. Harriman.

"Why, a friend of our earliest childhood, isn't he, Marion? Good gracious! What's the matter, Marion?"

Marion was leaning back in her seat, pale as the white lilac in her dress.

"Nothing. These first spring days are so oppressive."

Mrs. Harriman produced her gold-mounted cut-glass pungent, and having insisted upon her once making use of that restorative, concluded that she had recovered sufficiently to listen to her warnings.

"I should like you to tell me whether you really mean to let all your chances slip, Marion? With the exception of Frank Dutton, you never had as good one as this Comte de——. You let that go—Heaven knows why, I don't!—and now you're on the way to letting this go, too. But at the last, if you do you'll rue the day. Do you hear me."

"Oh yes, I hear you, aunt," was the weary reply.

She had been through numberless scenes of this sort before now, and she had always held her own. But now, somehow, as the carriage drove through the porte-cochere and they alighted and mounted the long stairs to Mrs. Harriman's apartments, Marion felt as though she could battle no longer—as though something had snapped within her.

A few hours later Mrs. Harriman, with her two nieces in tow, entered the drawing-rooms of the American Minister. It was one of the largest balls of the season.

Marion was regally lovely in pure simple white, and Virginia looked like a fresh rosebud in her fleecy skirts of pink. Mrs. Harriman's ambitious soul filled with gratification on sight of the sensation the two girls were evidently producing. And to make her sense of triumph complete, there was the Comte de—— approaching and claiming Marion's hand for the first value.

Having assured herself that Virginia's order of dances was being also rapidly scribbled over with the hieroglyphics of desirable partners, she allowed herself to be led away by an elderly diplomatist to a more retired coign of vantage, where her nieces could seek the shelter of her wing in their unattached periods during the evening.

The elderly diplomatist proved to be a conversationalist of exceptional brilliancy; so much so that Mrs. Harriman, usually the most Argus-eyed of chaperons, quite failed to notice, after a time, that Virginia was dancing and had already danced repeatedly with the broad-shouldered young fellow whom they had passed in the afternoon.

Not so Marion. She had become conscious of Hilyar's presence before she had been in the house a quarter of an hour. Now, as she passed on the comte's arm, listening with a distant distrait look upon her face, which the Frenchman took for the expression of maidenly shyness to the words of respectful adoration he poured into her ear, she came upon him standing with her sister in the deep embrasure of a curtained window.

"The Dissatisfied."

A report is current among the dissatisfied wing of the local democracy that a new democratic club of 200 "stalwarts," with an ex-member of Congress as president, will shortly be formed here, and will issue a political daily paper in advocacy of the radical democratic creed, under the editorship of a veteran printer of Portsmouth.—Chronicle, Dec. 3.

It is news to us that there is a "dissatisfied wing of the local democracy" here. There are doubtless some "dissatisfied" individuals—as there always are in every party or community; but we think our neighbor has been fooled by some growler if he supposes there are any 200 such men in buckram to form a democratic club, or to run a daily paper to toot their lugubrious horn. A daily paper is a very convenient organ for dissatisfied politicians and office seekers; but it is quite an expensive wind instrument, and its possession is much oftener desired than obtained. The number of "dissatisfied" democrats in this city—even if the head and tail growler in Kittery be added—is too small to make a "wing" or club of any account. These few are quite diligent in the use of the organs they do possess—they run their tongues daily. These are cheap organs, and the only ones they are likely to employ. The possessors of these organs are of course, "radical democrats"—(in their own esteem) the only simon-pures in the party; and they think they know a great deal better how to run a newspaper than anybody who possesses one.

However, if "the dissatisfied" desire a newspaper of their own, let them have it by all means. There is a nice field for more papers here—just as many as anybody having the means desires to set up and run. But do "the dissatisfied" really need another paper? They appear to be very well accommodated at present. The Chronicle gives them voice once in a while; and there is the Penny Post, always open, like a spittoon, to receive whatever filth "the dissatisfied" on either side of the river choose to inject into it, with proprietors eager to defile every democrat with its contents. While they have a republican daily thus ready to aid them occasionally, and a daily penny mud-slinger always at command, they will probably save themselves the expense of running one of their own.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Dec. 3d, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Present the full board, except Alderman Coffin, absent through illness.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Dennis Shea was granted leave to open Austin street to lay a drain.

Request of Leonard Leach and others for light corner Austin and Winter streets was referred to the committee on street lights.

Bills amounting to $1745.74 were reported by the committee on accounts, and ordered paid.

Officer Hennessey, of the police force, was reported to have been sick for thirty-five days. Ordered that he receive ten days' pay.

Adjourned for two weeks.

The steamer Pinafore, Capt. Oscar Laighton, came in from the Shoals on Thursday, bringing as passenger Cedric Laighton, who took the afternoon train for Boston, where he will spend the winter with his family.

The schooner Yankee, belonging to the contractor for the removal of Gangway rock, is hauled up for the winter at Sise's wharf, north of the Spring market.

The fishing schooner Flying Eagle, Randall master, which started out at an early hour Thursday morning on her first trip at winter fishing for this season, returned in the forenoon of the same day without setting her trawls, finding a heavy sea running outside, and unpleasant snow squalls prevailing.

The steamer City of Portsmouth, now and for a long time past lying at Pier wharf, was libelled on Thursday last by the Portland Co. for work done and supplies furnished when the steamer was repaired at Portland some time since. Charles F. Libbey of Portland is proctor for the libellants. A monition was issued on Wednesday by the clerk of the United States district court, and Deputy Marshal Kent on Thursday took the steamer into his custody.

Mr. L. Papanti, who for years has been the leading teacher of dancing, etiquette and deportment in Boston, and at the principal colleges, seminaries and academies in New England, announces his intention of opening in this city a select class in society dances for ladies and gentlemen, together or separately, provided a sufficient number apply to make it an object. Mr. Papanti now has a class on Tuesdays at Miss Morgan's young ladies' school, and one at the Exeter academy on Wednesdays, which leaves him Tuesday evenings for another class, affording the ladies and gentlemen of this city a rare opportunity for instruction in this polite accomplishment. See advertisement in another column.

Rev. Dr. Peabody has entirely recovered his hearing.

A big crowd gathered on Congress street about seven o'clock Thursday evening, the attraction being five tramps engaged in a fight. The police were obliged to draw their clubs before they could quiet the bummers, who were probably fishing for winter quarters at Brentwood.

Edward P. Kimball has been re-elected president and Lewis W. Brewster secretary of the Howard Benevolent Society.

The Hub Comedy Co. will appear at Music hall on Friday and Saturday evenings, Dec. 11th and 12th, in a "musical farcical comedy."

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER!"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful to make their annual Christmas gifts fro , we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watchwork is too well established to need any commenting upon; there is no better engraving done in the state then we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our showcases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer buyer in our line of any dealer in the state, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor, of purchasing Xmas gifts early, and having them laid away; we alrea ly have several silver ond gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the state.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL,

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

THURSDAY, Dec. 3d.

William Stringer, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

Fred Eckstein was before the court for threatening to kill Michael Carey; Michael Carey, for assault on F. Eckstein; and Michael Carey, for assault on Edward P. Ostermann. These cases appeared to have arisen from certain brewery workmen getting drunk on being paid off, and as no great harm resulted, the complaints were all placed on file, to be called up in future if need be.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT--CLARK, J.

THURSDAY, Dec. 3d.

In the suit Lang, Bernheimer & Co. vs. Lynch, the opinion handed down is as follows:

"In our opinion the plaintiffs are entitled to a jury trial upon the question of fact whether they had reasonable cause to belive that the liquors purchased were to be sold in violation of the laws of New Hampshire, and that both parties are entitled to a jury trial upon all questions of fact which may properly arise under the issues in the case, understanding as I do that no written waiver of a jury trial has been filed. Even if a jury trial should be properly waived I should feel obliged to call for a full presentation of the facts. The question whether the contract can be maintained in this court notwithstanding it may be in violation of a statute of New Hampshire will be more properly raised and passed upon at the trial when all the facts are before the court. The case may stand for trial."

Whittemore vs. Amoskeag National Bank and others. This was a suit to compel the payment by Moody Currier, Geo. B. Chandler and others, directors of the bank, of certain sums expended nearly ten years ago in the endeavor to control certain claims against the estate of Cyrus Dunn, bankrupt, to the end that the bank could secure a previously existing claim through a composition of the creditors which should leave enough to pay the bank. Whittemore purchased five shares in the bank within a few years, and claims that the action of the directors was unwarranted and that they should refund the money which has been lost, and that a receiver should be appointed to collect the amount of the debt claimed to be represented by a note dated Jan. 4, 1876. The bank demurred to the bill, and among other causes for demurrer assigned the reason that it did not appear by the bill that Whittemore was a shareholder in the bank at the time the acts of which he complains were done, and for other reasons, among them that the directors had not been requested to begin any suit or collect the note, etc.

Opinion by Colt, J.

"There being no allegation in this bill that the plaintiff was a shareholder at the time of the transaction of which he complains, or that his share has devolved on him since by operation of law, and that the suit is not a collusive one to confer on a court of the United States jurisdiction of a case of which it would not otherwise have cognizance, and the plaintiff failing to set forth in his bill any efforts made to secure such action as he desires on the part of the managing directors or trustees and the causes of his failure to obtain such action, as prescribed by Equity Rule 94 of the supreme court, we think it clear that the demurrer to the bill must be maintained. We fail to see the force of the plaintiff's objection that Rule 94 does not apply to this case either by reason of the character of the allegations contained in his bill, or by reason of the fact that, as he contends, the rule does not apply to a stockholder of a national bank in consequence of the language contained in Section 5139 of the Revised Statutes. Rule 94 was adopted by the supreme court after careful consideration of the whole subject to which it relates. It prescribes, in a certain class of cases, a mode of procedure, and it makes no exception to the class of cases which are governed by it. With the rule before us we find no valid ground upon which to sustain the plaintiff's position. Demurrer sustained."

AN UNLUCKY SCHOONER.

The British schooner Maggie Quinn, Capt. Best, of and for St. John, N. B., from Boston, light, came to anchor off Star island, Isles of Shoals, on Monday evening, the 30th ult., at five o'clock. One anchor was soon lost by the parting of the chain, but the other one held her. The gale increasing in violence, at about eleven o'clock the masts were cut away, but were held by the rigging and allowed to float astern; and thus the schooner rode out the heavy gale and rough sea of Tuesday, and Tuesday night. On Wednesday the steamer Star of the East, (which put into Portsmouth lower harbor on Tuesday on her passage from Bath to Boston, and forwarded her passengers by rail,) in passing the Shoals on her way to Boston saw the disabled schooner, but did not speak her, and on arriving at Boston reported her condition; the tug William H. Clark at once started to the distressed vessel's aid, and on Thursday forenoon towed her into this port and berthed her at Union wharf.

The Maggie Quinn is apparently an old vessel; she has been a trader to this port from the British provinces for a number of years, off and on, and has this year landed two cargoes of wood at Union wharf for Mr. Russell. She had a new foremast put in here on one of her trips not long ago, and will need two new ones before she sails again.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

Between nine and ten o'clock on Thursday night, the 3d inst., Mr. James C. White, employed in the night shifting gang at the Boston & Maine freight yard in this city, was instantly killed while engaged in coupling cars near the Portsmouth machine shop. How the accident occurred is not known, nor the exact moment, and the cars must have been run back and forth over him several times, the body being cut to pieces and scattered for a distance of forty feet or more along the track. The head, arms and legs were cut off, the body divided at the hips, and one leg cut in two just above the top of the boot. The remains were gathered up and taken to the baggage-room to await the arrival of the coroner. The deceased was about forty-five years old, an industrious and worthy man, and had been employed as a freight shifter some five or six years; he lived on Vaughan street, and leaves a wife and several children.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to eat it his epicurean palate.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a 1-callon at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

Many persons are using Ely's Cream Balm, a catarrh remedy, with most satisfactory results. A lady is recovering the sense of smell which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber has used it in his family and recommends it very highly. A Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness.—Pitson, Pa., Gazette. Not a liquid or snuff. 50 cents.

It was a child six years old who was drowned at Skowhegan, Me., while skating, Dec. 1st, and not "six men," as first reported.

Those sharp pains in the small of the back and around the hips will quickly go after you apply a Hop Plaster. Ladies, pay attention to this. 25c.

Capt. Henry Page of Stony Creek, Conn., says Yates, the young Yale student lost the other day on the sound, was the victim of his friend's stupidity. He says had the captains been notified they could and would have saved him. Instead of doing so, however, Caldwell went to the top of a hill, and with a spyglass watched Yates drift out to sea to drown.

Smart Weed and Belladonna combined with the other ingredients used in the best porous plasters make Carter's S. W. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

Felix Adler is to speak at the dedication of the New York crematory. Forty bodies await the dedication of the structure, and will thereafter be incinerated as rapidly as possible. In most crematories the remaining ashes are a sooty black color, but in this one a process has been discovered, and will be for the first time used, which bleaches them to a pearly white.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codlaw

Littell's Living Age.

IN 1886, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its forty-third year, having met with continuous commendation and success.

A WEEKLY MAGAZINE. it gives fifty-two numbers of sixty-four pages each, or more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a completeness nowhere else attempted,

Three and a Quarter Thousand

The best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Serial and Short Stories, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature, and from the pens of the

FOREMOST LIVING WRITERS.

The ablest and most cultivated intellects, in every department of Literature, Science, Politics, and Art, find expression in the Periodical Literature of Europe, and especially of Great Britain.

The Living Age. forming four large volumes a year, furnishes, from the great and generally inaccessible mass of this literature, the only compilation that, while within the reach of all, is satisfactory in the COMPLETENESS with which it embraces whatever is of immediate interest, or of solid, permanent value.

It is therefore indispensable to every one who wishes to keep pace with the events or intellectual progress of the time, or to cultivate in himself or his family general intelligence and literary taste.

OPINIONS.

"It is not too much to say that with THE LIVING AGE one commands the whole field of current literary activity; and it has never been so bright, so comprehensive, so diversified in interest as it is to-day."—Boston Traveller.

"It has now for many years held the first place of all our serial publications. There is nothing noteworthy in science, art, literature, biography, philosophy, or religion, that cannot be found in it. It contains nearly all the good literature of the time."—The Churchman, New York.

"Nearly the whole world of authors and writers appear in it in their best moods. The reader is kept well abreast of the current thought of the age."—Boston Journal.

"It may be truthfully and cordially said that it never offers a dry or valueless page"—New York Tribune.

"It enables its readers to keep fully abreast of the best thought and literature of civilization."—Christian Advocate, Pittsburg.

"Biography, fiction, science, criticism, history, poetry, travels, whatever may be interested in, all are furnished."—The Watchman.

"Through its pages alone, it is possible to be as well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"In fact, a reader needs no more than this one publication to keep him well a reast of English periodical literature."—Sunday School Times, Philadelphia.

"Foremost of the eclectic periodicals."—N. Y. World.

"In subscribing for it, our readers will secure more for their investment than in any other way of which we are cognizant."—Iowa Churchman, Davenport.

"Coming once a week, it gives, while yet fresh, the productions of the foremost writers of the day."—Montreal Gazette.

"One cannot read everything. No man will be behind the literature of the times who reads THE LIVING AGE."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"It furnishes a complete compilation of an indispensable literature."—Chicago Evening Journal.

"It saves not only time, but money."—Pacific Churchman, San Francisco.

"It has become indispensable."—New York Observer.

"The best publication we know in the world."—Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C.

NEW ENGLAND'S SENTIMENTS.

A large part of the great influence which New England has wielded in the councils of the nation and through its progressive institutions has been because of the general unanimity of the six States on most important questions, enabling them to act as a unit. This is not now perhaps so true of political affairs as it once was, but in most matters there is a substantial agreement of opinion. Just at present this is shown in the universal commendation of Athlophoros, praises of which come from all quarters of every State. A few of them follow:

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the last three years," says E. Parkhurst, of Woonsocket, R. I., "having been unable to do any active labor during that time, and for a large portion of the time being confined to my bed. I had taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with no relief, until I was induced to try a bottle of Athlophoros. The first three doses resulted in my having the best night's sleep that I had enjoyed for three years, and by the time the first bottle was taken I realized that I was on the road to complete recovery. I have since taken six bottles and am now able to attend to my business and consider myself a well man."

Mrs. C. N. Paige, of Boltonville, Vt., says.

"I first saw Athlophoros advertised in a paper, and as it was only recommended for rheumatism and neuralgia I had great faith to believe it could do me some good. My husband, therefore, sent for a bottle. I had been a great sufferer from neuralgia for years, and had spells when no one who saw me thought I could live. Many times I have wished death would end my agony. The pain would commence in the pit of my stomach and go from there right through my heart. I had employed doctors who were thought very skillful, but I got no benefit from them. I had these spells every two or three weeks for over two years before taking Athlophoros. That was one year ago last April and I have had only two of them since, the last one during the winter. I took then part of another bottle and have had none since. Words can never express the relief I feel at being rid of such agony as I suffered when I had those spells."

Mrs. Harriet Strong, of Westville, Ct., tells this straight-forward story:

"I had the rheumatism, which settled in my knees and hips. The joints were so stiff and the pain so great that I could not walk, but was obliged to move around in a chair. Several doctors did all they could for me, but I was no better. While in this condition, sitting in my chair by the window reading a paper, I saw an advertisement of Athlophoros. I thought I would try it and sent for a bottle. When they brought it to me I told them I considered it a dollar thrown away, as I had not a particle of faith, but I commenced taking it and after the third dose I thought I felt a change for the better. I continued to use it as directed until I have taken four bottles. Strange as it may seem, I am perfectly cured and am about the house all day, doing all the housework, with not a bit of rheumatism about me. I can never return thanks enough to the parties that make Athlophoros for the benefit I have derived from its use. I recommend it to everybody."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

NO LONGER SAD.

Virginia was looking up with a smile that played in a thousand enchanting dimples about her mouth, and Hilyar's eyes were bent with a sort of pleased contemplativeness upon her. The comte gave a glance sideways, and a half smile which seemed to express an appreciative apprehension of the situation.

A pang shot like a knife through Marion Audley's heart. After all, she asked herself, why not? Virginia was so pretty, so unspoiled by the world, so true, though she professed to be so worldly.

She turned her head slowly, and the two looked towards her. Virginia made a sign with her hand, and simultaneously Hilyar's eyes met Marion's. There was no look of recognition in the man's calm direct glance. The next moment Marion had passed on.

"Why, it is not possible you did not know that that was Marion?" cried Virginia.

The next morning a storm burst in the Harriman abode. The diplomatist's conversation had not succeeded in rendering Mrs. Harriman oblivious to all surrounding persons and things during the entire evening before, and towards the end of it she had become conscious of certain happenings, the thought of which now caused a violent uncorking of the vials of her wrath.

"I had hoped better things of you, Virginia, at least, whatever your sister may see fit to do. I did not think you would put all your prospects in jeopardy at the very outset of your career by making yourself so scandalously conspicuous with a young man who is a nobody—a pauper——"

"I'm sure he is not a nobody at all," cried Virginia. "Owen Hilyar is well born and a gentleman. And as for his being a pauper—well, one doesn't think of an artist's pecuniary position as one does of other men's, and he is rising wonderfully. The work he is going to send to the Salon is quite remarkable. In any case, he's an old friend. And if Marion chooses to turn her back upon such I don't."

To which Farthian shot Marion replied nothing.

But as the days passed she saw a change come subtly over her laughing little sister. And once, having called unexpectedly upon a friend, she found Virginia, who was supposed to be spending the day with one of Mrs. Harriman's French acquaintances, deep in conversation with Hilyar.

The latter turned a trifle pale as Marion entered, and Virginia crimsoned with an embarrassment that was absolutely painful. Marion made but a short stay. She had learned more than she wanted to know.

That evening, as the two sisters went to their room, Marion said very quietly:

"Tell me, Virginia, do you love Owen Hilyar?"

Virginia bit her lip, hesitated, then laughed.

"Well, you're such a Mentor, I suppose I must make a clean breast of it with you. I don't know that I exactly love him, but I admire him more than any man I know. He is so simple and manly, so unlike that foppish Comte de——, and all those fellows of the type of Frank Dutton, you know. And he seems to single me out for attention wherever we go and—well, I think I could be happy with him really."

"You are sure?" very gravely.

"Yes, I think I am sure. What makes you look so solemn, Marion?"

"A human being's happiness in this world is a solemn thing, little one. Sometimes one misses it before one is aware. That must not happen to you, Virginia."

A month passed, and then one evening Marion came face to face with Hilyar at a ball. It was a last breaking up for the season, as it were. The night was warm and the windows stood open. People who had been growing languid in their pursuit of social pleasures of late, were galvanized into new life by the feeling that society was disbanding till next year.

Marion, with a sudden resolution that was the fruit of many sleepless nights, made a sign to Hilyar and stepped out upon one of the small balconies—flower-encumbered—which looked down upon the broad Parisian avenue, with its even procession of lights broken into here and there by the broad glare of a cafe, and with its quietly-moving forms of pleasure-seekers enjoying the warmth of the night.

"You will think what I am going to say extraordinary, I know," she began at once. "But let that pass. I have a duty to perform and I will not neglect it. We were friends once—I want you to forget all the past and be my friend again. I know all about Virginia and you—and I wanted to tell you that I will help you both, if you will let me. There, that is all."

She put out her hand bravely and he took it slowly in his. His eyes burned so strangely in his white face that an irrepressible nervousness took possession of her.

"Let me go," she said faintly. He paid no heed.

"Did you think I loved Virginia?" he said in a voice that echoed in her inmost soul. "Did you think I had forgotten?"

"You can't—you can't"—she stammered.

"Love you yet? Ah, Marion!" His grasp tightened like a vice upon her hand, his eyes burned into hers through the darkness.

"But I treated you so shamefully—I did not know then—I was crazy! Can you forgive me all?"

"Marion!" The passionately appealing tone seemed to draw her to him, and perchance the midnight stars might have looked down upon the lover's kiss they know so well, had not Mrs. Harriman appeared at that moment with a certain look of haughty surprise.

"Marion, aren't you dancing the valse?"

"Yes, aunt. With Mr. Hilyar."

"What will your aunt say!" Owen was asking a little later in the pauses of the dance.

"I shudder to think of it!" she laughed; but nevertheless there were no signs of overwhelming dread on the charming face upon which Hilyar now looked down, at last unrebuked, with adoring eyes.

* * * * *

And Virginia? Alas for the selfishness of poor human nature! The thought had never come to Marion until she and shut herself into her own room on her return. But then it caught her heart with a cold spasm. Was her younger sister's happiness, then, to be wrecked because she, the elder, had found her own?

She went to Virginia's door and knocked. Some moments elapsed and then Virginia slowly opened the door and stood before her sister in her long white wrapper. The childlike face was paler than usual.

"Oh, Virginia!" said the latter, conscience-stricken, and could say no more.

But if Virginia had a battle to fight, she would fight it out alone and in silence.

"I know why you have come, Marie," she said quickly, "and I know that you are feeling badly about me. But you needn't. You had a first claim on him, and he has loved you all along. I didn't know anything about that at the beginning; but of late I have found it out. I think he saw that—that I was getting fond of him, and he—I don't know how he did it—but he made me understand. And to-night, when I saw you two come in from the balcony together, I was sure—and I knew you had made it up. There! Don't cry, Marie! I'm sure you're much more worthy of him than I ever could be. And I—I'm a scatterbrain, you know, and I'm certain to get over it!"

And, with a laugh that might have ended in a sob, had she permitted it, Virginia resolutely pushed Marion back and closed the door.

A little while, and in spite of Mrs. Harriman's opposition, Owen Hilyar and Marion were happily united.

SKIN, SCALP, BLOOD

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

FOR cleansing the Skin and Scalp of Disfiguring Humors, for allaying Itching, Burning and Inflammation, for curing the first symptoms of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Scald Head, Scrofula, and other inherited Skin and Blood Diseases, CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are infallible.

NAUGHT BUT GOOD.

We have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES for the past three or four years, and have never heard aught but good words in their favor. The CUTICURA SOAP is decidedly the best selling medicinal soap we handle, and is highly prized here for its soothing and softening effect upon the skin.

J. CLIFTON WHEAT, JR., Druggist. WINCHESTER, VA.

THE LARGEST SALE.

Our sale of CUTICURA are as large, if not larger, than any medicine we handle, and we assure you that we have never had a single instance in which the purchaser was dissatisfied. As to your Soap, we can sell no other, everybody wants CUTICURA. MILLER & CHAPMAN, Druggists. LOUISIANA, MO.

SALT RHEUM CURED.

Two of the worst cases of Salt Rheum I ever saw were cured by your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and their sales exceed those of all other blood remedies. I sell very little of any other medicinal Soap than CUTICURA.

GEORGE A. ANTHONY, Druggist. KEWANEE, ILL.

BARBER'S ITCH CURED.

I have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES for the last six years, and I find that they give universal satisfaction. They cured me of a severe case of Barber's Itch when other remedies failed. W. C. ANDREWS, Druggist. CORTLAND, O.

DOCTORS PRESCRIBE THEM.

Tourists to Yellowstone Park next season might encounter a northwestern blizzard. If they are wise men they will take a supply of the famous Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Stockholders of the Seventh Avenue Railroad company, New York, assert that there is $3,200,000 in money belonging to the company which has not been accounted for. They claim that some aldermen received $20,000 each, and others $30,000 each, for their influence.

Every day adds to the great amount of evidence as to the curative powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Letters are continually being received from all sections of the country, telling of benefits derived from this great medicine. It is unequalled for general debility, and as a blood purifier, expelling every trace of scrofula or other impurity. Now is the time to take it. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

Joseph Q. Roles of Ossipee, largely engaged in the lumber, bark and wood business, and for many years one of the leading democratic politicians of Carroll county, committed suicide Dec. 4th.

A friend that you have to buy won't be worth what you pay for him—no matter how little that may be. But this is not true of St. Jacobs Oil. Each bottle of that great pain-cure is worth its weight in gold.

Rev. Olden L. Aschenfelder, a Universalist minister of Philadelphia who has for a year or more had charge of a church in Hyannis, Mass., is charged with the ruin of Miss Isabella Crowell of Hyannis, nineteen years old, and the daughter of wealthy parents. The girl left her home surreptitiously ten or twelve days ago, and was found with the reverend scoundrel in New York.

Skyrockets exploded at one time as a finale to the fireworks display in Washington, March 4th. This is on a par with the methods of some advertisers; one rocket a day in each paper, fired at the public in the right position, gives them to understand that G. O. Taylor Pure Rye or Old Bourbon can be relied upon for purity and be obtained from leading druggists or grocers. See that Chester H. Graves & Son's firm name is over each cork and on each label.

Gen. Logan Declines.

In the caucus of republican senators at Washington on the 4th inst., Senator Edmuds nominated Gen. John A. Logan for president pro tempore, and strongly supported the nomination, which was unanimously agreed to. Gen. Logan positively declined the honor, and the caucus adjourned.

New Naval Officer for Boston.

President Cleveland on the 4th inst. appointed Henry O. Kent of New Hampshire to be naval officer for the district of Boston and Charlestown, Mass.

The Revolution in Peru.

Secretary of State Bayard on the 3d inst. received a telegram from Mr. Buck, United States minister to Peru, informing him that after three days fighting in the streets of Lima a truce was on the 2d concluded through the good offices of the diplomatic corps. President Iglesias and Caceres, the successful insurgent general, have agreed to renounce executive power. The despatch corroborated previous reports that three commissioners from each side will arrange for a provisional government, pending a federal election for president.

"Babyhood" for December, which is the first number of its second year, contains a quantity of timely Christmas suggestions as to what to buy for Baby, etc., and reverts to the subject of "Compulsory Kissing," this time in its medical aspect. "Rocking Baby to Sleep" is the title of one of many interesting letters in the "Mothers' Parliament." Dr. Cyrus Edson, of the New York Board of Health, writes on "Preserved Milk." "The Spoiling of Children" is a sensible article by Charlotte Ellis; Eleanor Kirk writes upon "Grandmothers," and Dr. F. H. Bosworth upon "Taking Cold." No. 18 Spruce street, New York; fifteen cents a copy; $1.50 a year.

Mr. John Twombly keeps the Cocheco house, a popular place of resort two miles below the compact part of the city of Dover, on the banks of the river. At the time of the reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic at Portland last summer, he presented to a stranger travelling between Boston and Portland a bottle of opodeldock of his own preparation, for the relief of rheumatism, and was much surprised a few days since at receiving an order for several dozen bottles of the preparation, from his tourist friend, who was an emigrant from Boston originally, and has been a long time resident in a western city, several thousand miles away. The coveted remedy was sent to him.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Notice is hereby given that on account of changes in the Northeast slue channel, over Pollock Rip, Nantucket shoals, the red spar buoy marked 2 A, has been permanently removed.

Notice is hereby given that the engineer department, United States army, have established a spindle on Avery's ledge, Sandy bay, Cape Ann, Mass., as a range in placing stone for the proposed breakwater. The spindle is surmounted by a spherical iron basket, stands in seven feet of water and is twenty-three feet out of water. Vessels should leave this spindle at least 400 feet distant.

Since the lighthouse board has established a light on Latimer reef and taken Eel Grass shoal lightship from the station the Providence & Stonington Steamship company petitioned the government to place the lightship off Ram Island reef. But the board, not granting their petition, the company have chartered a small vessel to anchor off the reef and show a white light at night and sound a fog horn in thick weather. They have also placed a good red light on the east end of the west breakwater. Both of these lights will be of great advantage for the safe navigation of Fisher's Island sound.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

FRIDAY, Dec. 4th.

Michael Ryan, James McCarthy, James Carey, William Butler and George Thompson, tramps, were charged with brawl and tumult. The magistrate explained to them that their little game to get sent to Brentwood for the winter wouldn't work; that if they were held at all it would be under the tramp law, for the supreme court and state prison. They were given thirty minutes to leave the city.

William Edwards, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90, and will board it out in jail.

A GOOD IDEA.

The commissioner of streets in Portland, Me., advertises that he will deliver sand free of cost to any person who may notify him personally or by postal card and will furnish a barrel, thus enabling householders and storekeepers to sand their walks before the city teams can get around. The Portland authorities sand the icy sidewalks and thus endeavor to avoid serious accidents; but the co-operation of the citizens in the work is desired. Undoubtedly there are many persons in this city who would be glad to take the trouble of sanding their own sidewalks, if they were supplied with sand by the municipal authorities; this would not only save considerable work for the city laborers, but would enable the needed sand-scattering to be done in much less time.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Loella, Amee master, went to the Isles of Shoals on the 4th inst., to take Lemuel B. Caswell's cured fish to a market.

The fishing schooner Flying Dart, Capt. Wm. Miles, arrived on Thursday with 7000 lbs. of fish to Ed. Jameson.

The fishing schooner Onward, Capt. Lovell Hodgdon, arrived on Friday with 4000 lbs. of fish to Elvin Newton. The Onward is an old vessel, but still a good one. It is said that she was rolled over on Georges during the gale which carried away the Minot's ledge lighthouse thirty-five years ago, but was gotten into port and repaired, and has been well salted down by use since.

The brick schooner Hattie Lewis, which arrived from Boston on Friday, the 4th inst., hauled inside the Noble's island bridge and took up a berth for the winter. The old Triton, Freeman master, sailed on that day for Boston with a load of bricks—probably her last trip for this season.

Mr. Edward Leveen, formerly in business in this city but now engaged in the clothing business in Manchester, was in Portsmouth on Friday, and will probably open a clothing store here.

Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co. will give a grand ball on Christmas eve.

Mr. Charles H. Tucker, who bought out Mr. Zebulon Sanborn's grocery store on Cabot street some time ago, says he cannot be the Mr. Tucker reported on Thursday as having committed suicide in several ways, such as blowing off the top of his head with a gun, cutting his throat, and hanging himself. He is all in one piece yet, and would like to give the person who started the stories proof that he is still alive and vigorous.

Evans, real estate in Cape Neddick for $4,500; Solomon Cole of Lebanon, N. H., to W. H. Hogarth of Cleveland, Ohio, land at Union Bluff, York, for $450; Annie M Lord of North Berwick to Israel L. Winn of York, real estate in York for $150; Abbie L. Grant et al., of Limerick, to Samuel W. Junkins of York, real estate in York for $1,000; J. Edward Davis et ux., of Cambridge, Mass., to Joseph W. Bragdon of York, the Samuel Sedgley homestead in York for $3,400; Solomon Cole of Lebanon, N. H., to W. H. Hogarth of Cleveland, Ohio, land at Union Bluff, York, for $100; James E. Thompson of Concord, N. H., to George M. Simpson of York, land and building in York for $1500; George M. Simpson to Sarah G. Thompson of Concord, N. H., real estate in York for $1,500; Jeremiah Norman to Emily Plaisted, land and buildings for $100; George A. Brown of Concord, N. H., to J. Edward Everett of Laconia, N. H., land and buildings in York for $350.

The funeral of Mr. John W. Grover of York took place on Saturday, the 21st of November, from the Beech Ridge church. There was a large attendance, and the services were conducted by Rev. George M. Payne. Mr. Grover died from typhoid pneumonia, being sick only a week. He was about thirty years of age, and left a widow and three children, the youngest an infant of seven weeks. He was much beloved by his neighbors.

Mr. Henry Mitchell of Bell Marsh, York, is reported to have a hog weighing 1300 lbs., which he will slaughter about Christmas.

Mr. E. Herbert Banks, of York, who last summer drove a team between York harbor and Portsmouth, is now engaged in one of the Boston markets, in the fish business. It is not supposed, however, that Mr. Banks will desert York altogether, as he has bought a piece of land not far from Long sands.

Dogs have been doing much mischief in the neighborhood of Beech Ridge, York; one farmer is reported as having lost twenty-seven sheep. The farmers get no pay for their flocks by the towns in Maine, as is the case in New Hampshire.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

—A certain hotel proprietor had among his colored servants one Lizzie Jackson, and this name was continued on the pay-roll long after Lizzie had taken unto herself a husband. The hotel-keeper suggested a change, and Lizzie was called upon to give the name she had a right to be known by. Lizzie stood for some time in an attitude of profound thought, her dusky hand across her swarthy brow, and at last exclaimed, "My lands, boss? I can't 'member dat nigger's name nohow!"

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

PALMA SOLA has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the Manatee River. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean tastes.

WARREN LELAND, Jr., of "Long Branch" fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "LONG BRANCH" of FLORIDA, and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad, this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

LOTS 1 Ox100 ft $45 to $200 per lot.
We want PALMA SOLA to be a big town, and as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, WE WILL GIVE AWAY a LIMITED number ONLY of our lots, giving lots ALTERNATELY as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $2.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being LIMITED the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.

Feeble Frames, Shaky Nerves

And dyspeptic stomachs are usually found in conjunction. Vitality is lacking in all three. How can this be created? Simply by using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters with regularity, abstaining from habits inconsonant with health, and by the use of a digestible diet. As an initial step toward the reinforcement of a depleted system, as a resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is most desirable since it corrects acidity consequent upon a vitiation of the gastric juice and the presence of bile in the stomach, and having regulated and, as it were, lubricated the digestive mechanism, sets it and keeps it at work. An immediate gain in vigor is the result. The food is converted into blood, upon which the system draws for nutrition, the nerves as they acquire vigor become tranquil, the muscular fiber gains substance and hardness, and appetite and sleep improve. Constipation, fever and ague, rheumatism and renal ailments yield to the Bitters.

City of Portsmouth.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE, Nov. 27th, 1885.

The attention of owners and occupants of buildings or lands having sidewalks adjoining, is respectfully called to Sections 3 and 4 of Chapter 14, Revised Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

Sec. 3. The occupants, or, if unoccupied, the owners, of all the buildings and lands situate within the city, shall keep the sidewalks adjoining their respective premises, in all cases where a sidewalk has been or may be constructed, free from snow, by causing the snow to be removed into the street, and evenly spread, and when any or said sidewalks are covered with ice, so as to make the passing dangerous, said owners or occupants shall spread over said sidewalk ashes, sand or salt in such a manner as to prevent the same from being dangerous, within six hours after the cessation of every fall thereof, or when the snow shall have blown or drifted upon the sidewalk by the wind. The time herein allowed for the performance of the work to be computed from sunrise the succeeding morning, whenever the fall of snow shall have ceased in the night time.

Sec. 4. Any person disregarding or offending against the provisions of this ordinance, shall, upon conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each and every offence, with costs of prosecution; and it shall be the duty of the city marshal, under the counsel and direction of the mayor, to cause this chapter to be enforced.

The United States court in Alabama issued a temporary injunction against declaring the result of the prohibition election in Atlanta.

Every woman who suffers from sick headache, and who dislikes to take bitter doses, should try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the easiest of all medicines to take. A positive cure for the above distressing complaint; give prompt relief in dyspepsia and indigestion; prevent and cure constipation and piles. As easy to take as sugar. Only one pill a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents. If you try them you will not be without them.

Modern Improvements. Among the many articles put forth in the interest of housekeepers, nothing has become more popular than James Pyle's Pearline. Five years ago it was scarcely known; since then it has found its way to all parts of the country. Its utility is acknowledged by all who try it, and unlike most of the labor-saving compounds, experience has proved Pearline to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate fabrics, and we feel sure that no one will be without it after a fair trial.

Mum's the Word,

So don't you be the first to tell that whole ticket No. 777 in the original "Little Havana," (Gould & Co.'s,) decided by Royal Havana Lottery, October 3d, inst., created a commotion in this city in the neighborhood of the Stock exchange and at the Manhattan club, by reason of said ticket being sold among the brokers, and through being the same number as the one entitled to 100,000 pesos (Spanish bank bills,) in the Royal Havana drawing the sum of $15,000, which amount was paid, on presentation of the ticket on the 8th inst., in three (3) checks on the Brooklyn bank, Brooklyn, N. Y., each representing payment of a fractional part of the amount stated, to wit: $3,000, $3,000 and $9,000, respectively. If you don't believe it, ask the members of the exchange or club, and you will find that all know the bottom facts, while some of them "got the boodle."

WORDS OF PRAISE.

Dr. James D. Bragg, a druggist and physician of the old school, residing at 271 East Main St., Bridgeport, Connecticut, is full of praise for Athlophoros. This is what he has to say:

"I have been a resident of this city for ten years and am conversant with the prevailing diseases in this section. None is so common as rheumatism and neuralgia. During the fall season I have a busy practice with neuralgia and rheumatic patients, and I prescribe Athlophoros with unparalelled success. It is a perfectly safe medicine, and so pure that a baby can take it."

One of the happiest men in Maine nowadays is William Sawyer, of West Hampden, Penobscot county. Mr. Sawyer is a butcher, long and favorably known in his county, and that he has abundant cause for his happiness will appear from the following statement.

"I was sick last fall with rheumatism," he says, "and a lady sent me word to try Athlophoros. I did so. When I got the medicine the minister was at my house. At four o'clock it took him and two others to get me up off the bed. I took the Athlophoros and in less than two hours one man got me off the bed and in ten hours I got off alone, and in eighteen hours my fever had all gone. I have recommended the medicine to three others that were not so badly off as I was and it worked like a charm. I tell the doctors that I will bet fifty dollars that I can cure any rheumatism fever, I don't care how bad, in twenty hours with one bottle of Athlophoros. I am a butcher going around all over the country and I have to tell this story sometimes ten times a day. I wouldn't be without Athlophoros, and carry it with me all the time."

"I wish to say a word in praise of Athlophoros," says E. J. Flood, of Oxford, Me. "I was taken with rheumatism last May and was treated by my family doctor for some time without relief. I then tried every other rheumatic cure I could hear of with the same result. Some five weeks ago I by chance learned of Athlophoros. I bought a bottle and began taking it and in less than twenty-four hours I could walk without a cane and suffered no pain. I have taken two bottles and to-day I am able to do a hard day's work. I consider it the greatest rheumatic remedy ever known. Since I have been cured I have had a number of people come to me to ask what I took to cure me. To-day I have had three ladies from a distance of six miles to hear about the great remedy. There are three persons in my village that are now using it with the happiest results."

Mrs. Charles H. Gifford, of Lincoln Centre, Me., says:

"I cannot express my thanks for the benefit I have received from the use of one bottle of Athlophoros. I inherited rheumatism from my mother, who suffered untold agony until her death. My father spent hundreds of dollars to get help for her and found none. I have tried many different remedies, but never got any relief to speak of from them, except from Athlophoros, which I can truly say has helped me. I wish to get a few more bottles, so that I can let some of my suffering friends have some."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

An Echo.

More swift than the bark speeding over the ocean,
More fair than the sail floating on the lake,
Is the thought-bird that dips in the fount of emotion
And soars on invisible pinions to me.

It wakens a presence that lightly was sleeping
In magical palace so wondrously wrought;
Where memory ever her vigil is keeping
This presence responds to the love laden thought.

A whisper as noiseless as dew fall, distilling
Its life-giving sweets o'er each flower and knoll,
So still is the echo whose presence, while thrilling
Each nerve of the heart, still enraptures the soul.

An echo that answers sweet thought-wafted wishes,
An echo repeating the heart's hidden lore;
That revels in longings and ecstatic bliases,
From memory's realm it replies evermore.

—Emily Thornton Charles.

An Amusing Incident.

A Washington correspondent, writing to the New York Herald, says: An amusing story is told of the mistake that befel one of the new department officials recently. The official referred to hails from the boundless west, and was only recently placed in charge of one of the bureaus of a prominent department. He was very anxious to become a member of the order of Odd Fellows. Some of the members of the order ascertaining this, his name was proposed and he was accepted. The next question was his initiation. He was invited to appear at one of the down town halls one evening last week for initiation. One of the rooms of the hall referred to is also used by a body of Knights of Labor. Both hall rooms are on the second floor. The Odd Fellows turn to the right to reach their room, while the Knights of Labor turn to the left. The same ante-room or outside hall does duty for both orders.

It appears that the Knights of Labor expected a candidate, and they were waiting for him. As soon as the gentleman referred to reached the outer door to the ante-room the outside gentleman met him with a pleasant smile and asked: "Are you to be initiated to-night?" The official, supposing that the sentinel did the outside business for the Odd Fellows, answered that he "expected to have the honor." Without any further waste of words the outside sentinel informed his comrades there was a candidate for initiation in waiting. The doors were soon opened, and the official was led into the initiation-room. There was the usual chant song, and the officers of the council began reading their lessons, which are read to all candidates for initiation. The ceremony was more than half over when the official suspended the further proceedings by remarking to the worshipful master in a loud tone of voice: "I am the right man, but I think from what I have heard so far that I am in the wrong place; I don't want to hear any more lessons about labor, for I have never worked a day in my life and never will as long as I can hold office. The worshipful master asked him to explain, and the official asked, "Is this an Odd-Fellows lodge?" He was told that it was a council of the Knights of Labor, but as he had already received about one-half of their work and secrets they would insist on his going through with the rest of it, and being bound by the consequences. He demurred, saying that he was in some respects opposed to labor organizations; but the Knights were determined and the initiation was concluded. As soon as he got through he was called upon for some remarks under the head of the good of the order and he made an interesting speech, promising that he might not be a regular attendant upon the sessions of the council, he would drop in occasionally. He added that he would postpone his initiation into the order of Odd-Fellows until he would be able to have a guardian appointed to conduct him to the right place the next time.

What the Mule Died Of.

About a mile from Fort Pillow we met three colored men and a team of horses. The horses were hitch to a dead mule, and were "snaking" him off for burial, but just then had come to a dead halt. The men were wrangling in loud and earnest voices, and as we halted to see what was going on one of them explained:

"You see, gem'len, dis yere mule died of heart disease."

"Didn't do nuffin' of de sort," disputed the second. "If dat mule didn't hev a chill an' jest friz hisself to death, den I'm a goner."

"Chill!" yelled a third. "Gem'len, dat mule was old nuff to die, an' he jist keeled ober, an' dat's all dar am to it. Heart disease! Chill! Why, dem two niggers neber seed a mule afore las' y'ar!"

"Junius, doan' you go to puttin' on airs ober me!" threatened the first, who was driving the team. "You is a low-born nigger from de bottom lands, an' dese white men doan' take no stock in sich!"

The colonel advised peace, but Junius bristled up with;

"Low-born nigg-r! Bottom lands! Why, fo' de Lawd, but I has allus lib'd on de mountains, an' as for being a bad man I has got twenty-two papers from de werry best white folks to show who I am!"

"Reckon you lie, sah!"

"Who's a liar?"

"Yes, who's a liar?"

There was a triangular fight. Each man went in on his own account and fought the other two, and they did thump each other in a hearty manner. They were still at it when the dead mule rolled over, raised his head, and after a moment got upon his feet and began to eat leaves from a roadside bush. Our laughter stopped the fracas and each darkey stood stock still and looked at that mule as if he had been a ghost. Then they looked at each other with blank faces. Then up at us with open mouths. We rode away before they had spoken a word, but presently the leader shouted after us:

"Bress my soul, but he's done come to life an' we's had dis yere fout fur nuffin'."—Detroit Free Press.

An Interesting Scheme.

They were two traditional newspaper men.

"Any news?" asked one.

"No; the city editor is out, and I am prospecting."

"Prospecting for what?"

"A new overcoat. I'm going to try the installment plan. Ever heard of that?"

"Not in the gents' furnishing line," answered the surprised writer.

"Well, 'tis a fact," continued the other; "within a year there has been an important extension in the system. Now we have several institutions gotten up for just such a purpose. Going to one of those institutions and naming the article you desire, you are asked, "What have you got for references? Where are you employed? and are you employed permanently? After answering you are asked to call again in a day or two. In the meantime your references are investigated. Should they prove satisfactory, upon your calling again the manager hands you an order and directs you to a store where the article you desire is kept, there to choose for yourself. They make arrangements with stores for any article in the furnishing line and receive as compensation a percentage on all goods sold, and the only security these installment institutions have is the fact that you are at work, and that you furnished satisfactory references. It may be thought that on account of all this a much larger price would be charged than at places where cash payments are the rule. This, however, is not so. They claim that their prices will compare favorably with any house in the city; in fact, they point to this as the reason why their trade is constantly increasing. Occasionally they meet with loss by the dishonesty of some individual that they have furnished. The system is destined to become in the future of great magnitude."

"Right you are," said the brother scribbler; "guess I'll go along, too."—Boston Globe.

What makes George Edmonds so cool and placid, and how does he do such deep thinking? It is because he never allows himself to be harrassed with colds. He takes Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, he does.

Edwin and Matthew Arnold are no relation whatever to each other, and are much annoyed at being so often mistaken for each other. In plain language, the two men detest each other. Matthew calls Edwin a poetaster and a Philistine; and Edwin styles Matthew an egotist and pedagogue.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Two thousand tons of tea were spoiled by the sinking of a steamer at Hong Kong last October.

Charity bawls are said to be those at infant asylums. The managers of these institutions in large cities, however, now use Red Star Cough Cure which relieves sick children and puts an end to the bawl.

The Forty-Ninth Congress.

The first regular session of the 49th Congress opened on Monday, Dec. 7th.

The senate was called to order at noon. Mr. Edmunds nominated John Sherman of Ohio as president of the senate; Mr. Voorhees moved to substitute the name of Isham G. Harris of Tennessee, but the motion did not prevail, and Mr. Sherman was elected. The credentials of John A. Logan as senator from Illinois, and of Henry W. Blair as senator from New Hampshire, were presented, and the gentlemen were sworn in.

The house was called to order by Clerk John B. Clark, and John G. Carlisle of Kentucky, the democratic candidate for speaker, was elected over Thomas B. Reed of Maine, the republican candidate. The house also elected the democratic nominees for officers of the house.

New Hampshire Independence.

The address delivered at the twentieth reunion of the survivors of the Twelfth Regiment, N. H. Volunteers, at Gilmanton Iron Works in September last by Hon. Martin A. Haynes, has been printed for private circulation.

Congressman Haynes dismounts the high horse of military reminiscence, and discusses, in language more pungent than ornate, several topics concerning the natural advantages of New Hampshire, and among other things deplores that the great reservoir, the key of which is held at Lake Village, is the private property of a Massachusetts corporation, which directs the rise and fall of the gates. How much in years past it would have been developed without such corporate ownership the gallant orator omits to conjecture.

Mr. Haynes inveighs against the law which recognizes private ponds, and prohibits fishing where once all was free; and fires a gun at the private shooting bill which Gov. Currier had the good sense to veto. The address is circulated to arouse our state pride, stimulate our young men to an appreciation of the advantages of our state in many respects, and lead to a higher estimate of our importance as an independent commonwealth.

Another Mysterious Tragedy.

An unknown woman, from thirty to thirty-five years old and fairly well dressed, was found dead in the road in Sharon, Mass., Dec. 5th, with her neck broken. She had evidently been carried to the spot some hours after her death, having previously been deposited in a small pool half a mile away.

A curious case came up in the probate court at Portland, Me., on the 4th inst., a mother petitioning for leave to adopt her own child. Mrs. Martha Dean allowed the family of Charles N. Davis to adopt one of her children. Mr. Davis worked for the Maine Central railroad, and was killed a few weeks ago; and his wife died of heart disease a few days later. The child of Mrs. Dean was, therefore, left without a home. It had been legally adopted by the Davis family, and now Mrs. Dean has been obliged to petition that she may adopt it. She was allowed to do so, but a guardian was appointed for the child.

It was positively affirmed at Belgrade on the 6th inst. that the Russian and Austrian governments would on the 7th inst. intimate to Prince Alexander and King Milan that they have decided to occupy Bulgaria and Servia respectively if hostilities be renewed.

At Nyadan, Burmah, Dec. 2d, 218 British soldiers and 1000 Burmese had a sharp encounter, in which three British troops were killed; sixty Burmese were killed and 150 wounded.

Fourteen sailing vessels, of which half were American, were driven ashore at Colon, Central America, Dec. 4th.

Near Gordon, Texas, about thirty passengers were injured by the wreck of a railroad train on Friday.

British ship Albula was wrecked in the China sea recently, and ten of the crew lost.

The following officers have been ordered to the Dolphin: Captain R. W. Meade, Lieutenants C. O. Millibone, T. C. McLean and J. B. Murdock, Ensign F. H. Sherman. Passed Assistant Surgeon J. H. Gaines, Assistant Paymaster L. C. Kerr and Chief Engineer A. W. Morley.

A Washington despatch of Dec. 5th says: "It is stated that Rear Admiral English has been relieved from the command of the South Atlantic squadron, and ordered to return home. The fact is being kept quiet at the navy department, but it is said that his presence here is required in connection with his management of affairs of the bureau of equipment and recruiting." Rear Adm. English goes on the retired list in February next, by limitation of age, which is most likely the reason he is ordered home.

—A Sioux chief is learning to ride the bicycle, and the final extermination of the aboriginal race is now only a question of time.

—Judge—"Prisoner at the bar, you are charged with wilful murder. Are you guilty?" Prisoner—"Judge, what's th use of putting it that way? As you put it, it's a difficult question to decide. S'posin we simplify the matter by goin' in for a disagreement of the jury."

—"We're going to move again," said the boy to the groceryman on the corner. "No, you're not. When I called with the bill your father said he was going to stay all winter." "Well, we ain't. Ma's throwing the ashes and sweepings down cellar, and that means business every time."

—That fine old-fashioned word "discrepancy" is coming into vogue again, and is used in Massachusetts to describe the relations of an unfortunate cashier with his accounts. The Massachusetts cashier of the future, instead of being known as a defaulter or a thief, will probably be a "discrepant" or "discrepancist."

—A New York woman was asked to add her name to a subscription list for a charitable purpose. "I cannot," was the reply; "I did all I could afford to do for charity during the winter. I went to the charity ball, the kirmess, and attended a number of private theatrical entertainments given for benevolence."

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stock of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as it is now. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the shop of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future, as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look for our wheel and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, Dec. 7th.

George W. T. Brown, for drunkenness, was sentenced to sixty days at Brentwood, and $6.90 costs.

MARITIME NOTES.

The barkentine Norah, Sears master, from Sidney, Cape Breton, for Newburyport, which put into the lower harbor on the 4th inst., was towed to her destination on Sunday, the 6th, by the tug Clara Batemen, Capt. Rand. The Norah was drawing 14 1-2 feet of water, and the depth reported on Newburyport bar was but fourteen feet, but the vessel was taken in all right, though she grated a little on the sand at the shallowest point. The Clara Batemen arrived back at three o'clock A. M. on the 7th.

The river was reported frozen over from Dover as far down as Dover point, Monday morning. The schooner John Bracewell, with a cargo of coal for C. H. Trickey & Co. of Dover, arrived from New York on the 6th, and the schooners Z. S. Wallingford and Golden Rule, with cargoes to the same firm, were reported on the way. This coal will go up by rail from this city.

The steamer Clara Clarita, of Bath, Me., Hathorne master, put into this port on Monday, looking as though just from the Arctic ocean, being iced-up all over. She is on her way from Bath to meet the tug Knickerbocker and ship Lizzie Moses, and put in on account of the blow, and the ugly sea running.

The British schooner Maggie Quinn will be sold at auction as she now lies at Russell's wharf, at ten o'clock Thursday forenoon, Dec. 10th. Suit of sails, anchor, two anchor chains, rigging, and boat, to go with the vessel. Sale positive.

A DISAGREEMENT.

The following account of statements alleged to have been recently made to the governor and council of Maine by Blaney and Mrs. Barrows, we take from one of our Maine exchanges:

While the governor and council were at the Maine state prison last week all prisoners were given an opportunity to make any complaint or requests they desired. About twenty-five of the convicts availed themselves of the privilege, among whom were Oscar E. Blaney and Mrs. Mary E. Barrows, the Kittery murderers. Mrs. Barrows exhibited no gratitude that she had been given an opportunity to enjoy life for a year and four months longer than the court said she could when she was convicted as an accomplice in the murder of her husband, but instead she demanded a full and unconditional pardon, on the ground of her innocence. She stated explicitly that she knew nothing of Blaney being the murderer till he confessed his guilt. Blaney, on the other hand, reiterated his former confession, and stated that he was influenced to commit the murder by the importunities of his wife, who frequently consulted with her mother regarding it. Mrs. Barrows, he said, furnished the money to purchase the revolver and knew that he was going to commit the murder that night, for his wife had notified her during the day that such would be the case. He said he believed Mrs. Barrows saw the first shooting from her bedroom window, and after the second shooting remained in the house with him for about an hour, or till after Barrows died. After his death she went into the bedroom and pulled the clothes off of him. She said she knew the coroners and they would call it suicide. His wife, Blaney said, has not written him since he was committed to prison.

Sunday afternoon services at Christ church will during the winter be held in the choir room at four o'clock.

For many years the various kinds of biscuit made by John Pearson & Son of Newburyport have maintained the highest reputation in the market. Their latest-originated specialty, "Graham Creams," made from the flour of the entire wheat, are nutritious, healthful and delicious. For sale by grocers.

Mr. Benjamin F. Mugridge, foreman of caulkers on the navy yard, on Saturday closed the meat and grocery store on Market street kept by him for several years past, not being able to spare from the yard the time required to properly carry on the business.

Mr. Wm. A. Hodgdon is at present engaged in raising the extension to Congress block, occupied by Andrew P. Preston, one story. The brick work is being done by A. B. Tretethen. The addition will be two stories high, and the upper story will be used by Mr. Preston as a manufacturing room.—Times.

In Rye, on Sunday last, Rev. Mr. Whittier preached to crowded congregations. Christians are awakening, and a few persons have risen for prayers. Meetings are to be held every afternoon and evening of this week, Thursday being observed as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer.

The Portland, Me., Advertiser of Dec. 5th says: "The 'Can Racket' will not be at Portland theatre next week." This "racket" was given in this city a couple of weeks ago, and the few unfortunates who attended it were unanimous in saying it was the poorest entertainment they ever enjoyed. There seemed to be nothing of the piece anyway, and the only member of the company who was at all up in his part was the prompter, whose voice could be heard all over the house from the rising of the curtain to the going down of the same. The habitues of the Portland theatre have not lost a great deal in the absence of the "Can Racket."

Charles E. Bishop, a young man of Malden, Mass., it is charged has been canvassing in this vicinity for the Cottage Hearth, a Boston monthly, and pocketing the subscriptions. He was arrested in this city Saturday, and held over Monday. He has been going under the name of J. C. Whitney.

The Phantom party of which so much has been said will come off this evening in Franklin hall. Only those in some white costume will be allowed on the floor until after the unmasking.

Mr Albert Junkins, of York, lost a horse a day or two since. He was driving on the highway, when the horse stepped into a hole in the road, and broke one of his legs, necessitating his being killed.

See notice in another column of seamstress and dress-maker who desires work by the day or piece.

Wonder how those northern New Hampshire democrats who have regarded Henry O Kent as an interloper in the democratic party, who have more than once refused to vote for him for Congress, denouncing his nomination as an outrage, will enjoy his appointment as naval officer at the port of Boston, especially as the claims of that old warhorse, John H. George, are ignored?—Traveller.

The latest action in the Catholic church troubles at Detroit, Mich., was made public Dec. 4th. Bishop Borgess promulgated a decree of interdiction against St. Albert's Polish Catholic church, on account of the scandalous conduct of the congregation in disturbing religious services in the church, and nearly precipitating bloodshed in front of the holy edifice. This decree shuts out the entire congregation from all privileges of the church. No masses can be observed, no children baptized, no sacraments celebrated, and in fact the church is outlawed. This decree is a very rare one, having been promulgated hardly a dozen times during the Christian era.

—Two Michigan hunters recently shot a woman, mistaking her for a bear. This fable teaches that no woman should wear a sealskin sacque out in the woods during the sporting season.

BILIOUSNESS.
Bilious symptoms invariably arise from indigestion, such as furred tongue, vomiting of bile, giddiness, sick headache, irregular bowels. The liver secretes the bile and acts like a filter or sieve, to cleanse impurities of the blood. By irregularity in its action or suspensions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the blood, causing jaundice, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, bilious diarrhœa, a languid, weary feeling and many other distressing symptoms. Biliousness may be properly termed an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Act upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.

Inaction Fraught With Danger.

Inaction of the kidneys and bladder is fraught with danger. Renal diseases of the most stubborn and fatal character have this initial symptom. To disregard it is to invite them. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has the special quality of stimulating urinary secretion and discharge to a degree consonant with health, and no further. It is not an excitant of the organs, like the unmedicated stimuli of commerce. It simply arouses them when their activity and vitality are impaired. This stimulating and tonic action the Bitters likewise exerts upon the bowels, the liver and the stomach. It averts renal disease, cures dyspepsia, prevents and remedies fever and ague, and removes biliousness and constipation. No finer tonic exists, and to persons with a tendency to gout it strongly recommends itself, as it is a fine depurent of the blood.

Lieut. Henry B. Mayo has been ordered to the naval observatory.

Chaplain William F. Morrison is ordered to the training-ship New Hampshire.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

Lieut. Walter S. Hughes is ordered from the New Hampshire to the hydrographic office at Washington.

Every woman who suffers from sick headache, and who dislikes to take bitter doses, should try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the easiest of all medicines to take. A positive cure for the above distressing complaint; give prompt relief in dyspepsia and indigestion; prevent and cure constipation and piles. As easy to take as sugar. Only one pill a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents. If you try them you will not be without them.

Modern Improvements. Among the many articles put forth in the interest of housekeepers, nothing has become more popular than James Pyle's Pearline. Five years ago it was scarcely known; since then it has found its way to all parts of the country. Its utility is acknowledged by all who try it, and unlike most of the labor-saving compounds, experience has proved Pearline to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate fabrics, and we feel sure that no one will be without it after a fair trial.

LONGEVITY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Statistics show that New Hampshire is pre-eminently the home of the centenarian, nonagenarian and octogenarian, of hale and hearty old men who began life with the republic. Indeed, so numerous are the veterans of the war of 1812 in some of the remote towns of the Granite State that a popular impression prevails there that "the last war," as it is still called by these warriors of bygone days, was fought entirely by New Hampshire regiments, and that from Lundy's Lane to the battle of New Orleans they carried the American banner to the front on every hard-contested field. Many theories have been spun as to why people should live to be older in New Hampshire than in Vermont or Maine. Of course, there must be some good reason for it. Perhaps it is because they take better care of their health and understand what is the right medicine for the right disease. Such at least would seem to be the inference from the following account by Charles M. Lampney, Esq., a well-known attorney and counsellor, of Hampton, N. H., of how he was cured of rheumatism:

"I have had several attacks of rheumatism within the last thirty years," he says, "and have got rid of them the best I could with the help of good physicians. The last attack, which began in April, 1884, was the severest. I was daily under the care of the doctor, who gave me the best attention to relieve me of the severe pain and to relax the contracted muscles. I was taken in the back of the neck. In a few days the pain moved down into the limbs, and in the course of three weeks had run all through the joints from head to foot. At the commencement of the fourth week it had apparently settled down to stay all over me from the back of the head to the toes, and I was unable to move any part of the body except the right hand at the wrist joints. The day before, Deacon Hobbs, a neighbor, who had been suffering for several months with rheumatism, sent me word that he was taking Athlophoros and that it was doing him good. My father accordingly sent to Boston for a bottle. It was brought into the house at 8 o'clock in the evening and found me lying in bed like a corpse.

"I was about to give up the ghost and of course was ready to take anything in hopes that it might do some good. A dose was administered and three hours later another. My hearing became obtuse and my head confused. I dropped into a sleep and slept all night. The next morning after waking I had no pain and could move any part of the body. In the course of three hours I sat up in bed without any assistance. I continued to take the medicine every three hours through the day and a part of the next day and then stopped.

"In a few days I had very severe rheumatic pains in the thumb, and when I went to bed one dose was administered. I slept all night and in the morning the pain was gone. A few days later it returned in the left hand very seriously. On retiring one dose was taken, followed by sweat and no pain in the morning. The whole amount of medicine taken was one and a half bottles, and I have had no occasion to use any since. I consider that the Athlophoros saved my life and I recommend it to all who have rheumatic troubles."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

How He Learned It.

The famous novelist started in life as a reporter. He learned shorthand by the old clumsy methods that were the fashion in his time. It was as serious a business as learning Greek and committing to memory the whole of the "Iliad." But Dickens worked at it and stuck to it through thick and thin, till finally he mastered it. In later years he became very wealthy, and the most renowned story writer of his time. But he never would have done it if he had not worked just as hard at writing as he did at learning shorthand. Have some of our boys and girls thought that they would like to become stenographers? Here is how Charles Dickens learned it. He says:

"I bought an approved scheme of the noble art and mystery of stenography (which cost me ten-and-sixpence), and plunged into a sea of perplexity that brought me in a few weeks to the confines of distraction.

"The changes that were rung upon dots, which in one position meant one thing, and in another position something else; the wonderful vagaries that were played by circles; the unaccountable consequences that resulted from marks like fly's legs; the tremendous effect from a curve in a wrong place, not only troubled my waking hours, but reappeared before me in my sleep.

"When I had groped my way blindly through these difficulties and had mastered the 'alphabet,' which was an Egyptian temple itself, then there appeared a procession of new horrors called 'arbitrary characters'—the most despotic characters I have ever known—which insisted, for instance, that the thing like the beginning of a cobweb meant 'expectation,' and that a pen-and-ink sky rocket meant 'disadvantageous.'

"When I had fixed these wretches in my mind, I found that they had driven everything else out of it. Then, beginning again, I forgot them. Then, while I was picking them up, I dropped the other fragments of the system. In short, it was almost heartbreaking.'

He was very young at this time to be so persevering. He was a mere boy reporter when at last he got the thing learned. He continues:

"I went into the gallery of the house of commons as a parliamentary reporter when I was a boy not eighteen, and I left it—I can hardly believe the inexorable truth—nigh thirty years ago; and I have pursued the calling of a reporter under circumstances of which many of my brethren here, and my brethren's successors, can form no adequate conception.

"I have often transcribed for the printer from my shorthand notes important public speeches in which the strictest accuracy was required, and a mistake in which would have been to a young man severely compromising, writing on the palm of my hand by the light of a dark lantern, in a postchaise and four, galloping through a wild country through the dead of night, at the then surprising rate of fifteen miles an hour.

"The very last time I was at Exeter I strolled into the castle-yard there to identify, for the amusement of a friend, the spot on which I 'took' an election speech of my noble friend, Lord Russel. It was in the midst of a lively fight kept up by all the vagabonds in the vicinity, and under such pelting rain that I remember two good-natured colleagues, who chanced to be at leisure, held a pocket handkerchief over my note-book, after the manner of a state canopy in an ecclesiastical procession.

"I have worn my knees by writing on them on the old back row of the house of commons, and I have worn my feet by standing to write in a preposterous pen in the old house of lords, where we used to be huddled like so many sheep."

Uncle Sam Beats the Record.

"We beat the world on mowers and reapers," says an official of the Bureau of Agriculture. "This department has finished a compilation of figures on the exports of farming machinery from this country. Before 1864 agricultural implments had no designation as such in our statistical reports. They were simply included in other classes of manufactured articles, and not until 1870 was there a division of these implements so that we can know just what was exported. But from 1870 to 1884, inclusive, we sent to other countries over $36,500,000 of agricultural machinery, and of this nearly one-half consisted of mowers and reapers. Great Britain has patronized our manufacturers of these machines to the amount of over $5,000-000 in the past fifteen years; Germany, over $4,000,000; Australia over $1,000,-000; France, nearly $2,500,000; the Argentine Republic, over $1,000,000, and the British possessions in North America over $500,000. Our export of agricultural implements jumped up from a little over $600,000 in 1864 to over $1,000,000 in 1870, and to nearly $3,-500,000 in 1884.

"There is a significance in the figures, aside from the general interest which will be felt in this evidence of appreciation of Yankee ingenuity. Wherever this labor-saving machinery goes, there will be increase in the crops and saving in the cost of their production and harvest. All of this has a very important bearing on the future of agricultural production. The greatest demand for our implements come from the new colonies, where the population is increasing most rapidly. Last year the 400,000,000 people of China bought only $79 worth of agricultural implements from this country, while the 2,500,000 Chilians took from us $84,195. The general use of this improved machinery in new countries insures its use in their development—when their agriculture will constitute a large percentage of the agriculture of the globe. This is a subject for American farmers to think about."

Augustin Daly's Nervousness.

The acute nervous temperament of Augustin Daly, the theater man, shows clear through to his exterior. His gestures are quick and jerky. He takes no pains with his dress and garments, slightly awry, give to him an additional air of intellectual wildness. On the evenings of first performances in his house he sometimes discloses his perturbation to the audiences in funnily grotesque responses to their plaudits, and there are numerous stories of his excitement behind the curtain on these trying occasions; but it remained for a clerk in a store to construe his mental tension as lunacy. A pistol was needed in the rehearsal of a new play the other day, and Daly stopped at a gunsmith's to buy one. He was in a hurry, his manner was distraught by weightier considerations, and his toilet was uncommonly careless.

"Give me a single-barreled pistol," he said, rather imperatively; "a common one will do. Be quick, if you please."

The man behind the counter eyed the stranger suspiciously, with a critical though momentary study of his disheveiment and flutter, and apologetically said: "You will please excuse me, sir, but I'd rather not sell a firearm to you to-day."

The manager's laugh was loud enough to be maniacal, but his explanation of who he was and what he wanted the pistol for established his sanity to the clerk's satisfaction. There were many years of bankruptcy during which suicide would have been almost reasonable in Daly, but for several seasons he has been so prosperous that he promises to become the wealthiest showman in New York.

The amount annually paid to the teachers of the United States is $60,-000,000, an average of about $400 apiece.

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

First Asst. Engr. F. B. Randall, United States revenue marine service, has been placed on waiting orders. Asst. Engr. O. P. Remick, ordered to the "Woodbury" at Eastport, Me., has been promoted to first assistant engineer.

"Early to bed, early to rise, makes one healthy, wealthy and wise," says an old proverb. And it may be added that on the lightest symptoms of the approach of rheumatism, a man ought at once to go to bed, and be well rubbed with St. Jacobs Oil. He will be able to rise early after that.

Ivory Simpson of York, whose death at the advanced age of ninety-one years took place on the 5th inst., was a pensioner of the war of 1812.

Rheumatism

Usually settles in the back or limbs, and often so completely overpowers its victims that all business or labor has to be abandoned. Our readers should remember that Hood's Sarsaparilla is not recommended as a positive specific for rheumatism; its proprietors doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But many people who were most severely afflicted, state that they have been positively cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla The disease is often the result of impure blood,—hence the power of this great remedy over it. Its effect in many severe cases justifies us in recommending its use to all sufferers from rheumatism. 100 doses one dollar.

The Forty-Ninth Congress.

After the election of officers by the senate and house, and the drawing of seats by the representatives, on the 7th, both houses adjourned as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Vice President Hendricks.

President Cleveland's first message to Congress was submitted on Tuesday. It is a very long document; is conservative on the tariff, urges the suspension of silver dollar coinage, takes decided ground for the extinction of polygamy and the advancement of civil service reform, and calls for a strong navy and new sea-coast defences.

The Raymond & Whitcomb Winter Trips to California.

Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb, the well known excursion managers, announce two more of their popular winter trips to the Pacific coast—one for January 14th, and the other for February 11th. These excursions afford our eastern people a chance to escape from the cold and inclement weather of the closing winter and early spring months, a period that is delightful in California. The tickets are arranged that the stay on the Pacific coast may be made long or short as individuals may prefer, and provision is made for persons who may wish to visit friends, as well as for those who desire to pass their time at any of the well known health and pleasure resorts. The latter class will be elegantly cared for at the famous Hotel del Monte, Monterey, and at numerous other places, and all who go will enjoy the advantages of travelling in the party system with low rates, etc. Persons who travel in the Raymond parties are relieved of many cares and responsibilities, all the details being managed by skilled and experienced conductors. Large and pleasant parties are already ensured for both the January and February dates. Send to W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School St., Boston, for a descriptive circular.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, Me., Dec. 7th.

"Well, here we are again," as the clown says, in the pantomime.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Gifford, of Lynn, Mass., who are sojourning here for a short time, had born unto them a daughter, Nov. 28th.

Mr. John H. Plaisted, of Cider hill district, who owns one of the best farms there is out of doors, has recently picked out of his crop of cabbages one dozen heads which weighed two hundred and fifty-seven pounds. One of these heads, with a few quarts of this year's "vinegar," would make a good man a dinner!

Our neighbor Mr. Charles Chase has in his parlor a very handsome old-fashioned brass clock. It was made in Portsmouth, and has been constantly ticking away time for eighty years. It stands eight feet high, and is of the finest mechanism, well ornamented with heavy brass finishings, solid mahogany case, and is in as perfect condition as it was when made. It will repay any one interested in antique goods to ride some distance to examine this clock. I presume a large price only would induce him to part with it.

The United Order of the Golden Cross, Agamenticus Commandry, No. 191, have just advertised a course of five entertainments, the first of which is to be a lecture on "Wales and the Welshmen," by Rev. W. S. Jones of Woodfords, Maine, presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal conference, Portland district, on Thursday evening, Dec. 10th.

Rev. B. S. Maben, pastor of the First Christian church, has been absent two Sabbaths. He is at Prattville, N. Y., with his father, who lies dangerously ill, and of whose recovery very slight hopes are held.

Mr. J. P. Norton's new house, for the occupancy of Mr. Esau, is now under the hands of the painter, Mr. Thomas Shaw, assisted by Oscar Trafton. Mr. Norton is doing a large amount of business, of various kinds, and gives employment to a large number of men. P.

The Sharon Mystery.

The woman found dead in Sharon, Mass., on the 5th inst., was fully identified on the 7th as Carrie Lee, alias Carrie J. Loring, who for some years has led an immoral life in Boston. For nearly a year past she has shown signs of mental unsoundness. She was seen by several persons in Sharon not many hours before her murder must have occurred. The post mortem showed that her death was not caused by drowning or choking, but by the breaking of her neck. No clue to the murderers was discovered.

Owing to the great expenses incurred, and the low rate of admission, no complimentary tickets will be issued to the concert and masquerade ball.

In 1862 one Jack O'Brien, then serving in the navy, went from this city to Dover to spend a short leave of absence with relatives there, and suddenly disappeared. A woman who then lived over a liquor saloon in Dover, circulated the story that about that time a man was murdered in the saloon one night, and his dead body carried away by four men, whose names she gave. It was generally believed that if there was a murder, Jack O'Brien was the victim, he having had several hundred dollars with him; and during all these years since there has not been the slightest news of O'Brien, although sought far and wide, and the four men have laid under the suspicion of murdering him. On the 7th inst. a man walked into the store of Patrick McManus in Dover, and turned out to be the "murdered" Jack O'Brien, who merely deserted, ran away to a British provincial port, and went on a long voyage, twenty-three years ago, instead of getting killed in a bar-room row.

The Phantom party arranged to be given in Franklin hall on Tuesday evening did not come off, owing to the sudden and severe indisposition of Mr. Henry L. Harlow, who was to have directed the music for the occasion.

100 Doses

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PERLE, Salem, Mass.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action, please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as at this time. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Business & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skill on Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not fail to look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch and Chain sold some of them to be sent out of the State.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

dec4-4wtm PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TUESDAY, Dec. 8th.

A charge against Charles E. Bishop, for obtaining money under false pretences, was nol. pros'd, satisfaction having been given.

Albert Shedd, charged with the larceny of an axe, had his case continued to Wednesday forenoon, recognizing personally in $100.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

At the regular monthly meeting of the school board, last Monday evening, the confirmation of Mr. Wilbur J. Rockwood as teacher of the Jones school was left with the committee of district two.

The duration of the recess in all the schools was cut down from twenty minutes to fifteen.

The appointment of a superintendent of schools was discussed.

Action upon the resignation of John Pender as secretary of the board, was deferred until the next meeting.

"AROUND THE WORLD IN A CHARIOT OF SONG."

Philip Phillips, so well known, seems to have gathered new inspiration in singing during his peregrinations over the world. He has added a new and very attractive feature in his entertainments—"Songs Illustrated" and "Tours Illuminated." The sentiments of the songs he sings are graphically portrayed and crystalized before the audience upon a screen in a most artistically-executed picture, which is produced by the Royal Photo-Opticon. His singing alone is worth the price, but the numerous and varied views so finely presented are an immense addition. He comes here the 9th and 10th insts., at the Methodist church.

"A FRIENDLY TIP,"

Which will be played at Music hall on Thursday evening, 10th inst., is a light, ludicrous production, intended to amuse, and succeeding admirably. Of it the Buffalo Express says:

The piece has no end of fun and seemed to "take." Mr. W. J. Fergurson as Sir Chauncey Trip is not only an ideal "Dude," but a very clever actor. J. H. Farrell (author of the piece) as McShirley, and Miss Jennie Fisher as Letitia Featherbrain deserve individual mention."

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Dec. 8th.

The 1st M. E. Sabbath school at North Kittery are preparing to have a Christmas tree.

Merrill lodge of Good Templars at North Kittery are making arrangements to celebrate their third anniversary, January 15th, '86.

Frank Marshall, son of Edward S. Marshall of York, who lives with his grandfather, Alexander Dennett, Esq., is attending the winter term of Berwick academy, going up in the morning and back at night.

The winter term of the Free High school commenced Monday, the 7th inst. F. E. Rowell, principal, Miss Amanda Abrams, assistant. The examination of candidates for admission to the school occurred Saturday afternoon, the 5th inst.

Mr. G. H. Jenness will deliver his second lecture, subject, "Ups and Downs in Washington," at the 2d M. E. church next Monday evening, the 14th inst., for the benefit of the church.

"Mr. John Parsons was quite severely hurt one day last week by a dog kept by Mr. Ephraim Spinney. Mr. Parsons was thrown out, the horse was badly cut, and all caused by the running out of a worthless cur whose owner should be obliged to take care of him."

The above is about as nearly correct as the Kittery scribe of the Biddeford Journal gets most of his items of interest. Mr. Spinney's dog at the time of the accident was in the barn with his hired man, and the doors were shut; besides, Mr. Spinney's dog is a valuable shepherd dog. The "bard of Pullet hill" apparently forgets his own worthless cur.

Mr. John F. Goodsoe killed a porker last week that weighed 585 lbs., dressed.

Miss Lizzie J. Varney of North Kittery was married in Dorchester, Mass., Thanksgiving day, to Mr. Geo. W. Tuckerman of that place. The happy couple went at once to Quincy, Mass., where they have an elegantly furnished house; Mr. Tuckerman is doing a successful business at horse shoeing in Quincy. The wedding presents were numerous and appropriate, and the young couple start out with the best wishes of a host of friends in this vicinity.

The Ladies' Social Circle of the 1st M. E. church, North Kittery, met at the house of Mrs. David Varney on Thursday evening last.

Miss Nellie F. Todd is visiting friends in Lynn, Mass.

Several of the democrats who were discharged from the navy yard last week say they "are blanked glad of it this cold weather; they had worked there longer than they had expected to."

Mr. M. E. Batchelder, of Portland, is canvassing Kittery for the memoirs of Gen. Grant. SUB ROSA.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The directors of the hospital very gratefully acknowledge the gift of a clothes-horse from a friend; an extension table, a large supply of old linen and some underwear, from Mrs. W. R. Preston; a white spread from Ayers & Locke; and the kindness of Mr. W. J. Sampson in providing a sign for the hospital, and for other favors within the house.

Mr. Charles E. Stringer, of Boston, formerly of Portsmouth, has presented a fine photograph of "Christ Among the Doctors" to the hospital, for St. John's ward.

Look out for the Little Dude. He will be in town Thursday; see if you can solve the mystery:

"A Mortal Antipathy," by O. W. Holmes. Published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston; Price $1.50. Any reader of the "Autocrat" could not mistake the author of this book, even if his name was not attached to the preface. The peculiar story of the sufferer from "A. Mortal Antipathy" which runs through this book, without being exciting or sensational is yet real enough to keep the attention of the reader to the end. Other writers may give us profounder thoughts and more analytical criticisms on life, but Dr. Holmes' cheerful, spicy comments on men and things are brimful of originality; and his impression of life is so deliciously individual that it never has and never will cease to entertain and divert the majority of readers.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Diadem, a small vessel with about half a cargo of coal on board, bound east, got ashore in the lower harbor on the 8th inst., but was hauled off by the Clara Batemen, and proceeded.

The tug Clara Clarita sailed early in the morning on the 8th, to meet the tug Knickerbocker and help her tow the ship Lizzie Moses to this port. The Clara Clarita had her deck house badly started by the sea on the trip from Bath here, and had to keep her pumps going all the time to keep her free of water.

The fishing schooner Abbie Snow, while at anchor in the lower harbor on Sunday, was run into by schooner Lydia Lincoln, and had her main boom carried away.

Years Teach More Than Books.

Among other valuable lessons imparted by this teacher is the fact that for a very long time Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has been the prince of liver correctives and blood purifiers, being the household physician of the poor man, and the able consulting physician to the rich patient, and praised by all for its magnificent service and efficacy in all diseases of a chronic nature, as malarial poisoning, ailments of the respiratory and digestive systems, liver disease and in all cases where the use of an alterative remedy is indicated.

Six additional persons were found in New York, Dec. 8th, afflicted with trichinosis. Dr. Cyrus Edson reported to the board of health that he had examined the victims and found them all suffering from symptoms of trichinosis.

The distressing disease, Salt Rheum, is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. Sold by all druggists.

At the launching of the cruiser Chicago three birds, a linnet, a canary and an oriole, each with a tri-colored ribbon tied about its neck, were released from their wicker cages. The freeing of birds at launching of a vessel is practiced in Scandinavia and in Japan. The Scandinavians free an eagle, whenever they set one of their war ships afloat. When the Japanese launch a vessel they let loose hundreds of birds, also release prisoners in their dockyards and arsenals.

$1,000,000 to the Charity Hospital, N. O.

The great Charity Hospital at New Orleans, La., is chased by the medical profession as one of the finest institutions of the kind in the world. Over two centuries it has stood at the gates of the Mississippi as a savior of the national health in the South and West. The Louisiana State Lottery contributed in 1868 one million of dollars, payable in installments, for its support, and is reimbursed by the franchise of the Drawings. The next Grand Semi-Annual (the 157th) will take place on Dec. 15th, when over half a million of dollars will be scattered to its patrons everywhere. All information can be had of M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Thus you can do good, and the world will be none the wiser, and you may get $150,000 to ease your declining years.

NO. 1 MARKET SQUARE.

TWO RIVAL CITIES.

In the long and at times bitter rivalry between Connecticut's two biggest cities—Hartford and New Haven—honors now seem to be pretty equally divided. Hartford has secured the State Capital, one of the most beautiful in the country, situated in a lovely park, but New Haven has gone ahead in population. In the political rivalry between the two, also New Haven, by her Democratic majority, has succeeded in putting the trim little State on the list of those that voted for President Cleveland. Hartford, however, is just now proud of having had her many charms set forth at length, with plenty of illustrations, in the pages of Harpers' Magazine, and so the struggle goes on. Brains will succeed in putting one or the other city ahead, and just here it may be said that New Haven has an exceptionally brainy bar. But, then, Hartford has more literary people—Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. Among the able lawyers of New Haven is Edward A. Anketell, the assistant clerk of the Superior Court, who office is No. 10 in the Court House. Mr. Anketell is well known to the legal profession throughout Connecticut and has also the reputation of being a favored writer for the press. As such this little story, coming from him under date of September 24, 1885, possesses no slight interest:

"Day before yesterday, and for a day or two prior thereto, I suffered great pain in my right arm, which I felt sure was rheumatic. Being determined to do something to relieve the pain if possible I sent out and got a bottle of Athlophoros, and took three doses during the day. Yesterday morning the pain was nearly gone and one more dose completed the cure, so that today my arm is as well as ever."

Mr. Anketell was wise in taking such prompt measures to check the pain. Doubtless if Mr. Morris Hobbs, of Hampton, N. H., had known of the existence of Athlophoros, the rheumatism from which he suffered would have been cured with equal speed long ago. Mr. Hobbs thus tells the story of his cure:

"I had the rheumatism nine months before I heard of your Athlophoros. I was prostrate all that time and could do nothing. I had several doctors, but they did no good. I tried all the medicine I could hear of with no better results. At last I saw Athlophoros advertised and sent for some. On the day it arrived I took three doses in the afternoon before I went to bed, and that night I slept as well as I did when a boy. It seemed to kill the pain at once, and I never have been troubled since. My joints were badly swollen at the time, but as soon as the pain stopped the swelling began to go down very gradually. I am satisfied that if I had taken Athlophoros when I was first troubled with the disease it would have saved me $500 in expenses, time and pain.

"I have recommended it to several others in this place with equally good results. One case was that of a boy 15 years old, who was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that his father had to carry him up stairs to bed for two weeks. His mother came to me to inquire about Athlophoros. I advised her to get it at once by all means and she did. In two days after taking the medicine the boy was out at play with other boys, being entirely cured and has been well ever since.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

How She Brought Him Around.

Marriage, says the San Francisco Chronicle, has long been considered as more or less of a lottery. It is like a lottery in more than the drawing. Drawing a blank once only makes you go into it again. The fact is, to lose a husband or draw one she has got to get rid of is a reflection upon the woman and wounds her vanity. She feels she must marry again just to show it was not her fault, and she is much likelier to be happy in the second venture. The experience of the first helps her to a better understanding of the second, and the unpleasantness of the loss teaches her to yield very often where her natural inclination would be to kick. But there's one woman very happy now, whose husband probably will never know that he was brought up to the scratch in a very simple but effective way.

"I have come to ask you if you can help me to some work," she said. She was a finely educated, very attractive woman. "My husband has turned out quite worthless. I have had to leave him, and I am now compelled to support myself."

"I am very sorry, but I am afraid I cannot give you any work. Do you propose to support yourself?"

"I've got to."

"Look here, that's all nonsense. You're young, pretty, attractive. Why don't you marry again?"

"Marry again! Never. I've had enough of it."

"Nonsense; you'll have better luck this time. Haven't you any admirers?"

"O, yes."

"Any one you like?"

"Yes. There's one young gentleman very much gone on me. He's well off; has a very nice position."

"That's the man. You marry him."

"But he's bashful and backward, and I've got to do something right away. I have no money."

"That's bad."

"Do you mind assisting me to bring him to the point?"

"Certainly not. Tell me how, and I'll be most happy to do anything."

"Well," and she hesitated; "it you wouldn't mind. You see, he's very, very backward, but he's very fond of me, and I think he means business. Now, if you will put on your best clothes and come up—you see, he's coming to call upon me to-night——"

"Certainly. I'll call to-night with pleasure; but——"

"Of course I shall not tell him you're married—you understand; and if you'll—well, he might get jealous, perhaps, and that would be something, you know."

"O, I see. I'll be there."

So the lady went off, and the adviser dressed himself in gorgeous array and called at her house. The bashful lover was there, and it was not fifteen minutes before he got wildly jealous of the new beau. The rival worked it up for all it was worth, and when the backward adorer got to the inflammatory point of jealousy where a fight was probably imminent the confederate lit out, left him the field, and in the brief explanation of the next five minutes he had committed himself to an immediate marriage. She deserved him.

Hole-in-the-Day.

A tall young man, with a complexion of the rich color of the ripe chestnut, and with limbs as cleanly cut as those of Michael Angelo's statue of David, called upon President Cleveland the other day, and asked the appointment of a cadetship at West Point. It was young Hole-in-the-Day, the son of the noted Chippewa chief, and now the king of all the Chippewas. I met him this morning. He is about 18 years old, is over six feet tall, and he has an eye like that of a young eagle. A romance clusters around him, and it was at Washington, where his father, the noted Chippewa king, met the woman who became his mother. It was in 1867 that old Hole-in-the-Day came here on business with the president. He was made much of by the newspapers, feted by society, and at the National Hotel, where he was stopping, he was spoken of as the rich Indian king, who owned the greater part of the lands of the Northwest. At this hotel there was a pretty Irish chambermaid, who did up the old chief's room. The two met. They looked, and from their eyes sprang love. Chief Hole-in-the-day, who had met the belles of Washington, passed them by, and chose the chambermaid. He proposed. She accepted. They were married, and she went back to Minnesota an Indian queen. From the marriage sprang this boy, who has now inherited his father's position. The old king begot the jealousy of some of the Indian tribes by his union with a white wife, and they suspected him of treacherously giving away their lands. They assassinated him. Mrs. Hole-in-the-Day still lives. Her boy has the true military bearing about him and he looks and walks like the king that he is. He dresses in American clothes, and talks pure Anglo-Saxon. Gov. Ramsey is pushing his claims here, and he will probably receive an appointment.—Washington Cor. Cleveland Leader.

Try it Just Once for the Cigars.

The latest trick about town is called the Clock Puzzle. You mention it to your friend. His curiosity prompts him to inquire what it is like. You take out your watch, ask him to select one of the hour figures, then offer to bet him the cigars you can tell which one he selected, the only condition being that, as you go rambling about the dial looking for the number, he shall tell you when the number he has in his mind, added to your count, will make twenty. For instance, you begin by pointing your pencil at 3, counting one, then at 5, counting two, then at other numbers selected at random, counting each one, until you have counted eight, when you begin at the 12 and proceed in the direction opposite to that which the hands travel. If your friend has selected the 12 he informs you that your count (eight) and the hour number, at which you are then pointing, added together, make twenty. If he should have selected the 11 he stops you there, as your count (nine) and the 11 makes twenty, and so on, taking in all of the hours. It is a very simple thing, but it has been good for many a cigar.—Chicago Herald.

Lydia Thompson's Daughter and a Dude.

Plump, smooth, jolly Miss Tilbury doesn't amount to much as an actress yet, being a novice, but her youth and comeliness are very compelling to the adulators of stage femininity. Bouquets and notes are sent to her by the noodles, and one evening a somewhat years-worn beau, famous for a quarter of a century as a gallant of the greenroom, was struck hard by her agreeable personality. His social and business relations with the management were such that he was able, just after rehearsal next day, to be introduced to the girl. She received him respectfully but not ardently, and he felt that he was not making a deep impression. He therefore made some intensely silly remarks, intended to convey his admiration.

"I seem to have been acquainted with you for a long time, somehow," he said.

"That's natural, sir," Miss Tilbury responded, "I am wonderfully like my mother was fifteen years ago. You were very sweet on her, judging by the letters you wrote and the inscriptions on the back of your photograph that you gave her. I was overhauling a boxful of her trash just before I sailed from England, and we had a good laugh over those things."

"And who was your mother?"

"Lydia Thompson."

The wood of two generations retired as soon as he conveniently could. —Pittsburg Post.

After Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrated. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

A probably fatal assault was made a few days ago at Barkerville, Pa., on W. F. Yates, a young minister, by an opposing church party, who stoned him. The community is greatly excited.

Naval Expenditures.

That part of the message of the president relating to naval affairs, and the report of the secretary of the navy, are interesting reading. Of course it was quite a simple matter for the democracy to criticise the administration of naval affairs under such men as Mr. Robeson and Mr. Chandler. Against these men, and their mode of expending money in the navy yards, almost everything was charged—and nothing proved. We are indebted to Mr. Robeson for about all the navy we have which is capable of being floated, except the Dolphin, for which we must thank Mr. Chandler.

The thing for Mr. Whitney to find out is, how to employ the democrats of New York and Norfolk in the navy yards, and have a meagre democratic appropriation yield anything except just before the elections. Of 1243 men employed (?) in the New York navy yard the day before the late election in the state of New York, fifty per cent were discharged soon after they had voted; and the following week the navy yard officials announced that not only had the allotment of the appropriations of the fiscal year (divided into twelve parts) for November been expended, but that only $400 remained available for work up to Jan. 1st!

Now we suggest to Mr. Whitney that, having concluded to accept Mr. Roach's vessels, he will probably find Mr. Chandler, who is at Washington, in a complacent turn of mind, and perhaps ready for a consultation; and that the secretary enquire of him and ascertain the secret of being able to run the department upon a low appropriation, and have some results to show for it. This information is of the kind of which the honorable secretary of the navy, now he has got down to his work, seems to be sadly in need. Mr. Whitney will have difficult work to secure a large appropriation for his department, unless he makes a better showing than present indications lead us to anticipate.

Biennial Elections.

The Massachusetts club at a recent Saturday dinner discussed the subject of biennial elections. In the language of Punch, given on the occasion of a young man contemplating matrimony, we venture this advice: "Don't."

A biennial election may answer. In this state it saves great expense to candidates. But a biennial session of the legislature becomes in itself perennial, and the people of New Hampshire to a great degree have become convinced that when a member of the legislature has been elected and finds that his first session is all there is to his legislative career, he inclines to make the most of his public life, prolong his season as an important public functionary, and serve the state as long as there can be any excuse for the pastime.

The sessions of the New Hampshire legislature, held before the adoption of the amendments of our constitution proposed by the convention of 1876, were reasonable in duration, efficacious in results, and sufficiently protracted to educate our people as law makers. The representatives in the second year went to Concord full of wisdom and experience, and the business was done promptly, but not in disorder or unseemly haste. But now, with the prospect of a long session, the attendance of any considerable number of members is noted but few days in the week, and the summer is ended before the session closes.

Too Much Civil Service Reform.

The Boston Globe, the New England organ of radical democracy, is not overpleased with the president's message in regard to the civil service. It says: "In the section devoted to civil service reform, the mugwumps will find satisfaction in heaping measure. If we understand the language of the President, he believes the people are in love with the most advanced ideas of theoretical reform, and seems to have the impression that the aspiration to serve in public office is dishonorable and degrading. If it were dishonorable to hold public station, how would it be possible to induce good men to serve?"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as it is to-day. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty!" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch Work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch s and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT--COLT, J.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 9th.

Welcome Jencks vs. the Langdon Mills. The complainant, Mr. Jencks, while in the employ of the Langdon mills, claims to have invented a bolster used on spinning frames, and he seeks to recover damages for use of his invention by the mill corporation for several years. His claim is resisted for several reasons, namely: Want of novelty; want of patentability; and that the patented devices were used by license from the complainant. H. S. Clark: H. G. Wood, for compt.; Livermore & Fish for deft.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 9th; Bufford J.

Wm. B. Caverly, charged with drunkenness, was dismissed.

Albert Shedd, alleged larceny of an axe from George W. Rodman. Case continued from the 8th, and again continued to the 10th.

RAILROAD MEETINGS.

The annual meetings of the stockholders and bondholders of the Eastern railroad were held in Boston on Wednesday; and on the same day there was a special meeting of the stockholders to see if they would ratify the action of the Boston & Maine directory in leasing the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester and Portland & Rochester roads.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Boston & Maine railroad was held in Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 9th, and George Lord, Nathaniel G. White, Amos Paul, Nathaniel J. Bradlee, James R. Nichols, William S. Stevens, Joseph S. Ricker, Richard Olney, Samuel C. Lawrence and Frank Jones were chosen directors. The report of the directors was accepted without being read.

A special meeting of the stockholders was afterward held, and the leasing of the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester and Portland & Rochester roads approved.

THE THEATRE.

The New York Herald says: "W. J. Ferguson, who represents the character of the dude in 'A Friendly Tip,' is undoubtedly one of the finest character artists on the stage to-day. His performance is bright, breezy and ludicrous enough to make any one who goes to see it satisfied with himself for having done so." The Sun says he "is much funnier than any dozen of real dudes know how to be." The papers of Philadelphia, Troy and other cities say the piece is very amusing and the company a good one.

Mr. Conn starts this (Thursday) morning for Vermont, to make sure that his supply of turkeys and geese for Christmas shall be of such quality as shall give entire satisfaction to the many patrons who have learned to depend upon him to furnish a first-class bird for a centrepiece at the holiday dinner.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. George Lowe of York, Me., commanding, during the season just ended has carried twenty-seven cargoes of bricks from this port to Boston without accident, netting her owners the handsome return of thirty-five per cent. Her managing owner, Mr. George Scott, says the Hattie Lewis is much better-paying property than some vessels he owns in, that could carry the little bricker and her cargo on their decks.

Twelve fishing vessels came in on Wednesday, the 9th inst., with small fares, for which they realized $4 to $5 per hundred pounds. The schooner Flying Cloud, Capt. Wm. Randall, in going out collided with the schooner Clyde in Fort cove at Newcastle, tore her mainsail, and put back.

The ship Grandee, of this port, Jacobs master, was at Hong Kong Nov. 2d, under charter for Manila to load for New York.

The ship Lizzie Moses of Bath, Me., Lansil master, from Weehawken for this port in tow of tug Knickerbocker, arrived below at Boston on Tuesday, the 8th inst. The Lizzie Moses has had pretty rough weather ever since starting on this trip, having had to make harbor off Whitestone, L. I., at Newport, R. I., in Vineyard Haven, and finally at Boston.

Reserved seat tickets for the Casino masquerade are now for sale at Goodrich's bookstore.

Miss Ann M. Hart died in this city on the 8th inst. at the age of eighty-four years and two months. Three years ago she buried a sister who had arrived at the age of eighty-six.

The management of the hotels at the Shoals have taken care of the crews of three small vessels which have been in distress near the Shoals, since last April.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA?

Among the many symptoms of Dyspepsia or indigestion the most prominent are: Variable appetite; faint, gnawing feeling at pit of the stomach, with unsatisfied craving for food; heartburn, feeling of weight and wind in the stomach, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, low spirits, general prostration, headache, and constipation. There is no form of disease more prevalent than Dyspepsia, and none so peculiar to the high-living and rapid-eating American people. Alcohol and tobacco produce Dyspepsia; also, bad air, rapid eating, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will cure the worst case, by regulating the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. Sold everywhere.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a trial now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

Inaction Fraught With Danger.

Inaction of the kidneys and bladder is fraught with danger. Renal diseases of the most stubborn and fatal character have this initial symptom. To disregard it is to invite them. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has the special quality of stimulating urinary secretion and discharge to a degree consonant with health, and no further. It is not an excitant of the organs, like the unmedicated stimuli of commerce. It simply arouses them when their activity and vitality are impaired. This stimulating and tonic action the Bitters likewise exerts upon the bowels, the liver and the stomach. It averts renal disease, cures dyspepsia, prevents and remedies fever and ague, and removes billiousness and constipation. No finer tonic exists, and to persons with a tendency to gout it strongly recommends itself, as it is a fine depurent of the blood.

Joseph Mackin, the Chicago democratic politician now behind prison bars for falsifying election returns, and perjury, leads the singing in the Joliet prison choir. He has a beautiful tenor voice, and makes a good conductor.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier.

SULPHUR BITTERS.

Why suffer with Boils? Do you feel languid and low-spirited? Do you feel as if life was a burden? Do you have Headache? Why let your system run down until you become a prey to Malaria and Kindred Diseases? Why let your blood become so impure and sluggish that it will not circulate freely? Why let your liver become torpid and your digestive organs out of order? Why let your system become a prey to Dyspepsia, with its attendant horrors? Why let your nerves become unstrung, and your system so prostrate that a slight exertion will cause you to pant like a hunted deer? Why let your blood become so thick that it will not flow? Why let your system become a prey to Malaria and Kindred Diseases? Why let your blood become so impure that it will not circulate freely? Why let your system become a prey to Dyspepsia, with its attendant horrors? Why let your nerves become unstrung, and your system so prostrate that a slight exertion will cause you to pant like a hunted deer? Why let your blood become so thick that it will not flow? A canning company of Chicago has received an order from the French government for 2,200,000 pounds of canned beef for the use of the French army. The contract, it is believed, is the first one given to an American firm. The contract involves the slaughter of 25,000 head of cattle.

Every woman who suffers from sick headache, and who dislikes to take bitter doses, should try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the easiest of all medicines to take. A positive cure for the above distressing complaint; give prompt relief in dyspepsia and indigestion; prevent and cure constipation and piles. As easy to take as sugar. Only one pill a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents. If you try them you will not be without them.

Major James D. Burrell, for over fifty years a prominent citizen of West Bridgewater, Mass., a former memoer of the legislature and a prominent Mason, died Dec. 5th, aged eighty-eight years.

M. L. Blair, Alderman 5th Ward, Scranton, Pa., stated Nov. 9th, 1883: He has used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for cuts, sprains, burns, bruises and rheumatism. Cured every time.

The domestic felicity of Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks was a proverb in Indiana. At a wedding ceremony in Shelbyville three years ago the officiating clergyman, after shaking hands with the newly married couple, gave them his benediction in these words: "May you always be as happy as Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks are."

C. W. Dyer, No. 45 Fulton Market, N. Y., a gentleman of seventy-two years of age, has been using Brandreth's Pills for upwards of thirty years. He says they have cured him of inflammatory rheumatism three times when physician's prescriptions were in vain. He took one or two pills every night for a fortnight.

The Concord Monitor recalls that forty-eight years ago Dec. 8th Wendell Phillips delivered his first anti-slavery speech at the Lovejoy meeeting in Faneuil hall, in answer to Attorney-General Austin, who said: "Lovejoy died as the fool dieth." And just twenty-two years from that day, Mr. Phillips, with the wintry blasts of the desolate regions of North Elba sweeping around him, stood by the open grave of John Brown and delivered the funeral address.

Of either sex, however induced, promptly, thoroughly and permanently cured. Send three letter stamps for large illustrated treatise. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Andrea Maffei, the famous Italian poet and translator, died recently.

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus cures the disease.

Cornelia Stone, wife of Ex-Governor Porter of Indiana, died at Indianapolis Dec. 7th, aged forty-five years.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

Nine Minneapolis, Minn., flour mills started up Monday, Dec. 7th.

Mrs. Charles Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

Michael Keebles was killed by a freight train at Portland, Me., on the 9th inst.

Richard Dexter, sixty years old, was caught in the shafting and instantly killed on the 9th inst. at the Whitehall carpet works, Worcester, Mass.

Almost Killed.

I was almost killed by the doctors, who treated me for the bleeding piles. It cost me over $100 without relief. I took Sulphur Bitters for two months, and now I am well.—Gus Hall, Troy, N. Y.

A $10,000 Unitarian church was dedicated at Turner's Falls, Mass., Dec. 9th, the sermon being preached by Rev. Geo. Reynolds, secretary of the American Unitarian association.

Modern Improvements. Among the many articles put forth in the interest of housekeepers, nothing has become more popular than James Pyle's Pearline. Five years ago it was scarcely known; since then it has found its way to all parts of the country. Its utility is acknowledged by all who try it, and unlike most of the labor-saving compounds, experience has proved Pearline to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate fabrics, and we feel sure that no one will be without it after a fair trial.

A Knights of Labor assembly has been formed at East Bridgewater, Mass., and at present numbers about fifty members.

M. L. Blair, Alderman 5th Ward, Scranton, Pa., stated Nov. 9th, 1883: He has used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for cuts, sprains, burns, bruises and rheumatism. Cured every time.

By a blasting accident at the quarry of McAuliff & Shea, Fitchburg, Mass., Dec. 9th, Jeremiah Shea, William McAuliff and William Marble were seriously injured. It is probable that Shea and McAuliff will lose their eyesight, while Marble will not recover.

C. W. Dyer, No. 45 Fulton Market, N. Y., a gentleman of seventy-two years of age, has been using Brandreth's Pills for upwards of thirty years. He says they have cured him of inflammatory rheumatism three times when physician's prescriptions were in vain. He took one or two pills every night for a fortnight.

In the case of the death of Lucien P. Emerton, a fireman killed on the Northern division of the Old Colony railroad, Mass., the court finds that Emerton came to his death by the negligence of the railroad company and its employes.

THE DECAY OF THE HILL TOWNS.

Those who have traveled through the hill country of New England must often have been struck by the sight of a white church standing almost alone upon a summit of the great ridge. Once it was the meeting place of some flourishing village, but when the railroads came, making their way through the rough forbidding country by following the water courses closely the villagers descended into the valleys, built up towns along the great highways of travel and left the old church to mourn over its lost glories and to struggle along weakly until it too had to succumb to the new order of things. The clergy who built up these pillars of orthodoxy were strong and earnest men, and those who have succeeded them are not less so. Their lives are marked by self-sacrifice and severe work. Their labors are carried on under many difficulties and hardships, and it is not surprising that many suffer from rheumatism and neuralgia. That many of them have found a cure, however, for these diseases may be seen from these letters. Rev. A. S. Cooper, of Williston, Vt., says:

"Twelve hours' use of Athlophoros greatly removed the pain from my system and rendered the muscles so supple that I could get up and down with ease, which I have not done for a long time. I called yesterday on a gentleman who got a bottle from me and who I expected would send for more through me, but I found he had got the start of me and ordered for himself, having been much benefited by it."

Henry L. Hall, editor of Willimantic (Ct.) Journal, who is well and favorably known for miles around, says:

"Three doses of Athlophoros relieved me from a very acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism in nine hours. I consider it an invaluable remedy in rheumatic affections, and esteem it a pleasure to recommend Athlophoros."

Mr. J. B. Webster, who is the carpenter for the Willimantic Linen Co., of Willimantic, Conn., and is well-known and much respected in that neighborhood, says:

"For three months I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism, and failed to receive any relief from any of the numerous remedies for that complaint until I took Athlophoros, which entirely cured me."

Rev. S. Donaldson, of Lyndon, Vt., writes:

"The bottle of Athlophoros helped my wife greatly. She had up to the time of taking it been a great sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatic difficulties, making it almost impossible for her to walk with any ease. These difficulties have been about her more or less for fourteen years. Since taking the medicine she has been comparatively free from pain and is able to walk better than before for several years."

Rev. Charles E. Harris, formerly of New Haven, now of Brooklyn, says:

"Athlophoros acted like a charm, and I have been quite free from any attack of rheumatism from that time until the present. I can, therefore, with all sincerity testify to the valuable quality of Athlophoros as a rheumatic cure."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. CURE Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing SICK Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured HEAD Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head ACHE Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

A GRIZZLY'S FIGHT.

Dozens of Rattlesnakes Swarm Around a Big Bear and Kill Him.

About a years after the Custer massacre I was prospecting in the Black Hills, and I tell you that keeping a lookout for Indians, rattlesnakes, grizzly bears, outlaws, and "indications" was all the work one man should have been loaded with. I was stark alone, you remember, having been sent out by certain speculators in Denver. I was "heeled" with all the weapons that I cared to lug, and as for grub, I was expected to furnish myself.

Skipping several close shaves from losing my scalp, and several accidents which brought me face to face with death, let me tell you of a curious battle which I had the good luck to witness. I had been camping or lodging in a cave in one of the ruggedest mountains nature ever made. I found it by accident, and I turned it into a lodging-house, because it offered me a secure retreat from the Indians. There were plenty of the red devils around, and I moved about in constant dread of feeling their bullets.

During the first two nights I was undisturbed, but on the third I heard the "woosh!" of a grizzly about bed-time, and the infernal brute prowled about the neighborhood half the night. I reckon he could get my scent, but was unable to locate me. Once he approached within twenty feet of the mouth of my den and stood there for ten minutes and sniffed and snuffed and growled until I was in a cold sweat. He went away after a time, but I didn't sleep more than an hour all that night. Next morning I was astir before sunrise, and I soon got on the track of Old Ugly. He had gone to the west, and I had not followed his trail over 500 feet when I found a beaten path leading up and down. It was doubtless the old gentleman's private roadway, and had seemingly been used for months. I followed it for about a half a mile, and then took a sudden turn around a ledge or mass of rocks about fifteen feet high. Believing I was pretty near "home," and not wishing to walk in on anybody without warning, I climbed the ledge instead of keeping the path. I had scarcely reached the top when I heard an r-r-r-r! and at the same instant got the scent of rattlesnakes. You just get that green cucumber scent once and you'll never forget it! It's a smell no other reptile has, and it makes you powerful sick, without any time wasted.

Well, a dozen or more great rattlers crawled away as I advanced, and I saw them disappear on the other side of the ledge. I was on a rocky shelf jutting out of the mountain. The distance across was about twenty feet. I got down on my hands and knees and crept to the far edge and looked out from behind a bowlder. It was well that I had been cautious. Below me, and not thirty feet way, lay my old grizzly, fast asleep. He was on the broad of his back, legs up, and when my eyes fell upon his long, steel-like claws I no longer wondered how he was able to tear the carcass of a deer into shreads at a few strokes.

I had the old chap dead to rights. There was a good rest for my Winchester, and even a poor shot could put two bullets into his head before he could open his eyes. But I didn't shoot. While I was making ready to a full dozen rattlesnakes went gliding down the path toward the bear. They looked ugly and defiant, but perhaps would have passed him by if he had remained quiet. He lay to one side of the trail, and as the snakes neared him he gave an uneasy roll and uttered a snore. Quicker than greased lightning every snake coiled and rattled, and one darted forward and struck the old chap in the hind leg.

Then a circus commenced. As the bear sprang up with a fierce growl, the snakes divided and about half of them passed him. This put him between two fires. He seemed dazed for a moment, but soon began striking out with his claws and uttering such growls as sent chills up and down my spine. He woke up a bad party in those rattlers. They were spoiling for a fight, and went in to kill. The fight was scarcely begun before another dozen snakes wriggled out of crevices and hurried down as re-enforcements.

The bear sat up on end and struck right and left, disabling several of the serpents inside of two minutes, but it was plain that he had no heart for the fight. The poison of the first bite was probably taking the courage out of him.

The battle lasted about five minutes, at the end of which time Old Ugly began to whine like a 3-year-old boy. He wanted to get away, and he ceased to strike. When he did finally bolt down the path half a dozen rattlers were clinging to him, and he was the worst whipped bear in the great and glorious West.

Waiting about half an hour, I descended from my perch and followed the path. At the end of a quarter of a mile I found him lying dead, and the body was so puffed up that it could not have been crowded into the largest hogshead. A dozen serpents still surrounded it, rattling away in great excitement, and at the sound of my feet on the rocky path they turned upon me so menacingly that I beat a hasty retreat.—N. Y. Sun.

Lovemaking in England.

English girls seldom marry before the age of 22 or 23. Some marry well at the age of 30. A marriage in England is not arranged in a few days or even a few months. A young man of about 20 engages himself to a young lady of say 18, and the lovers remain engaged for three or even five years. These are the woman's good time. During the engagement she enjoys almost all the sweets of married life without any of its troubles, and she is free. Sometimes she does her best to make the engagement last as long as possible. She prefers to murmur words of love to her betrothed to shutting herself up with him in some semi-detached cottage wherein to bemoan on the high price of bread and butter and coal. On the day she is married she is settled, as they say in England; that means she is established. I would define this word "settled" more correctly by saying that her business is done for her. I do not wish at all to convey the idea that woman finds no happiness in the English household; nothing is further from my mind. I think, on the contrary, she can enter with more confidence than can her sister across the channel, because she assumes less responsibility and because her mother has invariably versed her most thoroughly in domestic economy. Women in England know nothing at all about their husbands' business, no more than a clerk knows about the affairs of his employer; and it is even a difficult thing for her to say whether he is making a fortune or on the verge of bankruptcy. When her husband dies, an Englishwoman who has no fortune may become a governess, a housekeeper, or a nurse. That is servitude. An Englishman gives his wife so much a month for household expenses and so much for her wardrobe—her wages, as it were. She evinces no surprise when she learns one fine morning that her husband is taking her to a sumptuous abode, nor when she learns that they must move some evening in the dark without making a noise. She goes with the furniture—in a double sense.

Savages when pleased smile and make gestures indicative of the pleasures of eating. Petherick says the natives on the Upper Nile rubbed their stomachs when he showed them beads. The Australians, says Leichardt, smacked their lips and clocked their tongues when they saw his horses and kangaroo dogs, while the Greenlanders, according to Cranz, when they affirm anything with pleasure, suck down the air with a queer sound.

The newspapers and their outlits in the United States are valued at $896,500,560.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870. R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia, and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. OUT OF TOWN WORK A SPECIALTY.

Two charming little girls were dancing "the racket" in the streets. "What makes you so happy?" a gentleman asked. "Oh! our mas have thrown away all our horrid medicine, and we have only to take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and that ain't bad at all."

"The Musical Record" for December has been received. This number is especially attractive, for besides the usual amount of reading matter, it contains a potpourri of most of the popular airs of the new popular opera, "Mikado," arranged by C. Macey. It also contains a pretty Christmas Carol, taken from the charming Kindergarten book of Mrs. Kate Dougiass Wiggin. Price, ten cents a copy, or $1.00 per year.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribible. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief which is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispels the causes of dyspepsia, and tones up the digestive organs. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Senator Blair's Education Bill.

Senator Blair has promptly reintroduced his education bill, with the conviction that it will become law. It has been amended so that the general government shall not bear more than fifty per cent of the cost of any school building that shall be erected under the provisions of the act. Whether there will be at last any sort of federal supervision of the money to besent south is not certain. It will be found, probably, that the democratic members of the house of representatives are more inclined than they were at the last session to accept the nation's bounty, as it is undoubtedly true that the south is more favorably disposed now than it formerly was toward the education of the colored race. After all, it will not be by or through Congressional appropriations that education will be advanced in the south, but by and through a thorough conviction of its necessity and value.

Is Boston Losing its Literary Prestige?

This question, frequently mooted in New York city and its vicinity, is somewhat skillfully treated in a recent number of the Tribune. We thought that Boston had obtained a better grip last week, when Mr. Howells presided at a dinner given to Signor Salvani and made a little speech in Italian, but on second thought we recalled the fact that even in the lower part of New York there are, after the return of the travelling organists at this season, numerous dinners when all the remarks are in the language of sunny Italy. Yes, it looks as if the L. P. of Boston would have to go.

Paid No Attention to the Testimony.

At the last September term of the supreme court for Strafford county, in the suit of Taylor Berry vs. Stephen Young, both of Strafford, plaintiff recovered $5000 from respondent for injuries received in a dynamite explosion, caused by respondent's alleged negligence on his premises, when two persons were killed and several wounded. On the 7th inst. Fremont Goodwin of Farmington made a deposition to the effect that Thomas H. Goots, one of the jurors in the case, told him after the verdict was rendered that previous to the trial he learned from a son of the respondent, Young, that his father ordered the battery into the house, causing the explosion. From this he made up his mind that Young was guilty of carelessness, and he paid no attention to the testimony. For this reason counsel for Young will ask that the verdict be set aside.

The Life-Saving Service.

President Cleveland has the manliness in his message to speak of the conduct and organization of the life-saving service under republican administrations in the following terms:

The observance of the provision of law requiring the appointment of the force employed in this service to be made solely with reference to their fitness, and without reference to their political or party affiliation, has secured the result which may confidently be expected in any branch of public employment where such a rule is applied.

And the implied pledge is one that gives an assurance that the hardy men who guard our coast in darkness and storm, will not be subject to the persecutions of the petty spoilsmen.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Dec. 10th.

The Sabbath school of the Second Christian church is making arrangements for a Christmas entertainment.

The subject of Mr. G. Harrison Jenness' lecture at the Second Methodist church, Monday evening, the 14th inst., will be, "Corrupt Literature of the Age," and not "Ups and Downs in Washington" as previously announced, Mr. Jenness having changed his subject, for what reason we do not know.

In our last letter to the Gazette we stated that Miss Amanda Abrams was re-engaged as assistant teacher at the Free High school. Such is not the case; we forgot that this is an age of "reformers," and that school agents are no exception.

Rev. E. E. Colburn will conduct a neighborhood prayer-meeting at the house of Mrs. Eunice Young, at the Lower Foreside, on Saturday evening, Dec. 12th. Mrs. Young is ninety-two years old, reads without glasses, and does most of her work about the house. She is an excellent Christian woman, and be-oved by all.

The working hours of the Portsmouth bridge gang were changed Wednesday, the 9th inst., and are now from 7:30 A. M. to noon, and from noon to 4:30 P. M., with a corresponding reduction of pay.

SUB ROSA.

Charles N. Dodge has been appointed postmaster at Hampton Falls.

A gentleman doing business at the north end says it has been about three months since work was commenced on that part of the new sewer which crosses Market street, and still it is unfinished. He thinks the city authorities should compel the completion of that part (about forty linear feet) for the accommodation of the public.

Mr. Joseph S. Grant of North Kittery has killed his two costly Irish setter dogs. The reason for this action is said to have been that they had developed such a taste for mutton that their cost bid fair to reach high above their value.

The contract for making the heating apparatus for the Dover high school has been awarded to the Portsmouth Machine Co.

The democratic papers are just at present almost unanimous in their expression of opinion that a law regulating the presidential succession should be passed immediately, and are as unanimous in opinion that the succession should be changed from the presiding officer of the senate and the speaker of the house to the cabinet officers, in stated order, beginning with the secretary of state. These zealous organs omit to mention that just such a bill was passed by the republican senate of the last Congress, and failed in the democratic house of representatives.

Richard Sutton of Quebec has been in Maine for several days in the interest of the Land League, and branches will be at once formed in Portland, Lewistown and Bangor. The league has had an organization in Maine in the past, but it having become practically dead Mr. Sutton has come at the request of Patrick Egan to reorganize it, that the state may be represented at the national convention next January.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the past six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty:" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our repairing talent for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch s and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

RAILROAD MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern railroad, and of the holders of the certificates of indebtedness, for choice of directors, six by the certificate holders and three by the stockholders, was held at the Eastern railroad station in Boston on Wednesday, Dec. 9th, the stockholders' meeting being presided over by President Sewell, and the bondholders' meeting by Trustee Willard P. Phillips.

The bondholders proceeded to ballot for the six directors they are entitled to elect. There were two tickets in the field, the "regular ticket" bearing the names of Arthur Sewall of Bath, Me., George C. Lord, of Newton, Mass., Nathaniel J. Bradlee, of Boston, Samuel C. Lawrence, of Medford Mass., Richard Olney of Boston, and Frank Jones of Portsmouth, N. H. The other ticket bore the names of Jacob C. Rogers of Peabody, Mass., Charles J. Morrill of Boston, Edward W. Hooper of Cambridge, Mass., George E. B. Jackson of Portland, Me., John Cummings of Woburn, Mass., and Richard Olney of Boston. The declaration of votes was as follows:—

Total number of votes,	14,600
Necessary for a choice,	7,301
Jacob C. Rogers had	7,406
Charles J. Morrill,	7,686
E. W. Hooper,	7,396
Geo. E. B. Jackson,	7,557
John Cummings,	7,406
Richard Olney,	14,600
Arthur Sewall,	6,924
George C. Lord,	7,184
Nathaniel J. Bradlee,	7,194
Samuel C. Lawrence,	7,194
Frank Jones,	7,057

There was some sharp talk on the declaration of this vote, and it was brought out that the vote of Harvard college (for the defeated candidates) had been thrown out for alleged informality, while over $400,000 worth of bonds, purchased by the trustees for the sinking fund, had been voted on by them, for the winning ticket. The meeting finally adjourned to Jan. 9th, at eleven o'clock A. M.

For directors on behalf of the stockholders there were two tickets in the field, namely: Francis I. Amory, Thomas A. Hyde and Charles Houghton, (the old board,) the other ticket having on it the names of B. P. Cheney, Jarvis C. Braman and Joseph H. Gray. Without electing directors the annual meeting adjourned to meet again Jan. 9th, one hour later than the assembling of the bondholders.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern railroad was held at the Boston station on the 9th inst. after the annual meeting, "To see if the stockholds will approve of a lease by the Boston & Maine Railroad of the railroad and property of the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railroad company, of such tenor and upon such terms as have been agreed to by the directors," and "To see if the stockholders will approve of a lease by the Boston & Maine railroad of the railroad and property of the Portland & Rochester railroad, on such terms as have been agreed to by the directors." Both propositions were approved.

Protests against the ratifying of the leases were filed by several stockholders, and notice given that legal proceedings would be instituted to prevent the consummation of the leases.

Pearce Wentworth Penhallow.

The death of Capt. Pearce W. Penhallow, which took place at his residence in Boston, yesterday, suddenly of heart disease, will cause a pang of sorrow to his many friends in this his native city. The genial kindness of heart and manner which were his prominent characteristics, endeared him to all those who had the pleasure of knowing him. These qualities were manifest not only in his pleasant social relations, but in all the ramifications of a business life of unusual activity and responsibility.

Like many of the flower of our youth of that day, early in life he chose the sea for his field of action. As a seaman and navigator, he made rapid progress. One of the earliest vessels in which he was employed was the ship Margaret Scott, Capt. Lunt, of this port. Of this ship he took command when he was about 21 years old. He was subsequently in command of the Rockingham and other Portsmouth ships, and at length of the great ship Sierra Nevada, which had the misfortune to ground on the sill of the Liverpool docks. This gave rise to a case of great complicity between the owners and underwriters.

Capt. Penhallow was selected by all parties interested as agent and arbitrator with full powers of arranging the complicated business. He succeeded in a masterly manner in untangling the tangled skein of affairs, and settling the business to the satisfaction of all concerned. He then returned to Boston where he accepted the position of underwriter's agent, which he held for many years. The foreign cases frequently taking him abroad in their interest.

About two years ago he relinquished active business, and during his greater leisure he wrote the history of the Penhallow family, in which he displayed a remarkable literary talent. If he possessed a permanent characteristic, that held an equal place with his geniality, it was that of preciseness in all his business relations. Nothing could exceed the exactness which permeated whatever work he undertook. He was, moreover, in the best sense a Christian gentleman. —Times, Dec. 10th.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

THURSDAY, Dec. 10th.

Albert Shedd, charged with stealing an axe from George W. Rodman, (case continued from previous day,) was discharged. The evidence was to the effect that Shedd went to Rodman's place to grind his axe, but found no person there to help him; he however did find Rodman's sharp axe stuck in a chopping-block, and took it to cut down a tree near by, leaving his own axe in the block in its place. As there was not the slightest evidence of any dishonest intent, the case was dismissed.

John Driscoll, a "travelling man," was fined $3, costs $6.90, for drunkenness. He had no money, and was made happy by being committed to Brentwood.

John Sullivan, complained of for disturbing the salvation army meetings, was dismissed after a lengthy examination.

"Railroad day" seemed less attractive this year than formerly. Not over three hundred "stockholders" went to Boston from this city on the 9th inst.

Three spotted seals were playing about in the Piscataqua on Thursday last. One of them was shot at and—made a sudden dive. It seems to be merely cruelty to kill such animals here, as they are of no great value to the capturer, and only add interest to the lookers-on. A.

MARITIME NOTES.

The sale of the British schooner Maggie Queen, lying at Union wharf, took place on the 10th inst., and was well attended. The hull, rigging, sails, boat, ground tackle, etc., were sold in lots, the total proceeds being $270. The hull was bought by Alderman Russell for $38, the sails and capstan by Rider & Cotton, the anchor and chains by Geo. T. Vaughan & Co., the rigging by J. L. O. Coleman, the boat by George Scott, and the spars by Benjamin Russell.

John Holman, who has carried on the furniture business in Boston since 1856, being senior member of the firm of John Holman & Co., No. 130 Hanover street, died on the 9th inst. at the residence of his son-in-law, Rev. M. M. Cutter, in Malden, Mass. He was a native of Portsmouth, and aged seventy-one years at the time of his death.

The Detroit, Mich., daily Tribune of Dec. 7th says: "To-day Mr. Albert E. Wood, recently assistant city editor of the New York Morning Journal, and previously attached to the staffs of the St. Louis Chronicle, and other metropolitan papers, becomes the city editor of the Tribune. Mr. Wood's extended experience on some of the best and most progressive dailies in the country will enable him to give the people of Detroit a bright, readable and attractive local page."

John Pearson & Son's "Graham creams" are simply delicious. They can be had of Charles E. Laighton & Son, John J. Laskey, John Laighton, Henry F. Gerrish or James R. Yeaton.

This changeable weather is just the time to catch one's death of cold. As a preventive there is no single garment of more value than the "Common-Sense Jacket," a light, inexpensive and durable substitute for the leathern jacket or vest. Ladies can procure them of Ayers & Locke or George B. French. Dr. Fay has them in all sizes for men and boys.

Floor tickets to the Casino Masquerade can be obtained of Manager George C. Gray, Floor Manager W. C. Hatch, and Assistants Fred F. Church, W. L. Conlon, Jos. P. Connor and Wm. Peirce.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. addr ss.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

DEAFNESS Its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 28th St., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a hopeless case to doubt the power of my remedy. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

SALVO REMEDY!

CURES DRUNKENNESS AND INTEMPERANCE.

Perforated Paper
MEDICATED
FOR TREATMENT OF HEMORRHOIDS

More than twenty-five per cent of its weight is due to the best remedial agents known to the profession, by whom it is conceded that in incorporating them with Toilet Paper there is a certainty of application and benefit otherwise unattainable. Unsolicited letters testify to its remarkable curative properties. One thousand sheets contain more of these remedies than any fifty-cent package of Pile Ointment. Each roll is securely wrapped in Tin Foil, and where it cannot be procured of the Trade, we will Deliver Free on receipt of price.

1000 Sheet Roll 50 cts. | Sample Packet 10 cts.

THIS PAPER may be found on file at Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce St.), where advertising may be made for it in NEW YORK.

"I have sold and am selling Athlophoros. In several cases I have recommended it for rheumatism and have found it to be a good thing," says C. W. Wells, a druggist of Maynard, Mass. No remedy can be recommended more conscientiously.

The stories that the ownership of the Providence, R. I., Journal has passed from the heirs of Senator Anthony to wealthy manufacturers of Providence, of free trade proclivities, is false. Some shares of stock have been sold to the gentlemen named, and Mr. R. S. Howland, manager, and Mr. Alfred M. Williams, the editor, have also increased their interest. There will be no change whatever in the management or conduct of the Journal.

Every woman who suffers from sick headache, and who dislikes to take bitter doses, should try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the easiest of all medicines to take. A positive cure for the above distressing complaint; give prompt relief in dyspepsia and indigestion; prevent and cure constipation and piles. As easy to take as sugar. Only one pill a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents. If you try them you will not be without them.

Lowell's block in Dover was damaged $3000 by fire on the 10th inst.; insured. John C. Hoye, clothier, had his stock damaged $2500, and John P. Lowell, grocer, lost $1000. The Red Men lost $1100, and had $800 insurance.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE EVER KNOWN

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. These Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Rheumatism? Why suffer with Kidney Complaint? Why suffer with Dyspepsia? Why suffer with Nervous Debility? Why suffer with that terrible Headache? Why suffer with Malaria? Why suffer with Liver Complaint? Why suffer with Boils, Pimples and Blotches? What make you tremble so? Your nerves are all gone! What makes you so weak? Your blood is all impure! What makes your friends think you are going to die? Why are you so pale? Why are your friends advising you to use SULPHUR BITTERS? Why do they say to you, drink to be well? Because SULPHUR BITTERS is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist. DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE.

Bankers,

Doctors, lawyers, carpenters, druggists, engineers, mechanics, in fact we have recommendations from people in all stations in life, testifying to the wonderful cures that Sulphur Bitters have effected. Send for testimonials. See another column.

The report that Minister Pendleton and his family are dissatisfied with Berlin is denied by Elliot H. Pendleton, of Cincinnati, who says that they are quite well satisfied with the German court and people.

I have suffered from Catarrh to such an extent that I had to bandage my head to quiet the pain. I was advised by Mr. Brown, of Ithaca, to try Ely's Cream Balm. When suffering with catarrh or cold in the head I have never found its equal.—C. A. Cooper, Danby, N.Y. Apply with finger. Price 50 cents.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm for dry catarrh (to which every Eastern person is subject who comes to live in a high latitude). It has proved a cure in my case.—B. F. M. Weeks, Denver, Col. Easy to use. Price 50 cents.

At a recent marriage in Ohio the bride, a Miss Morris, wore a dress that was imported from Paris in 1742 for a wedding, and has been in the family ever since, being used only on such occasions. It was worn again in 1776 as a wedding dress, but not again until the other day, when Miss Morris donned it. Not a stitch has been altered or added to it, and it is in almost as good condition as when new.

What is the use of suffering with backache, rheumatism, kidney disease, sciatica, crick, stitches, chest and lung troubles, torpid liver, or soreness in any part when a Hop Plaster will certainly give you relief? Vastly superior to all other porous plasters. You'll say so after using one. Twenty-five cents, everywhere.

James Farr of Orr's island, Harpswell, Me., aged twenty-eight, while out gunning, was shot by the accidental discharge of his gun. The attending physicians pronounce the wound fatal.

Palatable as Milk; and Borne by Delicate Stomachs.

Dr. J. W. Compton, of Evansville, Ind., says I have prescribed Scott's Emulsion largely. I find it very palatable and borne well by delicate stomachs, even children take it readily, and it is very useful as a cough remedy."
